DR. JENNIE CALFASS SPEAKS AT D. A. R. SOCIAL

URGES GREATER INTEREST OF WOMEN IN AFFAIRS OF STATE AND NATION.

MOTHER AND HOME DISCUSSED

Speaker Says Mothers Should Keep Closer Watch on Actions of Their Children.

From Wednesday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon the members of Epiphany chapter of the D. A. R. and their guests and friends enjoyed a very pleasant occasion in the musical tea held at the parlors of the First Methodist church and the audience was one most appreciative of the splendid program arranged by the ladies in charge. The ladies had been actively arranging the interior of the parlors with the soft shaded lights and coverings for the windows which cast a pleasing glow in the room and interspersed in the decorations were a number of American flags and one very beautiful flag occupied a place of honor on the platform. The program was one well balanced and entertaining for the audience and was opened with a very artistic piano solo by Mrs. Robert Reed, one of the talented musicians of the city, and Mrs. James T. Begley contributed a most delightful vocal selection, "Lift Up Thine Eyes," which was much appreciated by the members of the party. Mrs. H. F. Goos was the accompanist of Mrs. Begley.

The chief feature of the afternoon was the address by Dr. Jennie Calfass of Omaha, perhaps the most widely known professional woman and leader in the state. Dr. Calfass has been very active in social and uplift work in the city of Omaha and in the temperance cause and has also been honored with being the democratic national committeewoman of Nebraska for the past four years. Mrs. William Baird, hostess for Dr. Calfass here, introduced the speaker in her usual finished manner.

The speaker took as one of the points of her address the need for the women of the nation to exercise the right of franchise granted them in the amendment to the federal constitution, and to devote to the questions of the day their thought that they might act intelligently on the questions that arise covering the life of the nation and the issues of the day. The participation of women in making the affairs of the future clearer was pointed out by Dr. Calfass as a matter of great importance and one of the ways to prove that the women of the nation were a real and vital factor in securing and maintaining better citizenship.

Touching on the more intimate problems of the child and the home life the speaker urged the mother to study her child, to take up the problems of the children as her own and above all to know where the children, especially the girls, were at all times. This was not so vital a matter in the country or small town, but was a real problem in the city, Dr. Calfass stated. One of the present day evils especially in the city was the fact that the boy or girl in their car were out at all times without the knowledge of the parents as to their whereabouts and the auto parties was one of the big questions with the mother of daughters, as thru these many of the troubles of the home had arisen. Another phase of the home question was that the mother should be at her home when the children returned from their school work and to see that the proper home surroundings as far as lay in their power were provided. Following the address Miss Dorothy Pond gave a most artistic vocal selection, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," being accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances Fields.

The refreshments of the afternoon were exceptionally pleasing and consisted of dairy cake, whipped cream and tea and coffee. Mesdames E. H. Wescott, J. G. Leete and W. S. Leete poured, while Mesdames L. O. Miner, J. S. Livingston and George B. Mann assisted in serving the refreshments at the serving tables. All of the members of the chapter assisted in the entertaining of the visitors and guests during the very pleasant afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Anna C. Lewis was born October 20, 1856, in Doniphan county, Kansas. Died at 1 o'clock p. m. on Sunday, February 17, 1924, at the home seven miles northwest of Murray, Nebraska.

The death of this estimable lady, who had been a resident of eastern Cass county almost all her life, was the cause of much sorrow among the numerous acquaintances who had known her so many years. While her health had not been of the best for the past few years, she was not seriously ill until February 6, at which time she suffered an attack of pneumonia and this was followed by complications that the best medical skill could not overcome. She remained conscious almost to the hour of death, realizing that she was soon to answer the summons but happy and confident of being prepared. As above stated, the deceased was born in Kansas, being the second of a family of nine children of Robert

H. and Mary Fitch. The family came to this county in the year 1864, locating at Rock Bluffs, where Anna attended the public schools taught by the late Judge Ramsay and other well known instructors and prepared for the profession of teaching which she followed with success for several years. She was married in Missouri on December 27, 1882, to Jefferson D. Lewis, who survives her. They were parents of four children—Edward, Lloyd, Wayne and Mrs. Mae Merritt, all of whom reside in this county. The deceased also leaves an aged mother and the following brothers and sisters: Lewis F. Fitch, John Fitch, James Fitch, Robert Fitch, Jr., Mrs. Jennie Frans of Union, Mrs. Belle Frans of Plattsmouth, Mrs. Gertrude Riggs of Council Bluffs, Nebraska, Mrs. Lella Queen of Ralston and Mrs. Katie Campbell of Murray.

The remains were brought to the Lewiston church and funeral services were held at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon February 19, Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union officiating and preaching a very impressive sermon from Isaiah 60:20, as well as conducting appropriate services at the grave. Favorite hymns were sung by a choir consisting of Mrs. Chas. Carroll, Mrs. B. F. Brendel, Mrs. J. V. Pittman, Mrs. J. F. Brendel, A. Root and O. A. Davis. The pallbearers were: Peter Campbell, H. M. Frans, C. L. Graves, Fred Bell, Albert Young and Frank Campbell. Interment was made in the cemetery near the church, which is the resting place of her father, R. H. Fitch, who died May 15, 1912.

The writer formed the acquaintance of Anna Fitch (who later became the wife of Mr. J. D. Lewis) when we began school life in the then flourishing town of Rock Bluffs, and having been her classmate for many years we had opportunity to know of the excellent qualities she possessed as a student and as a member of the social circles in that vicinity. She was always helpful to others in every way possible and it was one of her greatest pleasures to contribute to the happiness and welfare of her associates, both at school and respected not only by relatives but by all who were so fortunate as to form her acquaintance, not only during her young school days but in after life when she had the responsibility of training her children, and her Christian life and loyal efforts are reflected in the splendid citizenship of her sons and daughter. One of the sad features of this bereavement was the fact that the husband, by reason of illness, was unable to accompany the remains from the home to the cemetery, and he, as well as all the other relatives, have the sincere sympathy of all their acquaintances.

A FRIEND.

Seed Corn
Several samples of seed corn have been tested. That which was picked last fall grew 90 per cent or better. The crib run of a few cribs grew almost as well. If the ears were rather smooth and small it grew well. We have plenty of good seed in Cass county if you will use care in picking your seed corn.

Fattening Poor Thin Soil
We are beginning to find fields and farms in Nebraska where the hill sides are getting thin and yellow and where grain crops fail to make a satisfactory growth. Perhaps the land has washed considerably and the good black soil surface has been carried away. The quickest way to get this land built up again is through red and sweet clover and alfalfa. Sometimes the land is so poor that it is difficult to get satisfactory stands of these crops. Such land in low in organic matter and will be greatly benefitted in tilth and ease of working and starting clovers or alfalfa if it can be manured previous to seeding. Often some poor farms, however, do not have manure available as they usually have been grain farms. A good, firm, well pulverized seed bed should be prepared. Sweet clover is the best crop to start on and quickly improve such poor lands. A couple of years of this crop preferably pastured off, will do wonders toward restoring the fertility and making the soil work easily. Red clover is good and alfalfa is good, but it calls for leaving the land seeded down longer.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE FIELD

Petition For Earl Towle of Weeping Water, As Democratic Candidate, Filed Today.

From Wednesday's Daily—

This morning at the office of County Clerk George R. Sayles a petition was received signed by a large number of the residents of the central part of the county asking that the name of Earl Towle, of Weeping Water, be placed on the primary ballot as a candidate for state representative on the democratic ticket. The petition was duly filed and Mr. Towle has the customary five days in which to accept the petition and become a candidate for the primary election.

Mr. Towle is one of the well known residents of Weeping Water and at the present time is serving as one of the justices of the peace and judge of that city and has a large acquaintance in his community who have pushed his candidacy to the extent of asking him to accept the petition to have his name on the ballot at the election of April 8.

This is the second resident of Weeping Water to seek legislative honors as Mayor Troy L. Davis, present incumbent of the office, is a candidate for re-nomination on the republican ticket and these two are the only contenders so far for the position of representing Cass county in the lower house the coming year.

The only candidate for state senator filed so far is Hon. W. B. Banning, of Union, the candidate for the democratic nomination for this office.

LOSES SEVEN LAYERS

From Wednesday's Daily—

Senator Banning of Union who also is a chicken farmer and who has a fine flock of Buff Orpingtons which are the pride of his eye and also provide his table with good flesh to eat and eggs for cooking purposes, undoubtably attracted the attention of someone else for they appropriated seven of the best layers, all red combed hens, and carried them away. They were tracked to the railroad where the clew was lost but he is still after the culprits and they had better beware for they must suffer if he catches them.

HAPPY HUNDRED TO MEET ON NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Monthly Supper Will be Held Next Week—Two Speakers Secured For the Occasion.

The "Happy Hundred" monthly supper will be held at the parlors of the First Methodist church in this city on Tuesday evening, March 4, and promises to be one of the big events of the very pleasing series of five monthly gatherings arranged by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

For the March meeting there will be two speakers secured, one of whom will speak on some of the serious problems of the day and another will be secured for strictly entertaining features who will be one of the biggest hits that has yet been offered in this city.

The Chamber of Commerce will have representatives invited from one of the neighboring Cass county cities to meet the local people.

There are few tickets left and those who desire to attend the event next Tuesday should get busy and place their orders with Guy Morgan or Bill Wescott for their tickets for the big gathering.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

From Monday's Daily—

Joseph Wooster, who has been spending a short time at one of the Omaha hospitals, has returned home to spend a short time with his family before returning to Omaha, where he will have to undergo two more operations on his head. Mr. Wooster was employed last summer on the construction work at the new Platte river bridge of the Burlington and while there suffered a very severe injury when he was struck on the side of the head and face by a large wooden slab and has since that time been having more or less trouble with his head. The specialists in charge of the case have given him temporary treatment and he will have to undergo a number of operations in order to be restored to his former good health, it is thought.
