The illness which closed the day of life for this traveler in the world has been of several months' duration and rather unsteady. But even during the moments of severest suffering her faith was sure and her spirit brave.

Thus a kind and thoughtful neighbor, a devoted wife, and a loving mother has laid down the cross of life which she carried back to Him who gave it to her, and now wears the crown that fades not away. We find these words a fitting tribute: Life's work all done, Life's race well run, Life's victory won—Now cometh rest.

CATTLE FOR MARKET IN CORN BELT SHOW A DECREASE

Less Than the Number on Feed on the First Day of April, 1923—Due to Shortage of Corn.

Chicago, April 11.—The number of cattle on feed for market in the corn belt states on April 1, this year, was only 95.5 per cent of the number on feed on April 1, 1923, according to an estimate of the United States department of agriculture.

States east and west of the Mississippi river showed fewer cattle on feed, but the largest decrease was shown in the eastern group, where the number was only 92 per cent of last year while in the western it was nearly 97 per cent. The only increases were in Nebraska with 108 per cent, and South Dakota, with 119.

The decrease seems to be due to either an actual shortage of corn or a shortage of good feeding quality rather than to a shortage of cattle. Good quality beef cattle sold higher in February and March this year than during the same months in 1920 and the spread in prices between feeder cattle and beef cattle has been the largest for the winter months in four years.

Movement of stock and feeder cattle into the corn belt and into all the states except Nebraska and South Dakota, the first three months of the year was less than during the same months in 1923 and 1922 by 12 and 18 per cent respectively, yet the prices of feeding cattle were lower than last year, and but little higher than two years ago, and the prices of beef cattle higher than in either of the preceding years.

The quality of the corn fed the past winter, especially in the eastern corn belt states, has been poor and unsatisfactory—gains and comparative high prices have tended to discourage further feeding in areas where a surplus still exists. Last year's large crop of corn in Nebraska and South Dakota, and the comparatively cheaper price seems to have encouraged feeding.

The winter marketing and inspected slaughter of cattle showed a small increase over last year and was the largest for the winter months since the season of 1919-1920.

Senator Couzens is seriously ill. Michigan Solon to be Operated on Today—Specialist Summoned From Detroit.

Washington, April 11.—Senator James Couzens of Michigan will be operated upon tomorrow as the result of a recurrence of a stomach ailment which first afflicted him several years ago, attending physicians stated late tonight.

Senator Couzens had attended sessions of the senate up to a day ago and had been active in pressing the inquiry of the special committee into the revenue bureau in turn but today he was forced to remain at home and so was not present when the letters of President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon bearing on the investigation were read to the senate.

The exact nature of the illness was not announced, but it was stated tonight that the senator was "resting easily." A nurse was at the bedside while three physicians were in attendance from time to time. Mr. Couzens is fifty-one years old, and is serving his first term in the senate.

FARMERS STATE BANK PUTS OUT TRUE TO LIFE STORIES

Monthly Folders will Relate Typical "Success Experiences" of Home People Like Ourselves.

There will never be anything half so interesting to big, warm-hearted people as—other people. We enjoy music, we are interested in art and science, but nothing so tugs at our heart-strings as the things which happen to people just like ourselves. The folders, written in story form, to be distributed every month by the Farmers State Bank of this city, deserve to be received with the keenest interest and approval.

According to the bank's officers, these stories are to deal with the lives and fortunes of a typical family—not geniuses, nor people the least bit out of the ordinary, but "just folks" like the rest of us.

In the first story to be mailed this month—under the heading "The Joy of Living"—the bank introduces this family at one of their informal gatherings. And right from this first acquaintance, on through the other stories that go to make up the series, the reader may see mirrored his own ideals, ambitions, problems, struggles and achievements.

And, too, he will learn from this happy united family group much that will be of help to him—much that will give him a firmer, truer grasp on the realities of life—and much that will increase his own "joy of living."

The literature to be distributed by the bank is not only interesting in that the stories related are so true to life, but also because they are so handsomely illustrated with photographs, some in full color—likely to be retained and prized for their artistic merit.

DRIVING AHEAD ON IMMIGRATION BILL House Supporters Hope to Reel the Voting Stage by Tonight—Amendments Rejected.

Washington, April 11.—Dozens of amendments to the Johnson immigration bill were rejected today by the house, which showed an inclination to accept only the changes proposed by those in charge of the measure. Driving ahead in an effort to reach a final vote by tomorrow night, Chairman Johnson, of the immigration committee, author of the bill, was in control through a seven hour day session. Tonight the house was in session to pass on non-controversial provisions, putting over until tomorrow a showdown on the quota section, considered the heart of the measure.

Amendments proposed by Mr. Johnson for the committee, all of which were adopted by the house, were relatively unimportant. Several of them sought to simplify the overseas examination to prospective immigrants by American consular agents—a provision in the bill which received house approval today.

Outnumbered on every vote, Representative Sabath of Illinois and Diekstein of New York, two democratic members of the immigration committee, who are leading the fight on the measure, sought in vain to put over amendments.

KANSAS BANKER TELLS HOW HE WON FIGHT

Prominent Man Gives Tanlac the Credit for Helping Him Win Battle with Stomach Trouble.

"That I am so strong, active and full of energy at seventy-six I can attribute only to the help I have received from Tanlac. It has won my stamp of approval. I give it my unqualified endorsement."

The above statement was made, recently, by M. Nightser, a retired banker and farmer, of Sedgewick, Kas. Mr. Nightser was the first president of the Farmers State bank of this place, and is still a director. He has lived in this section for a half century and enjoys the respect and esteem of all who know him. Speaking further of his experience with Tanlac, Mr. Nightser said:

"Before taking Tanlac I had been trying everything for three years in my efforts to get rid of stomach trouble, but just kept on getting worse and worse. My digestion seemed wrecked and I would suffer pain and miserly for two or three hours after a meal. This indigestion also made breathing difficult, and I had no appetite. Again, a spell of flu, a few years ago, left me with such a weakness in my legs that I could hardly get about."

"I began taking Tanlac in October, 1922, and in a few weeks time my friends were stopping me on the streets to tell me how well I was looking. Tanlac had done what my wife and myself both thought impossible, uprooted all my troubles and built me up to all round good health. I consider that each bottle of Tanlac I took did me all of a thousand dollars' worth of good."

"I still take Tanlac now and then as a tonic and I couldn't ask for better health and strength than I now enjoy. My appetite and digestion never fail me. I sleep fine and haven't an ailment to complain of. Tanlac will certainly stop a lot of needless suffering if it only has a chance."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute.
