CLASS PLAY IS GREETED BY A LARGE HOUSE

THE CHARM SCHOOL VERY REALISTICALLY PRESENTED BY CLASS OF '24.

DIRECTED BY MISS LIVINGSTON

Parme Theatre Filled to Capacity By the Residents of the City to Enjoy the Event.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening the young people of the Senior class of the local high school presented before a crowded house at the Parme theatre the Harvard prize play, "The Charm School," and in a most capable manner.

The play was one of the best that has been selected for the class offering in recent years and is also one of the best and cleanest comedies that has ever been offered on the American stage in the past decade.

From Saturday's Daily— The members of the class who were selected for the play have been under the direction of Miss Nora B. Livingston for their training for the play and the excellent performance that they gave of the comedy is a pleasing tribute to the earnest work of their director in preparing them for the stage.

by Louise Parriott, Edith Yelick, Mabel Howard, Alice Ptak, Alice Louise Wescott and Beatrice Herring.

The class of 1924 may feel well pleased with the presentation of the class play and the excellent manner in which the director and the cast portrayed the very interesting story of love and humor.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was the dancing specialty, given between the first and second acts of the play by little Miss Melba Gehret, one of the winsome little dancers of the city, and her act was well received and drew a very hearty encore.

Before the first curtain and in the intermissions of the play the orchestra of the Plattsmouth public schools furnished a number of excellent selections in their usual pleasing manner, under the direction of Miss Frances Fields.

From Saturday's Daily— The Fourth annual session of the Rebekah district assembly of District No. 2 was held in Elmwood on Tuesday, May 13th.

DWYER CASES ARE SETTLED AND DISMISSED IN COURT

District Judge Stueffer Sustains Motion of Defendant County as to Misdemeanor Cases.

From Saturday's Daily— This morning the district court took up the matter of the trial of the two cases in which D. O. Dwyer was the plaintiff and the board of county commissioners the defendants and covering the amount of fee charges as attorney services in the recent cases in the district court growing out of the grand jury indictments and in which Mr. Dwyer appeared as the representative of the state to prosecute the cases in court as well as to conduct the cases before the grand jury.

In the case covering the fees of $505.30 charged for services of making the investigations and presenting the case was made by the plaintiff, the defendant confessed judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the sum above named and the case was dismissed.

The second case was the one involving the fees for the trial of the cases in the district court by Mr. Dwyer as the acting county attorney. In this case Mr. C. A. Rawls had been secured as special counsel to assist County Attorney J. A. Capwell and objection to his appearance in the case was made by the plaintiff through his attorney, W. R. Patrick, on the ground that Mr. Rawls had not been appointed by the board of county commissioners at a regular meeting but had been secured by the verbal request of the commissioners.

This objection was sustained by the court. Mr. Rawls then appeared as a friend of the court and presented the motion of the defendant, that the fees were not to be allowed by the county board because of the fact that the statutes of the state did not allow the payment of fees in misdemeanor cases to special counsel but only to such counsel in cases of felonies.

Prior to the hearing of the motions a jury had been empaneled and sworn and were taken out of the court room during the course of the argument of the motion.

At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Stueffer took a short recess to look up the authorities cited and at the resumption of court sustained the motion of the defendant which practically struck the case from the docket as this was the only matter of dispute over the fees in the misdemeanor cases.

The plaintiff then moved for permission to withdraw a juror and motion was sustained and juror withdrawn. Juror was withdrawn administratively declared by the court. Plaintiff dismissed appeal.

The sustaining of the motion in this case will mean that the attorneys in the misdemeanor cases will not receive any fees for their services. The claim of Mr. Dwyer allowed by the county will be in the neighborhood of $1,500. In the case of Attorney W. R. Patrick, of Omaha, who tried all of the misdemeanor cases here in the district court, it will mean that he will not receive any compensation for his services.

DEATH OF A WELL KNOWN UNION LADY

Mrs. Forrest Frans, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harris, Passed Away Last Evening.

From Saturday's Daily— Mrs. Forrest Frans, well known young woman of Union, who has been very seriously ill for the past several weeks, was called by death last evening at 7:30. The cause of her death was Bright's disease and for the past several days she has been in very critical condition.

Mable Harris was born on the old home northeast of Union on February 11, 1902, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harris, and grew to womanhood in the old home and by her many excellent qualities made a host of warm friends who are very much grief stricken to learn of her passing.

The deceased lady is survived by her husband, her parents, County Commissioner C. F. Harris and wife, five brothers and four sisters. In their bereavement the family will have the deepest sympathy of the host of friends.

The brothers and sisters of the deceased lady are Mrs. Lee Frans, Clinton Harris, Spokane Washington, Mrs. Edna Tucker, Nehawka, secretary.

The funeral is expected will take place Sunday afternoon at Union with interment at the cemetery there.

FILES APPEAL IN SUPREME COURT

Charles C. Parmele, Through Attorneys, Charges Errors in Naming of Special Prosecutor.

Charles C. Parmele, who has lived in Plattsmouth for sixty years and who for years was prominent in banking circles, filed with the supreme court Friday a brief in support of his appeal from a conviction on a charge of embezzlement. He not only denies the embezzlement, but asserts that the court below erred in permitting D. O. Dwyer, a personal enemy, to go before the grand jury in the capacity of acting county attorney and influence the members to bring the indictment against him.

Parmele urged this in the court below in support of a plea in abatement. He says that he offered to prove by County Attorney Cole that he was legally competent to appear before the grand jury and that Dwyer harbored hatred and ill will against defendant, but the trial court would permit this to be tried by a jury or to consider it in any form.

Parmele says that Luke L. Wiles had executed a series of four mortgage notes for $5,000 each that were held by Mrs. Daisy Douglas. Mrs. Douglas had $2,500 more that she desired to invest and came to Parmele for assistance. He suggested to Wiles that if he would pay $1,500 on one of his mortgage notes he could add this to the $3,500 she had and buy a $5,000 mortgage. Wiles had no money, but at Parmele's suggestion he executed a note for that amount, and this, with the $3,500 cash was used to buy a $5,000 mortgage for Mrs. Douglas.

The complaint against Parmele was that he had embezzled this $5,000 note while acting as agent for Wiles. He insists that he never embezzled it, that he turned it over to Mrs. Douglas, and that he profited in no way by the transaction. Mrs. Douglas, it appears, refused to endorse the $1,500 on the Wiles note she held, and the court below held that it was Parmele's business to see that she did so before he delivered it to her, and that this failure constituted embezzlement. This legal conclusion is combated, it seems, lengthily in the brief just filed. Parmele says that Mrs. Douglas is an eccentric old lady and the fact that she changed her mind should not hold him.—Lincoln Journal.

May Have a Carnival in Plattsmouth This Season

The American Legion has not looked very favorably on the proposition of a carnival this year and the advance representative had the matter up with several of the members of the fire department to determine if possible whether or not this organization would care to sponsor the carnival this year. However, no definite action was taken, as it will require a meeting of the members of the department before this matter can be arranged.

IT'S FOOLISH TO SUFFER

When So Many Plattsmouth People Are Pointing the Way Out.

You may be brave enough to stand backache or headache or dizziness. But, if, in addition urination is disordered, look out! If you don't try Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, you may fall into the clutches of dangerous disease before you know it. But, if you live more carefully and help your kidneys with Doan's Pills, you can stop the pains you have and avoid future danger as well. Don't experiment—use the remedy Plattsmouth people are publicly endorsing. Read this case:

M. Landerback, contractor, painter and paper hanger, Locust street, Plattsmouth, says: "I had lumbago and kidney trouble. I believe the turpentine fumes from the paint was responsible for it. I could hardly bend or lift anything and I couldn't even turn in bed without help. I had no control over my limbs; when I tried to walk, I could not lift them, just had to scuff them along. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were highly colored and passed with a burning sensation. I used Doan's Pills and before finishing the first box which I got at Fricke & Co's. drug store, I felt better in every way. I used a few boxes and they gave me fine relief. I had another little attack this spring, but I used Doan's the first thing and they straightened me out again in quick order."
