ning. The boys belonging to the various troops were out at 6 o'clock this morning and rarin' to go and with laughter and cheers started out on the long march to the recreation center that is maintained in the vicinity of Gibson. The boys carried their blanket rolls and tents and will enjoy a real outing at the pleasant camping spots. The Scouts were full of pep and gave little thought to the long mile that figures so prominently in the hikes as former service men can testify to. Additional provisions were taken to Camp Gifford this morning by Jess Perry for the use of the boys which will give them rations for the day and tomorrow. The Scouts will hold their field day on Friday morning at the baseball park at 9 o'clock which will be a program of knock-out sports of the greatest interest. Parents and friends of the scouts are invited to be in attendance. On Friday evening the final investiture services of the year will be held at the high school gym where the honors and credits for the year will be awarded.

OFFICERS HAVE A REAL THRILL IN A GUN FIGHT

MRS. ELIZABETH GREEN MAKES TARGET OF SHERIFF AND DEPUTY YESTERDAY.

BUT THEY ESCAPE UNINJURED

Aim of Irate Poor and as Result Officers Place Her in Jail to Cool Her Ardor.

From Wednesday's Daily— The residents in the main part of the city had a real thrill yesterday afternoon that reminded them of the good old days when to be an officer of the law was to need a brace of artillery and of the times when a gun battle was mere morning exercise for the enforcers of the law and order. The thriller was furnished by Mrs. Elizabeth Green when she made a target for her revolver of Sheriff E. P. Stewart and Deputy Sheriff W. R. Young and altho Mrs. Green later stated that she had not intended shooting at the sheriff but was aiming at Mr. Young, Sheriff and deputy only missed the round of bullets by a slight margin. The shooting occurred at the Green home on Lincoln avenue when the officers were seeking to place Jess Green, husband of the woman, under arrest. Sometime ago Jess Green was arrested for possession of liquor and received one of the familiar $100 and cost fines in court and while not possessing the amount promised to liquidate the claim if he was given a chance, and accordingly the man was allowed to go and try to produce the necessary amount. This he has failed to do and yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Young was dispatched out to see why the delay in the settlement. Mr. Green was arrested and requested that he be given an opportunity of securing a reliable security for the fine and costs and the deputy sheriff thought to be as kindly to the man as possible and gave him this chance, accompanying him to one of the parties for whom Mr. Green had been working who declined to come through as a security. It was then suggested by Mr. Green that he be allowed to drive his car on home and get ready to accompany the officer to the county bastle. Mr. Young rode down to the Green home and awaited outside while Mr. Green made his farewell to his wife. In a few minutes he came out and stated that he wished the wife to accompany them to see some relatives in an effort to raise the funds and this was agreed to and Mr. Green returned to the house and when sufficient time had expired, Mr. Young started to knock on the door to see what was the delay. At this stage of the game the enemy started their offensive, the irate helpmate of Mr. Green striking the officer fore and aft and he was compelled to retire a short distance and also secured the assistance of Sheriff Stewart as a counter attack by the husband and wife was thought in prospect. When the sheriff arrived the officers again approached the house and this time Mrs. Green appeared armed with a revolver and without any delay fired at the officer. The attack served to remind Sheriff Stewart of the Spanish-American war days when he was fighting in the Philippines, as the bullet whistled by only a few inches from his head. The sheriff and his deputy disarmed the frenzied woman before she could fire again and perhaps add more serious charges to her offense. When the woman had been made harmless the officers started a search for the husband but he was not to be found and had evidently taken advantage of the gun battle to get away in the clear. Mrs. Green was arrested and brot to the county jail where she was lodged in the woman's ward of the jail to remain until she was given a hearing on the charge of having resisted an officer and for her attempted shooting.

From Wednesday's Daily— The Cedar Creek ball team under the management of Raymond Lohnes motored to Springfield Sunday afternoon where they met the team of that city in a game of the national pastime, which resulted in the Sand Pit boys losing by a 9 to 5 score. Errors were the contributing cause to the Cedar Creek defeat. Herbert Swanson was on the mound for Cedar Creek and held the Springfield boys to six scattered hits and put 14 batters down by the strikeout route. The fielding of Rudolph Meisinger at short was brilliant. Lohnes and Zimmerman started with the stick, each getting three hits out of five trips to the plate. Smith, the Springfield hurler, was knocked from the mound in the seventh inning when Cedar Creek drove in their five runs. Gotch succeeded in holding the visitors down for the remaining two innings. PROPOSE A CHANGE IN THE APOSTLES' CREED AT MEETING

Methodists Debate Question of Substituting Christ's Holy Church For Holy Catholic Church.

Springfield, Mass., May 26.—A proposal to change the apostles' creed, substituting the words "Christ's holy church" for the "holy Catholic church" caused an eager debate at the Methodist Episcopal general conference here today. Action was deferred until tomorrow on account of the lateness of the hour. There is universal dissatisfaction with this phrasing of the "creed," the Rev. Josiah W. Abel of Oklahoma, said in presenting a minority report favoring the change. Catholicism was applied in history to a church filled with bigotry and intolerance, which flaunted themselves in the face of the ages. A protest that is almost a rebellion is coming up from our people against its use. "It is our own fault if the word 'Catholic' has the wrong meaning to the people," Dr. Elliott continued. "We should so instruct the invisible body of brotherhood, 'Catholic' in its real sense is all-inclusive; it is the word 'Roman' that excludes." The Rev. William G. Alston, delegate from Louisiana, declared that use of the words "holy Catholic" in the creed was driving adherents from the churches. "No one thing has given me so much trouble all my life as those two words," he added. "I won't give up my family because it's some one else's," the Rev. Abram W. Harris of the Maine delegation, secretary of the board of education, said. "Let us demand and keep the heritage of the past. The word 'Catholic' carries us back to the very beginning of the Christian church. Don't lay your hands upon that past. I stand for the creed as my father said it and as I want my son to say it."

Tiffin, O., May 26.—Delegates to the twenty-fourth quinquennial general conference of the Methodist Protestant church voted unanimously today to drop the word "Catholic" from the apostles' creed. As amended, the church law reads: "I believe in the holy church of Christ," instead of "in the holy Catholic church." The St. John's school entertainment held last evening at the K. of C. hall under the auspices of the Catholic Daughters of America, was a very decided success in every way and reflected the greatest credit on the little folks taking part and the Sisters and Mrs. O. Sandin who had charge of directing their efforts. The opening chorus of the entertainment, "Come Where the Lillies Bloom" was especially effective and was followed by the two act play, "Stolen by the Gypsies," in which the young people displayed the most marked ability. The members of the cast were: Agnes Brink, Dorothy Brink, Mary Swatek, Alice Schlater, Helen Woolcott, Anna Wooster, Mary Schlater, Catherine Phillips, Patricia Flynn, Pauline Gradoville, Willard Brink, Catherine Flynn, Helen Koubek, Frances Sedak, Anna May Sandin, Ingeburg Reichstadt, Stella Hyde, Emily Lorens. The piano numbers in the intermissions by Mrs. R. G. Reed and Miss Mildred Schlater were also very much enjoyed by the large audience. Damian Flynn also added to the interest of the program with one of his very delightful vocal solos. A reading "Back in Squashville," was given by Dorothy Gradoville and an action song by Agnes and Gertrude Brink also served to help entertain the jolly crowd. The members of the school also gave a one act sketch, "Train to Mauro," in which Charles Nowasek, G. Stiel, Robert Hyde, James Nowasek, Leo Sikora, B. Woolcott, Albert Toman and Frederick Knieke, Arthur Kopp, Robert Bestor, Delores Cheval. The close of the entertainment was a short address by Rev. Father M. A. Shine on the school and its work for the year. Preceding the entertainment the ladies of the C. D. A. conducted a bazaar in the afternoon and supper from 5 to 8 o'clock which was very largely patronized and as the result of the entertainment there will be some $400 realized for the school.

HAS SERIOUS ACCIDENT

From Wednesday's Daily— Last Tuesday while playing in the yard of their home, David and Raymond Lancaster were turning the knives of a lawn mower and watching it spin when Raymond who is only four years of age, got his thumb in the rapidly whirling knives and the end of it was severed with the exception of a small portion of the skin on the ball of the thumb, the knife cutting off a portion of the bone. The little fellow was brought to Murray and Dr. G. H. Gilmore dressed the wound sewing on the part. Hopping it might grow in place again. Little Raymond while only four years of age has had three accidents before in each of which he had to have stitches to close the contusions.
