Only Protective Lubrication with clean oil can keep motors POWERFUL HE condition of motor oil in the crankcase is almost as important as its quantity. Though your oil gauge indicates plenty of oil, your motor will steadily lose power if the oil is thinned out and dirty. and dirty. No amount of carburetor adjustment or close fitting of piston rings can prevent gasoline vapors condensing in the cylinders and diluting the oil in the crankcase. Dust is constantly drawn in through the carburetor. After 500 miles operation the thinned out, dirty oil in your crankcase is a menace to your motor. It wears piston rings, cylinders and bearings and is the direct or indirect cause of decreased power and most engine troubles and repair bills.

48 % bolts and nuts.

47 magnet clamps.

To keep your motor full-powered and to reduce motoring expense, flush out the old oil after every five hundred miles and refill with clean Polarine of the right grade. Then you have protective lubrication. Your motor will not age quickly. It will give many times the cost of the additional Polarine in dependable power, bigger mileage per gallon of gasoline and lower maintenance costs. Take lubrication seriously.

Consult the Polarine Chart. Use the grade recommended for your motor. Buy where you see this sign. Five grades-light, medium, medium heavy, special heavy and extra heavy. Give your motor protective lubrication and it will stay powerful.
