Sharp practice has cut off many a man's chance to succeed!

Where there are Dreams there is Use for Bank Service!

Every normal mortal hopes some day to become independent. Much effort is wasted through failure to take advantage of all the ways and means necessary to that end.

The man who enlists the services of a good bank, co-operates with that bank and permits that bank to co-operate with him has a tremendous advantage.

This bank is intensely in earnest in its desire to co-operate with patrons.

SOME HAIL AT MURRAY
This portion of the state of Nebraska was very fortunate in that the severe rain and hailstorm that swept through Omaha and Council Bluffs and also at Herman and Blair, was not visited on this locality. In this city there was no hail at all while at Murray yesterday afternoon there was only a slight hail that did not inflict any damage to speak of to the growing crops although the appearance of the hail brought memories of the storm of several years ago. This time, however, the Cass county farmers were lucky and the hail was not sufficient to do any great injury.

FUNERAL OF LEW MYERS
From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of the late Lew Myers were held at the Cedar Creek church and conducted by the Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz of the First Methodist church of this city. The services were very largely attended by the old friends and neighbors of Mr. Myers and who paid to their old friend and associate the last tributes of love and esteem.

The pastor spoke words of comfort from the message of St. Paul at the close of the service. "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished the course, and henceforth for me there is laid up a crown of righteousness that fadeth not away, and not for me only, but for all those that love His appearing."

During the service a number of the old hymns were given by a quartet consisting of Helen Westcott, Clara Mae Morgan, John Frady and Walter Herger, the selections being, "Rock of Ages," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

The interment was made at the Glendale cemetery south of Cedar Creek, beside that of the wife of the deceased.

SUFFERERS SEVERE ACCIDENT
From Tuesday's Daily—
While Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schutz and Mrs. Martha J. Peterson were visiting Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Todd near Ashland, Mrs. Schutz was the victim of a very painful accident that will make it necessary for her to wear her arm in a sling for some time. The party had motored to Ashland to secure Miss Florence Schutz who has been there visiting, on Saturday and to remain over Sunday. Early Sunday morning Mrs. Schutz stepped out on the porch at the Todd home and fell down a short flight of steps causing the fracture of the left wrist. The injured member was dressed by Dr. R. P. Westover here and the patient made as comfortable a trip as she is suffering a great deal of pain.

SLUGGERS WIN A VICTORY
The Bohemian Sluggers of this city added a victory to their credit Sunday afternoon when they took on the St. Adelbert school team of South Omaha at the Elmwood park diamond in Omaha. The score of the game was 2 to 1 in favor of the Plattsmouth team and throughout the game the struggle was hard fought on both sides.

The Omaha team made their lone tally on a home run clout by William Skuman. Frank Wooster did the pitching for the locals and Frank Keubek the catching, and their effective work aided in holding down the Omaha players.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, August 17th

By M. S. Briggs

Graft—Then and Now
Golden Text: "My house shall be called a house of prayer."—Matthew 21:13.

Thirty years ago the writer went to Perry, Iowa, to live and after he had been there but a short time engaged in the barber business. A wiseacre slipped us the information that if we wished to succeed, we would have to go to the Methodist church and belong to the republican party. This man thought he had read the "handwriting on the wall." The matter of church fairs, of selling chances on a bedspread or of giving dances in the church building and the similar practice, is much in line with the practice of the ones who made a market place of the church of God in the older days.

The worship at the temple had degenerated into much formalism and all the show and tinsel was taking place of the true worship for which the temple had been built.

The corridors of the temple were used by the money changers who were located there to exchange the Hebrew money for that of the different countries from which the people came, as the oxen, sheep and doves had to be purchased in Hebrew money. A high rate was charged for converting the money of the country from which they came. You can guess how those shrewd old Jews skinned those who came from some remote part to the celebration of the feasts and could not bring their sacrifices with them. Then again those who sold the oxen, sheep and doves, gave them a good trimming on the price they charged. This practice has come down to our day. And it is accentuated in the way that the people who attend any great gathering are shined in hotel rates and every conceivable way. New York was a fair sample of the manifestation of this spirit at the time of the national democratic convention, which was held this summer.

This spirit and practice prevailed to a most pronounced extent at the time of the coming of Christ. He was truly incensed at the conditions which he found, and when he found the rich old Jewish money sharks and graters selling things for the sacrifice, he was justly indignant, for he had come to cure the ills of the people and not making a whip and scourge out of the temple, dumped the cages containing the doves out of the doors and overturned the tables used by the money extortionists and said, "Take these things hence, make not my father's house a house of merchandise."

Even at this time the same means are justified at the present day, with the prevalence of practices which obtain. Not alone in commercial circles, but in politics, society and the church. It is no wonder that there are L. W. W.'s or anarchists who seek to rectify conditions by absolute forcible means.

The responsibility of the present condition and practice rests on the shoulders of the church supplemented by the better class of citizens and could they disseminate the teachings of the Master it would effect a cure.

When asked by what authority do thou these things, He answered: "Destroy this temple and in three days I will raise it up." Their reply was, "Forty and six years was this temple in building and will you raise it up in three days?" They had failed to grasp the true sense of the prophecy which he had uttered. Even the disciples did not comprehend the meaning of His remark.

When the Master was crucified and in three days arose from the dead, they remembered his saying and believed the scriptures. Search the scriptures for in them you think you have eternal life and they are those which testify of the Master.

HAS A REAL TRIP
From Monday's Daily—
George C. Sigler, of Los Angeles, California, who has been here visiting with the members of the Valley family here, departed yesterday for Broken Bow, near where he had made his home for a number of years and where he will renew acquaintance with the friends of other days. Mr. Sigler on his trip had a very wonderful time and which has covered a great deal of the United States and its possessions. He left Los Angeles by boat and made the trip through the Panama canal with the Golden Lane, of the tropics and landed at New York. From there he journeyed on a sentimental trip to the place of his birth, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, which great industrial city is greatly changed from his boyhood days when he resided there and when the great future of that city was still a dream.

From Pittsburg, Mr. Sigler followed his boyhood trail to the west and came to Plattsmouth, where he has enjoyed every minute of his stay with the relatives and old friends. Some of his happiest days were spent here and the time spent here this time will long be remembered. He is planning if possible to return here for a longer stay before going on to the western home.

RETURNS TO SOUTHWEST MINES
From Tuesday's Daily—
Napoleon Larsh expects to leave Tuesday for the lead and silver mines near Deming, N. M., where he will resume his duties. He came to Nebraska City to attend the Larsh-Jones wedding and has been a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Larsh, near Union. Mining affairs are active at this time, he said. The month of June was extremely hot in New Mexico, but the air is so dry that it is easier to stand than the moist heat of Kansas and Nebraska.

During his stay at Springdale, the Larsh farm, he has found several fossil specimens which he has analyzed.

He is a graduate of the School of Mines, at Rolla, Mo., and the Nebraska City high school with the class of 1916. Before taking up his work in New Mexico he was located at an American mining camp in Chile—well above the lumber line.

When asked his opinion of the rumors of new mineral deposit near the old Goldfield mines in Nevada, he said: "There may be strata of lower grade ore there which can be worked. It is not impossible." Goldfield was once one of the most bustling mining camps in the country—Nebraska City News.

T. J. O'Hara and Roy Stewart, of Lincoln, were here for a few hours last evening and this morning, attending to their oil interests, as they have several leases in the Nebraska dome fields.
