THE PASSING OF GEORGE G. ASKEW WEDNESDAY

Well Known Old Resident of Weeping Water Goes to His Last Reward; Funeral There.

From Saturday's Daily—
 The residents of Weeping Water have been called upon to mourn the loss of one of their old and highly respected residents, George G. Askew, who was called to his last reward Wednesday, September 3rd.
 The funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late home and were conducted by the pastor of the First Congregational church of Weeping Water. The music was furnished by the choir of the church and at the close of the last prayer, the hymn, "Shall We Gather at the River," was given. At the grave there was a short prayer and the bugle call given for this fine old veteran of the Civil war. The interment was at Oak Wood cemetery at Weeping Water.

George G. Askew was born in Orel, Bedfordshire, England, July 15, 1837, and came to America in the year 1857 at the age of twenty and has since resided here. When the call for the soldiers to defend the nation in 1861 was made, Mr. Askew entered the Union army and served to the close of the war and from the hardships suffered he sustained sickness from which he never fully recovered.
 He was married to Miss Mary F. Wright of Rock Creek, Ashtabula county, Ohio, in 1866, and to this union there were born two sons, Charles Wright and David Edward. They lived on a farm near Rock Creek for several years and later moved to Weeping Water to reside on the farm there. His wife died July 17, 1882, and one year later he was married to Mrs. H. E. Jenks of Tallmadge, Summit county, Ohio, and to this union there were born two sons, Grant Fern, now of Omaha, and Curtis B., now residing in Minnesota.

GIVEN A SURPRISE

From Saturday's Daily—
 The seventy-first birthday of J. W. Haynie of this city occurred and on this occasion he was given a very pleasant surprise by several of the relatives and friends at their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Haynie were busy at their breakfast Thursday morning when there arrived from their home at Northbro, Iowa, a party of relatives to spend the day and gave Mr. Haynie a real surprise. In the party were Walter Haynie and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roerbeck, parents of Mrs. Haynie, and Misses Stella and Verna Roerbeck, and Mr. Warren Roerbeck and wife.

The members of the party came with well laden baskets and which with the additions at the Haynie home furnished a feast fit for a king and was participated in by all of the family. Miss Verna Roerbeck was also celebrating her birthday anniversary, it being her 13th anniversary and joined with Mr. Haynie in the observance of the day. All the way around it was a surprise both to the host and hostess and the visitors, and to assist in the pleasantness of the day Mrs. Bennett Christwiser, a cousin of Mr. Haynie was invited to spend the day. The members of the party also enjoyed a fine supper at the home before they departed on their journey back to Iowa.

CHANGES IN TRAIN TIME

The Burlington route announces a change in their train schedules which will include the taking out of service of trains No. 1 from the east and No. 10 from the west, which have been in service for the past summer's month. This is in keeping with the usual program of the railroad for the winter months.
 No. 6 from the west will be started out an hour earlier from Denver and will reach this city about the same time, 7:40 a. m., and arrive in Chicago at the same time it does now.

COUNTY TEACHERS HERE IN THEIR FULL STRENGTH TODAY

All But Two of the Teachers of the County Are in Attendance at Meeting of Institute.

From Saturday's Daily—
 The Cass county teachers' institute this year has brought here practically 100 per cent of the teaching force of the county to attend the very interesting sessions that have been arranged for them by the county superintendent. This morning all but two of the teachers of the county were enrolled here for the work of the institute, 137 being enrolled.
 The feature of the institute today was the various round table discussions on the problems of the teachers' and addresses by Superintendent J. H. Beveridge of the Omaha schools and Searl S. Davis, president of the Plattsmouth board of education.
 Owing to the large number attending and the special features of the work being presented, the high school teachers of the county held their special sessions in the office of county Attorney J. A. Capwell and they were very largely attended.

WINS SECOND PRIZE

From Saturday's Daily—
 Dr. J. H. Hall of this city is feeling very well pleased over the fact that at the state fair in Lincoln one of his fine Jersey bulls was given second prize in competition with a number of animals from the leading stock farms of the country that have a national fame for the excellence of their animals. Dr. Hall had Louise's Golden Lad, a yearling bull from the farm near Elmwood, on exhibit and this is the animal that was given the prize by the state fair association.

COMPENSATION DAMAGES

From Saturday's Daily—
 The time of the district court this morning was occupied in hearing the claim under the workmen's compensation law of Russell Stratton against the National Stone company, on a claim growing out of injuries received by Mr. Stratton while in the employ of the defendant company at their quarry at Louisville. On June 25, 1924, Mr. Stratton received a fractured thumb that later was infected while working in the quarry and which has since incapacitated him from working and for which he asked compensation.
 Under the agreement of the parties the lump sum of $450 was agreed upon by the plaintiff and the defendant as a settlement in full of all claims arising from the injuries of Mr. Stratton and which was approved by L. B. Frye, state labor commissioner.

After hearing the facts in the case, Judge Begley entered an order confirming the settlement and giving judgment against the National Stone Co. for the sum as agreed upon.

POLICE HOLD MAN

From Friday's Daily—
 Chief of Police William Heinrichson yesterday received a message from Auburn requesting him to stop and hold H. C. Smith of Council Bluffs, who was driving through from the south and who it was claimed had run into and very severely injured a horse belonging to T. J. Alkire of near Brock and as the result of the accident the horse was injured so badly that it was necessary to kill the animal. The chief of police, in response to the message, headed off Mr. Smith when he came thru the city, stopping him as he was on his way to the Missouri river ferry to cross the river. Mr. Smith was detained here for several hours for the Auburn sheriff but as he did not show up and there was no reason to hold the man here he was released. The Nemaha county sheriff arrived here about 7 o'clock in the evening, having been delayed by several auto mishaps on the way up here.

COMMISSIONERS WILL PURCHASE LOU'VILLE BRIDGE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF CASS AND SARPY COUNTIES TO MAKE PURCHASE.

WON'T GIVE PRICE ON BRIDGE

Board Will Have Petition Filed in Court to Reduce Rates on Only Toll Bridge in State.

From Saturday's Daily—
 The county commissioners of Cass and Sarpy counties yesterday afternoon at their joint session took action that will limit the toll bridges in the state of Nebraska to one—the auto and wagon bridge over the Platte, north of the city. At the present time there are only two in Nebraska, the one at Louisville and the one here, and the two boards agreed to the proposal for the purchase of the Louisville bridge and in a very short time the bridge will undoubtedly be turned over to the counties.

The Louisville bridge company has made a very pleasing offer to the two counties and the state and as soon as the state takes a survey of the bridge at Louisville and gets a physical valuation, the bridge will no doubt be transferred.

The purchase of the Plattsmouth auto and wagon bridge was the main object of the meeting, which was adjourned from late in August, in order to get an offer on the purchase of the bridge from T. H. Pollock, the owner of the structure in response to the offer of $20,000 made by the boards of Cass and Sarpy counties last month. The offer was accepted by Fred Gordon, C. F. Harris and George L. Parley, the Cass county commissioners; George Lilly, E. R. Bell and Jacob Ehler, the Sarpy county commissioners, met yesterday with State Engineer Cochran, there was no offer received as to the price asked for by the board or on the acceptance of the price set by the commissioners and this accordingly precluded the purchase of the local bridge and the commissioners took up the matter of securing the Louisville bridge.

The Plattsmouth bridge has had the precedent in the state department for action and it was quite a disappointment to the state engineer and the commissioners that some relief could not be secured in response to the often made requests for a free bridge on the part of the residents of the southeastern portion of the state living on and near the King of Trails and George Washington National Highway. The fact of the bridge here not being a free bridge has also checked the carrying out of the federal road building program as the government will not fund a road where there is a toll bridge.

Had the funds in the state department of public works been available for the construction of a new bridge here the proposition would have been taken up at once but the sum made was not on hand and will make the erection of a new bridge a matter of the distant future.
 In order to give some relief to the traveling public, the two county boards of Cass and Sarpy counties as well as Mayor John F. Sattler of this city, signed a petition to the district court to ask that the toll rates now in force at the bridge be reduced 40 per cent and the matter will be presented to the district court at once to secure some action by the time that the Louisville bridge is taken over by the county.
 The purchase of the Louisville bridge and its conversion into a free bridge as soon as the purchase price is secured back in tolls, will greatly increase the tourist travel through that locality and especially from those who are out for a day's outing in this section of the state and who will travel via the Louisville line.
