Va., and on September 6th, Mr. Alba Ingwersen was united, at the city of Castlesburg, Kentucky, to Miss Fern Plybon, a daughter of Mr. Lewis Plybon of Nehawka. The ceremony being performed by the county judge of that place. The happy couple have made the trip in their car from there to here, besides seeing many places of interest while enroute, they arrived home on September 16th, being away from Nehawka just one month.

Mr. Ingwersen is well known here and is a young man of the highest character, and has won for his wife a young lady, accomplished and of the highest character, who will make this worthy man a most worthy helpmate. The Journal with the many friends of this estimable couple will extend best wishes for a long and happy life. On their arrival here a number of their friends gathered and gave the happy couple a real old fashioned Charivari, which was enjoyed as much by the newlyweds as by their serenading friends.

Brisk Demand for Votes for "Roarin' Gulch" Candidates. The race is on! Since the display of prizes to be presented the successful candidates for sheriff, mayor and mayoress of "Roarin' Gulch" was announced a few days ago, a number of new active candidates are in the field and friends of several others are boosting them for "a place in the sun" as Kaiser Bill would say, if the Legion boys hadn't demonstrated their wild and woolly tactics to him before deciding to bring them to Plattsmouth for four big days of fun and hilarity.

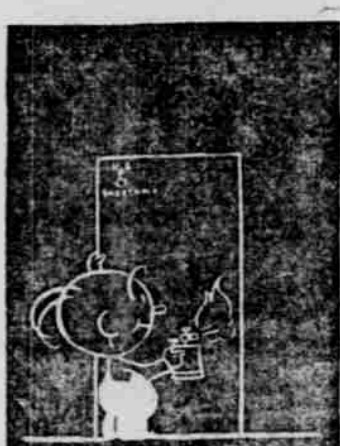

Coupons good for 1,000 votes each for the three offices to be filled are given with Ford chances and some who wouldn't even have a Ford if they won it are buying the chances in order to get the votes. Besides the handsome prizes given the winners for the different offices by the Legion, it is as much of an honor to be chosen from among the populace for such important a position as to be elected mayor of our suburb to the north over which Mayor Jim, a real cowboy presides with dignity. It isn't necessary to be a cowboy to be elected mayor of "Roarin' Gulch." In fact it isn't necessary to have ever seen a cowboy. The main thing that counts is votes and the way they are being sought this week it looks like there are some real contenders in the race for the prizes and the honors.

The standing of the contestants will be published once or twice more before the opening of the big indoor festival, after which they will remain a deep secret until the opening night, when they will be commissioned to act in their official capacities and presented with the prizes that go along with the honor which is theirs.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil for such emergencies. Two sizes, 30c and 60c, at all stores.

Mrs. William Baird was a visitor in Lincoln today where she spent a few hours with her sister and family in that city.

M. Inhelder, brother of the late Mrs. George Schoemann, with his son, M. M. Inhelder, motored down from Pierce, Nebraska, last night to attend the funeral of Mrs. Schoemann.

Give it the blowtorch test. Play a hot, strong flame directly on it. You will see that it is fireproof. It cannot burn because it is made from rock. Neither can it warp, buckle or shrink. It is a different wallboard.

POSTMASTER GENERAL GIVES OUT FACTS OF SERVICE

Interesting Resume of the Activities of The Postal Department of The Government.

From Wednesday's Daily.— Postmaster James W. Holmes today released to the press a very interesting resume of the activities of the postal department which was given out by Postmaster New.

In the last year the postal receipts amounted to $572,900,000 the bulletin states.

A constant campaign of publicity, the bulletin says, "has been maintained for the purpose of securing better addresses and to hold in check as far as possible the amount of mail matter which finally reaches the Dead Letter office."

A similar campaign of publicity is maintained for the purpose of showing the public the advantage to patrons of mailing early each day. This also relieves the amount of night work in postoffices.

A unique feature of the Postoffice Departments activities these days is the recent establishment of a Philatelic Agency which sells new and perfect specimens of stamps to collectors. Since these stamps are not used by the owners the sales constitute almost 100 per cent profit. Last year this agency sold $250,000 worth of stamps.

Postal saving deposits, held largely by foreigners, residents of the United States, increased last year until the total deposits are now in excess of $133,000,000.

Last year 85,875,000 pieces of special delivery mail were handled by the department; 91,000 pieces of registered mail; 46,000,000 pieces of C. O. D. mail, and 148,000,000 pieces of insured mail.

Mr. New devotes a considerable portion of his reports to a discourse on postmasters and their salaries, classifications and the new responsibilities which have been placed on Uncle Sam's representatives in various parts of the country.

The highest-paid postmasters, those in the cities whose annual receipts are in excess of $7,000,000, receive $8,000 a year. There are only 19 of them. Seventy-five receive $6,000; 19 receive $5,000; 19 receive $4,500; 40 receive $3,900; 57 receive $3,800; 68 receive $3,700; 97 receive $3,500; 69 receive $3,500; 130 receive $3,000; 113 receive $3,300; 130 receive $3,400. These are in the division called First Class.

The total number of employees of the Department, all branches, was 353,191 on June 30, 1924. Of these 166,640 were connected through contract, etc.

The Postoffice Department at Washington employs 1,945 exclusive of inspectors and clerks at headquarters. The postmasters are divided as follows: First Class, 893; Second Class, 2,932; Third Class, 11,086; Fourth Class, 36,484; There are 51,295 assistant postmasters, and 43,829 city letter carriers. The number of rural carriers is 44,631 and 58 men are employed on the Government-Operated Star Routes.

Officers in the Railway Mail Service number 325, and the railway postal clerks constitute an army of 19,558, with 2,150 substitutes. Air mail employees number 552 and 54 men are required to handle the foreign mails. Special delivery messengers are estimated at 3,500 for the past fiscal year.

ADD TO THE ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT IN THEIR OFFICES

Dr. J. S. Livingston Has Very Fine Array of Electric Appliances For Use in His Work.

The offices of Drs. J. S. and T. P. Livingston in this city, which is the oldest professional establishment in the city, is also one of the best equipped in the state for the treatment of cases with electric appliances and for all X-ray and other similar lines of work. Dr. J. S. Livingston has of late years specialized with the electric appliances and has been very successful in his work and now has one of the very best equipped offices in the state.

A fine new Kelly-Coett machine is being placed in the office of Dr. Stuart and which is the latest type of the fluorescence and X-ray machines and will make a splendid addition to the equipment of the office.

The electric equipment in the offices of the Drs. Livingston amounts to several thousands of dollars and gives them one of the most up to date offices in the state and in their very successful practice has been found invaluable.

MACCABEES ENTERTAINED

Last evening the W. B. A. of the Maccabees held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Edmonds Ptak on West Pearl street which was very largely attended by the members of the order.

The home was quite prettily arranged with decorations of the fall flowers and presented a very bright spot and here the ladies spent the time in the playing of bridge at which at great deal of enjoyment was derived.

In addition to the bridge the ladies enjoyed a fine wienie roast on the lawn at the Ptak home which served to add to the interest of the members of the party and which also provided a dainty part of the evening program.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games and music and a general good time until an appropriate hour when the members of the party returned to their homes.

PAINTING BRIDGES

County Commissioner C. F. Harris was in today from Union and states that he has been busy the last few days having the bridges in his district painted and the posts along the highway that are used in protecting bad stretches of road are also being touched up with coats of white paint and make a fine appearance as well as making it easy for the traveler to note them when some distance away.

Mr. Harris states that there has been some 25 bridges painted so far in his district and the paint gangs today is painting several bridges southeast of Union in the Sciota bottom.

RETURNS FROM GERMANY

This morning, Louis Beril, residing west of this city, returned home from a visit of two years in Germany where he was visiting his old home in Bavaria and while there took time to himself a helpmate and when the train arrived here this morning Mrs. Beril had her first glimpse of Nebraska and the locality where she aims to make her home in the future. The trip across the continent has been filled with the greatest interest to Mrs. Beril and she is well pleased with the country that is to be her home in the future years. The couple sailed from Hamburg on September 4th and arrived at New York on September 15th. They will farm on the old E. E. Goodman place, west of this city.

REMEMBERS NEIGHBORS

From Tuesday's Daily.— The business houses in Block 35, on the south side of Main street from Fifth to Sixth streets, are feeling that their block is just about the finest in the city and they are showing real neighborly feeling toward the firms and business houses in that block that have recently been making decided improvements in their places of business. The H. M. Soenichsen Co. was remembered by its neighbors with a handsome bouquet and on Saturday when the Herger bakery held its formal opening after the thorough overhauling and redecorating of the place, the residents of the block all chipped in and presented the Herger bakery with a fine bunch of flowers as a token of the friendly feeling held by their neighbors. These little acts go a long way toward making real fraternal feeling among the business.

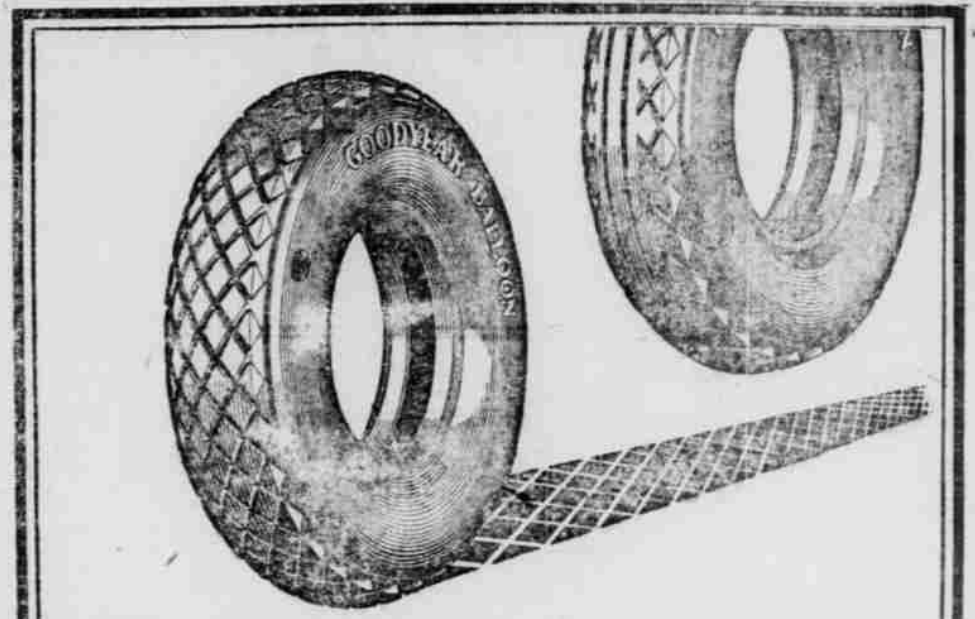

ATTEND FUNERAL SERVICES

From Tuesday's Daily.— Yesterday the body of the late Frank Short of Omaha was taken to Nebraska City, where it was laid to rest in the Wyuka cemetery there. Mr. Short, who was a son of the late William B. Short, one of the old time residents of Plattsmouth and during his boyhood lived here in this city.

The deceased had resided in Nebraska City, but twenty years ago moved to Omaha, where he has since resided, and at the time of his death was custodian of the Long school. He is survived by the wife and two sons, Fred and Walter, of Omaha, four brothers, Fred and Philip, residing in California, and William and Jas. H. Short, of Omaha. The deceased was an uncle of Sanford W. Short of this city.

There were some fifteen auto loads of relatives and friends accompanying the cortege from Omaha to Nebraska City yesterday where the last rites were performed.

HAS HIS CAR STOLEN

Major Hall of Omaha, who just recently purchased a new Ford sedan from the local Ford agency to be used in his work in Omaha, is now mourning the loss of the car that has gone from him. Yesterday, Major, who is a city salesman for the Loose-Wiles Co., in Omaha and Council Bluffs, was out looking after the trade and was on his return trip home, having but one more stop to make when the car was stolen.

He had gone into a store and left the car at the curb line to await his return and his surprise can be imagined when on coming out he found the car gone. So far there has been no trace found of the missing car.

CARRYING ON GOOD WORK

The Wesleyan Foundation commission, which has charge of the endowment fund of the great Methodist school at Lincoln, has taken up the work of looking after the needs of the young people of the Methodist faith who are attending the Methodist university. The first unit of the Nebraska state university Methodist center was started two years ago and has now been completed and this year is open to the public. This is the paragon that is occupied by the Rev. Harry Huntington and wife and which provides a social center for the young people of the university. There are some 1,300 Methodist students at the university and they appreciate very much the social center that is being prepared for them. This will be added to later with the recreation halls and other interest points. E. H. Westcott of this city is one of the members of the foundation commission and has kept a close interest in the affairs of the Wesleyan university and the foundation.

SINGS AT SYNOD TODAY

At the session of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Province of the Northwest of the Episcopal church, being held in Omaha this week as a part of the synod meeting of the Sixth district, Mrs. E. H. Westcott of this city was heard on the program. Mrs. Westcott had been secured by the program committee for one of her beautiful vocal numbers at the session of the synod and sang "Peace, Perfect Peace," at the meeting today. The sessions of the auxiliary are held in the crypt of the Trinity cathedral.

PURE BRED STOCK INCREASE

The average increase in financial returns traceable to the use of purebred sires was 48 per cent on 331 farms surveyed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently. The profitable results are due largely to the fact that a purebred sire gradually improves an entire herd or flock.

Thirty-one farmers will exchange their scrub dairy bulls for purebreds this October in Nebraska. They will begin reaping the 48 per cent extra profits. The 31 purebreds have been furnished by 31 of the dairy breeders of the state. The Burlington Railroad
