

DAKOTA DAIRYMAN GIVES OUT FACTS Putnam Tells of Fight to Regain His Lost Health.

J. H. Putnam, proprietor Putnam's Holstein Dairy, R. F. D. No. 2, Aberdeen, S. D., is another who has found Tanlac successful in restoring and maintaining health. Here is what he says:

"Tanlac put me on my feet five years ago, after I had suffered a general breakdown; when I had no appetite, no strength, always had a headache and my nerves were in a tangle. I have taken it off and on since then, always with the desired results, and I am stronger for it now than ever."

"In a week's time after I began taking Tanlac I was always ready sound, my digestion perfect and then my hopeless, helpless condition gave place to my old time health, energy and strength. Tanlac has made a life-long friend of me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Sure An Improvement.

The bridge which spans the stream just east of the home of W. F. Schillefert, and which has been far from a good condition, has been replaced by a new bridge under the direction of Andrew Schifert, who is the road overseer, and assisted by Messrs. M. R. Miller, Walter O'Brien and Ed Stander. The grading which they have done in connection with the installation of this bridge makes the roads much better at this spot.

MARRIED AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

A surprise was pulled off on their many friends Wednesday when Theodore Spahnle and Miss Mildred Beach tied themselves to Council Bluffs and were married. Melvin Beach, brother of the bride, and Miss Bennie Hendley accompanied them as witnesses.

These popular young people have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness and prosperity upon the matrimonial sea. The groom is an industrious and reliable young barber, worthy of the bride he has won. The bride is the daughter of Postmaster Beach, is an accomplished musician and will make Ted a splendid wife. We presume they will live in Eagle for the present, though we have not learned their plans.—Eagle Beacon.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS NOMINATE ALFRED E. SMITH

Platform Denounces Klan and Declares for Beer and Wine—Governor is Pleas.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Governor Alfred E. Smith was renominated today by the New York state democratic convention. He will oppose Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the republican candidate.

The nomination came after a demonstration of 15 minutes during which the delegates paraded and danced through the hall.

There was another demonstration when the chairman announced that the governor had received the entire 754 votes of the delegates.

A vigorous denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan and demand for modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of light wines and beers, were the salient features of the platform adopted.

In naming the Ku Klux Klan, reference was made to the pledge of the national democratic platform "to defend and maintain the constitutional liberties of all citizens, of all races, of all classes and of all religions" and continues, "we unequivocally condemn the Ku Klux Klan. It seeks to subject the sovereign state to the will and wishes of its own invisible empire. It further seeks to create intolerance by secret appeal and masked attack against particular classes based on race, religion or color. Its objects and its activities are diametrically opposed to the fundamental principles upon which our government was founded and to the liberal principles of the democratic party."

"Republican corruption" in Washington was attacked, with particular reference to the oil disclosures and the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

The issue of the campaign, asserts the platform, is "honesty in government."

"The republican leaders," it continues, "at the eleventh hour forget the astounding revelation of republican corruption. They want the nation to forget that the republican candidate for the presidency presided over the senate and sat with the cabinet while the sick and wounded veterans of the world war were neglected and mistreated, and while millions of public funds appropriated for their benefit were stolen and squandered."

"The republican leaders want the people to forget that their national candidate, though fully informed, remained silent while the nation's priceless naval oil reserves set aside for national defense, were secretly and corruptly turned over to the favored capitalists for exploitation."

Asserting that "Mr. Coolidge was not big enough to pass an important administration measure," the platform declares that "general chaos was prevented only by constructive democratic leadership."

The governor said he highly appreciated the honor conferred upon him, although he had hoped he would be able to take a vacation from public life. He praised John W. Davis, presidential nominee, as the "ablest democrat in the United States."

FINISH A NEW LEG IN THE AIR FLIGHT

World Girdlers Arrive at San Francisco—Welcomed by Crowd of 25,000 People.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The United States army flight around the world, nearing its terminus, at Seattle, brought the three planes and their intrepid navigators to Crissy field in San Francisco today. An accident delayed but did not mar their arrival.

Lieut. Leigh Wade was forced down at South San Francisco with a broken battery and had to wait while a new battery was rushed to him by motorcycle. Meanwhile the other two pilots, Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the commander, and Lieut. Eric H. Nelson, landed at Crissy field but nineteen minutes after they expected to alight. Lieutenant Smith leading, swooped down on the field at 3:19:25 p. m. Lieutenant Wade, having installed his new battery, reached Crissy field at 4:02 p. m.

The fliers had expected to hop off tomorrow for Eugene, Oregon, en route to Seattle, but announced they would delay their departure until Saturday.

San Francisco's welcome to the circumnavigators of the air was no less lusty than the greetings that have awaited them at every other stop since their return to their own country. More than 25,000 persons lined the landing field and shouted their admiration.

The hop from Santa Monica took five hours and seven minutes, including the mishap to Wade. When they arrived here the fliers had covered approximately 27,000 miles of their globe flight and had been between 350 and 355 hours in the air, according to a log kept by Lieut. Leslie T. Arnold, mechanic to Lieut. Smith.

In anticipation of a possible rush, the field had been heavily policed by both the military and city police guards. Upon landing the fliers looked tired and they were much begrimed from the difficult passage over the Tehachapi. The planes after circling the field once, alighted gracefully and taxied up before the reviewing stand.

The fliers later left their cockpits and were received by Mayor James Rolph, United States Senator Samuel Shortridge and other notables.

FLEW OVER LONDON DURING WORLD WAR

Friedrichshafen, Sept. 25.—Every man of the crew of the ZR-3 is an "old air dog" having seen much dirigible service prior to 1914 and during the war, when the big lighter-than-air machines were particularly active. Many of the officers and men have made so many flights they have lost all count of them.

Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin company and pilot of the ZR-3 on her flight across the Atlantic, is credited with more than 800 flights. Dr. Eckener, who is fifty-six years of age, began life as a journalist. When Count Zeppelin announced his intention of building rigid airships, Eckener took great delight in writing articles attacking the "air castles" of the dirigible inventor. Dr. Eckener contended, were impractical and something the world could get along very well without.

Count Zeppelin withstood the broadsides of the young editorial writer as long as he could, until finally he invaded the haunts of his critic and eventually convinced him that dirigibles did have a future. During the war, Dr. Eckener was an instructor for the Zeppelin works, and he commanded the LZ-120, one of the reparations ships delivered to Italy.

FARM UNION MAN PLEADS FOR DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

Declares Promise of Aid to Farmer and Past Record Deserves Return of Administration.

Lincoln, Sept. 25.—A promise of aid to the farmers if the democratic party is returned to power and a reminder of the benefits received by agriculture during the Wilson and other democratic administrations is contained in a statement made here Thursday by A. D. Fairbairn of Washington, D. C., legislative representative for the Farmers' Union of South Dakota.

"Not only will the platform and program of the democratic party appeal to the farmers of the country this year, but the record of what was accomplished in agriculture's interest during the administration of Woodrow Wilson will assure intelligent and sympathetic handling of farm problems if that party is returned to power," he said.

"Farmers everywhere in the United States are in revolt against the republican administration. They have at last realized that the democratic party has given them virtually all the beneficial legislation which had been enacted in the past twenty years."

"The democrats gave the country the federal farm loan system and the federal reserve boards, but the trouble is that these agencies are now in the hands of enemies of agriculture."

LIVED BUT A DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kaffenberger of Cedar Creek, are mourning the loss of a sweet little daughter who was born to them on Tuesday of last week, September 16, 1924, and departed this life the next day, Mrs. Ada Cox, one of our splendid nurses, is taking care of Mrs. Kaffenberger and the many friends of the family sympathize with them very deeply in their loss and disappointment.—Louisville Courier.

A PRIZE BABY

From Saturday's Daily—Marilynn Loretta Wilcox, twenty-two months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilcox, was one of the prize winners at the Cass county fair just closed at Weeping Water. The little lady was awarded the "championship" girl of 1924 by the judges at the fair and it is needless to say the honor is very much appreciated by the parents and other relatives in this city.

PLATTSMOUTH LAD ELECTED HASTINGS FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Carl Schneider to Lead Bronco Gridsters Through Hard Schedule—Played For Locals.

Carl Schneider was unanimously chosen captain of the 1924 Bronco team by the letter men in a special meeting Wednesday noon. Schneider is a senior, having fought through three seasons and made a splendid record for himself as a fighter and a leader, and his choice as the man to fill Stephens' place met with the enthusiastic approval of the student body. Those who watched Schneider pep up the basketball squad last winter are hoping that he will be able to put the same fire and enthusiasm into the football games.

The Bronco team faces the stiffest schedule a Hastings eleven has attempted for a great many years, with two new colleges among the list of opponents and reports of wonderful prospects at the other schools, the battle for the championship is bound to be a hot one. The whole school is behind Captain Schneider and his championship team.

The schedule:

Oct. 16—Doane at Crete.

Oct. 17—Cotner at Bethany.

October 24—Kearney at Hastings.

November 11—Central City at Hastings.

November 15—Wesleyan at Lincoln.

November 27—Trinity at Hastings.

—Hastings Collegian.

ED WEIR YOUNGEST FOOTBALL CAPTAIN IN HUSKER HISTORY

Nebraska Leader For 1924 Team is Only 21 Years Old—Played When He Was 15.

Lincoln, Sept. 26.—Edwin Weir, who will lead the Nebraska Cornhuskers against the University of Illinois in the first game of the season at the Memorial stadium October 4, is one of the youngest captains in the history of University of Nebraska athletics.

Captain Ed is just twenty-one years of age. His meteoric athletic career, however, has been one brilliant succession of achievements in high school and university.

Ed was fifteen years of age, Ed donned the moleskins for the first time. He was a green farmer lad just entering Superior (Neb.) high school when the call was sounded for football candidates. Ed had watched several games of football but had never participated in the sport. As he had both weight and speed, the future Cornhusker captain was among the first reporting for practice.

The coach took a look at Ed and decided that he should try for a backfield position. His ability to outstep his competitors easily won him a place on the squad and before the season, the fifteen-year-old freshman was a regular halfback on the Superior high school eleven.

Weir played four years of football at Superior high. All this time he was kept in the backfield, calling signals a share of the time from a halfback position. His popularity among his teammates won him the captaincy his last two years during which time he was placed on the Nebraska interscholastic football roll of honor.

When he joined the university squad Weir moved to a line position and as a tackle his play was one of the features of the '23 Nebraska season. He is a bear at smearing plays directed at his station and is an active factor in the Nebraska offense. Weir was mentioned on several all-western teams last season and also ranked as an all-Missouri valley tackle, a noteworthy achievement for his first year of conference athletics.

The Cornhusker football captain's activities in high school and university have not been confined entirely to football. He has had time for track and while in his teens headed the Superior high track squad.

In competition with the pick of Nebraska high school athletes, he won the 1922 Nebraska interscholastic pentathlon or individual all-around championship. At the 1922 state high school meet he established a new state interscholastic record of 16 1-5 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles. The record still stands. In addition, he holds the interscholastic pentathlon record for the high hurdles, broad jump and high jump.

At the university, Weir is a member of Coach Henry F. Schulte's Missouri Valley championship track squad, placing in the Drake relays and Missouri Valley championships last spring.

The Nebraska captain is a student in the college of agriculture. He spent the first sixteen years of his life on a farm near Superior, Nebraska, and intends to return to a large cattle ranch there when his college days are over. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Weir.

Captain Ed worked on a construction gang during the summer to condition himself for the season's grind. Ed and his brother, Joe, also a member of the Nebraska squad, wheeled wet concrete for a paving gang, building a river bottom road.

Every wheelbarrow load of concrete that Ed pushed weighed 600 pounds and he recommends it as an excellent muscle builder. During the seven weeks prior to the opening of football season, Ed estimates he wheeled 160 carloads of concrete.

ENTIRE LA FOLLETTE FAMILY TAKES STUMP

New York, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, wife of the presidential candidate, will make her New York debut as a 1924 campaigner at Town Hall next Tuesday night.

Five members of the Wisconsin senator's family are expected to be on the stump at the height of the campaign. Robert M., Jr., his father's personal manager, has been speaking in the east.

Phillip, his brother, has been stumping in the west.

The senator's daughter, Fola, a former suffrage worker and writer on economics, who is now the wife of George Middleton, the playwright, is doing considerable local campaigning for her father.

Fall goods arriving daily. Rugs, Floor Coverings and Consoles already on the floor. A full line of mattresses—Grist & Christ Furniture Store. Phone 645.

Mrs. John Hilber departed this morning for Omaha, where she will visit for the day and look after some matters of business.
