PREPAREDNESS!
 Do you believe in it?
 Remember you are only about two jumps ahead of winter, and there are always a number of repairs to be made before that time arrives.
 You may need more shed room for stock a place to store corn or a feeding floor.
 Look around and see if you are prepared for stormy winter.
 Are you going to hog-down some corn? Perhaps you will need some fencing. We sell American.
 We Appreciate Your Patronage!

For a higher quality, more nutritious and finer flavored bread, we recommend "Lincoln Maid" brand bread.—O. J. Hathaway, Union, Nebr.
 Miss Margaret McDowell was a visitor last week end at her home in Highland, Kansas.
 Frank Boggs was looking after business in the insurance line in Plattsmouth last week.
 Attorney John O. Yeiser, Jr., of Omaha, was looking after some business matters in Union on last Monday morning.
 Attorney W. A. Robertson of Plattsmouth was looking after some legal business in Union last Monday afternoon.
 Ray Frans, the lumberman, was looking after some business matters in Omaha last Thursday and also visiting with friends.
 W. L. Crawford and father, W. G. Crawford have just completed a new crib for the holding of this year's crop on the farm of L. G. Todd.
 Misses Dorothy and Ramona Mossman, teachers in the Union schools, were enjoying a visit at their home at Falls City over the week end.
 Wm. Wargo and Mike Maury, of Plattsmouth were visiting in Union and also looking after some business matters as well last Monday morning.
 F. H. McCarthy was called to Plattsmouth last Saturday to look after some business matters and was also renewing his acquaintances there.
 A steel gang under the supervision of Roadmaster McManue are now laying new steel on the Missouri Pacific road between Union and Nehawka.
 Mr. Isaac Dye was looking after some business matters in Shubert one day last week and tells of finding the price of gasoline lower as he went south.
 On account of the absence of most of the teachers of the Union schools there was no Parent-Teachers association meeting held last week, as had been intended.

C. E. Witherow of the Palmyra Items, was a visitor on last Sunday at the home of his son, Elmer Witherow and all had a most pleasant visit while here.
 Elmer McCowen sold his crop of hogs last week to Edward Dowler, who trucked them to the live stock market of South Omaha, where he disposed of them.
 County Attorney J. A. Capwell, Sheriff E. P. Stewart and Deputy Sheriff Rex Young were looking after some legal matters in Union and vicinity last Monday.
 Frank Bauer, the progressive harness maker has just put in a new machine for the work on auto tops that is a dandy and will be a great aid to Frank in his work.
 J. F. Wilson and wife were spending a day last week at the county fair at Weeping Water and thought the exhibits excellent and a large crowd the day he was there, Thursday.
 Principal J. D. Mansell was a visitor at his home in Highland, Kansas for over the week end, and while there was asked to referee a football game which was staged last Saturday.
 L. G. Todd and Luther Meade were visiting at the South Omaha stock yards last Monday, where they went to look after the purchase of some cattle to feed on the farm near Union.
 Allen Mullis of Dunbar, who has been in the west for some time on a hunting expedition, was in Union for a short time and paid a visit to his sister, Mrs. H. H. Becker and family.
 Mrs. Mont Robb and daughter, Miss Gussie, were visiting last week at the home of the niece of Mrs. Robb, Mrs. E. Glover, of Omaha, where all enjoyed the occasion very pleasantly.
 Cal Shaveley has some corn on exhibition at the Farmers elevator which he had picked for seed and which was about as fine as is generally raised and should make good corn to plant.
 Henry O'Donnell and James Lewin were looking after some business in Plattsmouth last Saturday, making the trip in the auto of the former, and also were visiting with their friends there as well.
 Jessie Dysart of Otoe county was in during the fore part of the week with a sample of the wheat which he has just been threshing, after having stacked the same. The wheat is of excellent quality.
 The band which has been under organization at Union for some time, is now about ready to begin work and will in a short time be giving concerts on the streets for the delectation of the citizens.
 R. M. Fring last week completed the delivery of about 2,800 bushels of wheat which he raised on one of the Sheldon farms last summer and which brought him enough ready cash to begin the winter with.
 Clarence Beal, candidate for clerk of the district court, was a visitor with his friends in Union last Monday morning and went on west, having some political fences to look after in that part of the county as well.
 J. C. Snaveley last Wednesday came and got Joe Lidgett, a clerk in his home with him for the night, and on the following day, Thursday, took him to the county fair in the car, where all enjoyed the day very nicely.
 F. H. Sloan, who for the past 25 years has been in the life insurance business, in speaking a few days ago with the writer, said business was good and the people are well satisfied with conditions in this country at the present time.
 Joseph Lidgett, who has been feeling so poorly on account of his injured foot, and who has suffered a great deal, is feeling some better at this time, and while he is getting around, he is still unable to work, although he would like to very much.
 Mrs. Elmer Witherow and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Chilcott, who have been at Rochester, Minn., where they took the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Witherow for a clinic, returned with her and report that the physicians extend no hope that a cure of the little one could be effected.
 Verl Harding, of Bethany, a son of Mr. W. A. Harding of the Farmers elevator, of Union, drove over to this city last Saturday evening and his father returned home with him to spend Sunday with the family, coming back in time to resume his work here Monday morning.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Propst gave a Sunday dinner in honor of Robert Propst and daughter, Roberta. They are leaving for the warmer climate of Florida and Cuba. Those present were Mrs. C. E. Wilcox and family, of Plattsmouth; W. E. Propst and family of Ralston and J. E. Hallstrom and family of Avoca.
 Free, a large, best made Scooter, or a large, beautiful talking and walking doll, or a Kodak, doll carriage or apron. Absolutely free. See them at O. J. Hathaway's, Union, Nebr.

Welcome Their Pastor
 C. L. Elliott, the pastor of the Methodist church at Union, who has had charge of the work here and at Wyoming for the past year, was returned by the conference to the charge here for another year.
 The members of the church and the people generally of Union are very well pleased with the work of their pastor and of the decision of the conference, and demonstrated the same last Wednesday by a public reception of the minister and his family, welcoming them back to the charge here and assuring them by their gracious welcome that they would work with them in the betterment of the church service and the conditions of the city. Now, let's go.

Card of Thanks
 For the kindness shown and for the assistance rendered and sympathy extended during the last sickness and at the time of the death of our little daughter and granddaughter, and for the flowers and the singing at the funeral, we wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nickles, Mr. and Mrs. George Nickles, Frank and Anna Bauer.

Methodist Church Notes
 Next Sunday is rally day at the Methodist Sunday school. Everyone not in Sunday school elsewhere is invited to come and enroll in the Sunday school. Officers have been elected for the coming year as follows: Fannie McCarroll, superintendent; Clifton B. Smith, assistant superintendent; Mrs. L. G. Todd, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. B. Smith, pianist; Mrs. L. B. Mousley, chorister.

Union School Notes
 The Seventh and Eighth grades are now making very attractive designs for Congoleum rugs.
 The average attendance for the Grammar room the past week was 100 per cent.
 Miss Edith Boardman was a visitor in the Grammar room Friday.
 Misses Evelyn Moore, Ruth Morris and Wilda Fletcher of Weeping Water were visitors in High school the lower grades last Wednesday.
 Everett Ervin and Gallant Rakes were on the sick list last week.
 Miss Fox spent the week end in Falls City at the home of the Misses Moseman.
 Rev. Stansbury, of Friend, Neb., gave a very interesting talk before the High school assembly Monday, the 22nd. He took for his subject, "The Building of a Home."
 The Union schools were dismissed Thursday afternoon for the county fair. Miss Doris Frans was one who attended.
 Miss Flossie Midkiff, of Avoca, was a visitor in High school Wednesday.
 Mr. Marcell, principal, spent the week end at his home in Highland, Kansas.
 Mr. Heaton of the vocational division of the Curtis Publishing company, visited the High school assembly Monday and discussed the profits of good salesmanship and outlined the steps in selling. The student body derived much benefit from the discussion.
 This department wishes to correct a mistake that was made last week in which it was stated that there were seven seniors, there now being eight in that class.

"The Ninety and Nine"
 We will open our show Saturday evening, Oct. 4, with the famous picture, "The Ninety and Nine," taken from the play and song by the same name. This is a picture that everyone should see. A picture you will want to see again and again. Starring Colleen Moore and an all-star supporting cast. "The parable of the Lost Sheep." "Is a Sinner Worth Saving?" See "The Ninety and Nine." Entire village and miles of forest destroyed by fire. See a

Two Weddings Occur
 The residents of Union have been very much interested in two weddings that have occurred in the last few days and in which young people of the locality were the leading figures. On Friday afternoon, William Meade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meade, and Miss Ethel Hathaway, motored over to Sidney, Iowa, where he was married to Miss Kathryn Koups of that city. Mr. Crawford is a former Union boy but has of late been residing in Omaha where he met the young lady who has become his bride.
 Mr. and Mrs. Meade will reside on a farm near Dunbar in the future while Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will make their home in Omaha where the groom is now employed.

Have Pleasant Time
 Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Taylor of near Union, were greatly surprised Sunday by a number of relatives, who came from a distance with well filled baskets and at the noon hour covered the table with all kinds of good eats in which all enjoyed very much.
 Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. James McCartney and daughters, Marguerite and Thelma, of Waverly, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Mack Gaddis and children, Delwin, Charlene and Mary, and "Mother" Gaddis, of Waverly, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Theodore McCartney of Waverly, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Hill and children, Junior, Gerald and Rex, of Lincoln, children, Melvin, Marven, Mary, Kenneth, and Lois Marie, of Union.
