LEAVES FROM THE BOOK OF NEBRASKA

Coronado Visits The Land of Quivera

EIGHTY years before the Pilgrims set foot on the snow-bound shores of Massachusetts, white men trod the rich prairies of Nebraska.

In the spring of 1540 Coronado set forth from Mexico to explore the vast unknown region to the north. By July, 1541, he reached the Platte country and spent twenty-five days in "The Land of Quivera"—Nebraska.

The fertility of her soil, her climate, her fruits and inhabitants were noted. But three centuries rolled around before the white man claimed this rich domain for his own.

Blood and toil, hardships and privations, difficulties and dangers that only the most heroic courage and strength could endure and overcome, form the glorious heritage and the brave traditions of Nebraska.

The pioneer spirit transformed endless buffalo plains into smiling farms and rich cities—into a well-peopled but uncrowded empire of peace, progress and prosperity.

In growth and sound development, no state leads Nebraska. She has steadily advanced, making new records in agricultural wealth and manufactures, in educational facilities and public works. Last year the value of agricultural and live stock products for each resident of Nebraska was approximately $400, while for the United States it was $125.

Nebraska is also great industrially. The last U. S. Census proved that the value of her manufactured products exceeds that of her field crops. Apply what measure of test you please, Nebraska is a land of promise, opportunity and achievement.

In its own field, the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska knows the satisfaction of pioneer accomplishment. A strictly Nebraska company with complete direction of the company's destinies and operations in the hands of executives who are residents of the state, its aim and effort have been to develop and maintain an adequate and convenient service—to keep step with the requirements of both communities and individuals.
