

WHERE THE FARMERS GAIN

Prices of farm products now are about 45% above the prices of 1913. Prices of industrial products are only about 50% above the rates for the same year.

The huge gap of a couple of years ago has disappeared—conditions are more favorable for the farmer than any time since the war. To work with many farmers here toward gains in prosperity has been a task in which we have taken pride. If you are not yet a customer here—there's a hearty welcome for you, any time we can serve you.
