

ENGLAND LEFT OUT OF ALL EUROPE PLAN

Austrian Publicist Would Also Omit Russia in Federation Scheme of Different States.

Berlin, Dec. 3.—Pan-European suggestions are constantly bubbling up all over Europe, but nearly all the men and women who want to federate and become a sort of United States of Europe have pet schemes as to the exact way the federation should be effected.

Count Coudenhove-Kalergi, the Austrian publicist who has recently attracted much attention by his writings on the subject of Pan-European and was a speaker in the recent session of the international peace congress in Berlin, does not think that England and Russia can be members of a successful Pan-European organization.

as the old man who never failed to talk with kings and politicians through Europe about the advisability of abolishing customs barriers in Europe and federating all European states, much after the manner the United States is federated.

Count Coudenhove-Kalergi thinks the interests of Europe are too varied for all the nations to be brought together. He regards the British empire as a group which must stand quite alone because of its ramifications and power.

STRANGER HITS SNAG From Saturday's Daily— Last evening a stranger, giving the name of Jimmie Donaldson, en route from Omaha to the great city of St. Louis, came to this city over the snowy and muddy roads in his roadster southbound, but tarried here too long.

The fact that Mr. Donaldson had with him as a traveling companion, a small bottle of the pale hued but powerful stimulant that may be procured in Omaha, was the cause of Jimmy making an even longer stay than he had planned as he ran into Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and as a result he is an enforced guest of Mr. Young at the county jail until some disposition of his case may be made by the county authorities.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS HONOR STATE LEADER

NEBRASKA CHAPTER NO. 3 HAS A BANQUET IN HONOR OF JAMES M. ROBERTSON.

LARGE NUMBER ARE PRESENT

Fellow Chapter Members of Mr. Robertson and Distinguished Visitors Join in Tribute.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening at the Masonic temple in this city the members of Nebraska Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons of Nebraska, joined in a very pleasant and fitting tribute to their most distinguished member, Hon. James M. Robertson, grand high priest of the grand chapter of Nebraska, whose term is to expire at the meeting of the grand chapter in Omaha, December 9th and 10th.

The occasion was marked by a most delightful banquet that was served by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star, and for the occasion the banquet hall was made the scene of the greatest beauty with a color scheme of red and white, the chapter colors being used in the decorative plan and which was carried out by the red candles and red roses over the tables. The feast was one that was well worthy of the ladies of the Star and made a very deep impression on the members of the banquet party.

For the event, Hon. George H. Brown of Hastings, deputy grand high priest, and Luther M. Kuhns, grand chaplain of the state, were present to join in the tribute to their associate and friend, Mr. Robertson.

This morning the elaborate and highly ornamental electrolite system that is supposed to illuminate as well as ornament the main section was wrapped in the darkest gloom from 5 a. m. on and only the lights of the restaurants that were open after 6 o'clock extended a beckoning hand to the weary wayfarer who happened to be out on the street at that time.

A traveling man who has been making this city for a number of years arose at the 8 a. m. hour from his downy couch at the Main hotel and hastened out in search of breakfast, remarked to one of the other early risers that the last time he was here last winter he thought they had an electrolite system in the main part of the city.

The members of the banquet party paid a very pleasing tribute to the guest of honor and many warm words of approval of his splendid services were given in the course of the evening that were sincere and worthy tributes to the distinguished member of the order.

District Judge James T. Begley spoke of the long career of Mr. Robertson as a public servant and his faithful and efficient discharge of the responsibilities that his fellow citizens had called upon him to perform and the service that he had given in the correct handling of all of the affairs that had come to him in the discharge of his services to the people of Cass county.

Mr. Brown, who has been the associate of Mr. Robertson in the grand chapter, told of his splendid services as the head of this important branch of Masonry and the care and foresight that he had displayed in the upbuilding of the order and its success and welfare.

Rev. Luther M. Kuhns, chairman of the committee on admissions, and William F. Evers, superintendent of the Nebraska Masonic Home, spoke feelingly of the great work that Mr. Robertson has carried out as the president of the Nebraska Masonic Home, which position he has held for several years and the untiring efforts that he has given to see that the Home was a home in the fullest sense of the term and a place where the aged and infirm might rest from their labors in peace and comfort and which stands as the greatest monument to Masonry in the state.

Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke briefly of the church activities of Mr. Robertson as he has long been one of the leaders in the work of the First Presbyterian church and a foremost leader in all that was best for the church and the community in which he had made his home.

The members of Nebraska chapter expressed their appreciation of the splendid work of Mr. Robertson in local Masonic circles, in brief responses by Leslie Niel, Herman Thomas, William J. Stresch, Dr. Frank L. Cummins and Dr. Raymond P. Westover, high priest of Nebraska chapter, and all of whom were speaking from the standpoint of years of association in the circles of the fraternity that had brought them in the most intimate touch with the guest of honor of the evening. During the course of the evening the Masonic quartet, composed of Lynn O. Minor, Frank A. Clodt, Dr. R. P. Westover and Rev. H. G. McClusky, gave several numbers while the piano numbers given by E. H. Wescott added a pleasing note to the general feeling of good fellowship that prevailed.

In passing, it may be said that the friends of Mr. Robertson outside of his lodge associates have felt the result of his splendid services to the county as well as the city and its interests and it is a great pleasure to see him round out the high honors that have come to him as a member of the great Masonic fraternity and his service to his community has been a most valuable one.

Mr. Robertson has the satisfaction of knowing that his work has always been complete and successful in all of his services to the people of Cass county and the Masonic fraternity of Nebraska.

Home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Flynn Scene of Gathering of Jolly Party of Young Folks.

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening a very enjoyable party of the young people of the city was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Flynn on West Marble street and where the members of the party were the guests of Damian Flynn.

The large parlors of the home had been arranged in a very unique manner for the occasion, as the rugs were removed to allow the members of the jolly gathering to enjoy the pleasure of the dance and in place of chairs large bales of hay were arranged for seats and provided a rather novel setting for the scene. The large open fireplace also added a touch of comfort to the party, and the lights with their shades of red also made a pleasing feature of the decorations of the rooms. The young people tripped the hours away to the strains of the dance music furnished by the Edison which had been secured for the occasion and also a number of piano selections by various members of the party.

Those who did not care to dance were entertained very pleasantly, as a room on the second floor had been arranged for playing games of all kinds and which brought forth a great deal of pleasure to all of the party. In the contest held, Miss Elsie Nelson proved the winner of the prize.

There were some thirty-six of the young people present and at a suitable hour the members of the party were served dainty refreshments and during the evening fruit punch was served which added to the delights of the occasion.

YES—WE HAVE NO LIGHTS

From Saturday's Daily— This morning the elaborate and highly ornamental electrolite system that is supposed to illuminate as well as ornament the main section was wrapped in the darkest gloom from 5 a. m. on and only the lights of the restaurants that were open after 6 o'clock extended a beckoning hand to the weary wayfarer who happened to be out on the street at that time. A traveling man who has been making this city for a number of years arose at the 8 a. m. hour from his downy couch at the Main hotel and hastened out in search of breakfast, remarked to one of the other early risers that the last time he was here last winter he thought they had an electrolite system in the main part of the city. The party that he addressed happened to have a match or two and by the glow of this illuminator the full beauty of the posts and the high class art globes that cost dwellers along the main thoroughfare of the city many a hard earned iron man, were shown to the visitor from the great city. The electric light company has large supplies of good reliable current that is fair to go, but seemingly the lights are not for those who must plod forth in the early hours of the morning. The light company it seems from inquiry merely supplies the current and the hours that the lights are in operation are ordained by the city.

VISITING IN THIS CITY

From Saturday's Daily— Mrs. Catherine Earhart of near Mauley was here for a few hours today attending to some matters of business and while here was a caller at the Journal office. Mrs. Earhart called attention to the fact that the public sale of the Polled and Short-horn cattle that will be held by her son at the Walker place, three miles southwest of Waverly and five miles northeast of Havelock, on Wednesday, December 10th. Mr. Earhart and Mr. Walker are holding a joint stock sale on this date.

NEW ARRIVAL IN CITY

From Saturday's Daily— This morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Reuss on Wintersteen hill was made very happy by a fine Christmas present that arrived, in the shape of a fine ten pound son and heir. The little son and the mother are doing very nicely and the occasion has brought a great deal of happiness to the father and other relatives on the addition to the family circle.

NEBRASKA BOYS AND GIRLS COMING BACK HOME

Win the Lion's Share of the Awards at Chicago Agricultural Congress.

Thirty-six happy Nebraska boys and girls stopped off in Omaha for a short time Friday afternoon on their way home from the third national Boy's and Girls' congress held in conjunction with the International Live Stock exposition at Chicago.

The party was in charge of L. I. Frisbie, state club leader of the Nebraska state agricultural college of Lincoln. A number of county agents and assistant leaders also were in the party.

There were 1,350 youngsters from forty-three states and Canada attending the conference, and out of this number the thirteen girls and twenty-three boys of the Nebraska delegation romped off with a lion's share of the various awards for agricultural and economic exhibits.

Much of the success of Nebraska's showing is due to the intensive work of Mr. Frisbie, and in recognition of his national club work he was elected chairman of the 1925 National executive committee, which will have direct charge of the fourth annual congress at Chicago next year.

Stock Judgers Win. A live stock judging team entered from Seward county was awarded first place in the boys' and girls' congress and second place in the non-collegiate contest. Arthur Eberspacher, Stanley Danekas and Clinton Danekas also placed first in the individual judging.

Arthur Reitter and Albin Colbert of Cass county were given special mention in their demonstration work of grain grading.

In the white corn exhibit, which required a display of ten years by each exhibitor, Nebraska captured the first four places. The prizes were divided between two pairs of brothers all of Unadilla, Neb. Jesse Lyon took first; Paul Goering second; Paul Lyon, third; Lee Goering, fourth. In the yellow corn exhibit Arthur Reitter of Eagle, Neb., took second; and Lester Berger and Edward Rogers third and fifth places respectively.

Girls Also Shine. But not all of the awards went to the Nebraska boys. A Cass county lassie took second place in the clothing exhibit, and a Hall county canning club won second place.

In judging clothing Virginia Janak of Saunders county placed fourth. Ruth Ramsey of Weeping Water, Cass county, placed second in the bread judging contest, Lucille Meredith of Edholm, Butler county, won fifth place in judging canned meat.

Cecilia Helling of Elkhorn, placed seventh in the style show, a new feature of the congress. Each contestant had to appear before a crowd of 1500 persons garbed in clothing made by their own hand, with the exception of shoes and stockings.

Three outstanding members of the Nebraska group were Clifford Jacobson of Eagle, state pig club champion; Cleora Majors of Lexington, state baby beef club champion; and Judith Mitchell of Mitchell, state home economics club champion. Among the party stopping off in Omaha yesterday were L. R. Snipes, county agent of Cass county; L. A. Wilson, county agent of Seward county; Bryan McMahon, leader of the Eagle corn club; and Miss Jessie Green, Miss Mary Borsesson, and Asa K. Hepperly, assistant club leaders.—World Herald.
