What About the Corn Price

Well, we have had a very high price for the corn, the farmers as a general thing took advantage of the prices and disposed of what they had so low when the price broke very severely with large amounts in Nehawka of the cereal in the hands of the elevator even the country elevators being caught with some of it. Omaha is reported to have on hand 3,000,000 bushels while Kansas City has for her quota, 5,000,000. Now why the break in corn and if it is going to recover. At Nehawka alone during the present year chock counts from January 1 there has been eleven car loads of other feed for stock, such as bran, shorts, tankage, shipped into this station, which takes the place of corn and with the price of corn so high will not the farmer consume these by-products and not use the corn. With the grass coming and spring here, what will the corn do when the market begins to break in corn, unless for the amount of corn must be moved and consumed or it must be dried and thus entail a loss for there is much shrinkage. We had a grind some since the sale when we wanted to know what the market would do he said get all the information possible and use all your reasoning powers in ascertaining the exact situation and when you have all this array of information and everything points to a certain definite end, make up your mind that the exact opposite will result.

While this was a disappointment to Harry, he was nevertheless well pleased that the kind of hogs he raises prove so valuable. Harry has now some 240 spring pigs of the Hampshire variety and with some 21 grown to farrow yet this spring which will make a large herd of this excellent variety of hogs.

3 MILLION TO BE RAISED TO PULL STATE FROM MUD

$1,500,000 From Gas Tax, Same From Federal Aid in Program.

Nebraska's state-federal aid road building program for 1925, as outlined by State Engineer Roy Cochran, calls for an expenditure of $3,000,000 to "pull Nebraska out of the mud." Of this $3,000,000 will be raised by the 2-cent gasoline tax, recently enacted by the state legislature. This will be matched by a similar amount of federal aid funds.

The present plans call for an expenditure of 60 per cent of that amount, or $1,800,000, for graveling highways that have already been graded and 40 per cent, or $1,200,000, on additional grading and drainage.

Only one paving contract is contemplated, the road leading from Omaha to the new Platte river bridge at Yutan. Work on the Yutan bridge will start in two or three weeks.

Graveling Not Decided.

Very few projects to be gravelled have been decided upon, according to Cochran, except the few on which work was started late last fall and which were not completed.

"It is impossible at this time to state definitely what projects are to be gravelled," he said, "because the state is only one party to these projects, and we must have the approval of both the federal government and the county in which the work is to be done."

Three conditions enter into the graveling proposition," he said. "First, whether or not the grading is completed; second, the availability of material; third, the needs of the traffic and the service the road will give to the connecting highways."

To Make Continuous Roads.

Work this year, he says, is not to be done particularly on the so-called cross-street roads but efforts will be directed towards improving stretches which lie in between stretches already improved, so that the road will be continuous.

The funds on hand this year, he estimates, will construct 500 to 600 miles of gravelled surfacing and several hundred miles of grading, the latter, of course, depending entirely upon the topography of the country through which the roads pass.

Road Marking.

In addition to the regular construction work the state highway department will also do much work on the installation of road markers tending both towards safety and comfort of the travelers.

The standard system of warning signs which has been adopted by most of the middle western states will be used, known as the "shape system." The sign, in addition to bearing the warning message will be of a certain shape, so that the autoist will know at sight what it means.

A square sign will mean a sharp curve; a round sign, a railroad crossing; diamond shape, a curve or other hazard. The main cross-state highways, in addition to being numbered, will also be marked by some sign peculiar in shape to that highway.

PLATTSMOUTH LADIES WIN HIGH HONORS

Miss Josephine Altman and Miss Rose Belahavy Elected Members of Phi Beta Kappa.

From Monday's Daily—
At the convocation of the Nebraska chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary Greek letter society at the University of Nebraska on Friday, one of the members of the teaching force of the Plattsmouth city schools was selected to membership in this society of honor students who have secured high records in their work at the university.

The members selected from this city were Miss Josephine Altman, instructor in English at the local high school and one of the most popular and efficient teachers in the staff of instructors of the school.

Miss Rose Belahavy, of this city, was selected as one of the members of the P. B. K. from the college of fine arts, having a very high standing in the list of students. Miss Belahavy was one of the most talented ladies graduating from the Plattsmouth schools and has devoted her time to her educational development with the greatest of success.

The average grades of the new members elected to the P. B. K. are the highest in six years, the highest individual average being 95.88 per cent and the lowest 89.38 per cent.

This year there were 55 elected to membership as against 45 last year, and in the new list of members there are seven men, this being an unusually fine showing for the students.

Membership in this honorary society is one of the honors of the university that is secured only by work in the school and standing in the grades and is a real token of merit in the school work of the members.

WILL PRAISE KARNAK AS LONG AS HE LIVES

Omaha Man Declares New Medicine Did The Work For Him When Everything Else Failed

Still another Omaha man comes forward and voluntarily tells of the remarkable results he secured from Karnak, the new medicine that is creating such a sensation since being put on sale here.

"I'll praise Karnak as long as I live," declares Martin Hendrix, 603 N. 18th St., Omaha. "You can realize how grateful I am to this medicine when I tell you that for three long years I suffered misery from stomach troubles, indigestion, gas bloating and weak spells that nothing would help. Why, every morning I would get up after pitching and tossing all night long, feeling weak, worn-out and all down in the mouth.

"No, sir, nothing did me any good, but when I began taking this Karnak it put me back on my feet, feeling fine in no time. It's the most wonderful thing I ever saw. I have the best kind of appetite now, and the stomach troubles, gas and biliousness are all things of the past. I sleep like a top all night, and I get up in the morning feeling fresh and fit, ready for a good day's work.

"After this remarkable relief you can always count on me to say a good word for a medicine that will fix a man up like Karnak did me."

Karnak is sold in Plattsmouth exclusively by F. G. Fricke & Co.; and by the leading druggist in every town.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD INVESTITURE MEET

Number of the Active Members Receive Merit Badges—Plans Made For Spring Work.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening the members of the Boy Scout troops of this city held a very interesting meeting at the high school building that was attended by a very large number and filled with the activities of the spring work.

The badges of merit were presented to Edward Patterson, Joe Buttery, George Perry and Lloyd Brady for their excellent work in scouting in the past year and which was very impressively given to them by the members of the executive committee and the scoutmaster.

A new addition to the scouts was received in Willard Brik who was made a tenderfoot scout.

The chief interest of the meeting was in the plans to have a spring field day and meet at the baseball park which will be held on May 23 after the close of the school activities.

The members of the Scouts will also enjoy a "gypsy hike" May 25th to May 28th and which will cover several days of continuous hiking over this vicinity, the boys having night stops and being on the road as roaming nomads for the four days. A great deal of interest and fun is anticipated in the hike through this section of the country.

MORE RIGID ENFORCING EXPECTED BY COOLIDGE

Washington, April 3.—President Coolidge believes the rearrangement of prohibition enforcement agencies in the treasury to place them all under the supervision of Assistant Secretary Andrews will bring about a more effective enforcement of the Volstead law. Although it does not involve a change of policy, it is the president's understanding, Mr. Andrews will act as special representative of Secretary Mellon on prohibition matters and particularly as a liaison officer between Mr. Mellon and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.
