

OLD RESIDENT POORLY

From Wednesday's Daily— Conrad Meisinger, one of the old time residents of this county and one of the two surviving Meisinger brothers of the family that has had such an important part in the development of this section of Cass county, is quite poorly now at his home in this city. Mr. Meisinger has been troubled with the dailing of his eyesight for the past few years and it has grown so severe that he has been troubled with the falling of part of the time. His advanced years also have told on him and caused his health to gradually fail. Mr. Meisinger is still in many ways feeling fine but the loss of his eyesight has greatly troubled him in the past few months.

JUDGE BEGLEY SUGGESTED FOR HIGH COURT COMMISSION

Presiding Judge of Second District Strongly Urged By Friends For Appointment.

From Wednesday's Daily— Under the provisions of the new law passed by the state legislature, Governor McMullen will be called upon to appoint a supreme court commission of six members to serve for the next two years to assist the state supreme court in handling the cases that are accumulating at the state court, and this fact has brought forth the names of some of the distinguished members of the bench and bar of the state for places on the court commission.

Among the names suggested to the governor for appointment to the place on the commission is that of Judge James T. Begley of the second judicial district, comprising Cass, Otoe and Sarpy counties. The name of the able jurist has been presented to the governor and the members of the bar throughout the district are very strong in urging the appointment of the judge.

Governor McMullen, while he has a large field to choose from, could find no more available material for this position than Judge Begley, who has for the past eleven years served on the district bench with honor to himself and the district. The decisions of the district court have met with approval at the state court in many affirmed cases that attest the wisdom of the district judge in the cases that he has passed upon.

Judge Begley has at several different times sat with the supreme court and in the cases entrusted to him he has prepared opinions that showed real judicial ability and established important points in law.

The general approval of the court in this district is seen in the fact that Judge Begley has in his service here received several re-elections without opposition. The members of the bar have found in him a frank and fearless judge and a warm and congenial gentleman. He is able in his profession, just in his service and has that happy faculty of keeping in touch and meeting the people of his district. They know him as a friend and one in whose fairness they have the utmost confidence.

Should the governor of the state decide to appoint Judge Begley to the commission, the court at Lincoln will receive a very able addition and one that will reflect upon the commission the greatest credit and give the supreme court an assistant that will aid in clearing up the large number of cases accumulated on the docket.

Y. M. B. C. HOLDS YEARLY ELECTION LAST EVENING

Interesting Meeting Held On Observance of the Nineteenth Anniversary of the Class.

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening the members of the Young Men's Bible Class of the Methodist church held a meeting at their rooms in the basement of the church and which was quite largely attended by the members to take up the matter of the election of officers for the ensuing year. The class elected as the officers for the year, the following: President—F. Cecil. Vice President—J. A. Capwell. Secretary—Roy Perkins. Assistant Secretary—Elmer F. Gaines. Treasurer—Walter Hergert. Teacher—F. H. Wessott. Musical Director—Mrs. E. H. Wessott. Song Leader—Dr. Oscar Sandin.

The class is observing its nineteenth anniversary as it was founded on April 1, 1906, and has been one of the strong and active factors in the church work of the city since that time. The members of the class at the time of its organization made the excavation beneath the church building for their class room and later aided in the clearing out of the entire basement that is now one of the most pleasant portions of the church edifice.

During all of these years Mr. Wessott has served as teacher and in his work of assisting the young men in their study of the bible has been a warm friend and associate of all those who have been enrolled in the class. While the membership of the class has given loyal and wholehearted support to the teacher, it has been the splendid work of Mr. Wessott through the two decades that has made the class the great success that it has been.

HAS BOOZE, GETS PINCHED

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening, Sheriff Carl Ryder of Otoe county, called Sheriff E. Stewart here and informed him that M. B. Fay, a resident of Nebraska City, was speeding this way on the evening Missouri Pacific train and had in his possession two suit cases filled with booze. Sheriff Stewart and Officer J. Libenthal, as soon as the message was received, hastened to the Missouri Pacific station and when the train arrived boarded it in search of Mr. Fay. The man was located, all right, but the amount of liquor secured was only a pint, but which was sufficient to cause him to receive a fine of $100 and costs. Judge Duxbury gave the offender his trimmings and in failure to pay the same, he was sent to the county jail to spend the time resting until the feelings of outraged justice were satisfied. Spring will be here and the flowers in bloom before William will again emerge from the confines of the jail.

INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU WILL OPEN TAX RECORD AGAIN

Income Returns Will Be Made Public After July 1, Despite Protests and Pending Suits.

Washington.—Preparations are now being made to carry out the provisions of the 1924 revenue act, directing that the amounts of individuals' income tax payments be made public, officials of the internal revenue bureau announced today. The returns will not be thrown open to the public before July 1, at the earliest, it was said, as it will not be possible to get the records in shape before that time.

The publicity provision, which was put into effect for the first time last fall, when lists of taxpayers and the amount of taxes paid were published by newspapers all over the country, resulting in strong indignation on the part of some of the heavy taxpayers, it was believed for some time that efforts would be made to have the statute repealed during the last session of congress, but as tax legislation was not taken up, the publicity provision still remains part of the law, and revenue officials here have all intentions of carrying it out.

It was said that the fact that there are a number of cases testing the legality of the statute now before the supreme court would in no way influence the attitude of the internal revenue bureau in carrying out the provisions of the law. The cases now pending are all suits instituted by the Department of Justice against newspapers who published the amounts of individual taxes, in order to test whether the publicity provision makes publication of the returns legal. It is thought also that the court's decision also will throw light on the question of whether the statute is constitutional. One of the chief ills charged against the publicity is that it materially helped stock swindlers, compilers of "sucker lists" and other confidence workers.
