AD CLUB HAS A PLEASANT SESSION THURSDAY

William Baird of the Burlington and Harvey L. Gerner are guests of organization.

From Saturday's Daily—

Yesterday the members of the Plattsmouth Ad club held a very pleasant session at their weekly noon day luncheon with two of the well known residents of the community as their guests. The feast was presided over by President C. C. Wescott and was enjoyed by the larger part of the membership of the club.

William Baird of the Burlington shops had been invited to be a guest of the club and gave a short resume of the work at the shops and the recent visit here of E. P. Bracken, vice president in charge of operations of the Burlington; Edward Flynn, general manager of the lines west of the Missouri river, and Thomas Roope, superintendent of motive power. Mr. Baird stated that the officials had approved of plans that would tend to modernize the shops here and that as they had a large investment here they expected to continue to run certain lines of their work here, the refrigerator cars being the present work in the freight car department and the passenger coaches and diners in the coach shop department. There were still orders for the building of a large number of refrigerator cars and when that was completed it was expected that other lines of work would be sent here to be looked after by the efficient workmen in the local shops. Mr. Baird also informed the members of the party that despite the fact of the short time operation of the shops the payroll would be $57,000 for the present month.

Harvey Gerner, who is one of the best known electrical workmen and experts in the state, was called upon and introduced to members of the club as one of the newest additions to the business life of the community. Mr. Gerner has spent a long period of years in electrical work, having served as electrical engineer for the Union Pacific and furnished much data and apparatus for Dr. Milner, the well known electrical wizard, at the time of his appearance in this city in his lectures. Mr. Gerner, who has been farming for the past two years, has located in Plattsmouth and is now operating an electric shop on South Sixth street where he is specializing in repairing magnetos, motors, generators and other electric appliances and instruments.

HON. WILLIAM H. NEWELL IS NEAR DEATH

Long Time Resident of This City Gradually Sinking Into Last Sleep at Ft. Lauderdale.

From Saturday's Daily—

The friends throughout Cass county of Hon. William H. Newell, pioneer resident of Cass county and for many years one of the leading figures in the political and business circles of the community, will regret to learn that Mr. Newell is in very serious condition at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Fuller at Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Mr. Newell has reached the ripe old age of 87 years and has for the winter season been staying in Florida to escape the cold northern winters and has up to the last few weeks been in very good health, but the gradual failure of his health has come as the result of his advancing years and he is now just slowly sinking, the reports from Florida state.

The condition of Mr. Newell gives little hope to the relatives and his passing is deemed just the matter of a short time as he falls to show the rallying power that had been hoped for.

Mr. Newell has long been one of the familiar figures in Plattsmouth and his friends are legion in this portion of the county who will feel a deep sense of personal loss in his serious condition.

NEHAWKA MILL IS DESTROYED BY BAD BLAZE

Flames of An Unknown Origin Destroy One of Main Industries of Nehawka Wednesday.

The Nehawka mill, one of the leading industries of that enterprising little city, was completely destroyed on Wednesday afternoon by fire, origin of which is unknown. The blaze spread rapidly and in two hours had consumed the mill building.

In speaking of the fire, The Nehawka Enterprise has a very graphic description of the burning of the building as follows:

"Mr. C. D. St. John, the proprietor, had been running the machinery for the first time in several days and it is thought the blaze originated when a spark in the elevator shaft ignited the dust that had accumulated there while the machinery was idle. One of the steel buckets on the elevator belt may have struck a nail, causing a spark which did the damage. This is only an assumption, and the cause of the blaze will probably never be known.

"As soon as smoke was seen rising from the building, an alarm was given and a large crowd was on hand in a few minutes. Mr. St. John had a car load of feed stored in the warehouse and it was quickly carried out of danger, as was everything in the mill. The small scales, safe and small articles were also saved from the main building. The large motor that ran the machinery as well as the big belts were likewise saved.

"When it was seen nothing could be done at the mill, attention was turned to the surrounding buildings and with small fire extinguishers and a bucket brigade, the residence occupied by Mark Burton and family was saved as well as the warehouse of the mill. The M. D. Polard and Joe DuClos homes, as well as the barn used by Julius Rulmann became very warm but were not in danger at any time. The household effects in the Burton home were carried from the house to insure their safety in case the house should burn. Trucks, teams and tractors as well as willing men hauled and carried the effects of these buildings to safety.

"At the time the fire broke thru the roof a slight breeze was blowing from the west and it looked as though the houses east of the mill would surely burn. In a few minutes the wind seemed to subside and what breeze there was came from the north which carried the sparks directly south where no buildings were located. As the mill was completely covered with galvanized siding and roofing, the heat was confined more to the burning building which was a great protection to surrounding buildings.

"This mill was considered to be a very good one by all millers in the country. The building had been built about twenty years and the machinery was of the best to be had. It is a severe loss to Mr. St. John and also to the town and surrounding community. Since it has been destroyed, it is not likely the Nehawka will have another mill which will cause a big inconvenience to a large number in this territory."

SAYS ELECTRO-PLATED RAIN COATS COMING

Baltimore, Md., April 9.—The world may soon be wearing electro-plated overcoats, it was brought out at today's session of the rubber division of the American Chemical society, adding a fresh triumph of chemistry to the widening circle which is being developed at the sixty-ninth meeting in progress at John Hopkins university.

Dr. S. E. Sheppard of Rochester, N. Y., described the development of a process known as the electro-disposition of rubber, by which fabrics, after they have been galvanized and coated, may be covered by a leak proof layer of rubber.

The electro-deposition of charged colloidal particles such as exist in the natural rubber latex (the sap of the rubber tree) may lead, it was predicted, to entirely new processes of manufacture of rubberized fabric and of articles made from this material.

It is possible in this way, according to Dr. Sheppard to make an overcoat complete and plate the rubber electrically on the finished garment so as to avoid completely the danger of parting the seams.

CANNOT BROADCAST COPYRIGHTED MUSIC, JUDGE SAYS

Cincinnati, April 9.—The right of radio stations to broadcast copyrighted music was denied by the United States circuit court of appeals in a decision handed down here today. The decision reverses the United States district court here which gave the American Automobile Accessories company, otherwise known as the Crossley Radio corporation, the decision in a suit brought by the Jerome H. Remick company, music publishers, New York.

The suit was filed by the Remick company, to enjoin Station WLW from reproducing a musical composition, "Dreamy Melody." A motion filed by defense attorneys disposes the bill of complaint was sustained by United States District Judge Smith Hickenlooper.

VISIT POSTPONED

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Teegarden had all arrangements made to start to California Tuesday, for a visit of two months. But Saturday, Mrs. Teegarden was taken sick with the grip and has since been confined to bed, making it necessary for them to postpone their trip to some future date.—Weeping Water Republican.

LOUISVILLE ELECTION

The city election at Louisville this year was like all of the elections over the county, one that showed but little interest on the part of the voters and a very light vote was recorded. The election resulted in a victory for the Progressive party at the polls. The following was the result of the election:

- For board of trustees:
  - H. E. Pankonin, Pro. . . . . 122
  - Cecil Pettit, Pro. . . . . 89
  - Elmer Sundstrom, Con. . . . . 83
  - E. A. Pankonin, Con. . . . . 51
- Mrs. Elmer Sundstrom was re-elected a member of the library.
- For members of the school board:
  - C. E. Pankonin, Pro. . . . . 139
  - Dr. E. H. Worthman, Pro. . . . . 105
  - Elmer Sundstrom, Con. . . . . 65
  - John Fleischman, Con. . . . . 32

PARENTS AND TEACHERS HOLD FINE MEETING

Association of the Central Building Hold Interesting Session and Very Fine Program.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Central building of the city schools held a very interesting meeting at the school house on Thursday evening and which was quite largely attended.

The patrons had the pleasure of a practical demonstration of the value of music in the school, the pupils of the second and third grades giving several numbers that was a revelation to the patrons as showing the deep interest taken in music by the tots. The sixth grade children, more advanced in their work, also gave several numbers that were much enjoyed and reflected the greatest credit on the young people and their instructors.

Miss Scavalan, visiting nurse, who has been making an inspection of the school, also gave a short practical talk to the parents on the prevention of disease as it is the desire of the school authorities to give the parents information as will make possible the eradication of disease.

Rev. H. G. McClusky also gave a half-hour address on "Religious Education in the Schools," in which he related the plan adopted in many schools of setting aside one hour each week when the child is allowed to attend the church of their choice for instruction and receiving therefrom a credit on their school work.

The room having the largest attendance of parents at the meeting was that of Miss Gladys Lane of the second grade and the room received a very pretty picture of "The Whistling Boy," which will prove an attractive ornament for the winning room.

It was announced that a baby clinic will be held in the near future for those of tender years which will be conducted by Miss Scavalan, the visiting nurse.

At the close of the meeting there was held a social hour that was very much enjoyed by all of the members of the party in games and contests held in the gym in the basement of the church.

EASTER SUNDAY IS DAY OF GENERAL OBSERVANCE

Christian Day of Rejoicing and is Observed in Every Section of the Earth by the Faithful.

From Saturday's Daily— Easter Sunday, universally observed by Christians in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus, was not originally a Christian festival, but is rather an outgrowth of the Jewish Passover.

The word Easter is a survival of the old Teutonic mythology, from Eostre, the Anglo-Saxon goddess of Spring, among the Roman nations was that of the Roman goddess, France, Spain and Italy—the name is derived from the Latin "pascha," this in turn being drawn from the Hebrew name of the Passover.

No trace of the observance of Easter as a Christian festival is found in the New Testament, nor in the writings of the apostolic fathers of the church.

The celebration of Easter originally took place at the end of the Jewish Passover, regardless of the day of the week, but Gentile Christians early adopted the custom of commemorating the resurrection of Jesus on Friday and the resurrection the following Sunday, as we do now. There were at first several different methods of calculating these dates.

It is recorded that in one year not less than three different dates were observed by various churches on March 21, April 1 and April 25. Coming over the date of Easter were among the most bitter of any disputes in the history of Christianity as indicated by the fact that in the year 197, Victor, bishop of Rome, excommunicated Polycrates, bishop of Ephesus with his entire Asiatic following for nonconformity to the Roman date.

Finally, in 325, the council of Nice decreed that Easter should fall on the first Sunday after the first full moon which occurs on or next after March 21. This does not necessarily refer to the actual full moon however, but is determined by certain rather complicated calendar rules.

Many interesting popular customs have arisen, at various times in connection with the celebration of Easter, of which that of sending Paschal or Easter eggs is the most widespread. This is also a survival of past ages, the eggs having been to the ancients a symbol of immortality.

COUNTY CLERKS FACE A STIFF PROPOSITION

Meeting at Lincoln Yesterday to Discuss New Tax—County Clerk George R. Sayles Attends.

Sixty-five county clerks met Friday with State Tax Commissioner Williams and Assistant Commissioner Scott to discuss the distribution of the terminal tax among the various county funds. The new law passed by the legislature will cause a great deal of extra labor on the part of county clerks when they make out the tax list. If possible no new records for this purpose will be purchased.

The meeting was held in the senate chamber in the old capitol. To get into this chamber the county clerks had to walk over bridge timbers which are being put in place on the second floor of the building to support the walls and roof so that a big derrick can be placed upon the roof for wrecking purposes. John Muir, county clerk and county assessor of York county was chosen chairman, and Roy Daggett, county clerk and county assessor of Richardson county, served as secretary.

A black board on the wall served for written examples of the mathematical problems to be solved. It was admitted that each county clerk would have to work out his own method of distribution of the intangible tax. Where levies are in fractions much figuring will be required.

With even number of mills it will not be so difficult to apportion $2.50 intangible tax derived from $1,000 worth of intangibles of class A type, meaning money and its equivalent. This class is to be taxed 2 1/2 mills on the dollar valuation. The $2.50 tax must be distributed to state, county, city, school and possibly other funds. If the state levy is 2 mills the county clerk will take two-twenty-fifths of $2.50, or 20 cents. If the county levy is 3 mills he will take three-twenty-fifths of $2.50, or 30 cents. If the city and school levies are 10 mills each he will take 10-25th, or $1 for each of these, and set them amount in dollars in the proper column to make up a total to $25 for a total levy of 25 mills. Class B intangibles, comprising securities are taxed 5 mills on the dollar.

GOOD FRIDAY IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

Services Marked By Penitential Offices in Memory of the Crucifixion Are Held.

From Saturday's Daily— The observance of Good Friday, the day of general mourning and penitential offices in the christian church, was held today in the Plattsmouth churches in services in keeping with the spirit of this day that commemorates the crucifixion of the Savior.

At the St. Luke's church there was the mass for the Pre-Sanctified at the early service at 7 o'clock in the morning and which was followed by the Passion service lasting from 12 to 3 o'clock and which marks the hours spent by the Savior on the cross.

Special services were also held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church in the morning that were very largely attended by the members of the congregation.

At the Roman Catholic churches the day was observed as one of the most sacred in the year's days of obligations and masses were celebrated at both the Holy Rosary and the St. John's church.

The churches will keep as penitential the time from the ascent on the cross until the dawn of Easter when the Christian world rejoices with the risen Lord.
