

POLICE COURT A BUSY PLACE THIS MORNING

Two Parties Charged With Infraction of the Law Are Brought Before Judge Weber for Hearing.

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Hinrichsen took into custody two parties who were charged with law violation, one with having violated the automobile license law and the other with just a case of plain drunk and who were this morning given their airing before Judge William Weber and given the penalty that the law has fixed for these violations.

J. C. Burnett had the charge filed against him of operation his automobile without the proper license as required by the laws of the state and after hearing the evidence offered in the case Judge Weber gave Mr. Burnett a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $16.50 which he settled and was sent on his way.

Tom Ticknic was before the court on a charge of having been in a state of intoxication contrary to the peace and dignity of the people of the state of Nebraska, and acknowledged to the court that he might have partaken too freely of the juice of the corn or similar joy producing beverages. The court decided that, in view of the circumstances of the case, it would be necessary for Tom to deposit $10 and the trimmings to satisfy the demands of outraged justice.

APPEALED TO DISTRICT COURT

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning an appeal was filed in the case of John C. Knabe vs. Enno Ahrens, in the district court, coming from the court of Justice William Weber, where the plaintiff secured a judgment vacating the farm that was owned by Mr. Knabe and occupied by the defendant.

The case is one in which Mr. Knabe sued for the possession of a farm that had been leased by the defendant and which it is alleged the lease expired on the first day of March, 1925. The defendant contends that the terms of the lease have been complied with and that the defendant has made valuable improvements on the farm which entitle him to return for the money expended on the farm.

This case at the hearing in justice court attracted much attention in the vicinity of Nehawka where the parties reside and the hearing of the appeal will also create much interest among the neighbors and friends of the parties in the action.

QUEEN ESTHERS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon about 5:30, the Queen Esther girls society could be seen wending their way to the banks of the river with their arms laden with packages that suggested they might be going on a picnic. This was just what they were doing.

After the fire was built by one of the fire kindlers, weiners were roasted. After eating the time was spent in stunts, singing, etc., until such time as they deemed it safe to linger and then they returned home. In spite of the fact that during the day clouds threatened there was a good attendance and the girls all voted a good time had been had by all. This was just one of many such picnics the girls intend to have during the summer.

CALLED TO IOWA

From Tuesday's Daily—
Herbert Swanson of this city was called to Hamburg, Iowa, late Sunday evening by a message announcing the serious condition of his mother, Mrs. Charles Swanson, who was reported to be in very grave condition at the Hamburg hospital. Mrs. Swanson has been poorly for the past two weeks but it was not until Sunday that her condition grew alarming and the members of the family were called to her side. The patient was unconscious during the greater part of Sunday but yesterday she was feeling somewhat improved and was able to recognize the members of the family. If the lady shows sufficient improvement by the last of the week it is expected to have her taken to the hospital in Omaha where she will be operated upon. She is suffering from what is thought to be a blood clot of one of the main arteries that has made her case most acute.

GOES TO FRIEND'S RESCUE

From Tuesday's Daily—
J. C. Burnett, who was listed as having been fined in the court of Judge William Weber in police court yesterday, states to the Journal that while he was the one that settled the fine for the violation of the automobile license law he was not the party committing the offense. Mr. Burnett states that a man named Weiss of Omaha had driven a car belonging to his brother, J. J. Burnett, down to this city without a license and was picked up by the police. Weiss had returned to Omaha and in order to settle the matter Mr. Burnett called at the court and paid the fine for the Omaha man and was thereby drawn into the case although he was not in any way involved with the law violation.

WARM WEATHER STIRS GOLFERS

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday was one of the most pleasant days at the Plattsmouth golf club course and brought out many of the members of the club and their families to enjoy the day in shooting a few rounds of golf. The weather was ideal and from the noon hour on the course was well filled with parties enjoying the day at this popular sport. Saturday afternoon there was also the first picnic party of the season staged at the course when several of the families of the members motored out with well filled baskets and spent the late afternoon and enjoyed supper there.

LOCAL PLUMBING FIRM PURCHASES PERU BUSINESS

Burbridge & Hawkins of This City Secure New Business Location at Peru—Now Moving.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The firm of Burbridge & Hawkins, which has for the past several years been located in this city, engaged in the plumbing and furnace business, are closing their store here and removing to Peru, where they have just purchased a plumbing and tin shop and will in a few days be ready to open up in their new location.

A. E. Hawkins, junior member of the firm, has already removed his household effects there and with Mrs. Hawkins leaves today for the Nemaha county town to make their home in the future. Mr. Burbridge will go there to carry on the plumbing and tin shop work at once, but the close of the schools here as the children are completing their year's work here and it is desired that they remain until school is over.

The firm has done a nice business here, but believe that the new field is most promising as they have the only establishment of its kind at Peru and have a good territory to serve that they believe will give them a fine trade.

MRS. VROMAN SOME BETTER

From Tuesday's Daily—
Mrs. L. E. Vroman, who has been confined to her home in the south part of the city for the past week suffering with a severe attack of the flu, is reported as being somewhat better although still far from well and her condition requires that she refrain from her usual activities. The many friends of this estimable lady are pleased to learn that she is showing progress and trust that in the next few days she may be able to recover from her attack.

A. F. MOORE TO HOSPITAL

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening while A. Floy Moore, the night operator at the tower at O'Reopols, was engaged in his duties of looking after the dispatching of trains, he was suddenly taken with an acute attack of appendicitis about 11:40 and suffered a great deal before relief could be hurried to his station and permit him to be removed to the hospital.

A switch engine was sent up from this city and Mr. Moore placed in a way car and taken on into Omaha, where he was placed in the Immanuel hospital and where he will be operated on as soon as possible. The patient was accompanied by Dr. F. F. Livingston, they leaving this city at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Moore was suffering a great deal as his case seemed to be a very severe one.

GIVES PIANO RECITAL

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening a beautiful home of Mrs. J. M. Roberts on high school hill was the scene of a most delightful recital given by the piano pupils of Mrs. Roberts and which was enjoyed by a large number of the friends of the young people taking part in the program.

The program was quite lengthy and embraced some of the choicest compositions of the world's greatest composers and in the artistic manner that it was given reflected the greatest credit upon the young people taking part and their instructor who has been devoting much time to their training in the piano playing.

The members of the class taking part in the recital were: Melinda Friedrich, Catherine Hill, Maxine Fiedrich, John Becker, Helen Virginia Price, Vera Hughes, James Begley, Anna May Sandip, Vernon Thackery, Elizabeth Hatt, Catherine Terryberry, Dorothy Farmer, Jane Dunbar, Alice Crabbit, Jean Hayes, Dorothy Todd, Mildred Hall, Maxine Floyd, Martha Gorder, Irene Pfoutz, Mary Warren, Catherine McCusky, Clara Mae Thompson, Helen Wescott.

The artistic manner in which all of the program was presented was certainly a revelation to the friends who were present and showed much thoroughness on the part of the young people. The careful training that Mrs. Roberts has devoted to the members of her class has certainly resulted in their acquiring a very thorough understanding and appreciation of music.

OMAHA PARTIES CAUSE MUCH EXCITEMENT HERE

Police Department Answers Call to Be on the Lookout For Parties That Are Later Released.

From Monday's Daily—
Two men from Omaha were the cause of the local police department having a hectic time of it for several hours Saturday night which required all of the legal machinery of the county to get straightened and the police are not yet aware of just what kind of a case they were steered into.

A message was received here by A. J. P. Bertschey from Omaha announcing that a man was starting out from that city vowing several kinds of revenge on the well known manufacturer of this city, claiming some personal trouble with Mr. Bertschey who, knowing the party, thought it the part of wisdom to notify the police. Accordingly, Officers Libershal and Jackson and Constable J. C. Brittain responded to the call to action and gathered at the Bertschey factory, the supposed destination of the would-be villain.

A short time afterwards, Chief of Police Hinrichsen received a report from Omaha to be on the lookout for a red car as there were two men headed this way with booze, and a half hour later the car was spotted coming into the city. The chief of police stopped the car and gave it a frisking and the men the "once-over" but failed to find any liquor. The two men stated that they were federal operatives working in Omaha and desired to see Mr. Bertschey, one of the men having some business with him. The chief accordingly accompanied them to the factory where the matter was discussed as to the where and why-for of the case.

One of the party, it seems, was a former employe of the Bertschey garage in Omaha and had through disagreement with the owner, Mr. Bertschey, been discharged and in their dispute he had grown quite wrathful in not receiving what he thought he should have in the settlement and this was found to be the man that was supposed to be bound here with the desire of exterminating the garage owner.

The story of being federal officers did not go very strong with Chief Hinrichsen, who took the men to jail for investigation, and while they had stars as officers enforcing prohibition, they had no papers concerning this fact and their stay here was prolonged while County Attorney Kieck and County Judge Duxbury were called upon to look into the matter.

After some discussion it was decided to release the men as they did not have possession of any liquor and Mr. Bertschey did not care to file charges against them here, and the party returned to Omaha after having had a real strenuous experience.

EASTER DAY ONE OF THE RAREST BEAUTY IN CITY

Delightful Day Brings Out Hundreds For Religious Services and Motor Parties.

From Monday's Daily—
Ideal weather conditions made Easter of 1925 an occasion of the greatest beauty and pleasure in this city and one that brought out hundreds for the annual parade of the new Easter garments and to attend the religious services held in the various churches of the city.

The spirit of the day was reflected in the bright colorings of the ladies' costumes, the modes of the season calling for the brighter colors and these were seen in profusion in the crowds that filled the streets after the close of the morning church hour. These colorings were seen in both the gowns and the hats of the ladies and in the men's clothes, the poude blues and grays as well as the always popular shades of blue were noticeable.

The bright and sunny day brought out a great number of the automobiles and the highways were alive all day with passing cars carrying parties of pleasure seekers and persons out for an outing and rejoicing with the world in the message of the risen Lord.

The day was opened with a number of the churches holding early morning services that were very largely attended and participated in by hundreds of the residents of the city. There were special early morning services held by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches through their Christian Endeavor and Epworth League societies to greet the new day and at the St. Luke's Episcopal church there was the early morning mass with the celebration of holy communion.

Attorney C. S. Aldrich of Elmwood, was among the visitors in the city today attending to some matters in the district court.

SECURES NEBRASKA TERRITORY

From Monday's Daily—
John Carmack, wife and family were here yesterday, visiting for the day with the parents of Mrs. Carmack, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kunsman. Mr. Carmack, who has been traveling for the Haskins Brothers soap company out of Omaha, has just been assigned the South Platte territory of Nebraska, and will make Plattsmouth, his old home, quite often in the future, as it is a part of his new territory. He has, heretofore, had the state of Missouri, but the new assignment will bring him much closer home.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HOLD ELECTION OF OFFICERS MONDAY

Order of the Temple Conferred on Two Candidates By Mt. Zion Commandery.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening Mt. Zion commandery of the Knights Templar held a very interesting session at the Masonic temple, conferring the Order of the Temple on two candidates, the work opening at five o'clock and being participated in by a large number of the knights.

Following the degree work a rest was enjoyed at 6:30 when the members were invited to the dining room where a very appetizing banquet had been arranged and served by the committee in charge.

After the banquet the work was resumed and the commandery selected the officers for the ensuing year, the following being named: Eminent Commander—William F. Evers. Grandissimo—Glenn Perry. Captain General—Wm. J. Streight. Treasurer—Philip Theroff. Secretary—John E. Schutz.

It was a late hour when the members of the commandery completed their work and adjourned after an evening of the greatest interest and pleasure in the advancement of the work of this splendid branch of the Masonic fraternity.

PRESIDES AT STATE MEET OF C. D. OF A.

Mrs. P. J. Flynn of Plattsmouth is Chairman of State Meeting in Omaha.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The state convention of the Catholic Daughters of America opens its different courts in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore today and the meeting will be presided over by Mrs. P. J. Flynn of this city, in the absence of Mrs. Arthur P. Mullen, state regent.

The convention will bring to the metropolis many delegates from the different courts of this order throughout the state and there will be a very large representation present at the sessions of the state meeting. Mrs. Flynn is state secretary and in the absence of the regent has been called upon to preside and in her gracious manner will acquit herself with the greatest credit in her position.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT STRAYED FROM MY FARM

From Tuesday's Daily—
George M. Hild, the Flint car dealer, who has been confined to his bed with bronchitis and flu for three and a half weeks is showing some improvement and hopes soon to be able to resume his former activities.

TIME FOR REINSTATING INSURANCE NEARLY UP

The time is growing short in which reinstatement of insurance may be effected by veterans suffering with service disabilities, and with a view of doing everything possible to acquaint those veterans with their rights in this respect, the Journal is pleased to give publicity to the following statement sent out by the U. S. Veterans Bureau, Omaha, to American Legion officials:

"Particular stress should be placed on Sec. 304 of the World War Veterans Act of June, 1924, which provides that where the applicant is unable to comply with the health requirements, insurance may be reinstated upon medical evidence satisfactory to the director, showing the service origin of the disability or aggravation thereof, and that applicant is not totally and permanently disabled."

"Sec. 304 provides further that reinstatement under this condition must be made prior to June 7, 1925, or within two years after the lapse or cancellation, and with the further limitation that no term insurance shall be reinstated after July 2nd, 1926."

From the above information it will be seen that early action is necessary on the part of any who may have permitted their policies to lapse two years or more ago, if they are to get under the wire with its reinstatement by the final date of June 7th.

RETURNS FROM WINTER SPENT IN THE SOUTH

Robert L. Propst Who Has Been Wintering at Lake Worth, Fla. and Havana, Returns.

From Monday's Daily—
Robert L. Propst, who has been spending the winter at Lake Worth, Florida and Havana, Cuba, has returned to this city to remain here for the summer looking after his affairs in this locality and visiting with the children who are living in this portion of Nebraska. Mr. Propst returned Saturday and will be joined here next week by his youngest daughter, Miss Roberta, who will spend the summer here also. Miss Mayola Propst, who is located at Havana, will be in the states for a two months' vacation and is expected here later in the summer months.

Mr. Propst states that he found many interesting sights in Havana, one of the oldest cities in the western world, and which still bears the marks of the old time Spanish regime that for hundreds of years held Cuba as a colony of the Spanish crown. One of the most interesting sights from a historical standpoint is Morro castle, that guards the entrance to Havana harbor and in whose gloomy walls were staged many of the tragedies of the long Spanish rule of the island. From the castle clear through Havana extends the Plaza, the main avenue of the city and which makes a wonderful drive.

In the newer sections of the city there are modern homes and business houses made along the American lines of proper sanitary conditions, but in the older sections of the city there still remain the old conditions that have prevailed for hundreds of years and which detract much from the beauty of the city.

In the interior of the island the Royal palm grows wild and makes a very beautiful part of the scenery. There are also large sugar cane plantations and banana and grapefruit orchards that form the more staple and profitable crops of the island.

GUESTS OF OMAHA LADIES

Miss Margaret Hallahan, Miss May Murphy and Mrs. William Woolcott were at Omaha today where they were guests at the good fellowship dinner of the Omaha Court of the Catholic Daughters of America. The ladies were also attending the concert of John McCornick at the auditorium and remained over for the meeting of the C. D. of A.

BISHOP SHAYLER AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH SUNDAY

Head of the Diocese of Nebraska Conducts Confirmation Service at Episcopal Church.

From Monday's Daily—
Last evening at 8 o'clock the Rt. Rev. Ernest V. Shayler, bishop of Nebraska of the Episcopal church conducted the services at the St. Luke's church in this city, receiving into the church four new members.

The bishop was assisted in the services by Father George D. Pierce, rector of the church, and the vested choir, that added a touch of beauty to the impressive scene as the members of the class were received into the body of the church.

The bishop gave his charge to the members of the class and also preached a most pleasing sermon on the subject of Easter, taking the story of the resurrection of the Savior as the inspiration of the world in the promise of the redemption of mankind from sin and the final glory of the true believer in the life everlasting.

The church was very beautifully arranged for the services, the altar being banked with the Easter and calla lilies and illuminated by the glowing candles made a scene of charm and impressive tribute of adoration to the Savior of mankind, whose triumph over death is heralded in the message of the Easter day.

SPENDS SUNDAY HERE

From Monday's Daily—
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stoner, Paul Grassman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marasek and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Short were among the visitors in the city yesterday where they were the guests of relatives for the day. All returning to Omaha last evening where Mr. and Mrs. Short will make preparations for removing to Sedalia, Missouri, where Mr. Short is now in the employ of the Missouri Pacific and they will leave on the midnight train tonight for the Missouri city to make their future home.

EASTER DINNER PARTY

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday Mrs. Homer McKay and daughter, Mrs. Minnie Pickard, entertained a number of relatives and friends at their home on Granite Street at a very pleasant mid-day Easter dinner that was most thoroughly enjoyed by all of the members of the party. Among those who enjoyed the occasion were Mrs. Maude Bunch and daughter, Miss Hazel, of Omaha, Print Latham, Mrs. Joel Messersmith, Mrs. Golda Graham and daughter, Catherine, of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Rhin and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Goodman, of this city.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HOLD EASTER OBSERVANCE SUNDAY

Large Representation of Mt. Zion Commandery Present at First Methodist Church.

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday the members of Mt. Zion commandery, Knights Templar, held their annual Easter observance at the First Methodist church where the morning service had been arranged in keeping with the great day of the Christian world and to which there was a large congregation present to join in the observance.

The commandery met at the Masonic temple and headed by Sir Knight Raymond P. Westover, commander, marched to the church presenting a most attractive sight with the dark uniforms, the white plumes of the hats of the knights and the glittering gold and silver of their ornaments. The procession was headed by the American flag and followed by the banner of the Christian cross for which the Templars have battled through hundreds of years, with the black and white oriflammé of the local commandery.

As the Templars entered the church the organ rang out with the notes of their hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and after the seating of the knights the choir entered, singing the song of faith and inspiration.

The pastor, the Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz, a member of the Knights Templar, gave a most inspiring sermon, "The Power of the Cross," telling in his eloquent way the struggles of the Christian people through the ages and the conquering power of the faith of Christ in the world in the defense of whose cause the Knights Templar have had an important part.

The choir of the church also gave a special anthem that was a very beautiful touch to the services of the day.

At the Sunday school hour at the church there was a record attendance of 330 present, which was the largest number ever reported at the church and the building was filled to its capacity.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

From Tuesday's Daily—
George M. Hild, the Flint car dealer, who has been confined to his bed with bronchitis and flu for three and a half weeks is showing some improvement and hopes soon to be able to resume his former activities.
