CHILDREN'S PROGRAM OPENS UP MUSIC WEEK

School Children of Grade Schools Give Very Pleasant Offering at Library Yesterday.

From Tuesday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon the observance of Music Week in this community was most appropriately opened with a very delightful program at the auditorium of the public library.

The youngsters of the first and second grades of the Central building gave several interesting numbers that showed the greatest skill on the part of the little folk.

Special numbers were given by James Begley, vocalist, and Robert Bestor on the piano that proved very attractive features of the afternoon.

Miss Schlavland, nurse in charge of the work in the city schools for better health conditions, was present and gave a most interesting talk to the mothers on the care of the children, the means of preventing and checking disease as well as the physical care of the child.

The program was in charge of Mrs. John F. Gorder and was one of the most pleasant that the Woman's club has enjoyed for some time.

BELLEVUE WINS GAME

From Monday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon the baseball fans of Louisville and vicinity were gathered at that place to witness the conflict between the fast Bellevue Independents, semi-pro team and the Louisville sluggers.

In the opening inning Bellevue annexed five scores largely on errors, as they garnered but two hits off of Rudy Meisinger, but the associates of Meisinger helped out the visitors with costly bobbles.

In the fourth inning Louisville escaped a whitewashing by two runs off of Andy Graves, the grand old man of baseball, as well as a bobble by Jackson at short that allowed a run to come over for the home town folks.

Barring the opening inning, the game was well played by both teams and the Bellevue team were held with men on bases.

Ground rules robbed "Chip" Besolan of the Bellevue team as he planted a fly in the right field territory that ordinarily would have been a clean home run and on which he made the circuit of the bases, but was forced to return to second.

It is hoped to be able to have Louisville here at Plattsmouth next Sunday and the fans can be assured of a red hot game as the team at Louisville is a good fast organization and when in mid-season form will give any team a good run for their money.

CARL SCHNEIDER MAKES A HIT IN ATHLETIC WORK

Plattsmouth Young Man Has Several Chances in Coaching Work for the Coming School Year.

From Monday's Daily—

Carl Schneider, who is completing his work at Hastings college this spring, has already received several very flattering offers in athletic work at a number of the high schools over the state and will probably locate at either Broken Bow or Gothenburg the coming year.

Mr. Schneider was one of the best all around athletes in Plattsmouth high while attending here and since graduating has been a member of the football and basketball teams of Hastings college, last season being captain of the football team as well as star left end, proving a tower of strength to the team throughout the season.

Since his decision to follow the athletic coaching in the schools as a profession, Mr. Schneider has received several very attractive offers for the next year when he leaves college and among these he is considering acceptance of the positions at either Broken Bow or Gothenburg.

GRAVELING LOOKS GOOD FOR EARLY COMMENCEMENT

State Department of Public Works Will Open Bids On May 29th For Graveling Highway.

From Wednesday's Daily—

The early start of the work of graveling the King of Trails highway from this city south to the Otoe county line, looks very good now, as the state department of public works is calling for bids to be opened on Thursday, May 29th.

The amount of graveling that will be required will be 197,700 square yards of graveling surfacing three inches deep.

This project known as Nebraska City-Plattsmouth project No. 28, is one of the most important that the state department has before it this summer and will complete a large stretch on the plan of a hard surfaced road through the state from north to south.

This highway has for several years been a federal and state aid project and has been graded and maintained in keeping with the federal requirements for a road of this class.

The grading has been arranged so as to comply with all the requirements of the federal government and will be all ready to receive the surfacing of gravel as soon as the contract is let and the material can be placed on the ground.

The graveling of the road will give Otoe and Cass counties a good, hard-surfaced highway through the two counties and on the south Ne-maha and Richardson counties will be expected to get in line and join in making the road completely gravelled to the Kansas-Nebraska line.

The project from Omaha south to this city will also be pushed as rapidly as possible to get it in shape by fall or early next spring so that the highway will be one of the best in the state and make possible practically a thorough hard-surfaced road from Kansas to Omaha.

The nearness of the graveling here brings up the question of the graveling of "no man's land," or otherwise the strip of road from the Chicago avenue paving to the vicinity of the C. E. Cook place where the county gravel will stop.

This piece of road must be gravelled in the very near future and how this is to be carried out is a problem that the Plattsmouth citizens should commence to face.

MANY SEE TC-6 DEFLATED IN ORDER TO SAVE IT

Plattsmouth Visitors See Dirigible at Fort Crook Deflated in Face of Heavy Wind Storm.

Many of the residents of this city and vicinity motored to Fort Crook yesterday to look over the TC-6, the army dirigible that arrived at the army post Saturday from St. Joseph, Missouri, and which it had been intended to have been taken to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, this morning.

The visitors at Fort Crook yesterday were treated to the unusual feature of the battle of the soldiers and civilian employes to save the blimp from destruction in the face of the heavy wind storm that swept over this part of Nebraska.

The storm increased in such violence that emergency measures to save the airship was necessary, as it was threatening to break away from its anchors and sweep away to probable destruction in the storm.

Col. John Pagelow, commander of the craft pulled the rip cord of the ship's bag allowing the helium gas to escape in record time to save the craft from destruction.

A high west wind made necessary the action after volunteers, in addition to the regular aides at Fort Crook, were unable to hold the ship in check.

The bag and gondola will be shipped to the home hangar, Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., the colonel said tonight. The TC-6 arrived here yesterday from St. Joseph and flew over Omaha this morning at 7:30. Difficulty was experienced in landing and the wind increased in velocity as the day went on. A contemplated trip over Omaha tonight was consequently cancelled.

CAR BADLY DAMAGED From Wednesday's Daily— This morning the auto of C. V. Hannan, salesman of Omaha, was damaged when it was parked on Main street in front of the Mumm bakery. A large heavy army truck was coming up the street and as the truck approached the car of Mr. Hannan, a dog ran across the path of the truck and in order to avoid hitting the animal the driver of the truck swung it to one side and the result was that one of the rear wheels of the Hannan car was completely demolished and reduced to kindling wood.
