

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

No. 19

Question: Why is a used Buick the next best buy to a new Buick?

Answer: Because the correctness of Buick design and the quality of Buick manufacture are not altered by use.

JOHN D. BUCK DIES AT DANVILLE, ILL., AT U. S. HOSPITAL

Pioneer Resident of Cass County and Veteran of the Civil War Answers the Last Call.

From Saturday's Daily—John D. Buck, son of Hon. John F. and Mary M. Buck, was born near Peoria, Ill., January 2, 1843, and departed this life June 4, 1925, in Danville, Ill., where he had gone for treatment in the military hospital.

His next move was to the "Far West" by the covered wagon route in 1852, accompanied by his wife and six children.

For a short time Mr. Buck and wife resided in B. C. Canada, and in Oregon. In 1911 they located in Lynn Haven, Ida., a pioneer town for old soldiers.

To mourn his death there remain his widow, three sons and one daughter, one brother and three sisters, all residing in different states.

TO RETURN FROM HOSPITAL

This morning, Mrs. W. J. White departed for Omaha in company with Father George D. Pierce of St. Luke's church to spend a short time at the Clarkson hospital where Miss Mable White has been for the past three weeks recovering from a very severe operation.

YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Last evening at the Hotel Perkins occurred the marriage of Miss Nellie Schulze to Mr. Harry Bethel, the ceremony being witnessed by a number of the relatives of the contracting parties.

Owing to the illness of the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. John Gray, the young people had advanced the date of the ceremony to hold it while the grandmother was still with them, on account of the sickness the ceremony was very quiet and simple.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan P. Schulze of Omaha, being born and reared in this city, where she made her home up to the removal of the parents to Omaha two years ago.

The groom is a young man who is in the employ of the Burlington in the local shops and is a gentleman held in the highest esteem by those who have the privilege of his acquaintance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bethel will, in the future, make their home at the home in the north portion of the city that the groom has arranged for the coming of his bride.

PLATTSMOUTH MASONRY INSTALL NEW OFFICERS LAST NITE

Plattemouth Lodge No. 6 Inducts New Officers Into Stations With Appropriate Ceremonies.

Last evening the newly elected and appointed officers of Plattemouth Lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M., were duly inducted into their offices at the session of the lodge, which was very largely attended by the membership.

The officers installed were as follows: Worshipful Master—Oliver C. Hudson.

Senior Warden—Willis R. Holmes. Junior Warden—Raymond C. Cook.

Treasurer—Frank A. Cloldt. Secretary—Leslie W. Nell.

Senior Deacon—Henry F. Nolting. Junior Deacon—Edwin A. Fricke. Senior Steward—Aubrey H. Duxbury.

COL. M. A. BATES WAS 83 YEARS OLD JUNE 2

Col. M. A. Bates, of Plattsmouth, Neb., a former editor of The Democrat, celebrated his 83rd birthday on June 2nd. Col. Bates has lived at Plattsmouth, where his son Robert Bates owns the Plattsmouth Journal, for about twenty years.

Judge N. M. Pettengill received a photograph of Col Bates and a letter from him Wednesday. The picture was taken on his 83rd birthday, and while the Col. is twenty years older than when he left Memphis, he looks quite natural and was immediately recognized by many of the older people to whom Judge Pettengill showed the photograph.

Col. Bates is one of the few living ex-editors of The Democrat. S. G. McDowell died recently in Florida. Phelix Lane is deceased. J. C. Kirby we believe is still living at West Plains, Mo. Samuel Allen died a few years ago at Trenton, Mo., and Dr. J. C. Gristy and L. P. Roberts died in Memphis.—Memphis (Mo.) Democrat.

YOUNG LADY MAKES A FINE RECORD AT PHARMACY SCHOOL

Miss Vivian Blake, who has been attending the Creighton school of Pharmacy, in Omaha, is now at home, having finished her course and received her diploma.

She had gained considerable practical experience in her father's drug store before she started to school and was well qualified to decide for herself what her future calling would be and she has enjoyed her studies and the social activities of this great institution to the fullest extent and her family and friends are very proud to know that she has made a success of her undertaking.

CHIEF GETS BUSY

If the Fourth of July celebration in this community is not a great and abundant success, it is not going to be the fault of Chief of Police Johnson as he has been busy all morning putting stickers on the cars that were to be found along the street.

SECURES IMPORTANT VICTORY IN SUPREME COURT CASE

Attorney A. L. Tidd of This City Secures Reversal of Case of Tavilinsky vs. Ringling Bros.

From Saturday's Daily—In the reversal by the state supreme court of the case of Charles and Julia Tavilinsky vs. the Ringling Bros. circus, Attorney A. L. Tidd of this city has secured a very pleasing victory following a three year period of litigation in which Mr. Tidd has fought the case for the Ringling Brothers.

The case was first tried in the district court of Lancaster county, where the plaintiffs, Charles and Julia Tavilinsky filed an action asking for damages for the loss of the society and services of their fifteen year old son Jakey, who has since September, 1920, been a member of the circus and is still with them.

At the first trial of the case, Mr. Tidd in the case of a week before the trial and had to combat the large array of witnesses of the plaintiff with a few affidavits of the circus company. The plaintiff received a judgment of $7,500. The case was reviewed and the opinion reversing it and overturning the judgment was given by Justice W. H. Thompson.

On the day named the parents gave Jakey a dollar to go see the circus. He never returned. Later it developed that he had sought a job and had been given one. His parents sued on the ground that he had been enticed, induced and persuaded to leave them and that he had been wickedly and unlawfully imprisoned; that he was compelled to associate with dissolute characters and that he had been debauched and his affections alienated.

The court says that the record shows that the parents, in their reply, admitted that the boy had sought the job, and that this settles the controversy as to how he came to join the show. Parents, however, have a right to the care, custody, service and companionship of their children and where they are wrongfully deprived of them they have a right of action, even in a case where the child sought the employment. The judgment cannot stand, however, for the reason that with full knowledge of the material facts the parents accepted part of his wages and that this ratified the employment and constituted a waiver of damages.

The boy visited his home in 1921 when the circus returned to Lincoln, at which time the suit was brought. The boy admitted that he was greatly incensed, but the circus people said it wasn't his fault and he stayed with the show. The money he gave his mother was deposited in his name, but used by his parents, who refused to give it back to him when he demanded it. The court does not deny that the boy appropriated the money, but says it was a question that the court should have submitted in an instruction. For this reason the case is remanded for further action.

The court declined to consider favorably the contention of the parents that the circus had within its classification of attractive nuisances, such as a railroad turntable, the lure of which a child of immature mind and judgment is unable to resist. This doctrine also involves the theory that because they are so alluring the operators are responsible if those who are irresponsibly drawn to them are injured by the reason of their contact. The attorneys for the Tavilinskys said that the boy was utterly powerless to resist the fascination and allurements, and ran away without asking permission or consulting his parents.

SUFFERS DAMAGED FOOT

For the past few days Theodore Hadraba, who has been engaged in assisting in the Weyrich & Hadraba drug store, has been on the retired list as the result of a very painful and annoying accident. Mr. Hadraba was doing some work in the rear of the building and which made necessary his going out into the alley. The young man was busy and not noticing where he was going suddenly stepped on a large jagged piece of glass that had been thrown along by some careless person.

HORSES RUN INTO CAR

When Harriet Peacock, 2115 Warren avenue, in Plattsmouth, turned her car into a drive at 1955 A street, her car was run into by a team of horses driven by George Shover. The car was damaged but no one was injured.—State Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Becker, Miss Verla Becker, Harley Becker and Frank A. Cloldt leave Sunday morning for Lincoln where they will attend the funeral services of Mrs. Ed Baumgart Sunday afternoon.

Catarrhal Deafness

Is often caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever.

MAY GO TO ROCHESTER

From Saturday's Daily—The condition of Clerk of the District Court Clarence L. Beal, who was returned a few days ago to the Methodist hospital at Omaha, does not show the improvement that had been hoped and which has led the family to the decision that it may be best to have the patient taken to Rochester, Minnesota, for an examination and treatment at the Mayo hospital, where the most celebrated surgeons and specialists will be able to give the case the benefit of their knowledge and experience.

MASONIC GRAND LODGES NAMES NEW OFFICERS

John Wright, Lincoln, Grand Master and Edwin D. Crites of Chadron, Deputy Grand Master.

From Thursday's Daily—At the session of the grand lodge of the A. F. & A. M. of Nebraska, at the Masonic temple in Omaha yesterday, the lodge selected the officers for the ensuing year to preside over the destinies of the order. The officers named were as follows: Grand Master—John Wright, Lincoln.

Deputy Grand Master—Edwin D. Crites, Chadron.

Grand Senior Warden, Albert R. Davis, Wayne.

Grand Junior Warden—Frank H. Woodland, Omaha.

Grand Secretary—Lewis E. Smith, Omaha.

Grand Secretary Emeritus—Frances E. White, Omaha.

The new grand master succeeds Judge Robert R. Dickson of O'Neill.

The new officers have much interest for the Plattsmouth citizens outside of the membership of the order as the new elected deputy grand master, Edwin D. Crites, is a son of a former Plattsmouth resident, Judge A. W. Crites, and the new deputy grand master has been here frequently on visits as he is a nephew of Mrs. B. S. Ramsey of this city.

RETURNS FROM DECATUR

From Saturday's Daily—This morning W. R. Young returned home from a stay of several days in the northeastern part of the state, having performed an emergency duty in a very serious accident that befell his brother-in-law, Fred Henton. Last Monday Mr. Henton, with a hired man had been engaged in stretching a wire fence around part of his farming land near Decatur and while they were stretching the wire, the wire stretcher gave way and flew back, striking Mr. Henton on the head and causing a fracture of the skull. The injured man was unconscious from Monday until Friday afternoon when he partially regained his senses and was able to recognize the members of the family. Mrs. Young who accompanied her husband to Decatur, will remain for a short time with the injured brother.

RETURNS FROM THE WEST

From Saturday's Daily—This morning W. E. Rosenerans and son, Blythe, who have been on a visit in the western portion of the state, in and near Imperial, returned home. They report the condition of things in Chaso county as being the very best that could be desired, as that section of the state has had a great deal more rain than the parts farther east and also that the season there has been most favorable for the wheat crop.

In a number of cases oats and rye are ready to cut and wheat has now reached a very good stand and the harvest will soon be on in full blast. A small part of the territory suffered a slight hail on Wednesday, but the damage was not serious and affected a very limited area.

While in the west Mr. Rosenerans visited for a few days in Colorado, finding conditions near Fort Collins very poorly but near Holyoke the crops were excellent and showed the best for years there. They brought back with them specimens of wheat from the fields near Imperial that looks fine. On the trip they also enjoyed a visit with many of the former residents of this county who are now located in that section.

James Deal of Sioux City is here engaged in looking after some railroad work and for a short visit with old time friends in this city and vicinity.

DEATH OF MRS. ED. BAUMGART THIS MORNING. After a Period of Six Years as an Invalid, Death Comes to Relief of Suffering Lady.

From Thursday's Daily—This morning at 2:40 at Lincoln occurred the death of Mrs. Edward Baumgart, who had for the past six years been a practical invalid due to attacks of rheumatism and which in the past year had made her almost helpless and from which there could be found no relief, death coming as a blessing to her long period of illness.

The deceased lady was formerly Miss Dora Kaffenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kaffenberger, now residing at Lincoln. She was born in this county thirty years ago on the farm west of this city, growing to womanhood in this community and where she was married some ten years ago to Edward Baumgart.

To mourn the taking away of this estimable young woman there remain the husband and three daughters, Clara and Thyra, who reside at the home west of this city, and Ada, who has been making her home with her uncle near Sterling, Nebraska.

There have been no funeral arrangements made so far as the members of the family here have learned, although it is expected that the body will be brought to this city for interment in the family lot at Oak Hill cemetery.

F. I. Rae, of the Nebraska Gas & Electric Co., who has been in the southern portion of his district, has returned home. Mr. Rae reports a very fine rainfall in that section that was of great benefit to the crops.
