Gives Report of 1925 Club Week

The three hundred or more boys and girls and local leaders who attended the Tenth Annual Boys and Girls Club Week at Lincoln the first week in June were entertained as the most distinguished people of Nebraska. The Agricultural College where the week was spent, the City of Lincoln, the livestock interests in Omaha, and the City of Omaha each did their part to make their guests from all over Nebraska feel that they were admired for the worth while things they had done in their 1924 club work on their farms and in their homes.

The Mill Is Grinding

The Nehawka mill, not the one which burned, but the one which was built in its place, and which has been under construction for some time, is so far completed that the grinder and power have been installed and the work of grinding is now going on. The power which is used for the present is a tractor, but which will soon be substituted by an electric motor, which will be the power after the change.

Are Seeing the West.

Grandfather J. M. Stone, accompanied by Mrs. D. C. West and Mrs. Walter Wunderlich, and the children who are in the southwest, writes that they are having a fine time. The letter came from Tucson, Arizona, at which place they state that they are enjoying the climate and will, in a short time, go to Del Norte, Colo. They will go to a cabin in the mountains near where Mr. Stone has some land and where they will expect to remain and enjoy the climate for the summer.

Are Visiting in the Northwest.

Mr. H. H. Stoll and son, Herold, and Miss Roberta Flenne, departed the first of the week for the northwest, having for their destination Wayside, which is in the extreme northwestern portion of the state, where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stoll, who are farming there. The first day of the car trip they were riding on the mountain and put them about seventy miles out of their way, and by the time they had gotten the auto to understand just the direction they wished it to run, night had come and they were at Oakdale.

Daughters of American Revolution

Yes, there was to be a county gathering at the grove of F. P. Sheldon last Sunday and preparations were made for their entertainment. The rain came in copious quantities, which put the quits on the attendance of those from a distance, but the women who were present were in readiness, the picnic was held and enjoyed most thoroughly by the membership and their friends of Nehawka.

Held Annual Picnic

The ladies of the U. B. society gave their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at the home of Nels Anderson. A bounteous lunch was served, a social time was held and no routine work done at this meeting. The guests were Mrs. Ketch Stone, of Dell, Mesdames Rutledge and Franks and Misses Delpha Bates and Gladys Wolfe.

Big Mann Visitor Here

Wayne (Big) Mann, of Lincoln, Mrs. James Walker and daughter, Jennie, of Dunbar, were callers on Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wolfe. Big Mann and Walker are cousins of Mesdames Wolfe and St. John. Mann leaves for Tulsa, Oklahoma, the first of the week, later going to Boston and other cities on the coast. However, he does not know who he will be matched to wrestle with as yet.

RECEPTION FOR JOE STECHER AT DODGE

Fremont, Neb., June 15.—Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, was the guest of honor at an occasion given in his behalf upon his return to his home town at Dodge with the crown once more in his possession. Stecher leaves early next week for an extended visit in California.

FORMER PLATTS-MOUTH MAN AND WIFE IN SUICIDE PACT

Mrs. John Warthen Dead and Husband May Die as Result of Rash Act—Had Suffered Poverty.

From Monday's Daily—Five Children, the eldest 19, are motherless as a result of a suicide pact revealed Saturday with the death of Mrs. Ida Warthen, 35, at 4912 South Twenty-first street, Omaha.

John Warthen, 38, husband of Mrs. Warthen, is near death at St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha, with a police guard standing over his bed to frustrate a second attempt at suicide.

After putting their five children to bed at 9:30 p. m. Friday, the couple placed a large quantity of strychnine in coffee gulped the contents and went to bed to die.

Awakened at 3 Saturday by the violent coughing of his parent, Harry, 16, eldest son, found his father dying and his mother dead.

Son Flees From House.

At their feet another son, Reily, 2, slumbered, unaware of the tragedy.

The eldest son, panic-stricken by the strange scene, fled in flight from the home. At Twenty-fourth and N streets he encountered Patrolman Ed Berger, who accompanied him home.

Berger summoned medical attention for Warthen. The attending physician said that Warthen had taken an overdose of the poison. It caused him to vomit violently.

A large dose of the poison is less apt to be fatal than a small dose, the physician said. Because of the large quantity taken by Warthen, his system threw it off.

Wants to Die With Wife.

"I want to die with my wife," pleaded Warthen, as they removed him to the hospital.

Rigor mortis had set in on the body of Mrs. Warthen, coroner Paul Steinwender said, indicating she had died before midnight.

"I lapsed into unconsciousness shortly after going to bed," said Warthen. "I awoke in dreadful pain about midnight. I saw my wife was dead. I thought I, too, would die soon."

Man Out of Work.

Warthen said he had been unemployed since in January.

"Every morning I would go to the packing houses in search of work," he said. "The foremen would hire foreigners and Negroes. They wouldn't give me a job. And my children and wife were starving."

"I told my wife I couldn't go on. 'Let's end it,' she said. So with my last cent I went to a drug store and bought the poison. I set an eighth of an ounce.

"Then after the children had gone to sleep my wife made some coffee. 'Then kissing each other good-by, we drank it.'"

Lived in Poverty.

The Warthens were living in the direst poverty in the basement at 4912 South Twenty-first street. Only the most crude necessities of life were in the three squalid rooms—a

WHAT IS TO BE DONE ABOUT SEWER INLETS?

Spring Rains Bring On Another Discussion of Water Drainage—Lesson Should be Heeded.

The story of the Arkansas farmer whose home was afflicted with a leaky roof from which the weather was good he did not need to fix and when it was raining he could not fix, about fits in the situation here in regard to the sewer inlets that adorn the new box sewer system and which in time of high water are beautiful and ornamental only.

There has been many warnings given in the huge volumes of water that pours down from the hills onto the avenues and hence on down the main section of the city and which have twice, last year and on Sunday, come down nearly close to overflowing into the buildings and subjected the business men of the town to a serious loss on the business men of the community who have in the past had their resources taxed to try and provide some remedy of relief from this condition but which does not seem to improve although $50,000 was spent in new paving and $18,000 in a sewerage system that may be all right in principle but fails to catch the water.

The four foot openings that are placed along Sixth and Main streets at intervals leaves about as much force in catching the water as if they were not there. The manner in which they have been prepared is an invitation to prevent the water getting into them. The iron rods that have been placed there to check the debris is the only successful feature about them. It sure stops the debris and holds it there and all the efforts of the property owners and citizens cannot dislodge the sticks, grass and mud that washes in and seals up the sewer openings. The rods are placed so far back in the sewer that they cannot be reached from the edge of the walk and consequently in a storm the sewers are out of commission as soon as the high water starts.

It would cost very little to have these remedied. It would be an easy matter to get out the present rods situated back in the sewer beyond the reach of anyone and place them at the outside of the sewer opening where they could be reached and where anyone with a pole or staff could clear away debris and grass that might come floating down and lodge against the openings and in this way keep the sewers open, the rods at the front of the opening would also tend to throw off a great deal of the larger pieces of debris that now find lodging in the openings.

PLATTSMOUTH DEFEATS BELLEVUE ATHLETICS

Baseball Tossers From up the River Go Down to Defeat by Score of 11 to 4 on Own Lot.

From Monday's Daily—The Plattsmouth baseball crew, minus a few of the members, journeyed northward yesterday afternoon following the delay, meeting the Bellevue Athletics in their own barnyard and humiliated the dwellers of the one time college town by the score of 11 to 4.

The Athletics club started their start pitching and Clark, on the mound, but his delivery was touched by the heavy hitting batsmen and in the fifth he was sent to the bench when the Plattsmouth team annexed six hits and five runs off his delivery.

The game was very close up until the fifth, although Clark had been hit freely by the Plattsmouth batters and the Plattsmouth scoring, while Swanson, Plattsmouth hurling ace, allowed but two hits in this period. The score was 1 to 1 when the curtain was rung up on the fateful fifth stanza that gave the knockout to the heroes that believe might have entertained a victory.

In the opening inning, Plattsmouth hit Clark for three safe bingles and made their first score, Herb Klauschie scoring on the hit of Bressman to the center garden. The Plattsmouth scoring, while Swanson, Plattsmouth hurling ace, allowed but two hits in this period. The score was 1 to 1 when the curtain was rung up on the fateful fifth stanza that gave the knockout to the heroes that believe might have entertained a victory.

In the final inning the Plattsmouth defense weakened somewhat and Bellevue cantered over with three tallies, one being a circuit drive by Jackson, the ball being lost in the weed belt that fringes the outskirts of the ball grounds.

DUSEK TO MEET STECHER AT LITTLE ROCK JUNE 29

Defeats Jim Browning, Kansas Giant and is Matched to Meet Champion for Honors

From Monday's Daily—Word received here yesterday by Anton Dusek from his brother in the south, who has gained fame wrestling under the name of Italy Dusek, states that he has been definitely matched with Joe Stecher, claimant to present championship honors thru his recent defeat of Zhyzsko, who took the honors from Big Mann soon after his defeat at Lewis.

The match will be held in Little Rock, Arkansas, and will afford Rudy the opportunity he has long sought of meeting the top-notchers. He is in excellent trim physically and should be able to make a mighty good showing against Stecher if not defeat him.

Accompanying his letter was a copy of the El Dorado (Ark.) News, containing an account of Rudy's defeat of Jim Browning, the Kansas giant before a crowd of some 3,000 fans, and which the News declared was one of the best matches ever seen there. Dusek won the first and third falls, the first in 38 minutes and 30 seconds and the third in 21 minutes and 30 seconds, the Flying Mare held, a favorite of the local boy, contributing largely to his success in this as in his former wrestling matches.

The news of his being matched with Stecher will be of interest to his friends here as well as throughout the southwest where he has risen to fame in the mat game with spectacular victories over some of the best heavyweights there and is well and favorably known in many of the larger cities.
