Last Wednesday Harry Leesley and family and Mr. Leesley's mother, Mrs. W. P. Leesley returned from a two weeks' trip which included Yellowstone park, Loveland, Denver and Colorado Springs. They drove their car truck which they were using for the trip to the top of Pike's peak and enjoyed the sunrise from that elevated point. They returned via the route which leads through Kansas and had a very exciting experience while camping about 60 miles this way from Colorado Springs as a rain and very severe hail storm caught them just outside of the town near where they were camping and the water ran four inches deep thru their tent. With the help of citizens they carried the children to safety and the ladies waded through the water which was ice cold in their bare feet to get out. It took all the following day to get their effects dry so they could come on home. They also went on top of the mountains at Palmer Lake where they entered the ice cave which was cold enough. Harry says that he was not able to sleep yama one night while in the mountains, still people go for pleasure.

THOMAS IS NOT CONFIDENT WILL GET APPOINTMENT

Dry Chief Hears General Andrews Consulting Business Leaders On Selections.

Despite the pledged aid of Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa leaders of the Anti-Saloon league, Elmer Thomas, Nebraska prohibition director, said Friday he did not feel at all confident that he would be appointed fifteenth district prohibition chief when the new alignment is made under the direction of Assistant Secretary Andrews, who has taken charge of dry-law enforcement.

"It is the announced policy of General Andrews not to be guided by recommendations from the Anti-Saloon league, and the only consideration in connection with his own investigations in different fields," said Mr. Thomas. "General Andrews has consulted business leaders in various cities, such as Henry Ford in Detroit, and Judge Gary for the steel centers, in making his appointments and he will probably do the same here."

After a conference here Thursday, summoned by F. A. High, superintendent of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon league, attended also by H. E. Dawes, Mitchell, S. D.; S. P. McNaught, Des Moines, Ia., and the Rev. Emerson Hunt, Mitchell, S. D., national headquarters of the league at Washington was informed that local weight would be thrown to Thomas, and the different leaders agreed to write to General Andrews urging the appointment of the present Nebraska chief to head the enlarged district.

Mr. McNaught said he favored the appointment of Glen Brunson, Algonia, Ia., dry chief for his state, but that rather than split the support of a good man, he would aid the Thomas cause.

MISSOURI MOB LYNCHES MAN ACCUSED BY GIRL

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Aug. 7.—Miller Mitchell, held in jail here for an alleged assault last night on a white girl, was lynched by a mob of about five hundred persons here late today. The mob took Mitchell from the jail to a ravine about a quarter of a mile from town where he was hanged to a tree.

Two unsuccessful efforts were made by authorities to remove the negro to an adjoining county, but each time the mob forced the officers back in the jail. Both the girl and her companion, Leonard Utt, who were on a motor ride last night, when they were stopped by Mitchell, had identified the negro as the girl's assailant.

Mitchell was arrested here this morning on the complaint of Leonard Utt, young farmer of near Lawson. He told the police as he was returning home in a motor car with a young woman companion, a negro flashed a light in front of his car, leaped on the running board as he slowed down, and struck him over the head, rendering him unconscious.

The young woman told officers here she was compelled to get into the back of the car and was assaulted by the negro. Both she and Utt identified him today.

WARDEN TO TELL STORY OF 'SHOOT'

E. C. Haslurger Says Men Drove Thru Fence When Challenged,—He Shot at Auto Tires.

Valentine, Neb., Aug. 7.—E. C. Haslurger, deputy game warden of Schuyler, will be arraigned here this afternoon before County Judge McDaniel on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Haslurger is charged with shooting at a party of hunters. He said he aimed at the tires of their car in an effort to stop them after they had failed to halt at his command.

No one in the party was struck by the shot. George Brandeis and E. John Brandeis of Omaha, C. B. Bachelor and J. C. Quigley of Valentine, will appear as witnesses against the warden.

No complaint was filed against the men charging them with violating the game laws as was reported, it developed later.

The charge grew out of the wounding of C. B. Bachelor, rancher, of Cherry county, Wednesday, who was accompanied by a party of sportsmen to his ranch in two automobiles.

According to Haslurger, he fired at the tires of one of the cars after the party refused to stop when ordered. Haslurger said he desired to question the party concerning their hunting activities.

Haslurger came here with State Game Warden Jenkins and Deputy Wallace Weller, to put a stop to reported killing of game out of season by wealthy ranchers in this vicinity, he declared.

Thursday, according to the story of the game wardens, they followed automobiles said to contain Bachelor, George Brandeis, Omaha millionaire merchant, and J. O. Quigley, Valentine attorney, out in the sandhills. Members of the automobile party were all dressed in hunting togas.

Haslurger said he lay in wait for the return of the automobiles, and saw the two cars returning to town in the afternoon. He stepped out in the center of the road and ordered the driver to halt. Instead of complying the driver started to break road, drove thru a wire fence, and disappeared in the sandhills.

"I then returned to Valentine to swear out warrants for the arrest of the occupants of the car," Haslurger said. "But when I reached town, I found that the warrants had already been sworn out charging me with shooting with intent to kill. I did not know until then that I had hit Bachelor."

The affair has stirred Cherry county greatly. Reports that millionaire sportsmen have been paying scant attention to game laws have been current for several years. It was these reports which were used against George Koster, former game warden, when the question of his reappointment came up following the election of Governor McMullen, according to reports here.

Local sportsmen had been notified some weeks ago that Warden Jenkins and Secretary McLaughlin intended to make a campaign in Cherry county to eliminate the practice of shooting game out of season.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM WELL CAVE-IN

Wm. Hicks, who has been superintending the digging of a well on the top of the well when he cave-in occurred Tuesday that put a couple of more gray hairs in his head.

The well on which he was working had been dug down to rock and was about twenty-five feet deep. When rock was struck dynamite was used to penetrate this obstruction and several feet had been blasted out successfully. Mr. Hicks had been working in the well and was just being pulled out by other workmen when the sides of the well commenced to cave in. He had just reached the top of the well when the cave-in occurred and he feels very fortunate he was not a minute later in reaching the surface as he would no doubt have been killed.

He declares up and down that he will never enter another well and after one has experienced a similar occurrence we cannot blame him in the least.—Nehawka Enterprise.

"What good," asks Senator Norris, "does it do to pass laws if the president is going to appoint men to administer them who have no sympathy with them? It is, in effect, the repeal of the statute by executive action."
