

Experience Has Shown That Paying by Check is More than a Convenience It Saves Time and Money!

It makes a written record, gives the customer the best form of receipt and obviates disputes as to whether or not a bill has been paid. Banks want to render this service and they do all they can to encourage their patrons to pay by check. It is now true, however, that the cost of this Service has so increased that small balances cannot be made to yield enough profit to cover it. Hence the necessity of a service charge.

THEREFORE, on and after September 1st, 1295, the Plattsmouth banks will make a Service charge of 50c per month for handling all checking accounts of individuals, firms or corporations showing a balance under $50.00 or an average balance of less than $50.00 for the month. This service charge will be made against the account of the customer monthly. This charge is optional on accounts of churches or charitable organizations and on accounts of customers with other accounts in the bank equivalent of $50.00. The rule will not apply to any Savings account. For further information as to this charge, the reasonableness of it and the necessity for it, please consult your own banker.

To Control Wheat Smut.
The copper carbonate method of treating wheat for smut is proving more satisfactory than the old method of formaldehyde. Although the latter method gives very good results when properly carried out, there are many chances of getting poor results from its use. Poor formaldehyde is perhaps one of the greatest causes of loss after this treatment is used. It should always be purchased in sealed bottles. Smut balls in the wheat are often not affected by this treatment.

and they reinflect the seed after treatment. This method is also quite cumbersome in that it requires the soaking of the seed, followed by subsequent covering and drying before seeding. The copper carbonate method is simpler and consists of mixing two ounces of the dry powder with each bushel of wheat. The seed may be sowed at once after treatment or stored. A revolving barrel or box makes a good treating device. A barrel cement mixer may be used if it is closed tightly.

Home Shower Bath.
If the boys want a shower bath, let them make one. They will need a pail that holds at least four gallons of water, a medium sized funnel, a light rope and pulley, a piece of light rubber hose, a clamp or clothes pin and a shower bath nozzle. If they are handy with soldering tools, they can cut a hole in the bottom of the bucket and solder the funnel in place, but if they are not equipped to do it they should take the bucket and funnel to a tinner and pay him to do a good job. They can fasten the pulley to a high beam somewhere so they can run the rope thru it and pull the pail over their heads. The rubber hose goes on the funnel spout. The clamp or clothes pin acts as a faucet. The boys can fill the bucket with warm water, hoist it up, pull off the clamp and enjoy themselves as long as the water lasts. The larger the pail the better and cleaner they will get and the more fun they will have.

INTERESTING FIGURES RELATIVE TO COUNTY SCHOOLS

County Superintendent Miss Alpha Peterson Gives Facts on Schools.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The patrons of the Cass county schools will be very much interested to learn of many facts of importance that have been secured from the figures as to the schools, compiled by the very efficient superintendent, Miss Alpha Peterson. The facts as to the rural schools are very complete but owing to the fact that there are several of the city schools that have not all of their figures available it is impossible at this time to give them. There are in Cass county eighty-six districts, of which seventy are rural school districts. These schools are housed in seventy-six frame, twenty-two brick and one stone building.
There are 219 teachers in the schools of the county, who in the past year received $58,678.50 in salaries. The teachers taught a total of 12,842 days in the school year. All the schools of the county were operated as nine months schools and kept at the very highest state of efficiency.
In regard to the cost of the schools there are some very interesting facts given by the superintendent. There was $19,409 spent in the schools as representing the state apportionment, the fines and licenses, the city schools receiving the fines and costs in their own districts and which is not included in the above. In the cost of the rural schools there was the amount $77,641.05, covering the money that was raised by taxation and by apportionment. This will be less for the year 1925-26 as the levies made show the cost to be $69,248.91, as many of the districts will find that they will not need to make levies this year owing to money on hand, while the new free high school tuition law takes the cost of individual pupils from the districts and makes a blanket tax on the whole county for rural high school purposes and in which the districts pay only their share.
The value of the rural school property outside of the equipment is given as $105,857.02 for the year just closed.
In the number of the pupils taught in the rural school there was a total of 2,298, including one pupil over 21 years of age. Three were 118 pupils who successfully passed the Eighth grade examination. For the coming term of school there are 327 students who have applied under the free high school tuition law and will be received from all directions with baskets, chairs, games, ect. and Mrs. Peterson thinking some mischief makers might be about turned on the porch light only to find her neighbors smiling at her from the porch and yard. Her picture, "Daisy" for her newly remodeled home, which was to remind her in years to come of this neighborhood which has been her home ever since she began housekeeping. All joined then for half an hour in singing songs familiar to all and the company was surprised at their own talent. The husband, however, coming home about this hour was also surprised but didn't brave the racket and awaited the departure of his noisy neighbors, who filed out as they came, wishing their friend many happy returns of the day.
Those included in the party were Mrs. Elmer Webb, Mrs. Will Brink, Mrs. Arries, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Weyrich, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Lehnhoff, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Staats, Mrs. Farley, Miss Jones, Mrs. Hayes, Misses Baird, Staats, Moore, Martens, Lehnhoff and relatives: Mrs. Peterson, Sr., Mrs. Spies, Mrs. Schutz, Mrs. Mayfield and Mary Peterson. Several children also accompanied their parents.

A HAPPY SURPRISE
From Wednesday's Daily—
Monday being the 29th birthday of Mrs. J. C. Peterson, Jr., the neighbors decided among themselves to renew their own acquaintance and make a simultaneous call upon their friend. About eight o'clock they arrived from all directions with baskets, chairs, games, ect. and Mrs. Peterson thinking some mischief makers might be about turned on the porch light only to find her neighbors smiling at her from the porch and yard. Her picture, "Daisy" for her newly remodeled home, which was to remind her in years to come of this neighborhood which has been her home ever since she began housekeeping. All joined then for half an hour in singing songs familiar to all and the company was surprised at their own talent. ## SEVEN BIG DAYS OF COMMUNITY SALE IN THIS CITY

Plattsmouth Merchants Announce Biggest Sales Event of Several Years.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Commencing Saturday, August 15, and continuing over Saturday, August 22, a group of the leading business men of the city of Plattsmouth are arranging to hold a great community sale that will surpass in its value giving qualities any that has heretofore been suggested or offered.
This great August clearance sale will be for cash, its prices being such that there is no margin of profit and the merchants in order to give the public the fullest bargain offerings must have the cash prices for the goods which in many cases could not today be bought at wholesale at the prices they are being offered.
As this sale is being featured in the middle of August, the regular monthly bargain Wednesday will be omitted and the shoppers will find that instead of one big day of bargain offerings they will have seven of them to take advantage of and secure some real bargains at the very lowest prices that can possibly be offered.
Every line of trade in the city is represented in the list of those who are offering their wares at the big August sale which will be a real eye-opener to the shoppers of the community.
The advertising matter for the big sale is now being passed out over the county and should be in every home in ample time for the shoppers to get in and participate in the real trading treat that has been arranged for their benefit and advantage.
There has been nothing attempted on such a large scale in years and the advertising that is being placed in the hands of the shoppers will be something that they cannot fail to take the fullest advantage of.
Every road should lead to Plattsmouth in the next week and the residents of Cass, Sarpy and Otoe counties as well as Mills county, Iowa, should be filled by the shoppers coming in to enjoy the big bargains that have been prepared for them.

COMMISSIONERS MAKE TAX LEVY FOR THIS YEAR

Total of County Levy Will be 2.95 Mills, a Reduction Over Last Year; State Levy 2.35.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The board of county commissioners were in session at the court house today and made the levy for the ensuing year for the care of the expenses of the county government.
The county board received the report of the county assessor for the year showing the tangible property value to be $56,040,286; the intangible property, Class A, $1,398,440; Class B, $792,820.
On motion the board adopted the state levy made, 2.35 mills as had been certified to the county board, setting the county levy at 2.95 mills, a total levy of state and county of 5.3 mills.
The levy for the various funds made by the county board was as follows:
General fund ----- 1.03 mills
Bridge fund ----- .9 mills
Road fund ----- .9 mills
Mothers' pensions ----- .16 mills
Soldiers' relief ----- .02 mills
This rate will show a very pleasing reduction from the levy of last year as the levy last year was $3 on a thousand of assessed valuation while this year the rate will be only $2.95.

POLICE STOP DESTRUCTION OF RESIDENCE

Old Brick Residence on North Fourth Street is Attacked By Large Crowd of Boys.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The night police force was called out last evening to what is known as the "Walker" property on Oak street just off of Fourth where a large party of boys were reported as raising a great deal of trouble and in the opinion of the residents of the locality they were tearing the place down.
When the police reached the scene they found a large party of boys of all ages, sizes and colors assembled in the house and intent apparently on the destruction of the property. Windows were broken out, the interior of the house badly damaged by the destructive efforts of someone although the boys denied any part in the acts of vandalism.
The police made a charge at the "gang" and succeeded in getting three or four of the boys who were ordered to stand today to County Attorney W. G. Kieck to answer for their alleged acts and explain how the place had become the headquarters of the "gang," as the residents in that section of the city state that the assemblages each evening there have become common thing.
The Walker residence was at one time one of the finest in the city and a show place for years but after the removal of the original owners of the home it has not been kept in its former state, while the changes in the grades of the street have left the building considerably up in the air from the surrounding property.
