PLATTSMOUTH ATTORNEY JOINS THE BENEDICTS

Marriage of Miss Nita Samek of Weston and Joseph A. Capwell Occurs at Harvard, Neb.

From Thursday's Daily—
Last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the sister of the bride, Mrs. Ray Oterabosky at Harvard, Nebraska, occurred the marriage of Miss Nita Samek of Weston, Nebraska, to Attorney Joseph A. Capwell of Plattsmouth.

The wedding was a very quiet one being attended by the members of the immediate families of the young people, who had come from Lincoln and Weston for the happy occasion that was to mark the joining of the lives of these two estimable young people.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Capwell motored to Sioux Falls South Dakota, where they will remain for a short time as the guests of friends and then return to Plattsmouth where the groom has the home awaiting the coming of the bride.

The wedding is a romance dating to the university days of the young people, when both were attending the University of Nebraska, their friendship at the school ripening into a deeper affection that has culminated in the decision to make life's journey together.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Samek, well known and highly esteemed residents of Weston, where the girlhood of the bride was spent until she removed to Lincoln to study at the University School of Music. Mrs. Capwell was one of the most gifted students at the school and her musical work has won her many recognitions since her graduation from the university. Her wonderful talent in this line will make a highly desirable addition to the musical circles of Plattsmouth and the music lovers are delighted to learn that she is to make her home here.

The groom is one of the well known and popular young attorneys of Cass county and since his location at Elmwood a number of years ago he has occupied a high place in the Cass county bar. Mr. Capwell is a veteran of the World war in which he took his place at the outbreak of the war and served in the trenches. Since his return from service he has been quite active in democratic political circles of the county, serving for some time as county attorney of Cass county. He was appointed this spring as city attorney of Plattsmouth by Mayor Sautter, and has proven a most efficient official. Mr. Capwell is a graduate of the University of Nebraska law college and was for a number of years a resident of Elmwood before coming to Plattsmouth.

Since his residence here, Mr. Capwell has been quite active in the work of the First Methodist church, being a member of the choir and also president of the Young Men's Bible class of the church. He has also taken a great interest in the work of the American Legion here and at Elmwood.

The many friends here in Cass county will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Capwell a long and happy wedded life and one that will be filled with the greatest of the good things of life.

HAS HARNESS CUT

From Thursday's Daily—
Fred Oldenhausen, Jr., who resides northwest of the city was here today for a few hours having a part of his stock of harness repaired as the result of what looks like the malicious work of someone who has held a grudge against Mr. Oldenhausen. The lines of the harness which had been left hanging in the barn at the farm were found cut this morning by the owner and which made necessary his having them repaired so that he could do the farm work. The lines were comparatively new and the cutting of them caused more or less outlay of cash by the owner to have them repaired.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. NICK HALMES TODAY

OLD TIME RESIDENT OF THIS SECTION OF CASS COUNTY GOES TO REWARD.

IS 84 YEARS OLD AT DEATH

Mrs. Halmes Was Resident Here For More Than 45 Years and Well Known Over the County.

HORN FAMILY ENJOYS A VERY PLEASANT TIME

From Friday's Daily—
This morning death came to Mrs. Henrietta Halmes, one of the best known of the old time residents of Cass county, the aged lady passing away as the result of the infirmities of her old age, her lifetime having covered a span of 84 years.

For the past week Mrs. Halmes has been very poorly and in the last few days her condition has gradually grown worse despite all that medical skill and the care of loving hands could do to check the approach of death and this morning at 2:30 she peacefully received the summons of the messenger that was to release her from the sufferings and sorrows of earth.

Henrietta Youngblut was born in Lippe-Deimold, Germany, March 22, 1841, and spent her earlier years in the native land, growing to womanhood there and where in her early years she was married to William Ploeger. To this union there were born three children, one of whom, Fred Ploeger, preceded his mother in death. The children living are Mrs. Chris Moeckenhaupt of Plattsmouth and William Ploeger of Casper, Wyoming. The husband and father passed away in the old country and later in 1881 Mrs. Ploeger was united in marriage to Nicholas Halmes, an old childhood friend and the family came to America to make their home for the remainder of their lives.

Mr. Halmes had been a very early settler in Cass county, Nebraska, where he settled on a fine farm west of Plattsmouth and made that the family home over a great period of years and it was here that the wife came from the old world to reside.

For many years the home of Mr. and Mrs. Halmes was noted as one of the most hospitable in this portion of Cass county and where often the friends and neighbors from the old home across the sea would gather to enjoy associations of the past.

In later years the age of Mr. and Mrs. Halmes caused them to lay aside the cares of the farm and they removed to Plattsmouth where they secured the present home on North Fourth street and where Mr. Halmes passed on a number of years ago.

In her early childhood, Mrs. Halmes was a member of the Lutheran church, but on her removal to America and her second marriage she became a member of the Roman Catholic faith and has since devoted herself to that church.

In addition to the children of her first marriage, Mrs. Halmes is survived by a number of step-children, Mrs. Mary Theis of Plainview, Nicholas Halmes of Omaha, Peter Halmes of Plattsmouth, Mrs. Lena Beine and George Halmes residing in California and Mrs. Rose Schultz and Joseph Halmes residing in Texas.

There are also a number of grand-children, Mrs. James Bullin of this city, Mrs. Fred L. Landeman of Orange, California; Mrs. Hazel Kling of Billings, Montana; Mrs. Clara Dickson of Kansas, William Ploeger, Jr., of Omaha, and Herbert Ploeger of Portland, Oregon.

To the family the deepest sympathy of the host of friends over the county will be extended in the loss that has come to them of the mother, who has given them years of care and to the old friends and neighbors the loss of the old friends will be keenly felt.

BAND CONCERT IS HEARD BY MANY LAST EVENING

Request Concert Given by Eagles Band Attracts Large Crowd; Is Fine Entertainment.

From Friday's Daily—
Last evening, Director Ed Schullhof and the members of the Eagles band were able to give their often postponed request concert that the band has wished to give for the past two weeks but were prevented by various reasons, but the concert lost nothing in the waiting and was from every standpoint one of the most pleasant that has been given.

The concert embraced a wide range of numbers and was largely of a popular nature although many of the high class standard selections were given in the list of those requested by the music lovers of the city.

The program included sixteen numbers that were all excellently given and showed the feeling of appreciation that the band has felt for the attendance at the concerts this season in giving a program of this length that covered a two-hour period.

Solo numbers were offered by W. R. Holly in an euphonium selection, "O Sole Mio," to which he was compelled to respond with an encore, "Marcheta," while Anton Bajek also was heard in two xylophone numbers, "Yearning" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The trumpet work of Mr. Ellis in "Blue Eyed Sally" was also received with the greatest of pleasure by the large crowd and to which he was compelled to respond, the band assisting in the accompaniment of all the numbers given.

The concert program of the summer is now drawing to a close and it can be safely stated that the past season has seen the greatest interest shown by the public in the concerts and the system of arranging them seems to have worked the best of any that has been tried out. The band is desirous of pleasing the public that is supporting the concerts and the committee in charge of the concerts has been hard working in trying to arrange the most satisfactory method of handling them, both for the convenience of the musicians and the audience.
