Diller Utt and wife were visiting for a short time in Murdock last Sunday, they being guests at the home of Mr. Utt.

Miss Hilda Schmidt was a visitor in Lincoln last Tuesday where she was a guest of friends as well as a shopper in the stores of the large city.

Mrs. E. H. Miller has been visiting in the west during the time when her husband is waiting for the vacation of a house into which they are to move.

Miss Turpe and Miss Turner have been conducting an evangelistic meeting in Murdock for the past few days. They have created an interest in their preaching.

Louis Hornbeck and the family were visiting with friends in Murdock last Sunday, they driving down to enjoy a visit with the many friends and relatives.

Anton King was a visitor in Murdock last Thursday from his home near Alvo and was looking after some business matters as well as visiting with his many friends.

Harry V. McDonald, who with more of the fans was over to the ball-games at Greenwood last Sunday, where they watched Greenwood play both Manley and Plattsmouth.

J. Johnson was a visitor in Omaha most every day last week and reports that while the crops in Sarpy county are not as good as those here they are showing some improvement since the rains.

Our street Commissioner is doing excellent work in having the streets cleaned for "Ford Day." If the property owners would co-operate, we would have by far the cleanest town anywhere.

Mr. Rissman, who was in the south portion of the state for two days last week reports excellent rains and very fast crops, especially as to corn, saying that the wheat and oats is not very good.

The Sunday school classes of Henry Reichman and Mrs. Rikli hiked out to a grove east of town near Wabash last Tuesday evening. Delightful refreshments were taken along and the occasion was enjoyed by all.

Say, did you see the ad of the meat market, where they are offering one half pound of minced ham with every purchase of fifty cents or more, and "Say Mister," wouldn't that ham make fine sandwiches for your lunch?

Jerry McHugh, Jr., who has been at Douglas for the past month, where he has been working with his uncle, Henry Towle, returned home last week and was accompanied by Mr. Towle for a short visit with friends here.

Miss Lillian Ringenberg of Eustis, Neb., is spending two weeks at the home of Henry Bornemeier. She accompanied the Bornemeier family here when they returned from a visit to Eustis and arrived here Monday evening.

Miss Pauline Kroh, who has been spending the past few weeks at her old time home at Stella, where she has been visiting with friends and relatives and having a splendid time, returned home on last Friday, getting here in time to enjoy Ford Day which came this week.

Charles Kupke is sporting a new Buick sedan, which he has very recently purchased. This is an excellent wagon, and when better cars are built they will be built by the Buick factory. Mr. Thingan has this car for sale and will be pleased to offer you a demonstration when you want one.

C. O. Greag, traveling auditor of the Railway Express company was a visitor in Murdock last Thursday and audited the books and accounts of the agent here, I. G. Hornbeck, and found them in excellent condition and also complimented Mr. Hornbeck for the excellent business in this line which comes to Murdock.

Mrs. Clarence Ohms, who has been at the hospital for some time but has returned home and is some improved, still is far from her usual health and will, it is reported have to return to the hospital for a further course of treatment. Dr. Carruthers of Lincoln was called in consultation with the local physician in her case.

Jesse Lambert and family, who have been spending some time during the past two weeks at North Platte, returned home last Thursday evening and Mr. Lambert was immediately called to Omaha to look after some business. He made the trip in the celebrated Oldsmobile, which he sells. He has an ad in this issue contain a brief description, see him for a demonstration of this wonderful car.

Otto Elchoff and family, who have been visiting in the west, having as their destination Denver and Colorado Springs and other places of interest in the west, returned to Murdock last week and will make their home here where they will have moved to the E. H. Miller home, north of town, where they will farm for the coming year. Mr. Miller is to move to Elmwood in a short time where he is engaged in business, he having secured a better location recently there and is moving his store to the new building.

Jacob Goehry Undergoes Operation. Last Tuesday Jacob Goehry, who has been in rather poor health at his home in Lincoln, was compelled to undergo an operation for relief from his poor health, and is getting along as well as his age and condition will permit. Mrs. Barbara Goetz, and son, Edward Gullstorf and wife, were over to Lincoln to see him last Tuesday. Mrs. H. W. Tool also was there and they did all that was possible to help him. His many friends in Murdock are hoping he may soon be able to be out again.

Oats for Sale
46 cents at the elevator.—Rehmyer & Co., Alvo, Neb.

Home From the West.
They had a fine time and don't doubt it, that is William Steich, Jaul Stocks and Howard Rosenow, when they went to the mountains and saw the wonders of the sunrise from Pikes Peak, and all the other things which the west has to offer. They wanted to bring the west home with them, and did bring some of it in the shape of a cunburn. They are going back to the coming summer and stay longer.

Making It a Model Town.
Frank Rosenow, who is one of the most public spirited of men, was out cleaning up the town last week, getting it ready for the big time this week. Murdock is one of the real towns of southeastern Nebraska, and one worthy of a visit of anyone who have never seen it, and to those who have they sure will want to visit it again. With all the beautiful homes and the sociable and enterprising people it will do anyone good to come and see these warm hearted people on Ford Days, which are this year this year on August 27th and 28th.

with his grandparents, W. T. Smith and wife for the next few days.

Charles Morgan of Little Rock, Arkansas, arrived here yesterday afternoon for a visit of a few days at the homes of his cousins, Fred G. Morgan and D. C. Morgan. Mr. Morgan has been here quite often to visit the members of his family and has made many friends in the city who are very much pleased to see him again.

Mrs. Kenneth Kohn, who has been a resident here for several months, where Mr. Kohn was located as sales manager of the Nebraska Gas & Electric Co., departed today in company with her sister, Miss Theresa Evans of Rock Island, for Omaha where they will join Mr. Kohn and then go on to Rock Island where they expect to make their home. N. K. Peoples and daughter, Miss Anna, accompanied their friends as far as Omaha on their journey.

MRS. RICHEY IMPROVING
From Saturday's Daily—
Reports from the Immanuel hospital in Omaha are that Mrs. E. J. Richey who is there recovering from the effects of her recent operation for appendicitis, is now showing a rate of improvement that is most gratifying to her family and friends and gives hopes of her early recovery from the severe ordeal that she has been through.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS
The public library has just received "All in a Lifetime," an autobiography of Henry Morgenthau; "M. Venizelas," a biography, and "Nineteen Hundred," by Horace Wyndham. The many people who have always wanted to become better informed and read, but have never quite found the time and place and impetus to begin, will find in these books just what they have been waiting for. These books may be borrowed from the public library.

Recent controversy about evolution has made biology the topic of the day and will doubtless make "Science Remaking the World," by Caldwell and Slossen, one of the most popular books on the public li-rary shelves where it has recently been given a place. It is an introduction to a fascinating field of science and small enough to be within the range of the average busy person.

The Dennison crepe paper solves many of the problems of the hostess in decorations. See the line at the Bates and Gift Shop.

From Saturday's Daily—
Ben Menchau, Jr., and wife came down from near Eagle yesterday afternoon bringing with them their little son, Edwin, who will visit here
