H. H. Stoll was assisting Edwin Shumaker in vaccinating some cattle last Monday afternoon.

Frank Trotter was a business visitor in Nebraska City last Monday morning taking a load of hogs to the market there.

Forest R. Cunningham was a visitor in Murray last Monday and found a very fine rain there, while at Nehawka it was dry.

Nelson Berger and wife were visiting last week at Plattsmouth where they were guests of the mother of Mr. Berger and his sisters.

F. M. Lemon and the wife were visiting in Omaha last Sunday where they enjoyed the ball game as well as visiting with relatives while there.

George Shrader from near Avoca was a business visitor in Nehawka on last Monday evening, driving over in his car to look after some business matters.

Albert Wolfe and family were visiting the state fair last Tuesday, they driving over and report an excellent fair with many fine exhibits and immense crowds.

A. H. Wolfe and the family were visiting with friends in Omaha last Sunday and also attend one of the fine ball games which was staged there last Sunday.

James Wade of Springfield, the horse man is located a few miles out of Nehawka and is ready for a trade, purchase or sale of what horses he has or the people want.

Bert Willis has opened a cream station for the Beatrice Cream company and will also buy all kinds of farm produce. Bert is a rustler and should make a success of the venture.

Glen Whiteman and the wife were visiting last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Whiteman's sister, Mrs. Frank Reezee an husband at Dunbar, where they drove in their car and enjoyed the visit very much.

Verner Lundberg and assistant, Ernest Koop were enjoying the labor day and went to the state fair taking the afternoon train and returning on the midnight train, but still having a very fine time.

Frank P. Sheldon was looking after some business matters at the county seat on last Wednesday, driving over in his car and was looking after some business as well as visiting with his many friends there.

Last Sunday evening as Albert Wolfe and family were returning home from a visit at Omaha they had the misfortune to have another car run into theirs which in the graveled road crumpled up one of their fenders.

We neglected to say that H. H. Stoll was one of the winners in the six handed horseshoe games which were played at Gust Hansons some two weeks since. Uncle Hans sure is a good pitcher and say mister, but he likes to pitch the iron shoes.

Morris Pollard has been very sick for a number of days and is still feeling quite poorly but is able to get out and with the help of a cane can get about very slowly. His many friends and they are many at that are hoping that he may be able to get about better and be entirely well in a short time.

Truman Tyson who is making his home at Nebraska City was a visitor in Nehawka last Monday afternoon and was celebrating Labor day, he coming over with the wife and were visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wessell. Mr. Wessell and Mr. Tyson and his brother, Raymond Tyson of Hamburg, Ia., were visiting at the Iowa state fair last week and tell of wonderful exhibition as well as very fine crops in Iowa all the way along.

Nehawka People Attend Fair.

Among those living at Nehawka who have stock at the fair are R. H. Ingwerson and sons, who have some excellent spotted Poland Chinad hogs on exhibition. R. B. Stone also has some of his large type spotted Poland China hogs at the fair and he has some world beaters when it comes to hogs that run true to breeding. These two should pull down some of the premiums for this breed of hogs. Harry Knabe, who makes a specialty of breeding Hampshire porkers, and which is one of the finest breeds and, as Harry knows just how the breeding of these hogs to get the best results should be done, has some very pretty animals.

Improvements at the Mill

C. D. St. John, the miller, with the assistance of W. S. Steele, have been making some very worthwhile improvements in the way of installing a hopper for their grinder, which will enable the farmer to unload his grain into the hopper and from there it will pass through the grinder and from there it will be loaded into the farmer's wagon for his returning home, and the work of converting the grain into ground feed will be very rapidly performed. Bring your grain to Mr. St. John on this proposition once and you will sure come again.

Returns from West

Stewart J. Rough and wife, who have been visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. J. Dane and husband, at Iowa City, where they were accompanied by Mr. Walker Bates, returned last week and report that crops are also looking fine in our neighboring state. Before they went to Iowa, they were visiting with another daughter and family at Colone, South Dakota, and while there visited the Out Law Post, which is one of the largest stores in the entire northwest, and which has only been in existence only a few years, and the proprietor, who actually started with nothing and has grown with the business, the business house which he now has covering a half block of ground. The proprietor, Mr. Butts, explained very minutely how he started and how he brought success from his efforts.

Build Large Water Tank

Miller and Gruber have just constructed a large concrete water tank at the home of Nelson Berger, which will contain much water and supply all the stock. The tank is six feet in width and forty feet in length and four feet deep counting the foundation, and will hold water to the depth of two and a half feet. This tank is reinforced concrete and will last for a life time and probably then some.

Will Farm Next Year.

Mike Cisney, who has been making his home in Plattsmouth for some time past, where he has been with the Standard Oil company, has concluded to try farming again this coming year. He has purchased the interest of Wayne Campbell, who will expect soon to depart for the west, while Mr. Cisney and family will move on the farm. J. E. Wood, the painter, is putting the house in excellent condition for the occupancy of Mr. Cisney and family.

FARMER SAYS HE WAS BEATEN WITH WITH AUTOMOBILE

Man Jumps From Auto and Kicks Farmer From South Dakota Into Nebraska.

In support of his contention that the district judge erred in telling the jury that he had no case in the damage suit he started against LeRoy Gow and Rudolph Zimmerling for $7,000, Frederick S. Baird of Dawes county informs the supreme court that the evidence clearly showed that he was assaulted while on his land in South Dakota, and that a jury should have passed on the disputed points.

Baird says that he was assaulted with a highpowered Buick automobile in the control of the two defendants, and that after they had knocked him down with it and he had thrown a wire fence cutter into the face of one of them, the two men grabbed him and beat him up. As his attorneys describe it: "They kicked Baird from the state of Dakota into the state of Nebraska and almost into a state of unconsciousness."

Baird is seventy-two years old, weighs 140 pounds, and says his assailants are young men of around 170 pounds each. The trouble arose over a desire on the part of people in the town of Wayside to open a road thru land used by Baird as a hay field, and the court said that the testimony showed that Baird was the aggressor and could not recover, especially as the assault occurred in South Dakota. Under the laws of that state good money damages are allowed in cases of this character, known in the law as punitive or punishing damages.

Baird insists he was merely defending his right of possession to land he owned, and that he acted only in self defense.

RETURNS FROM COLORADO

From Wednesday's Daily—
Mrs. James T. Begley returned home last evening from Denver and Colorado where she has been enjoying a short outing and recuperation in the coolness of the mountain country. While in the west, Mrs. Begley visited over Sunday with the Leete family at Evergreen, Colorado, and reports that Father and Mrs. Leete and Madame Leete as being in the best of health and in a most pleasant and attractive spot in the west where Father Leete has charge of the church of the Transfiguration at Evergreen, one of the important charges in the diocese of Colorado. The Leete family send their kindest regards to the old friends in this city.

The small women and girls who have discovered our showing of

Peggy Paris Coats

No longer say, "Oh, if I had only grown tall enough to wear regular sizes without alteration."

They now find sizes that are just right for them, whether they are short and slender or more robust of build. When they come here they can devote all their time to style and be sure of correct sizes and of fine tailoring.

AMONG THE STYLES FOR WINTER

In our Peggy Paris showing we are headlining both the new flare coat and the becoming straight silhouette. Sleeves are straight, often fur trimmed. Coats are narrow and are mostly of the stand-up type often of fur, joining revers of the cloth.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY BEING MOVIE ARTISTS

Local Talent Have Their Work Snapped by the Moving Pictures Last Evening at the Parmele.

From Wednesday's Daily—
There was no lack of youthful artists at the Parmele theatre last evening to have their likenesses snapped by the movie camera under the direction of Mr. Pixley of the Pixley Producing Co., of Omaha, who has for several days been here getting views of the city and of the local people.

The local young people were assisted in the work of producing the movies by Miss Peggy Carter, formerly with the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic of New York. In several scenes Miss Carter and Frank Sadiacek posed for the camera and entertained the audience with their work on the stage.

There were also a number of the young ladies of the city upon the stage to assist the director in getting some movie material and the audience gave each of the ladies a hearty hand for their work in assisting the program of the evening.

There were several young men also on the stage and Mr. Pixley received a goodly number of screen prospects that might in time be called to supplant the present kings and queens of the movie world.

Several former Nebraskans have succeeded in reaching heights of moviedom in cluding Harold Lloyd, Rod La Roque, "Hoot" Gibson and Lura Kuhlman Anson.

MRS. LANSDOWNE WILL ATTEND MATES FUNERAL

Lakehurst, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of Lieut. Commander Zachary Lansdowne, who lost his life while commanding the navy dirigible Shenandoah, left for Washington today to attend her husband's funeral service Tuesday. She was accompanied by her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Creed Cox, and her aunt, Mrs. William B. Mason, all of Washington. Mrs. Lansdowne said her husband's funeral would be conducted separately by the Rev. William Devries of Saint Peter's and Paul's cathedral of Washington.

Touching picture, that of Babe Ruth sitting by his wife's bedside, head bowed, enacting his penitence for his recent flareup and subsequent discipline by his manager. Also, there seems to be no limit to what some folks will pose for.
