WANTED TO BUY
Wanted to purchase—stock hogs, none barred that are not sick.
C. D. RHODEN,
Murray, Neb.

Went Over to Shenandoah.
W. L. Seybolt and wife, as the guests of J. W. Stone and wife, joined the latter couple in a trip to Shenandoah, Iowa, where they visited the seed house of Henry Fields, and made very fair time going over, but on account of many things were from some time during the early afternoon last Saturday, until six o'clock Sunday morning making a long trip. The hogs got into the car, and interfered with the ignition, the flow of gas and also the flow of power. Darkness came on and the stars even became obscured and the car would turn the wrong way and, after getting within five miles of the Plattsmouth ferry some hills intervened and in making the detour they found it necessary to inquire of another person the location, and were told that it was 22 miles away. After another reading of the compass, they started again and finally in the wee small hours of the morning, returning to get safely over the "Big Muddy," and as the dawn was brightening the east, arrived safely at home, having had an excellent visit to KFNF.

Someone Took His Watermelon.
One evening, or rather, afternoon last week James Earhardt was in town and made a purchase of two very nice watermelons, which he deposited in his car and, returning to the store for other purchase which he had made, returned to the car to find to his horror that someone had taken one of his melons during his absence. Mr. Earhardt remained in town until supper time and even returned after supper in search of the melon but continued to cover of night, until late at night, but was not able to find the perlonger and finally gave up the quest and counted his melon gone.

Visited at Pappilon on Sunday.

Reed and wife and daughter, Rose, Helen, and son, Malvern, went to the home of Dale Virgin and wife where they all surely enjoyed the day most splendidly. Their daughter, Miss Margaret Virgin, who is an accomplished violinist, entertained the guests with many beautiful pieces. After the pleasant day they all returned home in the evening, having had a perfect day.

FORD PLANES WILL BE MAIL CARRIERS
Contract Good as Entered Into for Transportation by Air Between Chicago and Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 8.—Airplanes of the Ford Motor company will carry mail between Chicago and Detroit next two weeks, it was announced here tonight, following a conference today between Postmaster General Harry S. New, Henry Ford and William J. Mayo of the Ford company.
When the postmaster general left for Washington early this afternoon he arranged to announce definitely that arrangements had been made, asserting that bids would have to be asked for before the contract could be closed. Later it was learned at the offices of the Ford company that the postmaster general would advertise for bids, but the matter would be largely a formality, as the Ford company now had airplane service which would be able to carry the mail and had promised to bid on the contract.
The Ford company also said two planes would fly between Detroit and Chicago, making daily round trips to provide additional space for mail. The company now operates one plane daily from Detroit to Chicago and return.
Connection with the trans-continental air mail line will be made at Chicago. At present, only one plane that is now leaving Detroit at noon and returning late in the afternoon will continue on this schedule. It is planned to have the other plane leave Detroit about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and turn to Detroit the following morning.

MARCONI DEMONSTRATES A "RADIO LIGHTHOUSE"
London, Sept. 4.—Aboard his yacht Electra today, William Marconi successfully demonstrated his latest radio adoption, the "wireless lighthouse." Instead of flashing light signals, the lighthouse flashes wireless warnings to navigators. A wave length of six meters is used.

Whistle and Smile.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, September 13
By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: "Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good." 1st Thess. 5:21.

Testing Christianity

When Paul and Silas, with Timothy, left Philippi, they went southward, passing a number of towns before arriving at Amphipolis, some 30 miles away. There they rested and then proceeded to Apalonia, which was another 30 miles. Then they went on for another 37 miles, making nearly one hundred miles, when they arrived at Thessalonica, the capital of Macedonia. This was a city of considerable size and received its name from Phillip of Macedonia, for on the day he was victorious in his battle against the troops at Thessaly, he was apprised of the birth of a daughter, whom he also named "Thessalonica," which means "Thessaly's Victory." The city was destroyed and again rebuilt by Alexander the Great, Thessalonica's brother and son of Phillip of Macedonia.
The city then was one of much importance, and has in later years been called the "Liverpool of Greece" on account of its great commerce. The intervening years, the name has been cut to Salonica or Saloniki, and played a very important part in the world war.
In making this trip the missionaries were favored with good roads—even better than the gravelled roads of our day. The road that went to the home of Jason and when they did not find Paul and Silas there, arrested Jason and others, taking them to the court where, when charges had been heard, they were put under bond and released them. Feeling ran high in Thessalonica, and the members of the new church sent Paul and Silas out of the city under cover of night, on the way to Berea, now known as Verria. At Berea they found a more friendly people and preached in the Jewish synagogue and established a strong church, the members of which studied the Scriptures daily to ascertain if the things which Paul and Silas preached were true. This at this time we should study the Scriptures for Jesus said, "In them you think ye have eternal life, and they are them which testify of me." Many at this place believed, and when they had studied found that Paul and Silas had proven what they had preached by the Scriptures of the Old Testament, which showed that Jesus the Christ must come, must suffer, must be crucified, must arise from the dead and ascend to heaven.
Paul said, as in 1 Thes. 15:1-10: "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which you also have received, and wherein ye stand, by which ye are saved if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless you have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how Christ died for us according to the Scriptures; and that he was buried and that he rose again according to the Scriptures; and that he was seen by Cephas (Peter), then of the twelve. After that he was seen by some 5 hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain of this present time, but some are fallen asleep. After that he was seen by James, then of all the disciples. And last of all he was seen by me (Paul) also as one born out of due time. For I am the last of the apostles, that am not meant to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
The time when Paul was Saul of Tarsus and he was doing all he could against the church, persecuting the Christians even unto death before his conversion, he could never forget, Paul, like Jacob of old, sowed to the wind and reaped to the whirlwind, Jacob stole the birthright when his brother Esau was an hungry, trading him a pot of mush for it; then he stole the blessing which was for his elder brother Esau, and for this he suffered many things. Joseph was sold into Egypt. But God out of this brought good for there were begotten in the 430 years of captivity 2,430,000 people who left Egypt at the time of the Exodus, and after 40 years in the wilderness made a nation under Moses, with 2,760,000 people, then large enough in numerical strength to withstand the nations surrounding them.
Continuing, Paul says in his letter to the church at Corinth, 1 Thes. 15:29-37: "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. For sin by man came death, by man came also the resurrection from the dead. For in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.
"But every man is his own order. Christ the first fruits; after that are theirs at his coming. Then cometh the end when he shall have delivered up the Kingdom to God, even to the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign until he has put his enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which put all things under him.

David, writing in the 91st Psalm said of those who shall put their trust in the Lord, "I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in him will I trust. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler and from the noisome pestilence. He shall cover thee with his feathers and under his wings shalt thou trust. His truth shall be thy shield and buckler. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror at night or the arrow that flieth by day, nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon day." He shall call upon me and I will answer him, I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him and honor him with long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation."

ROBERT NICKLES PASSES EIGHTY-FIFTH MILESTONE

Old Time Resident of Murray Enjoys the Occasion With His Relatives and Friends, Tuesday.

The passing of the eighty-fifth anniversary of Robert R. Nickles, of Murray, was made the occasion of a very pleasant gathering of relatives and friends on Tuesday at the Nickles home that will long be very pleasantly remembered by all of the party who were present to participate in the event.
The lifetime of Mr. Nickles has covered more than the allotted years of the average person and has been eventful one that have enabled him to witness the many advancing strides of civilization and development of many of the wonders of the 19th and 20th centuries.
Mr. Nickles is a native of the grand old state of Kentucky, he having been born on a farm twelve miles from Springfield in the year 1840, the year of his birth being marked by the historical campaign of General William Henry Harrison for the presidency, known as the log cabin and hard cider campaign and in which this soldier-statesman spent his boyhood days and of the pioneer state of Ohio, was elected as president.
When Mr. Nickles was but ten years of age he was brought by his parents west to the new state of Missouri, they locating near Marysville where he spent his boyhood days and early manhood, coming to Cass county in the then territory of Nebraska in 1864, to make his home and which has been his home since and that of his family. After the arrival of the young man in Nebraska he was married to Mary Rice in the year 1865. Mr. Nickles has followed farming as his life work and his thrift and personal labors has brought him success as he is now the owner of some 240 acres of fine farming land southwest of Murray. In recent years Mr. and Mrs. Nickles have resided in Murray where their daughter, Miss Bertha, has made her home with them and surrounded by the relatives and friends of years standing they have enjoyed the pleasantness of life's twilight.
The children of this estimable couple are: Mrs. George S. Ray, near Murray; Mrs. Lucy Crosser of Wood River, Nebraska; Alfred Nickles, residing in California and Miss Bertha at home.
The anniversary was observed by a fine fried chicken dinner, the relatives and friends bringing many of the good things along to add to the enjoyment of the day. Those who were in attendance were: Robert Good and wife, Mrs. George Ray, Glen Thompson and wife, Lee Nickles, Miss Etta Nickles, Perry Nickles and wife, Robert Perry Nickles, a great grandson, Albee Nickles, a granddaughter, W. C. Ray of Marysville, Mo., Tony Louck of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Nickles and Miss Bertha Nickles.

7TH LARGEST DAM IN UNITED STATES PLANNED

Chicago, Sept. 5.—The Standard Gas and Electric company, owners of the Louisville Gas and Electric company, Friday night announced plans for the construction, in co-operation with the federal government, of a $19,750,000 water power plant in the Ohio river at Louisville.

The project, to be completed early in 1929, is designed as an important link in the southern and middle western super-power system. It will be the seventh largest water power project in the United States.

The plant will have an initial capacity of 108,000 horsepower, in 13 units, with provision for an ultimate capacity of 135,000 horse power.

A two-mile dam, to be built by the federal government as a part of its plan to establish a nine-foot water stage for navigation between Pittsburgh and Cairo, will be the central unit in the power project.
