BARGAIN WEDNESDAY WILL BE HELD SEPTEMBER 23RD

Community Sales Day Will Be Held Two Weeks Hence and Will Be Red Letter Event in Sales.

From Thursday's Daily—
The monthly sales day which has been featured in this city for the past few years will be held for the month of September on September 23rd, this being due to the fact that the August bargain sales that formed the summer clearance were for a week's period and took up a great deal of the time of the merchants and consequently the date for September was changed from the third to the fourth Wednesday of the month.

The Plattsmouth monthly sales day is a pioneer event of its kind in this part of Nebraska and western Iowa and its excellent features have been taken advantage of by numerous other cities which have adopted this plan of holding their special sales since their review of the Plattsmouth sales offerings.

The approach of fall and winter with the need for heavier clothing and shoes as well as other seasonable merchandise makes this September sales day one that will be awaited with the greatest of interest by Plattsmouth people and the residents of the trade territory in Cass county as it will afford them the chance to get some money saving values in their fall purchases that they cannot fail to appreciate when they visit the Plattsmouth stores and inspect the fine lines of merchandise that will be offered for their inspection and purchase.

Those who have visited the monthly bargain days in Plattsmouth need no second urging to be present and taking the fullest advantage of what the local merchants are offering as they have received a full 100 cents on the dollar for their purchases and found that the goods are as represented, backed by the merchant who sells them and who maintains his standing by honest dealing with his neighbors.

Trading at home gives the purchaser the opportunity of personal inspection of the articles bought, the knowledge that their merchant will stand responsible for the goods that come from their store and that the money that is spent at home goes into the making of the community, making a better city and county.

The time was spent in playing the games of childhood and at which much delight was derived until the close of the afternoon when the guests, some twenty-two in number were invited into the house where very dainty and delicious refreshments had been prepared. Dwyer of this city has just returned home for a very pleasant visit back in Michigan, the time being spent largely at the American bar association meeting at Detroit as well as with relatives and friends in Lenawee county of that state, where his brothers, John and Thomas Dwyer, are prominent farmers.

The meeting of the bar association, Mr. Dwyer states, was one of the most interesting that has yet been held by the lawyers and their friends in Lenawee county of that state, where his brothers, John and Thomas Dwyer, are prominent farmers. The address of Judge Charles E. In addition to Judge Hughes other distinguished visitors numbered John W. Davis, late candidate for the presidency on the democratic ticket; Fred Lehmann of St. Louis, a former president of the bar association.

While Mr. Dwyer was the only member of the Nebraska bar from this immediate vicinity present, there were a large number from Omaha, including W. C. Ramsey, formerly of this city; N. H. Loomis, general counsel of the Union Pacific; J. A. C. Kennedy, Ralph A. VanOrsdale, Judge C. B. Letton, Mr. Dwyer also had the pleasure of a visit with J. H. McIntosh, former Omaha attorney, but now located in New York.

EASTERN COAST HAS MANY ATTRACTIONS, LOCAL VISITOR SAYS

Miss Eleanor Burnie Found Maine Coast One of the Greatest Charm.

From Thursday's Daily—
The attraction and lure of the rugged coast country of the state of Maine is one that impresses the visitor very much. Miss Eleanor Burnie of this city, who has just returned from there, states.

Miss Burnie has been spending the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. James Burnie at Biddeford, Maine, and as well visiting other sections of the Pine Tree state where members of her family reside and in the summer holiday there she has many pleasant recollections.

The situation of the state makes it cool and attractive in the heat of the summer as the ocean breezes assist in cooling the atmosphere and the many lakes that dot the state afford places for the rarest recreation in swimming and boating in the summer months when the rest of the country is sweltering in the heat of summer.

While in the east, Miss Burnie had the opportunity of visiting many of the large eastern cities, including Portland, Maine; Boston and Buffalo, spending the greater part of her time, however, in Maine where she visited a large number of the small and interesting little cities and towns.

In speaking of the general character of the state, Miss Burnie states that the coast country is very rugged and presents a very inspiring picture along the coast as the ocean waves sweep in and break on the cliffs that dot the coast line, while in the interior of the state there are many fine farms although agriculture is not the extensive occupation that it is in the west, the resources of the state being largely in manufacturing and in the lumber industry, many large lumber camps and mills being located in the northern part of the state near the Canadian line and also paper making being one of the big industries of that section.

In their farming work the production of potatoes is one of the big items of the Maine farmers and their products have a world-wide reputation for their excellent qualities. Miss Catherine Schrack of Lincoln joined Miss Burnie in Maine for a short time and accompanied her back home, they having a real delightful trip and one that they will both very pleasantly remember in the many places of interest visited.

GOLFDOM'S CHAMPION IS CHOSEN IN FINALS YESTERDAY

Andy Moore Defeats Jess Warga for City Title in Hard Fought Contest on the Local Course

From Friday's Daily—
The golf championship of the city, the goal of the ambition of the local followers of the canny Scot pastime, was yesterday decided on the greensward at the course of the Plattsmouth golf club, when Andy Moore lifted the white ball for the final hole in the exciting and interesting contest that he had waged with Jess Warga for the finals in the championship flight of the city tournament.

The players had a real battle and it required an extra hole to determine the winner of the finals, so keenly had the players fought over the white ball, making this in two, but in the succeeding plays, Moore crept up to the leader and the battle was one filled with the greatest interest as first one and then the other of the contestants would take the lead.

At the opening of the tournament it had been the hope that Warga would be a strong contender if not the winner of the city title and particularly after his defeat of Dr. Westover, last year's title holder, by a large margin, the general feeling was that he was headed straight for the silver trophy that goes to the winner of the big event.

In the Clout-Moore game in the semi-finals, Moore displayed a brand of golf that awoke the followers of the sport to the realization of the fact that he was a dangerous contender for the championship and which he demonstrated in the final plays of the contest yesterday.

The new city champion is one of the real golf fans of the city and his active work in the club and excellent playing qualities has won him the coveted honor of being the second city champion to be developed in the history of the club.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. COLUMBUS C. NEFF

Well Known Resident of This City Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Home Here.

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon death entered this community and called from her home Mrs. Columbus C. Neff, one of the well loved and highly respected ladies of this city, who has for the past thirty-five years made her home here.

Since last April Mrs. Neff has been in failing health and at that time her sister, Mrs. Mollie Fitzpatrick, of Burlington, Iowa, came here to be with the sister and has since remained here caring for the sister in her last illness. Three weeks ago the condition of Mrs. Neff grew more serious and in the last few days her rapidly failing condition caused the family much apprehension and the relatives at a distance were called yesterday, but ere they reached this city, death had come to ease the suffering and illness of the loved one, with the message of eternal peace.

Minnie Ertz was born September 15, 1859, at Burlington, Iowa, where her parents were early residents and there in that community the early years of her life were spent, she being married in that city to Columbus C. Neff, and residing there some years after the marriage.

Thirty-five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Neff came to Plattsmouth to make their home, Mr. Neff being in the employe of the Burlington here up until some eight years ago when he retired from service. The family made many friends during their years of residence here, as both Mr. and Mrs. Neff occupied a place of esteem among the host of friends. Two years ago the family circle was broken when Mr. Neff was called to his last rest and since that time Mrs. Neff has continued to make her home here except for frequent visits with the relatives and old friends at Burlington.

There is left to mourn the death of this splendid lady the aged mother, Mrs. Mary Ertz, of Burlington; one sister, Mrs. Mollie Fitzpatrick of Burlington; two brothers, Henry Ertz, of Monmouth, Illinois, and Fred Ertz, of Burlington. The mother and sister, Mrs. Mollie Fitzpatrick arrived this morning to attend the funeral services.

DEATH OF LITTLE CHILD

From Friday's Daily—
This morning, Mrs. Frank Brinkman departed for Glenwood in company with her son, Charles and her niece, Mrs. Frank A. Clout, to attend the funeral of the little Nell Louise Chappell, granddaughter of Mrs. Brinkman which occurred there today and where the little one was laid to rest in the LaChappell lot.

The Ashland Gazette has the following tender tribute to this little one that will be read with interest by the friends of the family here. Mrs. LaChappell having made her home here, being formerly Miss Nellie Brinkman.

"Little Nell Louise, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. LaChappell of Arvada, Colo., was born at Denver, March 9, 1923, and passed away at the Southern hospital in that city on Tuesday, September 8, 1925, at the tender age of two years and a half. Her illness, summer complaint, was only about a week's duration.

"Only a like experience can bring fully to the mind of anyone the depths of sorrow experienced by the relatives in the loss of their blessed baby girl. In her brief span of life she had so entwined herself about their hearts as to make the parting one of poignant grief, but we look to a happy reunion with our darling in the Father's own good time. The Giver of all good has taken away; may we not hope that the same omnipotent power will restore? We believe so. May God grant it truth."

"It is at the old home town of Glenwood, Ia., around which cluster the tender recollections of youth, that our baby girl will be laid away. There we laid our baby girl to rest. There, too, about three years ago, Baby Charles, who was about the same age as Nell Louise, was laid away and our precious baby girl now rests besides her little brother. They have gone from us, but our lives are the richer for their brief sojourn on earth. We hope for a better and an eternal life, a life which is the gain for our little one's return."

The Wescott home, "Sunnyside," was the scene of the greatest pleasure in the large gathering of young people who spent the time most pleasantly in visiting with the guests of honor who are soon to leave to make their homes on the Pacific coast where they will reside after their marriage.
