and the use of gas. Now if we had some of these hills in Cass county it would save grading of many of the rough spots on our highways, but you see that is in California while we live in Nebraska. Still we are not wanting to change, for we like our Nebraska pretty well.

HAPPIER LIVES
In an address before the students at Camp Wilkins, Athens, Georgia, on the subject of agricultural education and the necessity for applying scientific methods to farming, H. A. Atkinson, chairman of the Georgia Railway and Power company, said:

"My company realizes that agricultural and industrial development go hand in hand. Industry furnishes the home market for the farm product. It is my aim and desire to make electricity available for the farm. Some of the results of this would be:

- "1. Greater use of machinery on the farm.
- "2. Substitution of mechanical for man power.
- "3. Greatly increased production per man.
- "4. Conservation of human life and strength.
- "5. Greater comforts and conveniences on the farm.
- "6. Less drudgery in the home.
- "7. Greater opportunities for recreation.
- "8. Greater attractiveness and interest to farm life.
- "9. Farm and country life will become more desirable than city life.
- "10. The mechanical problems will interest the young men and keep them on the farms.
- "11. Happier lives.
- "12. I want to call to the attention of you young farmers the importance of exercising your privileges of citizenship and your duty to vote. It is vital that you, as farmers, take an interest in governmental affairs. You should see that the right men are elected to office and that taxes are reasonable and not so excessive that they will decrease rather than increase revenue by driving industries and citizens out of the state."

PRO-LIQUOR PLAY LAUDED AND HIT
Washington, Sept. 10.—Augustus Waters, came in for praise Wednesday night from G. C. Hinckley, national secretary of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, after it had drawn criticism Wednesday from Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league.

Mr. Thomas returned to the stage after an absence of a quarter century to take the part in his play of a United States senator who votes one way and drinks another. Mr. Wheeler described the play as "propaganda" and predicted its early failure on that ground, but Mr. Hinckley lauded it for "dealing with the corruption and rottenness attending the prohibition experiment."

"So far as we know, 'Still Waters' is the first play to be staged which presents the case against prohibition," said Mr. Hinckley, while Mr. Wheeler asserted that the playwright had "become blinded by passion to the majority mind of the nation."

BANKERS GIVE PLAN TO AID RAILROADS TO THE NORTHWEST

Would Create Special Rate Section With More Than 5 Per Cent Increase.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Investment bankers took the lead away from railroad officials at the freight hearing held today and made a concrete suggestion for "special treatment" of railroads to the northwest. T. A. Hamilton, former president of the International & Great Northern railroad, appearing on behalf of bondholders, advised Chairman Aitchison of the interstate commerce commission, in response to a query, that "it surely was the duty of the railroads" to submit a plan. This was the thought implied by Chairman Aitchison yesterday in asking one railroad executive if he thought it fair "to leave this baby on our doorsteps."

Proposal is Opposed
Following Mr. Hamilton today, P. Hastings, general freight agent of the Santa Fe, and Vice President Stanley Johnson of the Rock Island, testified. Hastings took issue with Mr. Hamilton's proposal for a new rate territory to be called the northwestern or intermountain district. Hamilton had suggested formation of such territory for special treatment in the form of a higher increase in rates than the 5 per cent which all western roads have petitioned.

"The western carriers," Mr. Johnson said, "do not favor any change in the present group divisions of the western district."

Johnson's objection was more particularly against the proposal of southwestern shippers that their territory be made a new district for a lower freight increase than the general 5 per cent sought.

"Boundaries set by the commission in 1920," he said, "are generally satisfactory to the carriers, but information is that various state commissions in the southwest intend to advocate in this case the segregation for rate-making purposes of the southwestern portion of the United States, by including in a new group the states of Oklahoma and parts of Missouri and Kansas."

Security Holders at Hearing
Grenville Clark, New York attorney for ten emergency committees of security holders, announced that in introducing witnesses to show the position of the security owners, recommendation would be made for a 5 per cent freight rate increase for the western carriers and an increase greater than 5 per cent for the northwestern railroads, which, he said, were entitled to special relief.

He asserted the emergency committees represented holders of securities which prior to the hearing here had been worth $193,224,082, but which in the last three business days since the opening of this hearing had increased in value $52,275,918 to a total value of $247,500,000.

CARL MAGEE MAKES A NOT-GUILTY PLEA

Albuquerque Editor Bound Over in Sum of $10,000 to Await Action of Las Vegas Grand Jury.

East Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 11.—Carl Magee, Albuquerque editor, pleaded not guilty this afternoon when he was arraigned before a justice of peace on a charge of murder in the eyes of the law. He is charged with the killing of John B. Lasseter here the night of August 21. He was bound over to await action of the grand jury under a bond of $10,000. Lasseter was shot and killed in the Meadows hotel here during an altercation between Magee and former District Judge D. J. Leahy.

Magee today resigned as chairman of the state insane asylum board. He was elected chairman of the board just previous to the affair when Lasseter was killed. He said there were no other reasons, the single one that his wife lived in "constant terror" during the two days each month he was forced to be absent to attend board meetings was enough to actuate his resignation.

PLAN OF SECURITY PACT
Geneva, Sept. 11.—The "smaller better" is the Austen Chamberlain's ideal for the forthcoming security pact conference between the allies and Germany.

"I very much hope that Italy will be at the conference," the British foreign minister told the press today.

The letter of invitation to Germany has not been dispatched, although its terms have been agreed upon by Mr. Chamberlain and the British and Belgian ministers, M. Briand and Vandervelde.

"It is a simple invitation to meet us," Mr. Chamberlain said. "Neither the time or the place for the conference has been settled," he added.

PHONY FIVE-SPOT IS ABOUT, IS WARNING
Washington, Sept. 11.—Look out for a counterfeit $5 federal reserve note bearing a portrait of Lincoln apparently wearing false whiskers, the treasury department warned Thursday.

"This is a well executed photo-mechanical production on a single piece of paper without silk threads or imitation of them," said the treasury. "The most noticeable defect is in the portrait of Lincoln, his eyes having a distorted staring appearance. The chin whiskers are irregular in execution giving the appearance of a false beard."

HEINEN STICKS TO CLAIM

Lakhurst, N. J., Sept. 11.—Retracting his conviction that the reduction of the safety valve system from eighteen to eight valves was the cause of the disaster which overtook the dirigible Shenandoah, Capt. Anton Heinen, German dirigible expert, in a telegram to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, made public today challenged the "possibility of any truthfully convincing testimony that the gas bags were intact when the ship broke up."

Captain Heinen's telegram was an answer to a statement issued by the secretary of the navy, in which he said it was manifest that the accident to the Shenandoah was in no wise due to the change in the escape valves; that the gas bags did not explode, and that the Shenandoah struck a small, unanticipated tornado or line squall which she could not avoid.
