INVITES SCHOOLS
The publicity department of the Henry Field Seed Co., over at Shenandoah extends a very cordial invitation to schools to come in a body and spend a day with them in seeing the systematized activities of the institution and then enjoy a program in the studio KFNW and also a picture show on the second floor. The show is a trip through the seed house when a busy time is on. The best way would be for the teacher to take all the children and the children get the parents to go and all take their dinners and try and get there between ten and eleven. A guide will be furnished to escort them through the building and explain things. The trip can be concluded so as to start home a little after three. It would be interesting and instructive; and no doubt many schools will avail themselves of the chance before the weather gets too cold.

SOMEbody MUST PAY TAXES
Popular opinion probably will eventually concentrate in sufficient force to cause the elimination of the obviously unfair practice by government of issuing tax-exempt bonds. In effect it is nothing less than making the weak shoulder the burden of the strong. Tax-exempt securities impose a burden in more ways than one on all industries.

GIVES FRIEND SURPRISE

From Wednesday's Daily—
Mrs. Frank Gobelman has been the chief factor in the organization of surprises on many of her friends in the past and on last Monday evening she was made the "victim" of one of these surprises herself. The ladies with whom she has been associated in a bridge club had very quietly organized the affair and carried it out without the consent of honor being aware of the conspiracy that was being worked against her. The friends arrived at the home of Mrs. Gobelman and she was the recipient of the pleasant surprise that had been arranged.

The evening was spent in playing bridge, four tables being arranged and in the playing Mrs. John Wolff was awarded first prize while Mrs. C. A. Rosenbergs was awarded the consolation prize.

The ladies joined in the presentation to Mrs. Gobelman of a very appropriate and attractive gift that she will cherish as a remembrance of the friends and in memory of the pleasant associations of the past. Dainty refreshments at an appropriate hour added to the pleasures of the members of the party.

GIVE FRIEND FAREWELL

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Woman's Relief Corps gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glenn at Tenth and Granite street where they joined in a most delightful farewell for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, who are soon to leave for their home at Hamburg, Iowa, to make their home in the future, as well as Mrs. William Cowles, who is to leave in a short time for California to make her home.

The occasion was one of the greatest enjoyment as the members visited with the old friends, although the afternoon was saddened by the thoughts of the partying that soon must come among the circle of old friends.

At a suitable hour the members of the party partook of a dainty luncheon that the members of the party had produced from their well filled baskets of the good things that had been provided.

At the home-going hour the members of the two patriotic societies departed for their homes extending to the friends who are soon to leave this city, their best wishes for their future welfare and happiness.

Thomas Elliott, an experienced clothing salesman whose home has been at Seward has accepted a position with the Elmer Johnson clothing house of Weeping Water and comes well recommended.

A. W. Hawkins, who has been a director of the bank at Weeping Water and Murdock will leave Weeping Water on October 1 for McAllen, Texas, where he goes to take charge of the Municipal Bank of that place.

E. D. McFarland of Dunbar has been visiting in Weeping Water last Wednesday, looking for a house in which to move, he having gotten out of work at Dunbar and hearing of the enterprise of Weeping Water came here to make his home.

Miss Lucile Johnson who has been with the Nebraska State Bank of Weeping Water for some time, recently resigned her position and with her mother goes to Omaha to make her home. Henry Mogensen has been tendered the position and will make an excellent person for the position.

County Commissioner C. F. Harris of Union was in Weeping Water last Wednesday and with Commissioner Gorder, was over to Louisville looking after some work which is being done there. While here Mr. Harris gave orders to have all roads in his district leading to Weeping Water to be put in best condition before the opening of the county fair next week so people could attend the event.

Gave Excellent Concert
The Weeping Water band under the direction of A. W. Hawkins and supported by the Christian church, male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Cyrus Livingston, Harold Harmon, Clyde Jenkins and Harrison Livingston, gave a most excellent concert at the Masonic Home at Plattsmouth last Sunday which was supplemented by two special numbers by Miss Elva Boyle. Troy Davis introduced Mr. E. Ratnour who made a few remarks, he being the oldest Mason in Nebraska, having been a member 64 years.

The Fair Next Week
Weeping Water is in the best condition at this time to entertain all who may come to the Cass county fair. Her streets are paved and clean, plenty of shade, beautiful homes, clever people to entertain and make welcome all who come to the fair is bound to be a success. The officials having in hand the management of the fair have arranged for Friday, the last day, to be Plattsmouth day and large numbers from that place are expecting to attend the county fair. Weeping Water make the fair the best ever.

Visiting Friends Here
Paul Stangenberg and family, Mrs. Della Osborne, Roy Dyer and family, all of Lincoln, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Peterson last Sunday, also enjoying a picnic in the woods.

Tax the Peddlers
The tax per day for peddling in Weeping Water has heretofore been $3.00 per day and as they have thrown out that the city council raised the ante last Monday to $5.00 per day.

Phillip Wallen who had the misfortune to be in the wreck where two Weeping Water citizens were killed a short time ago, was united in marriage with Miss Summers Tuesday of this week. They will make their home in Weeping Water where they have lived all their lives and have a host of friends.

Are Attending State Uni.
A number of the young men who have completed the studies carried by the Weeping Water High school are now at Lincoln where they are attending the state university. Among those going this week are Richard Spangler, Richard Hobson, Stanley Marshall and Adelbert Malden.

Here Twenty-seven Years
On Wednesday this week, September 16, marked the birthday of John Wade, the furniture man, he being born in Kentucky and coming to Weeping Water when 21 years of age. Mr. Wade celebrated the passing of the anniversary by attending to the business at the store and meeting everybody with a smile of good cheer.

Have Fine Hogs
Otto Schaefer of the Schaefer Bros., breeders of fine Duroc-Jersey hogs, was at the Nebraska state fair last week, having on exhibition a number of his fine hogs, and received a number of prizes, notwithstanding there were hundreds of hogs of this kind there. They received the second prize on boar pig, third prize on exhibition in this class, fifth prize on senior boar pig and seventh prize on senior sow pig, and Mr. Farley who is bred by Exhibitor. They sold one boar to R. C. Widdell, who has been breeding these hogs for 25 years and surely knows good hogs.

Dr. Russell Goes to Oakland
Dr. C. A. Russell, who has been located in Weeping Water for some time as a chiropractic practitioner and who has enjoyed a very nice business and made many friends has disposed of his practice and will move to Oakland. While the business here has been taken over by Dr. Kenneth who comes from York, Dr. Witt comes well recommended and we are certain will prove good and make many friends here.

Will Broadcast Program
Look for this, you will enjoy it. The Weeping Water band will, on Saturday night of this week, at the home of Mrs. C. F. Harris, broadcast a program from the radio station WOAW at Omaha. The program, which was given at Plattsmouth at the Masonic Home last Sunday, with some special numbers additional. Troy L. Davis will also make an address telling the world of the city of Weeping Water, of its beautiful homes, its progressive business interests, its pretty women its chivalrous men and happy people in general, as well as of the county fair, of the best county in Nebraska. Do not fail to tune in on the program.

REAL RYE IS GROWN ON WY-OMING FARM
On Farm of Frank Gobelman, Near Marshall, Wyoming, 179 Shoots From One Grain of Rye.
The press dispatches feature the fact that on the Spring Reek ranch near Marshall, Wyoming, one seed of rye has produced 179 shoots, which is considered a very remarkable showing.
Not a little local interest is involved in the matter, as Frank R. Gobelman, of this city, is the owner of the farm on which the rye was grown and while he was out there several weeks ago he had the pleasure of seeing the shoot and personally counting them so that there is no doubt of the report being true.
The ranch is a very large one, part being owned by C. G. Bridges, formerly of Omaha and by Mr. Gobelman and the rye was grown on the section of the ranch that belongs to Mr. Gobelman, which is being cultivated by the Bridges family.
The rye was grown at the altitude of 7,500 feet, and Mrs. Bridges, who exhibited the rye at the county fair at Laramie, Wyoming, believes that it establishes a record for the growing of rye as the highest number of shoots on any stalk previously reported, she claims was sixty-five. This was raised by a Nebraska farmer, and Mr. Gobelman states that the ranch is located in a very attractive valley and only a short distance from the mountains as Marshall is located just at the foot of the range and the ranch but eight miles from Marshall. There is plenty of water in the valley which makes the crops very abundant and of the very best type.

CONSTITUTION NOT IN NEED OF FIXING

Paul Jessen Tells Radio Audience Sunday Night as Part of Constitution Week Observance.

Those who "constantly seek to amend our constitution" were reminded that the document has for 138 years furnished a "safe rule of conduct for both the nation and the individual," by Paul Jessen, former district judge of Nebraska City, and president of the Nebraska Bar association, in a radio address Sunday night.

Judge Jessen was the first of several speakers to broadcast appeals for support of the constitution, as a part of the constitution week program, observed throughout the state and nation.

"During this period of 138 years," he continued, "there have been but nineteen amendments, and of these the first ten were really a part of the original document, for they were states consented to its ratification, and without which, ratification by the different states would probably not have been secured."

The speaker declared that during the past ten years there has been "almost a mania" on the part of some citizens to amend the document. "No work of man is perfect," he asserted, "and conditions may arise in the future, as they have in the past, making amendments to our constitution desirable, but before we change its provisions let us be sure that the proposed change is for the betterment of existing conditions, and not to gratify the personal desires of some disgruntled class, but bearing always in mind that while not perfect it is by far the best guide for human conduct yet devised, and to be changed with caution."
In conclusion the speaker pointed out that under the original document and its amendments, the United States has not only gained a leadership among the nations of the world but it has set a standard in the governmental affairs to which other nations are aspiring.
