PLATTSMOUTH TO HAVE SPECIAL DAY AT COUNTY FAIR

Friday, September 25, Has Been Designated as the Day For Local People at Exposition.

From Wednesday's Daily—The Cass County Fair association that each year holds the industrial and agricultural exposition at our neighboring city of Weeping Water, has designated Friday, September 25, the closing day of the fair, as Plattsmouth day in compliment to this city.

The county fair is growing both in size and interest each year and those who have attended it report that the exhibits are very interesting and give one the fullest appreciation of the industry and resources of the county, although the association has labored under the difficulty of having its exhibits scattered over the city rather than consolidated at a single point, but which has been impossible owing to lack of building facilities.

The citizens of Plattsmouth who can should make it a point to join in the observance of our excellent fair by attending the event several days if possible or at least to be present on Plattsmouth day and participate in the sports and general good time that the people of Weeping Water will provide.

A number that are planning on going have urged that the local band be taken with them to the fair and that they make a real effort to make Plattsmouth day at the fair a real success and one that will be worthy of the community here by the number attending and the interest shown in the county exhibition.

As one of the entertaining features of the fair the Plattsmouth and Weeping Water High schools will meet in a football game on the regular gridiron, this being an annual event with the two teams to get them started out on the regular schedule of the year.

Those who are planning to attend the fair on Plattsmouth day and help make the closing day one of pleasure and interest.

ENJOY FINE TIME

From Wednesday's Daily—The Charles Allen home south of this city had a large gathering of relatives and friends yesterday at a dinner and general reunion that was most thoroughly enjoyed by the large party of 54 guests in attendance.

The home was arranged in decorations of the fall flowers, cosmos, and chrysanthemums, forming a part of the decorative plan that made the scene one of the rarest enjoyment.

At noon five tables were arranged and on which was served a feast fit for a king, including fried chicken, wiener roast, with all the delicacies that accompanied a large number of clear makers. Mr. Budig sends his best greetings back to his old friends here. While on her way home, Mrs. Budig stopped at Creston, Iowa, where she visited a sister residing at that place for a short time.

Mrs. Budig was a caller at the Journal building and secured the number of the weekly that is going to Paul at Chicago who desires to keep in touch with the pass of events in the old home. Mrs. Budig states that she expects to leave soon for Denver where she will visit her other son, George Budig and family at that place.

FUNERAL OF E. B. PERRY HELD AT HOME TUESDAY

Large Number of the Old Friends Are Present to Pay Their Last Tribute to Memory of Departed.

From Wednesday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of the late Ezra B. Perry, held at the home on West Marble street, was quite largely attended, the old friends of years standing and the neighbors gathering to pay their last tributes to this good man, who, at the close of a long and useful life had laid down the tasks of his daily life to enter into the everlasting rest.

The large number present as well as the beautiful floral tributes attested the deep feeling of respect and esteem felt in the community for Mr. Perry and was a most worthy tribute to his years spent in this community.

Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated at the services and gave a short and comforting address to the members of the bereaved family and the friends on the life and worth of the husband and father and the comforting thoughts of the christian teaching that gives the promise of the life everlasting and the reunion in the future of those who have been separated here for a brief space of time.

During the service Mrs. Edward Roman gave two requested numbers "The City Four Square" and "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone," both of which had been favorites of the departed and the family circle.

At the conclusion of the service the body was borne to the Oak Hill cemetery where in the closing hours of the afternoon it was laid to the last long rest beside those of the family circle that had journeyed on before him.

The life of Mr. Perry has been one of quiet devotion to his daily tasks, the care and guidance of the family circle, the love and helpfulness of the father being devoted to the family, his wife and the children that had come to the home. For his devotion to these tasks Mr. Perry has earned the respect and esteem of his fellow men and who will miss very much the old friends who have gone on before.

NEHAWKA HAS A VISIT FROM BURGLARS AGAIN

Hard Hearted Robbers Even Carry Off Safe From Nels Anderson Store and Make Escape.

From Monday's Daily—

The citizens of Nehawka again experienced a visitation from burglars some time Sunday night and in which the store of Nels Anderson as well as the harness shop of J. P. King so hold that they even loaded up the small safe from the Anderson store and made away with it and so far have made good their escape.

The stores were burglarized during last night as the owners of the stores were there Sunday at different times during the day and at that time there was nothing disturbed.

At the Anderson store there was from 15,000 to 18,000 cigarettes stolen as well as small articles and also the safe wherein was kept the valuables of Mr. Anderson, the robbers evidently failing to get the strong open and deciding that they would just take it along for good measure.

At the Dale harness shop several pairs of work shoes and gloves are reported to be missing.

Entrance to the places were secured by forcing windows and thereby gaining way into the stores.

After the discovery of the robberies Sheriff Stewart was notified this morning of the affair and notification sent out to vario uspoints to be on the lookout for anyone that might have connection with the robbery. Then length of time elapsing from the robberies and their discovery gave the parties a good start that makes it hard to secure any definite traces of them.

BOY SCOUTS START OUT ACTIVE WORK

With the Passing of Summer Vacation Scouts Start in on their Winter's Program.

From Tuesday's Daily—

Last evening the Boy Scouts held their first meeting of the fall and winter season and prepared to get down to business in their four-fold program of activities that will better them physically, mentally, morally as well as teaching them the respect due their parents and friends and the laws of their country.

This year the scouts will have Irving Wiltse, one of the teachers in the high school, as their active leader in the place of C. H. Peden, who last year headed the organization, but who is now located elsewhere. Mr. Wiltse has had experience in this line of work and should make a very successful scoutmaster and one amply qualified to take over the work of training the boys.

In addition to Mr. Wiltse, J. A. Capwell and Elmer Gaines will have charge of the second and third troops of the scouts. With this trio of efficient leaders the boys are looking forward to a very interesting and successful season in their scout work and in securing some real results in the fall and winter season.

The active program will bring many interesting events for the boys and in which they can find the greatest of pleasure and profit.

CLAUD RICHARDSON HOME

From Tuesday's Daily—This morning John Richardson motored over to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thede Powles and assisted his son, Claud Richardson, who has been in the hospital, back home. Claud is still feeling stiff and sore from the effects of the accident and his head still is bandaged as the result of the lacerations that were sustained in the wreck. Mr. Richardson, later reports of the accident state, was hurled through the windshield when his car was struck by the Burlington eastbound freight on the Pacific Junction crossing, which accounts for the very severe injuries that he sustained.
