Henry J. Miller and wife were enjoying a visit last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hardnock.

T. H. Warner is working for the present at William Kitzels and is assisting in doing the farm work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Miller were enjoying a visit last Sunday at the home of friends and relatives in Plattsmouth, making the trip in the car.

Charles Hartle of Murdock, was assisting in hauling corn to the Ithemeyer elevator, which was being shelled by "Curley" Mocken-haupt.

Mrs. P. J. Lynch still remains quite ill at her home, and while she is at times able to be up, which is only for limited time, she still remains poorly.

George Dinges of near Unadilla, was a visitor last Thursday at the home of his brother, Art, in Alvo for a short time and both enjoyed the visit very much.

E. W. Stewart, the well man, has just completed a well at the home of H. E. Parcell, near the east portion of Alvo, which is 61 feet deep and is affording an excellent supply of water.

There was a dance given at the Ackley hall last Wednesday, but on account of the extreme heat there was not as large a crowd as was expected. This weather sure can make one sweat.

Mesdames Art Dinges and Fred Moore were visiting in Lincoln last Thursday afternoon, they driving over in the car of Mrs. Dinges for a few hours, looking after some shopping and visiting with friends.

Samuel Hardnock has purchased a new Overland sedan, which he is finding just the thing for the family, being roomy and comfortable. They will use it for their traveling and will surely be well accommodated.

Charles Godbey and wife are enjoying the possession of a new Essex coach, which they used very nicely last week when they visited at the Nebraska state fair, and found it was just the thing to make the trip in.

Simon Rhemeyer and family were visiting last Sunday at Murdock and Weeping Water where at the latter place they were guests of Fred Rhemeyer. Mrs. Fred Rhemeyer is still in Europe, but is expected to be home in a month or so.

Edward Taylor and Harry Appleman were shelling and delivering corn, selling it to the Farmers' Elevator in Alvo, in a community of Okla. They found the cereal in excellent condition, but the weather quite warm for the necessary work.

Dr. Mathewy of Lincoln, a specialist, was in Alvo last Thursday and was in consultation with Dr. Miller on the case of Ole Peterson, who was very ill, but which the physicians found there was no hope of his recovery as he had a weak heart and congestion of the lungs.

Welcomes the School Teachers. Last Thursday evening at the Boyles grocery an important reception was held for the teachers of the Alvo schools, and the getting of the teachers and parents and the scholars together for the most effective work of the coming term was the object.

Ole P. Petersen Dies. The sudden death of Ole P. Petersen at the home of Mrs. Paul Johnson, last Thursday afternoon, was a severe shock not only to the relatives, but to the citizens of Alvo as well. They not even being aware of the fact that he was sick made it a shock indeed.

Mr. Ole P. Petersen was born in Denmark August 7th, 1857, and when a young man came to America and settled near Alvo, where he was united in marriage with Miss Minnie Johnson and later lived for a number of years in the vicinity of Utica, but returned to Alvo and lived there until a short time ago when he and his daughter drove to Guymon, Oklahoma, which is just across the line from Texas. Considering the health of Mr. Petersen it was thought that the trip and the driving was too rigorous for him and was the cause of his sudden illness and subsequent death. The funeral was held at Alvo on Sunday the interment being made there also. Mr. Petersen was a member of the Lutheran church and an excellent gentleman as well as a Christian. He leaves the wife and seven children to mourn his departure.

Picnic at Arbor Lodge. Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Banning, in their universal coupe, departed for Union, where they were joined by Joe Banning and family, Mrs. Henry Banning, his mother, and sister, Miss Pearl Banning. They all then journeyed to Nebraska City where they picnicked for the day and also went through the house and over the grounds of the late J. Sterling Morton's estate, it now being a state park.

Distributes Apples. Last Tuesday John B. Skinner went to Peru with the truck and brought home with him 90 bushels of apples, which on the following day, Wednesday, he distributed to the people about town. Thus supplying apples to the people here.

Buy a New Flag. On July Fourth, when the old flag was brought out to grace the nation's natal day, it looked rather faded and shabby, so a move was instituted to purchase a new one, and Mr. P. J. Linge being the first citizen of Alvo to contribute. The collection grew rapidly and in a short time there was money a plenty to purchase a new banner of the Republic.

The one which was purchased is eight by twelve feet in dimensions and makes an excellent flag for the purpose for which it is used.

DIES AFTER LONG DRIVE FROM OKLA.

Ole P. Petersen Reaches Alvo Tuesday and Passes Away Thursday Afternoon.

Ole P. Petersen, resident for many years in Alvo and vicinity, returned from a place Tuesday afternoon and Thursday afternoon was dead, passing away from an attack of heart trouble, induced, it is thought, by the long trip from Diamond, Oklahoma, to Alvo.

Mr. Petersen was sixty-eight years of age, a native of Denmark where he was born August 7, 1857. He came to America when twenty years of age and had been a resident of this country since that time, largely engaged in agricultural work. On his location near Alvo he was married there to Miss Minnie Johnson who with seven children, survives his passing.

Mr. Petersen and family lived some years at Alvo and later moved to Utica where they were located on a farm for a number of years and from there removed to Diamond, Okla., a community situated near the Texas state line and where Mr. Petersen had been engaged in farming since that time up to his return to Alvo a few days ago.

Some time ago, Mrs. Petersen was called to Alvo by the serious illness of her mother, remaining there to care for the mother and her condition being so poorly the Petersen family decided to return to Alvo to reside, locating at the Johnson home. Mr. Petersen with two of the younger daughters started from their home via auto and after several days on the road and in the extreme heat arrived at Alvo Tuesday. At the time of the arrival in Alvo Mr. Petersen was feeling very poorly and his condition rapidly grew worse, he suffering from an attack of heart trouble that had been greatly affected by the long auto trip. So severe was the attack that on Wednesday his recovery was despaired of and on Thursday afternoon he passed away.

The funeral services will be held Sunday at Alvo and the interment made in the cemetery there.

MRS. P. T. HEINEMAN HOME From Saturday's Daily— Mrs. P. T. Heineman, who was operated on some ten days ago at the hospital in Omaha for a very sudden attack of appendicitis, has so far recovered that she has been able to return home to this city. Mrs. Heineman is feeling much improved from the operation and her recovery has been very rapid and given the greatest satisfaction to the attending physicians and the family. The many friends here are pleased to learn of her return and trust that she has received a permanent relief as the result of the operation.

TORNADO HITS HOSPITAL IN SOUTH Property Damage Done at Tucson, Ariz., But No Loss of Life Reported.

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 18.—A tornado struck MacArta veterans' hospital here late today. It scattered the canteen building, the hospital garage and patients' garage over an area of 250 feet, leveled telephone poles and trees all over Tucson and brought behind it a cloudburst. Precipitation registered 1.02 inches in ten minutes. The streets were turned into streams of roaring water for a brief period and dozens of automobiles had to be towed to higher ground. The Santa Cruz and Hilltop rivers, which usually are nothing more than dry channels overflowed their banks. No loss of life was reported.

Two airplanes, one flying to Tucson from San Diego and another from San Diego to Fort Bliss were forced down by the storm. Lieutenant Van Dusen, of the Holland air service, and Lieut. R. T. Cronan of Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex., left here early in the afternoon for the west, but were forced to turn back at Gila Bend, Ariz. They are spending the night here. Captain Goodrich and Lieutenant Williams, also of Kelly field, flying east, were forced down in Tucson but left for Fort Bliss two hours later.

So far as could be learned, no one was injured, but the property damage is extensive. Streets were dark for more than an hour later and many telephone lines were out of commission.

WOWS TO PLAY HERE AGAIN From Saturday's Daily— The Woodmen of the World baseball team, which has played two tight and hard fought games the past season with the Plattsmouth team, winning both games, 1 to 0 and 3 to 1, is to again clash with the locals for the nightcap of the 1925 season.

The fast Omaha team which has enjoyed the hard games put by the locals has decided that it would like one more shot at the Plattsmouth nine and will play here Sunday, October 4, the last game of the season.

The Omaha bunch is a fast, clean aggregation of baseball players who are in the game every minute of the fight and will give the locals a real treat.

The West Side Athletic club will play here tomorrow in what is anticipated will be a real struggle and will be followed on Sunday, September 27, by the C. B. & Q. team of Omaha and then the curtain for the season with the WOWS, making a red hot finish of a very successful season.

FORMER WEEPING WATER LADY VISITING IN CITY From Saturday's Daily— Mrs. Imogene Clinton Newton of Drumright, Oklahoma, is in the city enjoying a short visit with her friend, Mrs. E. H. Wescott, who with Mrs. Newton spent her girlhood days in Weeping Water where the Clinton and Street families were living at that time.

Mrs. Newton has been residing at Drumright for some years but has recently arrived in the north to visit her parents at Lincoln and while there met Mrs. Wescott and returned with her to this city for a visit here and at Weeping Water with the old friends.

Mrs. Newton is planning to make her future home in Kansas City to which point she will remove in the near future.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL From Saturday's Daily— This morning, Miss Rose Donat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donat, was taken to Omaha where she was placed in the hospital there for an operation for a very severe gathering in the head that has been giving her a great deal of trouble in the last few days. The case has grown so severe that the only relief was thought to be in an operation and which accordingly will be performed as soon as possible. The many friends and relatives are hopeful that the patient may receive some permanent relief from the affliction and be able to return home in a short time.

Better BUICK owners are Masters of the Road

Once you have driven the 75 horsepower, 75-mile-an-hour Better Buick;

Once you have wheeled it over some particularly tough hill—in high gear—gaining speed all the way;

Once you have observed the way it assumes the lead in traffic;

Once you have accepted, on some open road, the challenge of some car that boasts of speed, and have seen the Better Buick leave it farther and farther behind;

Once you have checked its economical gasoline consumption against your friends' cars—

Then you will realize fully that the Better Buick, with its 75 horsepower Valve-in-Head engine, gives you power—speed—and inexpensive performance like no other car you have known.

The best way to discover how very much the Better Buick has added to the pleasure of driving is to drive a Better Buick. We have one waiting for your telephone call.

BUSINESS REVIVAL IN COUNTRYWIDE New York, Sept. 17.—Dun's Saturday will say: The reports of the week add to the accumulated evidence of commercial progress. Dispatches from widely separated sections of the country and from diversified trades are, in the main, distinctly favorable.

Of actual expansion of business, that which appears in the steel industry is especially significant, because it reflects prosperous conditions in different lines. The railroads, which are handling the heaviest freight traffic in their history, have begun to make replacements or rolling stock and other equipment.

There is a steady demand from automobile manufacturers, whose operations keep up at a notable high rate. Implement makers, with the position improved by the enhanced buying power of farmers have taken large tonnages of bars; and building contractors have made extensive purchases of material as a consequence of the unprecedented volume of new construction.

With the inflow of orders from these and other sources, steel output has risen above 75 per cent, on the average, and producers are firmer in their views as to prices.

Weekly bank clearings, $9,250,367,000.

WHEN BUICKS MEET When Buicks meet on the highway, both on the same side of the road there is certain to be a mixup. This about the noon hour when two Buick touring cars met on the Louisville-Plattsmouth road one mile east of town.

Henry Heineman, wife and three children and Miss Mildred Walker, daughter of C. G. Walker, were en route to Plattsmouth when their car was run into at the Martin Sjogren corner by the car driven by a young man named Walter Baker. The Heineman car was badly wrecked but the car driven by young Baker was but slightly damaged. Eye witnesses to the accident say that Baker was on the wrong side of the road and driving at a high rate of speed when he collided with the Heineman car. Both cars are at the Dietrich garage, the Heineman car for repair and the Baker car is being held as security for the damage sustained.

Young Baker was placed under arrest; but the matter was settled out of court. The occupants of the wrecked car were badly shaken up but not seriously injured.—Louisville Courier.

EDUCATORS BLAMED FOR PART OF DRY LAW VIOLATIONS

Washington, Sept. 17.—The fact that a large part of the public remains unconvinced with reference to the liquor traffic, coupled with failure of the federal government to make any "adequate effort" to enforce and delinquency of the churches in continuing temperance education were held responsible for the present prohibition situation in findings made public Friday night by the research and education department of the Federal Council of Churches.

These conclusions were announced by the department in making public the last installment of its special report on the social consequences of prohibition, compiled after an exhaustive investigation. Other portions of the report have been made public previously during the last week.

Churches and Schools Challenged In view of the government's recent enforcement reorganization, the present situation was declared to present "an unprecedented challenge" to the churches and schools. The "delinquency" of the former in carrying on the temperance work begun long before prohibition was described as "perhaps even greater than that of the federal government."

"A new opportunity is at hand," concluded the report. "The crisis that has developed in the enforcement of prohibition calls for a frank facing of facts and a new assumption of responsibility."

"The federal government has announced a right-about-face on enforcement policy. That is the government's task. It is not its task to change the minds of the people. Religion and education must do that. Nothing but energetic and sustained educational effort can atone for past negligence."

Some Areas Oppose Dry Law With regard to the attitude of the public, the report presented the results of a number of polls among various elements of Americans, but commented that figures could form little basis for definite conclusions.

"It may be said with a good deal of assurance," the investigators continued, "that many populous sections of the country would now reverse the verdict if they had the chance, but there is much reason to believe that most of the states, taken as a whole, would still vote affirmatively. The attitude of the smaller communities and the rural sections is difficult to discover. The most recent evidence of the trend of popular opinion was the approval by referendum in Massachusetts, in November, 1924, of a law similar to the Volstead act. The majority was small, but it reversed a considerable adverse majority of two years before."

Poll Shows Wet Sentiment "Two facts, however, need to be kept in mind. So much stress is put upon the moral issue involved in prohibition that it is highly probable that many persons, and especially legislators, vote for prohibition laws against their preference, because they cannot 'stand the gaff' of moral criticism. Furthermore, it is now sufficiently clear that mere majorities, in the case of so hotly contested an issue as prohibition presents, are of little permanent significance."

One of the polls recorded in the report was taken at the citizens military training camp at Fort Ethan Allen in 1924. Of 597 men enrolled, only 104 recorded themselves as favorable to the existing prohibition regime. While not accepting this result as an adequate test of general opinion, the report remarked that "so long as it is possible to get from representative groups of citizens such a response as this, the task of establishing prohibition firmly in the country is manifestly far from complete."

IRISH REPUBLICAN ADHERENTS, MOSTLY WOMEN, EGG MULCAHY Hoboken, N. J., Sept. 17.—A crowd of Irish republican sympathizers, most of them women, egged General Richard Mulcahy, former commander-in-chief of the Irish Free State army, as he landed here tonight from the steamer President Roosevelt. The general was rescued by police.

Several of the eggs struck the Irish soldier and one of his three attendants was struck just over the eye with a block of wood. Two women and three men were arrested.

General Mulcahy was accompanied by four other officers of the inter-parliamentary union to be held in Washington.

HEIDELBERG BUILDS HOMES TO HELP SOLVE HOUSING Heidelberg, Sept. 17.—This celebrated old university town has set the pace among German cities in its efforts to solve housing conditions. During the last three years the city has erected 1,500 municipally owned houses and has provided an additional 1,000 single rooms by partitioning off garrets. The houses have been constructed almost without exception on the quadrangle plan, with the interior square made into a park and playground. Each quadrangle accommodates from fifteen to twenty-five families.
