PUNCH BOARDS ILLEGAL, SAYS ATTY. GENERAL

Much Discussed Point of Law Ruled on by Attorney General's Office at Request of Co. Atty.

There have on several occasions arisen in this county a question as to the legality or illegality of the punch board that gives a sure prize at every drawing and in order to get a definite ruling on the matter, County Attorney W. G. Kieck addressed the following letter to the office of the attorney general:

October 5, 1925.
Dear Sir:
Would like an opinion on the following set of facts in regard to a punch board or candy assortment: An agent desires to sell punch boards in this county in which there are no blanks and every time that ten cents is paid and the punch board operated the party receives a package of candy with an opportunity of winning one of many other prizes offered. Would such a punch board be permissible in this state?
Thanking you in advance, I am, Yours very truly,
W. G. KIECK,
County Attorney.

Mr. Kieck today received a reply to his inquiry in which the office of the attorney general through Lloyd A. Dort, assistant attorney general, has ruled that the punch boards come under the provisions of the law as being violations of the law and cannot be legally operated in the state of Nebraska.

FIRST SNOW STORM OF SEASON IN NEBRASKA

Wintry Weather Reported in Northwest and Other Places Over State—Rain at Lincoln

Chadron, Neb., Oct. 6.—After a two-inch blanket of snow marked the first snowfall in northwest Nebraska last night, the storm broke this morning in light sleet and rain. The storm struck a general northward direction from Chadron, extending westward to Lusk, Wyo., and east into Cherry county.

Scottsbluff, Neb., Oct. 6.—The first snow and sleet storm of the season occurred here last night. All crops are out of danger and no damage was done.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 6.—The first snow and sleet storm of the season struck Sioux City and territory at daylight this morning, and for a time the air was filled with snow flakes which melted almost before they struck the ground. A chilling northwest wind made overcoats comfortable.

Lincoln, Oct. 6.—Temperatures in Lincoln ranged a few degrees above freezing throughout the morning with prospects for still cooler weather tonight.

A third of an inch of rain fell during the night and the thermometer dropped to 36 degrees at 7 a. m. The Burlington railway office here reported that light rains were general over this section of the state.

Fairbury, Neb., Oct. 5.—Chilly showers fell over Jefferson county during the night. The temperature dropped to near freezing. Crops cannot be harmed by frost except cane grown for feed, several fields of which have not been harvested.

BRITISH GET MULES FROM GRAND ISLAND

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 3.—Col. Gordon and Dr. Gilbert of the British army Friday completed the purchase, inspection, vaccination and branding of 3 hundred mules from the Grand Island Horse and Mule company. They will be assigned to the British army in Egypt. This is the first lot on a contract for seven hundred head. F. E. Simpson of Omaha is the direct contractor.

AVOCA NEWS

Seth Boyles has been enjoying the American Legion convention at Omaha during this week.

Vern Raibolt has been having a boil on his wrist which he thinks is almost as bad as to have to go to school.

George Trook and William Wolfe were looking after some business matters at Weeping Water last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Westlake of near Eagle were visiting last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Heber and enjoying the visit very much.

Ernest and Fred Norris were attending the American Legion convention and the festivities incident thereto at Omaha during the fore part of the week.

C. D. Quinton, formerly sheriff of Cass county, now residing in Lincoln was looking after some business matters in Avoca and also was visiting with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dunbar.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ruffner, living just south of Avoca, have been blessed by the arrival at their home of a very fine young man, who has come to make life the more worth living for them and to comfort their advancing years.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church of Avoca met on Thursday of this week with Mrs. William Vette, where they enjoyed the day very much and looked after the business which had called them together and were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Vette.

Edward Walker was attending the American Legion convention at Omaha during the week and on last Wednesday Mr. Harry Kunz took Mrs. Walker to Union to the train so that she might join her husband and be present at the electrical parade of Wednesday evening.

Harrison Wade had quite an encounter one night last week when he was assaulted by two men in the dark, who attempted to rob him. While he was roughly used and came out of the affray with many marks and his clothing torn in the struggle, he managed to save the $45.00 which he had in his pocket.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pitman were enjoying a visit at the national convention of the American Legion, which was held in Omaha during this week. They enjoyed the visit there very much and returned home on last Wednesday, Mr. Pitman again taking up his work as carrier of the rural mail route out of Avoca.

James McFarland Dies.

Word was received last Tuesday of the death of Mr. James McFarland, of near Cozad, where they have been making their home for some time past. Mr. McFarland was a brother of John McFarland, who was engaged in business in Avoca for some time and, who a few years since, disposed of the business to the Chandler brothers. Mrs. Dan Johnson and Fred McGrady and wife departed last Wednesday for Cozad where they went to be at the funeral they being relatives of the deceased.

Have Enjoyable Time.

The Womans club of Avoca met last Wednesday afternoon with their member, Mrs. Eolia Marquardt, where a most worthwhile program was had with the subject of art for discussion. Mrs. Marquardt is a very clever entertainer and had the home most beautifully decorated for the occasion. The program being, first roll call, which is the name of each member was called they gave the name of a modern artist with a description of one of his productions. This was followed by an examination of art exhibits.

A musical number "Good-bye to Summer," by Zola Carlyon. Art in the home by Myrtle Wolph.

Sang at Convention.

The Avoca Male Club, which is composed of the male voices of the miscally inclined of Avoca, sang very cleverly at the Cass county Sunheld at Nebawka during last Monday and Tuesday and which was presided over by George Shackley, as president, and he and the wife represented the Congregational church as delegates.

Mrs. D. S. Summers, delegate from the Christian church of Avoca gave a very enjoyable reading at the convention on Tuesday.

Has Exciting Runaway.

Louis Hoback, who lives northeast of Avoca, while hauling hogs to market and returning had a very exciting time.

He had delivered the hogs to the station and unloaded them but on his return as he was riding on a plank across the high sideboards of the wagon, the plank, being wet from the rain, slipped and he fell down on the horses which became frightened and ran away. Mr. Hoback was thrown under the horses and trampled as well as run over by the wagon, the collar bone was broken in the process. The horses ran on and overturned the wagon which broke loose from them and they continued running until they missed the bridge and landed in the creek in mud up to their bodies, unhurt but willing to stop. Mr. Hoback is feeling pretty sore and it is with difficulty that he is able to get around.

Will Dedicate School Friday.

Arrangements for the proper dedication of the Avoca school on Friday of this week have been made and besides the program which has been perfected by the school, there will be speaking by others, from out of town. D. W. Livingston, of Nebraska City, will make an address on "Education" and superintendent Spoddy of One county will also make an address. It was expected that S. S. Davis of Plattsmouth, would be on the program, but he should not come as neither was Miss

INCREASE IN SEALS MENACE TO SALMON

Multiplying Numbers in Puget Sound Country Threatens Fishing Industry.

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 5.—Hair seals have increased in recent years to such numbers that they are becoming a serious menace to the salmon fishing industry in the northwest. As a means of getting rid of the menace, Arthur E. Einarsen, formerly with the Washington state fisheries department, has suggested that the aid of American sportsmen be enlisted in a drive against the animals. Sportsmen, he declares, would find seal hunting a game worthy of their skill and one which would enable them to fill in July and August when the season on big game is closed in most localities.

Puget Sound Indians, formerly hunted the seals for food and material for moccasins, and since the white man makes no use of them whatever, the seals consequently have greatly increased since the disappearance of the Indians. In a recent check Mr. Einarsen reports that he counted 7,600 of the hair seals sunning themselves on the beaches at low tide. Rookeries invariably are established at the mouths of salmon streams and the seals take heavy toll of this food fish. Feeding tests have shown that an adult seal requires about thirty pounds of fish for a meal.

At present the only checks on the increase of the seals are the operations of the few professional hunters who pursue them for the $3 bounty offered by the state and the occasional forays of local sportsmen. "In view of these facts, unless the state wishes to subsidize the extermination, the most logical solution of the problem lies in soliciting the aid of interested sportsmen," Mr. Einarsen declared. The sport is a very keen one and requires skill and returns a greater thrill than anything we have with the exception of big game hunting. The seal is a sagacious animal and persecution leads to extreme wariness on their part. The fact that there is such an element of chance in seal hunting discourages any great effort to exterminate them by professional seal hunters.

While the original method of hunting seals was to approach them from the shore at low tide and shoot them with a heavy rifle of buckshot, the use of a semi-speed boat by sportsmen has added zest to the chase.

14 ARMY PLANES ARRIVE AT FORT CROOK

Fourteen of the fifteen army planes dispatched from Fort Riley and Kelly Field to fly at the Legion convention maneuvers, had arrived at Fort Crook Monday.

The sixteenth observation squadron from Fort Riley, consisting of five De Haviland planes, landed at Fort Crook shortly after 11 o'clock. The five attack planes form the complement which is being sent to Omaha from Kelly Field, which was forced down by a heavy rainstorm while flying to the city Saturday, arrived at the army landing field at 5:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Kelly field unit is in charge of Captain C. A. Davidson and Captain Harry Bolland commands the planes from Fort Riley.

Fancy Dennison crepe paper napkins in staple and special designs can be purchased at the Bates Book and Gift Shop. When entertaining look these lines over for decorations.

BONDHOLDERS OF ST. PAUL OPPOSE REVAMPING PLAN

Protective Committee Headed by Roosevelt Claims New Proposal More equitable.

New York, Oct. 6.—Organization of a new bondholders' protective committee, headed by George F. Roosevelt and composed of men opposed to the proposed plan for reorganization of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was announced here Monday night.

The committee proposed to draft an alternative reorganization, which, it states, will be more equitable to junior bondholders and has asked for the deposit of securities.

Modification Unsuccessful. The new proposal, the committee announced, would materially reduce the expense of effecting St. Paul's reorganization, for which purpose the original plan set aside several million dollars. As compensation for any sacrifice of fixed interest and mortgage position, a participating feature has been outlined to give the junior bonds ample opportunity to share in the future restoration of the road's earning power.

Reiterating their opposition to the proposals originally put forward by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and the National City company, members of the committee said that efforts had been made informally to have the reorganization managers modify their plan, but had been unsuccessful.

Bankers in Group. Members of the new protective group in addition to Mr. Roosevelt are Phillip A. Benson, secretary of the Dime Savings bank, of Brooklyn; Charles A. Collins, president of the Lynn, Mass., Institution for Savings; Edwin G. Merrill, president of the Bank of New York and Trust company, and Willin D. Wood of Wood, Low & Co., New York stock brokers.

In its announcement, the committee criticized the original reorganization plan as offering no share in the equity to the holders of $230,950,796 junior bonds upon the extended restoration of the company's power.

RADIO WARNING OF FROST

Bloomfield, Iowa, Oct. 4.—C. G. Stiensmeyer, vocational agricultural instructor in the high school here, has only recently discovered the value of a service he rendered the farming community last fall. On Sunday morning, Mr. Stiensmeyer heard a frost warning on the radio. He immediately telephoned to the boys of his classes, urging that all farmers pick their seed corn at once.

Not long ago he met the father of one of the boys, who told him that thirteen farmers on one telephone line received the frost warning relayed by the professor and acted immediately, saving their seed.
