J. V. Stradley, last week was making some substantial repairs on his home, in the way of making the foundation more firm as it had become somewhat wrecked by the passing time, and in generally getting ready for the winter that is near at hand. Mr. Stradley feels that the best way to keep the property in the best condition is not to allow anything to slip by when it can be attended to at the time.

Greenwood's streets are again in a bad condition incident to the weather which we have just recently gone through with, and the digging of the streets for the placing of the water mains, and the re-opening of them for repairs which the leaks made necessary. The gravel which made the streets good seemingly when incorporated with the dirt throw up from the excavation, disappeared. However, when the water works have all been adjusted they will be another coat of gravel placed on the streets, they will then be in a better condition than ever, even if it does cost an extra dollar or so.

The Greenwood Water System. The water works of the city of Greenwood is now nearing the point where service can be had by the citizens of Greenwood. There have been a number of leaks which have been difficult to find and just now the people in charge of the matter have brought an instrument which tells where the leaks are and are using it in the course of their repair work.

The Apostle of Greenwood. That is Phillip Reese, who looks after the needs of the traveling public at the Greenwood Oil station, and also dispenses optimism to every body and always tells of the great and grand town in which he resides and is always boasting for the Home Town, a thing which all should do or change their residence. Get in with this optimist and help boom the town of Greenwood, you have elected to make this your home and now make it the best place in which to live, the best place to do business, trade with your home merchants, boost for your own schools, attend your churches and be a real asset to the town of Greenwood, if you want any pointers see Phillip Reese and he will line you up about right.

Enjoyed the Military Ball. Mrs. Phil Hall was a passenger to Omaha last Thursday evening where she went to attend, with Col. Phil L. Hall, the return dance given by the 35th infantry, to the 17th infantry for the dance which the 17th had given to the 35th a week since. Col. Hall and Mrs. Hall enjoyed the occasion very much.

Receives a Car of Buicks. O. F. Anderson, the Buick and Chevrolet dealer, received a car load of Buicks one day last week, which he had unloaded to supply the sales which he has been making recently. Mr. Anderson knows he has an excellent car, in fact two excellent cars, and is hustling in the disposal of these brands of wagons which are dependable.

FALLS CITY HAS NEW FAD HIT THEM STRONG. That the painted slicker fad that has been in vogue in the college towns of the east and has reached this portion of the world is in evidence in the number of works of art that Plattsmouth youths have adorned their slickers and leather jackets. That is has also spread to nearby cities is shown by the following from the Falls City Journal and is of interest here as the originator of the fad in that city is a grandson of George E. Dovey and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Falter of this city:

"The newest, most unique and, one might say, sportiest of all the recent fads has at last hit Falls City overnight. Meaning that fad of having an emblem painted on the back of one's slicker.

"John Falter, a high school youth, is given credit for starting the thing here, by painting the first one. Now he is doing a hand office business painting designs. He had eight slickers turned over to him yesterday with painstaking instructions as to how big and what kind of design was wanted. More awaited him today.

"Anything from a copy of the usual features of Barney Google to a likeness of a tiger is in demand.

"The craze is said to have started at Princeton. It struck Kansas City, Omaha and Lincoln this fall, and visitors to those cities in recent weeks have been awe-stricken at the weird designs created.

"The success of this innovation in wearing apparel is no doubt due to the fact that all slickers are almost exactly alike, and the only expression of individuality can be made in this way.

"Its success, too, calls to mind another fad, almost as radical, which was a flat failure here. Meaning Oxford bags. One clothier, after having many demands for them, finally ordered a half dozen pair.

"The bottoms were 25 inches wide. They would fit any normal sized near-beer keg.

"The youngsters of the town looked at them over rather longingly, but, fearing parental objections, did not buy. One lad, more venturesome than the rest, bought a pair.

"The first time he appeared in them his mother ordered him back to his room with instructions to 'get those horrid things off.'

SPUD SHIPMENTS. Lincoln, Nov. 3.—Nearly twice the quantity of potatoes have been shipped from Nebraska than up to the same time last year, according to a statement issued today by the state crop reporting service.

A good demand, coupled with better yields in the western commercial sections, are stimulating the movement, the report states.

A total of 1,175 cars had moved by October 10, as compared to 674 cars last year. The total movement this year is expected to total 4,000 cars, as compared with 2,918 cars last year.

Although the acreage is less this year, the yields are greater. Potato grading is optional this year. Last year the demand was so poor that even graded potatoes brought extremely low prices.

Well Known Resident of Near Elmwood Dies

A. J. Box Called from the Scenes of His Activity on Wednesday Night After Long Illness

The news has been received in this city of the death at his farm home east of Elmwood of A. J. Box, for many years a well known resident of that section of Cass county.

The deceased has lived in this county for many years and was a gentleman held in the highest esteem by a very large circle of friends and associates in the community where he has so long resided.

Mr. Box was particularly active in the political life of his community and was for many years one of the very few democrats who resided in Stove Creek precinct and was always a loyal and hard working member of his political party. He was a candidate for sheriff some eighteen years ago on the democratic ticket, but was defeated.

In the death of this excellent citizen the community has had a distinct loss and to the family of the departed the deep sympathy of the host of friends will go out.

The funeral of Mr. Box will take place at the Christian church in Elmwood on Sunday afternoon and the interment had in the cemetery at that place.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Cass County Achievement Day. Cass county farm women celebrated the completion of their convenient kitchens project with an achievement day last Thursday in the Congregational church in Weeping Water. Ten clubs with 152 completing members have taken this work under Miss Muriel Smith of the agricultural extension service. The snow kept the attendance down but those who came enjoyed a mighty good community dinner and then an afternoon program full of pep and enthusiasm.

Mrs. Edward Dowler, who has been a leader of Liberty Union club presided at the program. She introduced Mrs. Nelson Berger, who briefly reviewed the women's extension projects that have been completed in the county since 1921 and welcomed the visitors to Weeping Water and the achievement day.

Officers of each club reported the work completed, the appreciation of the members, and the choice for next year. Miss Smith was introduced and she in turn called the two leaders of each club to the front of the room so the people could fully appreciate them and the outstanding work they have done.

Cass county holds the record in the state in Miss Smith's project for the number of local achievement days held, she says. Nine of the ten clubs have had this day in their home communities and 718 people have learned what the ladies of their neighborhoods have adopted, over 1,200 new, easier, and quicker ways and means of doing the farm kitchen work, which was sometimes thought of as drudgery. House Keepers Union leads with 248 of these practices but Triangle club has the largest number per member—14. These totals have been made by wonderful leadership on the part of the ladies listed below who have met each month with Miss Smith and then taken the lessons she gave back to the members of their respective clubs.

Mrs. George Mooney of Wabash has been the county chairman who has helped both Miss Smith and County Agent Snipes through the year. The project leaders are:

Mrs. Laura Easter, Nehawka, Maple Grove Club.

Mrs. Irene Ross, Nehawka, Maple Grove Club.

Mrs. E. L. Spandler, Weeping Water, Golden Rod Club.

Mrs. H. P. Smith, Weeping Water, Golden Rod Club.

Mrs. J. P. Ranney and Mrs. Martin Johnson, Weeping Water, Sunflower Club.

Mrs. Carl Richert, Wabash, Clover Leaf Club.

Mrs. H. L. Specht, Weeping Water, Clover Leaf Club.

Mrs. R. E. Norris, Weeping Water, Four Corners Club.

Miss Lois Norris, Avoca, Four Corners Club.

Mrs. Julia Mickle, and Mrs. Fred Haverman, Avoca, House Keepers Union.

Mrs. W. H. August and Mrs. A. J. Ross, Nehawka, Triangle Club.

Mrs. Mabel Henning, Cedar Creek, and Mrs. Mable Ingram, Louisville, Glendale Club.

Mrs. R. G. Kiser, and Mrs. A. W. Leonard, Mynard, Merry Workers Club.

Mrs. Edward Dowler and Mrs. Wayne Proplet, Union, Liberty Union Club.

Clover Leaf Club ladies gave the skit, "Nine in One Farm Woman," in which they showed all she must do in her efforts at making her family good American citizens, well fed, clothed, and satisfied. The Misses Fern Mendenhall, Helen Johnson, and Martha Jameson, daughters of members of the Sunflower Club, presented, "Dad Appreciates Mother's Talents," a skit in which three men get together and one of them tells about all the things did while minding the children one day.

Mrs. Rossie Gerard of Sunflower Club gave one of the best demonstrations on how to construct a fireless cooker seen by extension agents in any county of the state this fall. She began with the lard tub for an outside container and showed step by step how she lined it, packed it, put it inside well, made the heat stone, and then how she assembled it and used it. Her cooker cost less than $5.00 besides her work.

Mrs. Irene Ross of Maple Grove Club told the story of the year's work month by month, going into detail about each lesson. Choice of most of the clubs is for sewing work next year under Miss Helen Rocke, another state extension agent.

Warning, Seed Corn. Any one having old corn or new corn protected from the last hard freeze, which was five below zero, should select enough seed corn and keep it separate from the corn struck after the freeze. We have no way of knowing yet but the freeze may have injured the germination of the corn left in the field. So play safe on your seed corn.

CURRAN CONTROVERSY LAID BEFORE COOLIDGE. Washington, Nov. 3.—The labor department's case in the controversy with Immigration Commissioner Curran of New York has been laid before President Coolidge by Secretary James J. Davis. This controversy arose over Mr. Curran's sharp criticism of the immigration bureau's new system of inspecting aliens aboard on or ships to permit them to land without first going to Ellis Island.

Protective lubrication keeps down Repair Bills

A small repair often costs as much as a barrel of motor oil. And a barrel of motor oil, properly used, does more to keep down repair costs and keep up the resale value of a passenger car, truck or tractor than any other single thing.

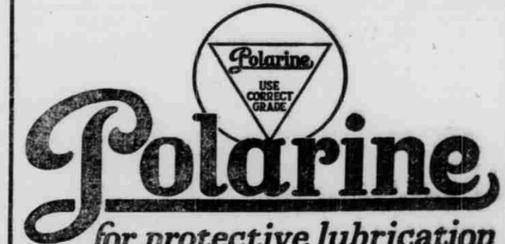

Half a billion dollars for parts and repairs over a ten year period—fifty million dollars a year is the estimated cost of careless lubrication that American motorists pay.

The remedy is simple—oil of correct body to suit the clearances in cylinders and bearings, oil that is always reasonably clean and free from grit. If motorists would use high quality motor oil of the correct grade and renew it after every 500 miles of operation, there would be a revolutionary reduction in motor repair bills. Motors would last longer. They would stay powerful and get more miles and more power out of every gallon of gasoline.

Start right now. Consult the Polarine Chart and fill your crankcase with the proper grade of motor oil—one of the Six Grades of Polarine—Light, Medium, Heavy, Special Heavy, Extra Heavy—and a special grade for Ford trucks and cars—Polarine "F".

Buy Polarine motor oil where you buy Red Crown—the balanced gasoline—or wherever you see the Polarine sign.

BROOKHART-STECK HEARING ABOUT DEC. 1. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—The senate privileges and elections committee probably will take up the Brookhart-Steck contest about December 1 or 2, and may dispose of it before the opening of congress on December 7. J. G. Mitchell, counsel for Senator Brookhart, said last night, Mr. Mitchell and J. W. Parsons, attorney for Daniel P. Steck, the democratic contestant, plan to leave for Washington on Thanksgiving day in order that they may cover the contested ballots and reduce the contest to real issues thereby facilitating the work of the committee.

Mr. Mitchell, who has just returned from Washington, as Chairman Ernst of the committee planned to call the hearing as soon as possible after the contestants have perfected their preliminary suffrage of the eight thousand ballots in dispute.
