

MURDOCK DEPARTMENT.

PREPARED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE JOURNAL.

Mrs. L. Neitzel and Miss Katherine left for Lincoln, where they will visit and do some shopping.

Charles Schafer was a visitor at Matley on last Thursday, going to deliver a load of gas for the dealers there.

Jess Landholm was looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Thursday evening, making the trip via the train and returning home in the evening.

L. Neitzel has been a very busy man lately having put out three parlor heaters, six heating stoves and two enameled Banquet ranges in the last three weeks.

The Bible study class of the Evangelical church has taken up its work again after the summer vacation, under the leadership of L. Neitzel and a deep interest is reported.

Paul Scheue had his right wrist bandaged up on account of the stress which it was brought into in picking corn and which was a little bit strained, but is getting along nicely.

E. W. Thimgan, who is a hustler, was visiting in Omaha last Thursday evening, driving up with a load of hogs for a farmer and getting back in time for another load in the morning.

Miss Katie McHugh, of Omaha, Mrs. Thomas Walling and son, Edmund, and Miss Mary Margaret Walling, of Plattsmouth, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McHugh for Sunday, where all enjoyed a very delightful day.

The granary which is being built at the home of C. E. Stroy is getting along nicely at this time, but will require the labor of the three carpenters, Matthew Thimgan, Henry Heineman and Victor Thimgan to complete it this week, but when completed will make an excellent granary.

Frank Rosnow was a visitor in Weeping Water last Wednesday, at which place he was looking after some business and went via the train from Weebash and was delayed in getting home on account the engine going off the track just leaving the Weeping Water yards, and had to wait until it was put on again.

Death Calls Frank Creamer Frank A. Creamer passed away at 8:45 a. m. Wednesday, November 4, at his home in Ashland. His death was not unexpected as he had been failing rapidly of late. On January 24th he was stricken with paralysis and for several months he was very ill and was almost helpless. During the summer he began to improve and in August he was able to walk from his bed room to the porch with assistance.

During the hot weather of September he began to fail and for the past four weeks had been bedfast. Everything was done for him that was possible, but he passed away at the age of 68 years, 4 months and 19 days. The funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Ashland on last Friday, conducted by Rev. W. N. Wallis and Rev. D. M. Beggs. Interment was in the Ashland cemetery.

Will Play Basket Ball The first basketball game which has been scheduled by the Murdock High school team, has been arranged with the Nehawka team and will be at Nehawka, where they will have a tryout. Many letters asking for a game have been sent out, and in some cases have come back. Murdock wants a game with every school in the country and any one wanting to make a date for a game with them please write to Martin Blum, the principal of the school.

Will Make Home in Omaha Jesse Hill and family have been making their home in Denver for some time and have decided to make their home in Omaha from this on, and last week arrived at Murdock in their car, where they visited with J. E. McHugh and family for some time as the ladies are sisters. Then Mr. Hill went to Omaha, where he secured a house to live in, and later Mrs. Hill went to Omaha also.

Will Discuss the Home Town. Last Thursday as we were looking for news we dropped into one of the business houses of Murdock and had not been there long until we were heard one of the discussions which play a part in the making of any town better or worse. They finally dropped on to the railroad versus truck question and its effects on a small town. They agreed that the small town was shipping, and this in a way may be so, and just how to cure it is the problem. We have then been coming to Murdock, and many other towns to that, with an endeavor to do what was possible for the good of the towns, and we do not deny, for ourselves as well, but we have never found it paying to go to a cemetery, so we have selected the live towns and desire to make them more lively whenever possible. Now you people of the town and surrounding vicinity, it is well to get after the real problem.

Many people send to Sears Roebuck for goods because they see them advertised and the price is better. They do not stop to reason that they have to pay the freight and pay in advance at that. Now if you will, in the main, when you want something, which the mail order houses advertise go to your merchant with the cash plus the carriage on the price of the goods at the same price. Now as to making Murdock a better town, all who live in it make it so by doing everything you can to make every person prosper. Employ your own citizens when ever you can and do not get someone else to do your work as well served by a home-town man. Do the same with goods, buy at home, the farmers and the people of the city working together can make the town the best. Remember that it costs for gas to run to the other towns and the car wear and tear.

If you have anything good to tell us and will tell the world, if you have something bad for the town go around behind the straw-stack and kick yourself until you are willing to forget it. We are here to co-operate with the city of Murdock in its own advancement, for to know when the town is prospering for we will prosper along with it.

HUTTER FREED ON FORGERY CHARGE Lincoln Nov. 6.—The trial of Charles Hutter of Omaha, former sheriff of Sarpy county, charged with forging the name of his brother, Marcus Hutter, to a bond ended abruptly Thursday in federal court when the prosecution failed to show that Hutter swore to the justification of a bond for Estel P. Butler, Nebraska City man. W. W. Towle of Lincoln, who arranged for the furnishing of the bond, testified that Hutter had said that Warden Fenton could verify his financial worth, but he was unable to remember whether he swore to the statement. District Judge Munger thereupon directed a verdict for the former sheriff. The incident dates back over four years, the bond having been given after Butler was arrested on a conspiracy charge.

CORN SUPPLY ADEQUATE FOR A FAIR CARRY OVER Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—Corn supplies appear adequate with a fair carryover and normal production this year, Professor Harold Hedges of the University of Nebraska agricultural college department of rural economics said.

With the supply of hogs low and the movement of cattle to the feeding will likely come in the late winter or spring.

"There are certain seasonal trends in the corn market that demand consideration," he said. "We normally expect a downward trend in corn prices in the fall and early winter months when the marketing of the new crop is heaviest."

He warned that this downward trend was not always in evidence and noted the necessity of being on the lookout for the unusual. Based on the Omaha market price for No. 3 mixed corn, there has been a decided downward trend from August to February for the last twenty years.

Million Incomes Tax Free in New Revenue Scheme

Mellon Surtax Figure is Accepted by Ways and Means Body—$3,500 Family Head Exempted.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Removal of more than 1,000,000 individuals from the federal income tax roll by increasing exemptions and widespread reductions in these taxes was voted Thursday by the house ways and means committee as the first actual step in its preparation of a new revenue bill. The income tax exemption figures agreed upon were $1,600 for single persons and $3,500 for heads of families, compared with $1,000 and $2,500, respectively, in the present law.

Other changes decided upon included: Reduction of the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent; reduction of the normal rates from 2 to 1 1/2% on the first $1,000 of taxable income; from 4 to 3% on the next $4,000 and from 6 to 5% on the remainder.

Revenues Sliced Increase in the age limit for the $400 exemption allowance for dependents from 18 to 21 years in cases where children are in school.

Retention of the present 25 per cent reduction in the tax when applied to earned incomes of $10,000 or less, also when decided upon by the committee.

This first day of tax cutting by the committee was estimated to have taken more than $200,000,000 of the government's annual revenues, subject, of course, to the approval of congress, and was more extensive than the reduction program advanced by Secretary Mellon because of the increased exemptions.

Mellon Plan Accepted The 20 per cent surtax maximum, however, was in figure suggested by the secretary, and the committee's normal rates followed in the main the treasury program, which provided for a gross reduction of $300,000,000 and allotted $140,000,000 of this to the income taxes.

Early in its deliberations Thursday, the committee, after consulting with the secretary, Lord of the budget, on probable reductions in the government's expenditures, decided to adopt the $300,000,000 figure as the approximate limit of its reductions, and with more than $200,000,000 of this accounted for in the income tax reductions, many of the proposals pending for reduction of the excise taxes, it appeared unlikely that the committee would favor the treasury proposal for repeal of the inheritance levy, which yields $10,000,000 annually. Some modification in this tax is expected.

Germany will Wait Upon the Allies' Move

Will Not Present Treaties of Locarno to Reichstag at Once

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Treaties of Locarno will not be submitted to the reichstag for ratification until the promises and concessions of the allies pledged to Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann are carried out. This was decided on today at a conference of the government and the leaders of the reichstag parties which are present cabinet.

The decision is merely a re-assertion of the government's previously announced attitude that it does not propose to demand indemnification of its commitments at Locarno from any party until it is able to adduce proofs of the allies' intention to carry out certain demands affecting the occupation and administration of the Rhineland and evacuation of Cologne. This conference was the first step taken by the chancellor to clarify the parliamentary situation preparatory to forming a new party lineup before appealing to the reichstag for ratification of the various treaties.

The chancellor informed the party leaders that the government is carrying on uninterrupted conversations with the allied governments on questions affecting Germany's demands, and that the negotiations are progressing satisfactorily. Upon their definite conclusion will depend whether the reichstag will be convoked advance of the date fixed for signing the security pact at London December 1.

METHODIST MERGER OPPOSED IN SOUTH Grenada, Miss., Nov. 5.—The Northern Mississippi conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south, Wednesday went on record as against unification with the Methodist Episcopal church, by a vote of 43 for and 166 against the proposal. New Orleans, La., Nov. 5.—The vote of the unification with the northern Methodist Episcopal church by the Louisiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south Wednesday failed by 46 votes of the necessary three-fourths majority. The vote was 117 for and 74 against.
