Monday of this week, they drove up in their car.

Walter J. Wunderlich was a visitor in the county seat last Monday, called there as a witness in a hearing between John Knabe and Ahrens which was in court there.

Robert Troop was a visitor at Cedar Creek last Saturday where he purchased ten head of cattle from C. E. Metzger. He had them brought to the farm north of town for feeding.

J. M. Palmer and wife were visiting at the home of Roy Kratz in Omaha. Mr. Kratz was formerly engaged in Nehawka but is now with a construction company in the big city.

W. O. Troop had fifteen acres of corn which was raised on a piece of ground which had not been in corn for some ten years and which yielded just one hundred bushels to the acre.

J. W. Murdoch and A. G. Murdoch were both looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Monday morning, being called there to attend the session of the district court.

Vilas P. Sheldon and Frank P. Sheldon were looking after some business in Plattsmouth last Monday, being attracted there by reason of some litigation which was on in the district court.

C. R. Troop of Plattsmouth was a visitor in the neighborhood north of Nehawka last Monday where he was superintending the sinking of a well by J. W. Hobson and Reno Edgerton.

Charles Hanson and Frank Trotter were over to Iowa last Sunday where they went with the truck of Mr. Trotter for a horse which they were bringing to the neighborhood of Nehawka.

C. S. Sherman and wife of Lincoln were visiting last Sunday at the home of W. O. Troop and were accompanied on their trip by Miss Maybelle Troop and Mrs. Mary Ketch, who are attending school in Lincoln.

William Obernalte was surfacing and putting the floors of the auditorium in excellent condition, having a universal car hitched up on the outside of the building for the purpose of furnishing power to do the work.

Miss Esther St. John returned home last Sunday for a short time and was assisting in the work on the books and some writing at the mill, helping out the father who had gotten behind some with his correspondence.

The Rev. Father Pierce of Plattsmouth, rector of the Episcopal church of that place held services at the Nehawka auditorium on last Sunday evening and had a goodly congregation, who were greatly interested in his discourse.

J. M. Palmer has the misfortune to injure one of his hands while working and which became infected, causing that member to be very sore. He is not able to use the hand at this time but it is showing some improvement at this time.

Deputy State Superintendent of schools Speedie of Lincoln, was a visitor at the Nehawka schools last Monday and after a visit expressed himself well satisfied with the manner in which the schools were conducted and the effectiveness of the methods of instruction used.

Miss Helen Brandt, who teaches the school known as the New Hope school, gave a box social and supper at the school last Friday at which a large number of people were in attendance and which netted twenty dollars which will be used for the beautifying of the school house.

Chester Stone and Albert Anderson have both acquired a new car, this time being the universal, better known as a Ford, and are pretty well satisfied with their new acquisition for they have both worn out a car of this kind and are well aware of the intrinsic value of Henry's boats.

J. G. Wunderlich, taking advantage of the excellent weather during a portion of the past week was out at the farm making some necessary repairs in the fencing which old man time had gnawed at that place and in contradiction with his actions, Uncle John was making the repairs.

Henry Meyers, formerly of this place but who has been making his home for some time at Imperial, was a visitor here for a short time, the first portion of last week and went to Nebraska City where he was visited with his brother August Meyers, who is making his home near that place.

A. F. Sturm and wife on last Saturday and Sunday entertained at their home in Nehawka, Mr. and Mrs. John Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Linn and Chester Wells all of Omaha, and also their daughters, Mrs. John O. Yeiser, with them for the week end. Mr. Yeiser joining them on Saturday for the week end.

Stewart J. Rough has received his new car which he had purchased some time since and is especially pleased with the new boat which is a Ford sedan and as Stewart says is a dandy. This will serve this couple excellently for their traveling and when the weather is nice they like to go see the children quite often.

A number of the ladies of Nehawka, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, were at Weeping Water last week, among whom were Mesdames Marjor Tucker, Janice M. Palmer and Miss Emily Wolph. There were entertained by Mrs. Thomas Murty who is a very enthusiastic member of that organization.

The new house which Carl Balfour is having constructed on his farm south of Nehawka is coming nicely and is making an excellent building for this excellent young farmer and his wife. It will be some time yet before the home will be completed so as to be habitable but when it has progressed thus far they will have a home of beauty and convenience and durability.

Israel F. Fries, formerly of just south of Nehawka, but who has been in the west for some time, writes to his friend, D. C. West, of Nehawka, telling that he enjoying some better health where he is at the present time. ## Banquet is Enjoyed by Many Fifteenth Annual Event of Methodist Bible Class Proves Another Splendid Success.

From Wednesday's Daily—

Last evening the fifteenth annual banquet of the Young Men's Bible class of the Methodist church was staged at the parlors of the church and was attended by some one hundred of the young men of the community, whether members of the church or not.

The ladies of the church had prepared the arrangements for the banquet that left nothing to be desired in the way of enjoyment and pleasure in their portion of the evening's entertainment.

The banquet tables were arranged in the color scheme of the class, red and white, this note being carried out in the red candles, the strips of the vivid red that were placed along the snowy lines and the red roses that lent their charm to the settings of the banquet.

The menu that the ladies had arranged was as usual all that could be wished for in the way of repast, being prepared by the ladies of the Aid society and served by the younger ladies with skill and pleasantness. The menu was as follows:

- Nuts
- Fruit Cocktail
- Chicken Pie
- Cream Peas
- Mashed Potatoes
- Hot Rolls
- Jelly
- Cold Slaw
- Apple Pie with Cheese
- Coffee

While the members of the banquet party were partaking of the dainty and delicious repast the ladies had arranged for them the Platoonian orchestra was the means of entertainment and gave a program of their popular selections that added a great deal to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The guests at the close of the feast settled down to the enjoyment of the excellent toast list that had been arranged for them the Platoonian orchestra was the means of entertainment and gave a program of their popular selections that added a great deal to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The president of the Bible class, Joseph A. Caspell, in his brief address of welcome to the guests, expressed his appreciation for his associates of the attendance of his friends from over the city and extended to them the hope of their enjoyment of the banquet and the invitation to join in the class activities throughout the year.

The response for the visitors was given by J. W. Pointer, principal of the High school, who expressed his pleasure as being present at this banquet of the class, the first that he had been able to have the opportunity of enjoying and complimented the class as well as the ladies of the church on the excellent arrangements of the occasion.

Harvey Johnson, one of the city's musicians who has enjoyed the greatest popularity in his artistic work on the violin, gave a number that added greatly to the pleasure and enjoyment of the members of the party and reflected the greatest of credit upon the artist.

The main speaker of the evening was L. C. Oberlies, member of the state board of control and one of the best known leaders in the young men's work in the state, who in a fifty minute address gave one of the most inspirational talks that has been enjoyed in the history of the class. The personality of Mr. Oberlies and his force and sincerity in this line of work made the address doubly enjoyable and carried a real message to his auditors.

The subject of the address was "The Road to the Swivel Chair" and covered the pathway to success in the life of the average man, the speaker giving many rules that were fundamental to the achievement of success in the endeavors of life.

The first point stressed was that of preparation and in this the speaker pointed out the necessity for the right foundation for success in the development of character, a clear vision of the spiritual as well as the physical life and as the example of preparation for the task that might come he cited the thirty years preparation of Christ for his ministry on earth and his message that was to bring to the world a new vision. Other of the points stressed by the speaker were integrity, loyalty and finally the attainment of Perfection. The speaker urged that the man or boy give his best in service and not be satisfied until he had developed the best that was in his possibilities.

Mr. Boyd Crane of the Wesleyan university was present and gave four very humorous selections that added pep to the program and kept the auditors in the best of humor and was a well chosen addition to the program that was much appreciated by the members of the banquet party.

Mr. B. G. Woodward of the city schools was heard in a very delightful cornet solo that was given in a finished manner and reflected the greatest credit on the player and was especially enjoyed by the audience had not had the opportunity of enjoying the excellent musical work of Mr. Woodward.

The banquet was closed by the benediction by Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz.

At the close of the banquet the two main entertainers of the evening, Mr. Oberlies and Mr. Crane were taken to Pacific Junction by Rev. Pfoutz and from there they returned to Lincoln on Burlington train No. 9.

U. S. OFFICIALS DELAY COMMENT ON LETTER

Washington, D. C. Nov. 22.—Threats of labor disturbances in bituminous coal fields, seen in the appeal to President Coolidge today by leaders of the miners' union with respect to enforcement of the Jacksonville wage scale, has been given official consideration, but comment has been withheld.

This is the second reference to the federal government of the soft coal wage scale troubles, but in the former case, Secretaries Davis of the labor department and Hoover of the commerce department were named, and no action resulted. At that time, cabinet members said that it was not the duty of the executive to enforce a civil contract, though naturally the administration stood for the keeping of wage agreements by all concerned.
