Ladies Toggery

Popular Girl is Showered by Many Friends

Miss Mildred Hoover Guest of Honor at Social Function Arranged by the Misses Schoeman.

From Monday's Daily— Miss Mildred Hoover, one of the popular young ladies of the vicinity, whose approaching marriage to Emil Hiers, of Murdock, is to be one of the interesting events of the mid-winter season, was given a miscellaneous shower last Friday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Schoeman. The affair was arranged by her cousins, Misses Laura and Edna Schoeman and was full of amusing incidents.

Perhaps what created the most fun was the mock wedding in which Miss Leda Rogoss was the bride and Miss Edna Schoeman took the place of the groom. Mrs. Frank Schoeman filled the place of the parson very well, indeed, while Wilma and Esthes Schoeman were train bearers, carrying a lengthy train. Only those who witnessed the amusing ceremony could fully appreciate the bride's bouquet, which also came under the head of miscellaneous.

As the evening progressed, a very prettily decorated basket was brought forth, containing many beautiful and useful gifts for the bride-to-be, who unwrapped them one by one in the presence of the guests, which was very interesting to all. Miss Mildred expressed her admiration and appreciation in well chosen words.

Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served, consisting of white ice cream with a red heart in the center, cakes and coffee.

The guest of honor is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoover, south of town. She is a graduate of the Louisville High school and has taught school very successfully. After her marriage, they will reside on a farm west of Murdock. She is a very sweet and attractive girl and her intended husband is one of the highly respected young farmers of Cass county. They have a host of friends who will wish them every success and happiness.

Those present upon this merry occasion were Misses Minnie and Mabel Lister, Margaret Retchart, Minnie Stohlman, Lydia Pautsch, Vivian Blake, Inez Fosberg, Myrtle Fleischman, Pearl Salsberg, Esther Jackman, Esther Schoeman, Wilma Schoeman, Laura, Edna and Pearl Schoeman, Leda Rogoss, Mesdames John Schoeman, John Busche, Dan Schoeman, George Schoeman, William Schwalm, Ida McCoull, Arthur Schoeman, Walter Hiers and the sister of the honor guest, Miss Grace Hoover.—Louisville Courier.

Files Claim of $50,000 Against Cass County

Estate of Augusta M. Brehm File Claim for Large Amount for Accident that Causes Death.

From Wednesday's Daily— County Clerk George R. Sayles has just had filed in his office one of the largest claims in many years, that of $50,000 asked as damages for the death of Mrs. Augusta M. Brehm of near Syracuse, Nebraska, victim of an auto accident on one of Cass county highways.

The accident that caused the death of Mrs. Brehm occurred on November 29, 1925 on the highway one mile south of Eagle when the car that she was riding in and that of Frank Lanning collided and as the result of the injuries the lady died some time later at the hospital in Lincoln.

The claim is filed by Fredrick Brehm, husband of the deceased lady and executor of her estate, Attorney H. G. Wellensiek of Grand Island appearing in the matter for the estate.

In the claim filed the cause of complaint against the county is that there was not signs nor signals placed at the crossing of the highway where the accident occurred and it is also charged that the driver of the other car was proceeding in a reckless manner.

As the county is not in the custom of placing guide or warning signs on the highway unless there is road construction or on culverts that are not the full 24 foot width, it is expected that the claim will be rejected by the board at their January meeting.

The unfavorable action of the commissioners has been anticipated by the attorney for the estate who announces in his letter that if the claim is rejected that he expects to file suit against Cass county as well as Mr. Lanning.

First to File for Office of Treasurer

Lincoln Man Who Served Overseas and Has Had Long Experience in Treasurer's Office is Candidate.

A. D. Linch, deputy treasurer, filed nominating papers Tuesday with the secretary of state for the office of state treasurer. He affiliates with the republican party and like all other candidates under the new law is required to interline his application blank with the words "and no other party."

Deputy State Treasurer Linch is an overseas veteran. He has served under two state treasurers. He was born and reared in Nebraska and is thirty-five years of age. He served two and one-half years as chief clerk under Former Treasurer D. B. Crosey. He was re-appointed when the present state treasurer, C. D. Robinson, took office, and served two years as chief clerk. He was appointed deputy state treasurer at the beginning of Treasurer Robinson's second term, the position he now holds. Mr. Robinson having been elected to two terms, the limit under the state constitution, will retire from office in January, 1927. Mr. Linch is willing to give the state the benefit of his experience and is a candidate for state treasurer.

When appointed chief clerk in the treasurer's office Mr. Linch was a resident of Omaha. He has since made his home in Lincoln where he has established his legal residence. He is a member of American Legion post No. 3, Lincoln. He served overseas with battery E of the 340th field artillery, 89th division, in the St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives and served with the army of occupation in Germany six months.

W. M. Stebbins of Gothenburg, who was a republican candidate at the primary election against Treasurer Robinson, recently announced that he would try again for the nomination. County Treasurer E. L. Jenkins of Jefferson county, has also announced his intention of entering the race for state treasurer on the republican ticket.

PLEASANT DINNER PARTY

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening Mrs. James T. Begley and Miss Violette Begley entertained very pleasantly at a 6 o'clock dinner in honor of a number of the Plattsmouth girls who are home from college for the holidays as well as Miss Margurite Brown of Papillion, a student at National Park Seminary at Washington D. C., who is here to visit with friends.

The settings of the dinner were most charming, the color note being in red which was carried out in the candles and the large center piece of red roses that lent an enchanting touch to the scene.

The dinner was served in three courses and was one that was very much enjoyed by the party of young ladies in attendance.

During the dinner a number of informal musical numbers were given. Miss Alice Louise Wescott, who is home from Northwestern university, giving one of her pleasing whistling numbers while Miss Helen Wescott, of Wesleyan university, gave a most artistic piano number that added to the enjoyable features of the evening. Master James Begley, Jr., also added to the interest of the musical program with a saxophone solo that was thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the party.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Misunderstanding on 10c Bonus.

Some one in this county has said, "don't sign that certificate, for if you do and they find a hog with tuberculosis you will lose all the value of the hogs." Dr. Hays, state veterinarian, says that is not the case. In Gage county hogs have been found to have tuberculosis that were shipped to the packers and the farmer has received his pay.

The Farm Bureau wishes every one would help clear up this misunderstanding. Sign these certificates.

Corn Show Entries Open.

The boys and girls clubs will have a separate class at the State Corn show which is to be held in connection with the meeting of the Crop Growers association during Organized agriculture week, January 5 to 8, 1926. Entries are still open in this and all other classes. Western Nebraska growers have a chance to win good premiums this year. The corn entered by Nebraska men at the National Grain and Hay show in Chicago recently will be on display. The state exhibit contains over eighty entries. It won its share of national prizes at Chicago.

Entries to the state show should be made to Corn Show Committee, Agricultural College, Lincoln, Nebraska, and be in their hands by Saturday, January 2.

Chill Hog Carcasses.

The fellow who boasts of the short time it takes him to get his pork all cut up after he stuck the hog not only has a messy looking pile of pork but he will have trouble keeping the cuts in any kind of a shape. All the animal heat should be out of the carcass before it is cut up, said Extension Circular 225, Farm Slaughter of Hogs. Cut will then be smooth and neat and none of the tissue cells will be broken down. Pork which is to be cured should not freeze because it is almost impossible to keep it afterwards.

Fisting out the leaf lard while the carcass is warm and cutting the fat off the inside of the ham will help chill the meat. Every carcass should be split, leaving just a little skin at the neck to hold the two halves together and on the gambrel side. The Extension Circular gives directions for cutting and curing pork as well as a number of receipts for sausage, canning meat, and making soap. It is available at any county extension agent's office and at the Agricultural College, Lincoln.

BELIEVES REJUVENATION THEORIES SHOWN FALSE

Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—Theories upon which the "rejuvenation" operation is based have been proved false, in the opinion of physiologists attending the annual convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Persons who have undergone such operations, if subjected to a cross examination, likely will admit that they feel no younger today, and on the whole may be worse off than before it is asserted.

Continuums were drawn from researches of Dr. R. N. Oslund did not, however, mention Dr. Steinach, the Australian surgen, nor his operation.

City Council in Regular Bi-Weekly Session

Councilmen Discuss Graveling in District No. 50 and Decide Not to Appeal the Injunction

From Tuesday's Daily— The session of the city council last evening was devoid of any real startling features and peace and harmony prevailed in large chunks as it were, with three of the city legislators being absent when the first roll call was made, Higley, Gradoville and Schütz being among the absentees from the meeting.

The longest portion of the meeting was devoted to the reading of the minutes of the last regular and the special sessions of the council and upon which City Clerk John Cloldt spent some little time.

The Plattsmouth fire department presented a communication asking for the purchase by the city or authority for the department to buy eight new rubber coats that might be used in case of fire and which were to be kept on the fire truck for the use of the firemen.

On motion of Councilman Anderson the request was granted and the purchase will be made by the fire and water committee with the assistance of the fire department.

The matter of the workmen's compensation policy for the city was taken up and referred to the judiciary committee to look into before the expiration of the old policy.

Mayor Sattler stated that City Treasurer Kirkham had notified him that the city treasury had received $17,000 from taxes collected by the county treasurer, as well as $8,000 which had come into the school fund through the same source.

Mayor Sattler urged the council however to exercise economy in their expenditures that the amount might not be unduly spent.

Chairman McMaken of the judiciary committee announced that in the application of Julius A. Pitz et al against the city to prevent the levying of an assessment for graveling work near the property of the plaintiffs, the district court had sustained the plaintiffs and granted the injunction against the city and that the expense of this graveling that was a part of the city's share, would have to be provided otherwise.

Mayor Sattler gave a resume of the first moves for the graveling of the K of T highway and the action of the Chamber of Commerce in getting the county board interested and which board had agreed to take up the graveling provided $5,000 was raised by subscription and this had been done and the contract for the work let by the county. It was found later that the county and state project did not extend to the paving on Chicago avenue and left a considerable strip that would have to be paved by the city.

The board of county commissioners agreed that if the county would agree to gravel 1,500 feet of the distance, they would bear the expense of graveling the remaining 3,200 feet of the distance. This proposition had been accepted. Accordingly the county had gone ahead with the work of placing a part of the gravel on the city's side of the road and in turn the city was to gravel along a part that lay on the county side as soon as the district could be created by ordinance and the city's part of the work could proceed.

The graveling adjoining property of the plaintiffs in the action which should have been done by the county for the city under this reciprocal agreement and was completed before the city graveling district was actually created and therefore the court had held that there could not be included in the district lands where the work was already done. The total of the amount held up by the court order would be between $700 and $800, Mr. Sattler stated.

City Attorney J. A. Capwell stated that as a general proposition the cities were the creatures of the legislators and were bound by the statutes which prescribed their actions and for this reason should be very careful in the preparation of the ordinances and contracts entered into in creating paving or graveling districts.

He thought the city had gotten off very cheaply on the general work as the county had done the grading and two-thirds of the graveling, while the city had done one-third. He did not think that there was any use in appealing the case to the state supreme court.

On motion of Councilman McMaken it was decided by the unanimous vote of the council that they would not appeal the case.

Councilman Harris announced that he had discovered that he had been paying the special paving tax assessed for the street paving on lower Main street on Lot 12, Block 30, which should have been assessed to P. P. Goos and that he had paid three installments before he had learned the fact that he was not paying on his own lot. It was decided to clear this matter up in the records and have Mr. Harris relieved of this unjust burden.

There being nothing else of special interest the regular session was adjourned and the dads reconvened for the levying of the remaining tax in Gravel District No. 49, minus the property that had restrained the city.

The following claims were allowed by the finance committee of the council and approved by the council:

Fred Lehnhoff Has His Garage Swept by Fire

Former Plattsmouth Resident Owner of Western State Garage on Sherman Avenue in Omaha.

From Wednesday's Daily— The announcement was received here today by Mrs. F. D. Lehnhoff of the fact that the Western State Garage, located on Sherman avenue in Omaha, and owned by her son, Fred W. Lehnhoff, former Plattsmouth man, had been swept by fire on Monday morning.

The garage is a large structure and the fire broke out in the office portion of the building, the fire destroying all of the office equipment and supplies that were kept in that portion of the building, later it swept into the main part of the garage and caused damage to three cars that were nearest to the burning portion of the building.

The origin of the fire is unknown and had a good start before it was discovered as the workmen in the garage, where a night and day force is maintained, were busy at the time. The garage is extensively used by auto owners in that locality for the storage of cars and the building is usually well filled every night by the cars that are left there for storage.

Whether or not the loss was covered by insurance was not learned by the members of the family in this city.

GIVES INTERESTING ADDRESS

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday morning the members of the adult department of the Methodist Sunday school had a most unusual opportunity of hearing the life of St. Paul, his missionary journeys over the known world with the message of the christian teachings and his efforts to aid the establishment of the church. The address on the life and works of St. Paul was given by Attorney J. A. Capwell, one of the deep students of the bible in the city and whose remarks covered in a very thorough manner the work of this great leader in the primitive christian church. The study lessons of the Sunday school have in the last few weeks taken up the part that Paul played in the christian history of that time. Mr. Capwell had a large and very appreciative audience and his review of the work of St. Paul was a most thorough one and highly pleasing to the members of the bible school.
