Tribute to Mrs. Larsh.

In the death of Mrs. John Larsh at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha, Friday morning a jewel was lost to us all for a while, at least. Truthfully it can be said, she was loved by every man, woman and child in the community of Riverview and by everyone who knew the noble woman. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Mr. Larsh and the sorrowing family in their bereavement. Though we grieve we know her spirit rests where pain and partings are no more. The following verse is surely true: Should we have asked Him, well we know.

We would cry, "Oh, spare the blow!" And with Streaming tears would say, "Lord, we love her, let her stay."

Charles Dysart Improving.

Charles Dysart, who is at the hospital at Omaha and where he has been for some time, receiving treatment for his fractured arm, is at this time doing nicely and expects to be able to return home at an early date. His many friends will be pleased to learn of his improvement.

Winfield Swan Dies.

Mr. T. W. Swan, who has been ill for the past several weeks at his home north of Union on the highway, and who it was thought was making very satisfactory improvement, was able to be up on last Saturday and was again on Sunday and was enjoying a sermon over the radio at about eleven o'clock when suddenly taken with a sinking spell and expressed himself as feeling bad and went to bed to rest and continued to get more critical, with shortness of breath and slow heart action until he passed away at 11:20. Mr. Swan has been quite ill for some time, having had pneumonia and it was necessary for an operation to remove the pus from his lungs, but which had been done two weeks before and he was thought to be on the mend. During all the illness this fall he was compelled to take a heart stimulant. Mr. Swan was born December 16th 1862, and has lived in Cass county for many years, joining the M. W. A. the only society of which he is a member, in Union on November 14th 1909. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at the home, conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church of Union and the interment be made at the Swan cemetery near the home where he has lived for so many years and where he died and the funeral services are being held. More regarding his life will be given in a later account.

Died in the West.

Word was received in Union of the death of Mrs. Emma Rheinheier of Elgin, Ill., who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, at Concord Beach, California, since last fall. Mrs. Rheinheier who was formerly Miss Emma Frans was born in Missouri but came to Nebraska and to Union when still young. Here she was united in marriage to W. H. R. Cross and from this union was born three children, Harry dying when young, and rests in the cemetery near Union. With the husband and the other children who were Paul Cross, and Mrs. Vera Peterson, they went west when Mr. Cross died, and Mrs. Cross was united in marriage with Mr. Rheinheier, they making their home at Elgin, Ill. During last fall they went to California to spend Mr. Rheinheier's winter. Mr. Rheinheier has been in poor health for some time, passed away on last Thursday noon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peterson. The son Paul Cross makes his home at Santa Ana, California. Mrs. Rheinheier was a life long member of the Baptist church and a very devout christian.

Raise Good Hogs

Some have said that maybe Chester Whites did not grow as fast as some other breeds, so Prof. A. D. Webber of the Kansas Agricultural College, went to the Lugenbell farm, at Padonia, Kansas, and bought a drove of fall pigs for barrows.

They were fed as test pigs and used in judging work and a number of exhibitions ways around the college and then were taken to the Kansas City Royal of 1925. There were seven shown and they won first, second and third places in the open classes; first and second pens and champion barrow and champion pen. They were just about a year old and weighed on the average of 530 pounds. As they were too heavy for the Chicago classifications, they were slaughtered at Kansas City and again won in the dressed meat division.

These barrows were bred by Earl Lugenbell and were sired by Kansas Pathfinder. We like to think that better ones of any breed are reared and everywhere we have proof that such is true. The better ones have also been made better by far sighted men of every breed, such as Earl Lugenbell, Harry Knabe and Alvin Lynch, who have seen the wisdom of making such practical demonstrations of the worth of pure bred sires and used their fine thoroughbred boars to make these wonderful tests.

Earl paid me a visit the other day. He says there is a great shortage of good brood sows of every breed. He has in the past been holding about five sows per year, but cannot this season and hold enough brood sows for his own use. So boys get into the game. Buy one good brood sow this spring. Buy more if you can. They will make you money in the next two years. Better still, buy one that good led of yours who may be raising his eyes skyward. Get him interested and he will stick to you.
