COMPLAIN OF ACCOMODATIONS

From Monday's Daily—
This morning there were some eighteen passengers from the west and northern portion of the county that arrived in this city on No. 4 over the Burlington and they relate a complaint of the conditions that prevail at the station at Orepolis. The travelers came down as far as Orepolis on the Schuyler and had to wait at Orepolis for No. 4 in order to get on into Plattsburgh and this took some little time and they found the waiting room in the little station without fire and very cold and disagreeable. The condition was not relieved in the least by the travelers and they made the fact known when they were able to reach this city and get thawed out.

Weeping Water Boy is Held in Chicago Case

Harold Towle, Member of Well Known Cass County Family, Held in Auto Case.

Earle Towle, police judge, will leave Weeping Water Monday night for Chicago to aid his son, Harold, 18, who was taken into custody by police there, charged with stealing an automobile, a special to the Omaha Bee states.

The father of the youth was non-plussed when informed of the youth's arrest, and could not ascribe any motive for the alleged car theft, or for his son's leaving home two weeks ago.

"I didn't know of any love affair he had," the father said, when questioned about the statement Harold is said to have made in Chicago that he left home because his parents objected to his marrying a girl of Weeping Water.

Gone With Girls.

"He has gone with girls here, and at times with girls in neighboring towns, but he wasn't the kind that's always going with the girls," he continued.

The father expressed his opinion that the youth, who is six feet and six inches in height, had some from his home, expecting to make a quick fortune, or merely for the excitement of roving for a time.

"I think the boys here kind of egged him on," he said.

The fact that his father is police judge, an uncle, Frank Towle, chief of the night police in Lincoln, and the sheriff of Cass county, an old friend of the family, has given him prestige in his home community and his size are thought to be two factors that led to his belief that he could make his way out in the world easily.

Vista Shattered.

But it was a shattered vista that lay before him Sunday.

The $15 with which he began his journey to Chicago is thought to have become exhausted. If he committed a theft it must have been when he saw he had no way of continuing his journey, according to the father.

There was no car taken from here, he said, and no report of a stolen car in surrounding towns has been received.

When he was in Weeping Water Harold had his choice of a Ford coupe or a Buick when he went out riding with a "date." He lived in a comfortable home with well-to-do parents, and sister, Margaret. He was a good worker, had never been in trouble, and was considered a boy of judgment.

Came the lure of the great world, and he left it all with all confidence that he would carve out a name for himself in some great metropolis. Then, he thought, he could return to the girl of his choice and claim her.

Girl's Name Concealed.

He is said to have been keeping company with a girl he has known for years, but the father did not want her name made public Sunday night. He knew her in high school, it was said.

Friends of the boy said here Sunday that he had not been going with one girl steadily, and that he had gone to Douglas at times to call on a young lady there.

He was graduated from high school here two years ago when he was 16 years of age.

Aged Man Suicides at Home Near Eagle

Andrew Hendricksen, Aged 70 Years Found Hanging Lifeless From Tree at Farm Home.

Early Sunday morning the lifeless body of Andrew Hendricksen, aged seventy years was found hanging from a tree in the yard at his farm home four miles north of Eagle.

The tragedy has greatly stirred Eagle and vicinity where Mr. Hendricksen and his family have resided for a great many years and the shock has proven very trying to the members of the family circle.

It is supposed that the suicide was due to dispendency on the part of the aged man as he has been in apparent good health and had little reason as far as could be learned for the rash act.

The lifeless body was discovered at an early hour by Carl Johnson, a nephew, living across the road from the farm and who was horrified at looking across the way and seeing the form of the uncle hanging from the tree. He had used a large box to help him get up into the tree and from where he had taken the plunge into eternity.

It is stated that it is the second suicide in the family as a son shot himself during the flu epidemic of 1918 from the effects of his sickness and ill health.

The deceased is survived by a wife and five children, all of whom are living in the vicinity of Eagle.

When the body was first found it was decided that an inquest would be unnecessary as the cause of death appeared so apparent as to leave little cause for inquiry but later members of the family have urged that an inquest be held and which will be taken up with the county authorities today, messages from Eagle state.

Mr. Hendricksen purchased the farm on which he was residing at the time of death some fifteen years ago and has since been making his home there. He was twice married, the first wife preceding him in death.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Poultry Club.

Mrs. R. E. Norris' poultry club met at her home and Mr. Rabbit of the poultry extension department discussed the second year poultry club work with them. Five or six of the club members will have separate pens from the farm flock and next year they should be qualified to take over the management of the entire farm flock.

Accredited Flocks.

The following flocks were visited last week and found to be exceptionally good. Mrs. R. E. Norris, Weeping Water, White Rocks; Mrs. Chas. Spohn, Elmwood, White Leghorns; Mrs. Grace Coatsman, Alvo, Single Comb Rhode Island Reds, and Watson Howard, Greenwood, Single Comb White Leghorns.

Mr. Rabbit visited these flocks and was well pleased. He says they are certainly fine flocks and as the records of these flocks have been published they will not be given at this time.

Hog Lot Sanitation.

Meetings were held at the home of Albert Pool, Wabash, T. W. Hoffman & Sons, Alvo, Henry Thiele, Nehawka, and the Jeffery and Heil school houses. Mr. Posson of the animal husbandry extension department was with us for these meetings and he stressed hog lot sanitation. The main points are: clean the hog houses with boiling lye water, wash the brood sows under with luke warm soapy water and brush all the dirt off her sides and back with a stiff brush. When the young pigs are about two weeks old take them to a lot where hogs have not been on for at least one year and better if no hogs have been there for two years. If you have no old hog houses build a few individual ones and take your sows to clean ground to let them farrow and raise the pigs there until they are four months old.

If you are interested in hog house plans write or call the farm bureau office. We would be glad to help you.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY OF FATHER OF COUNTRY

From Tuesday's Daily—

Last Sunday at the Nehawka auditorium was celebrated the anniversary of the birth of George Washington in a most appropriate manner. The Rev. W. A. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church of Union, was the principal speaker and made a most masterful address. The affair was under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, but was open for everybody and was well attended. A quartette composed of D. R. Frans, W. B. Banning, W. G. Cheney of near Union and Paul Schlichtemeier of north of Nehawka rendered some most appreciated numbers, while Mrs. D. R. Frans presided with much grace at the piano. A number of members of the Masonic lodge of Nehawka who reside at Union were present for the ceremonies.

HAS TONSILS REMOVED

From Tuesday's Daily—

There is not going to be a great deal of talking done by the male members of the family of County Commissioner C. F. Harris of Union, as yesterday afternoon Mr. Harris was operated on here by Dr. H. C. Leopold for the removal of his tonsils and in addition the tonsils and adenoids of the two young sons, Fulton and Donald Harris were removed. The boys returned home in a short time after the operation but Mr. Harris remained here over night until danger of bleeding was past and he is in fine shape and feeling very much improved.
