

Alvo Department

Joseph Vickers shipped a carload of cattle to the South Omaha market last Wednesday from the Alvo station.

We are assured that it is a girl and all are doing well, which is the cause for much happiness and joy reigns supreme.

Albert Kunz, who has been farming west of town, and who held a sale not long since, has moved to Alvo and will reside here for the present.

S. C. Boyles of the Farmers' and Merchant's bank was a caller in Omaha on last Wednesday where he had some business matters to look after.

Orie Foreman departed last Friday for Valparaiso where he went to look after some business matters pertaining to a farm which he has there, for a few days.

Charles Foreman is the well satisfied possessor of a new Overland sedan which he recently purchased and will make an excellent wagon for his use, with the family.

George Eldenmuller, the barber, apartments with the mother, over the store room on Mainstreet.

Lee Hill, owner of the east elevator, has been in Alvo for a number of days during the past and present week, on account of the calling of Orie Foreman to Valparaiso, as there was much grain coming into Alvo.

At the game of basketball which was played at Alvo between the town team of Elmwood and the one of Alvo the home team won out by a score of 22 to 20, the game was played in the Alvo gym on last Wednesday.

Elmer Klyver has been making some repairs at the home on the farm west of Alvo which is adding much to the beauty and serviceability of the home. He is papering and doing some repairing of the walls of the house.

Charles Marshall, who a few weeks since, entered into the employ of the Sinclair Oil company, with headquarters in Ashland, was a visitor in Alvo last Thursday afternoon and was delivering oil and gas to the merchants.

On the evening Tuesday the Eagle team of basketball toppers were over to see the boys of Alvo and played them a game of this fascinating sport with the result that the eagle team won over the home team by a score of 29 to 28.

Daniel B. Williams, the bustling drayman, has been rather busy for the past few days, he unloaded a car of implements for the Coatsman Hardware company, as well as a load of shingles for the J. W. Banning Lumber corporation.

Wm. Stewart, the rustling windmill man and well digger and in fact a most active worker when needed, has just installed a new windmill for Ben Mincejau, who has but recently moved to the late Paul Johnson place west of Alvo.

John Woods, the market man, was making some very important changes in the refrigeration room of his market. Albert Parsell was doing the work and the improvements make the room much more convenient and the cost of cooling much less.

Mrs. Winifred Murty departed on last Friday for Clay Center where she will spend some three weeks at the home of her brother, Mr. S. M. Price and family. Mrs. Murty has many friends and acquaintances at Clay Center and the visit will be a most pleasant one.

The chorus of the Methodist church was out last Wednesday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turner McKinnon, where they spent the evening in preparation for the Sunday services. They were very nicely entertained by the genial host and hostess and had a splendid evening.

Lance Clites, who has been farming east of Alvo for the past few years, after having held his sale, has moved to Alvo and is occupying the residence which was formerly occupied by Art Skinner. Mr. Skinner has moved to the farm where Ed Weideman has been farming for the past few years.

John W. Banning was called to Union the latter portion of last week by the sad announcement of the sudden passing of his mother, the late Mrs. Henry W. Banning, who has made her home south of Union for more than a half century. Mr. and Mrs. Banning hastened to Union and remained there for the funeral which occurred a week ago Sunday.

Grover Hill, who has, for many years, lived southeast of Elmwood, has moved to a point just a little east of Alvo on the farm that Lance Clites lived on for the past two years. While Mr. Hill's postoffice address will remain at Elmwood where it has been, he is near Alvo and will make an excellent addition to the community here, he being an excellent farmer and first class citizen.

The ladies aid society of the Methodist church were meeting with Mrs. C. S. Boyles at her beautiful home in Alvo on last Wednesday where the ladies were very energetic in the work they had in hand, and had a most splendid social hour as well. They were royally entertained by Mrs. Boyles and who served a delightful luncheon that added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Last Wednesday Sam Jordan entertained the ex-service men of this vicinity at his home just a little outside of Alvo and at which time they all had a good time. The evening was spent in reminiscences and games. The boys rolled the bones and played poker and 500 and were served with an excellent brand of chow, which added to the occasion, as well as burning some extra fine tobacco rolled in little bundles. There were there for the occasion besides the host Mr. Sam Jordan himself, John B. Skinner, Soren Peterson, Henry Peterson, James Applegate, C. D. Ganz, Lee Stewart, Arthur Dinges, R. L. Parmenter and Lloyd Fifer.

SETTLE FOR HOGS

In the past several weeks I have lost a number of head of hogs and have located the cause of their loss. Suspecting the reason for their disappearance I had the gate to the hog yard locked and found later that parties had stuck the hogs, dragged them to the gate, thrown them over and then taken them to a waiting truck or car. The parties who have been taking the hogs are known and they can avoid a great deal of trouble by coming in and settling for the hogs that have been killed and taken.

SLAYER SENTENCED FOR BANK ROBBERY

El Dorado, Kan., March 5.—Ray Majors, one of a member of the famous Eddie Adams and Majors gangs, that were accused of holding up many banks in Kansas, Thursday was sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary, after pleading guilty to robbing the Benton State bank here, August 11, 1919.

He pleaded guilty when promised by Judge A. T. Ayres, County Attorney R. G. McCougage and Clyde McCrew, cashier of the bank, that they would not oppose any parole proceedings he might prefer, after one year's imprisonment.

Majors served six years in the Missouri penitentiary on a murder charge and, upon his release, announced that he intended "going straight." After about two months of freedom, he heard that he was being sought on the old Benton State bank robbery charge, and voluntarily gave himself up.

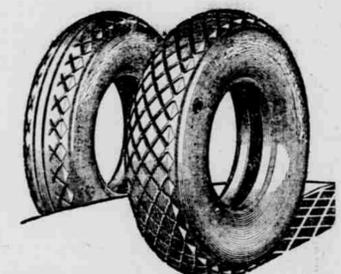

Those who are interested in learning the new decorative art work in lamp shades and screens, can receive free instructions by calling at the annex of the Bates Book & Gift shop.
