

Frederick Olenhausen Passes to the Great Beyond

Well Known Resident of This Section of Cass County Passes Away After Short Illness.

From Monday's Daily—

Yesterday morning at an early Frederick Olenhausen, a resident of this community for some forty-five years passed to his last reward after an illness covering the past week and in which the aged man has been very rapidly falling until death came to still his sufferings and bid him join those of his family circle who have preceded him in death.

Frederick Olenhausen was born in Schleibach, Hessen-Darmstadt, Germany, November 30, 1838, and where he resided until his twenty-fourth year when he with his family came to America. It was in the old home in Germany that the deceased was married to Miss Margaret Thierolf and in 1862 the husband and wife decided that they would seek their fortune in the United States to which land many of their friends and neighbors had gone to live and from whom they gathered inspiration for the desire to join them in the new world. The Olenhausen family located near Pekin, Illinois, with a number of the old friends and resided there for some twenty years, their family of nine children being born there. In the year 1882 Mr. and Mrs. Olenhausen and their family came to Cass county and located on a farm west of this city, making their home in that locality and engaging in farming for a great many years. Later when the family had grown up Mr. and Mrs. Olenhausen moved to Plattsmouth where in 1913 the wife and mother heard the last call and passed to the great beyond. Since the death of the wife Mr. Olenhausen has largely made his home alone in the family residence on Washington avenue, making frequent visits with the children. Of the family of nine children but three are living, Mrs. Henry Fuller of Amazonia, Missouri, Mrs. Mary Evers of Council Bluffs and Fred G. Olenhausen of this city. There are also nineteen grandchildren and thirty-five great-grandchildren to mourn his death.

Mr. Olenhausen was member of the Sons of Herman lodge of this city and for many years of the Plattsmouth Turn-Verein. He was also affiliated from childhood with the Lutheran church.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 from the St. Paul's Evangelical church and conducted by the Rev. O. G. Wichmann, pastor of the church, and was very largely attended by the old time friends and neighbors who came to pay tribute to the old friend and neighbor.

The interment was at the Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers being five grandsons and grandsons-in-law being L. F. Terryberry, John Kautmann, Fred McCulloch, Harry McCulloch, W. F. Evers and Edward Valley.

PUPILS EXCELL MASTER

From Monday's Daily—

Yesterday morning being a real spring morning with the balmy breezes as well as bright sunshine prevailing it was one of the days when the tired golfer did not lie long in bed but was early on the road to the golf course armed with his club and fond anticipations of the success that he was to secure.

The fine day and the general feeling of joy and contentment which was prevailing led C. A. Rosencrans the well known golfer, as well as hair bobber and shaver, joined the early pilgrims to the Plattsmouth golf club grounds to try his luck on the course. Filled with the general spirit of the spring time Clate decided to show up the real "stuff" of the game to his pupils and on the way to the grounds gave words of advice to the two players that would enable them to do well in the game that is becoming so rapidly one of the favorite sports of the country.

The pupils heeded the advice very well and as the result of the coaching that they received they made the course in 42, while not a wonderful record was more than gratifying in the fact that they were not skilled golfers, while Clate drove just forty-three in getting around, showing that the skill of the teacher is reflected in the brilliancy of his pupils.

EDWARD CHASE NOT SO WELL

From Monday's Daily—

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brantner were in Omaha last evening to visit with Edward Chase at the Methodist hospital for a short time and found the young man not quite so well as he has been for several days but his case was not thought to have taken a dangerous turn as he has been gaining greatly in strength and the slight relapse is not thought to have injured him. It will be some time, however, before he can be able to leave the hospital.

W. R. C. Has a Very Pleasant Social Meeting

Afternoon Spent at the Home of Mrs. J. M. Leyda Proves Most Delightful Occasion.

From Monday's Daily—

The Woman's Relief Corps of this city had a most pleasant social gathering at the home of Mrs. John M. Leyda on Elm street on Friday afternoon, which was one of the largest attended meetings that this organization has held for a number of months.

The ladies had a very fine program of music and readings that proved a real treat to those in attendance. The Misses Treva Edgerton and Rachael Baldwin each gave several piano duets that reflected the greatest of credit upon the young ladies and proved a real source of enjoyment to the members of the party.

Another of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the pianologue in which Misses Marjorie and Bernice Arn were heard.

Mrs. Hal Garnett, one of the talented vocalists of the city, was heard on the program in two delightful vocal selections that made a great impression on her audience. There were a group of readings also given by Mrs. Robert Troop and Miss Mildred Meisinger which added a pleasant touch to the program and which were well selected and artistically given.

At the close of the afternoon, dainty refreshments were served that made a very appropriate completion of the day of rarest pleasure to all of the large party in attendance.

ENJOY FINE TIME

From Monday's Daily—

Mrs. Homer McKay of this city was the guest of honor at a very pleasant event in Omaha yesterday, the occasion being the seventy-ninth birthday anniversary of Mrs. McKay, and which was held at the home of Mrs. Maude Bunch and daughter, Hazel, in the metropolis. Mrs. Bunch, who is a daughter of Mrs. McKay had arranged the very pleasant occasion and which was enjoyed to the fullest extent by all of the members of the party.

The birthday dinner was the chief feature of the day and was arranged in the attractive color scheme of pink and white, this adding very much to the enjoyment of the event. The centerpiece of the table was the large birthday cake with its seventy-nine glowing candles.

In honor of the passing of the milestone of life Mrs. McKay received many very handsome gifts that will serve to remind her of the event. Those enjoying the occasion were Mrs. Joel Messersmith, Mrs. Golda Graham and daughter, Kathryn of Lincoln; Mrs. Ray Gifford and daughter, Geraldine and grand-daughter, Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Messersmith, Mr. and Mrs. Bird Graham, Frank Ramsey, Lee Parsell, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rhin, Murray; Mr. and Mrs. George Goodman, C. A. Harvey, John Alwin, Mrs. Minnie Pickard and daughter, Wilma, Mrs. McKay, Plattsmouth. In the afternoon Mrs. Sidney Tyler and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bergland of Omaha joined the party to pay honor to Mrs. McKay.

OLD TIMERS RECEIPT

In this day and age the average person considers that dandelions are only good for the greens that come in the springtime, the pretty yellow blooms and the juices that might be extracted from the plants. One of the old time residents has given a new use of the dandelion plants, one which was in the civil war days very popular, this old timer states.

In the dark days of the civil war the residents of the country were put up against it in many ways to get substitutes for their usual food supply and in the case of coffee substitutes that was found was that dried dandelion roots that were placed in pans and dried and then slightly roasted and which made a good substitute for the favorite Java. This a hint to those who feel that the coffee trust might be boosting the prices. Get your supply of dandelions early.

Miss Virginia Beeson Wedded at Los Angeles

Very Beautiful Ceremony Marks Marriage of Popular and Charming Plattsmouth Girl.

The marriage of Miss Virginia Beeson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Allen J. Beeson of this city to Mr. George Riggs of Santa Monica, California, occurred on Wednesday, April 7th, at Los Angeles.

The wedding was one of the most beautiful and colorful events of the social season in the southern California city, attended by a very large party of the friends of the young people who are among the most popular of the younger social set of Los Angeles where the bride has made her home for the past few years while a student at the University of Southern California.

The wedding ceremony occurred at the St. James Methodist church at 8:30, the church for the occasion being a bower of floral beauty with the bright and attractive gowns of the ladies and the formal evening dress of the gentlemen guests made the scene one of the greatest attractiveness to the eye.

Preceding the ceremony at 8 o'clock Miss Mary Patterson, a close friend of the bride gave a very charming pipe organ prelude, the selections embracing love songs of the rarest charm and beauty. The organist was gowned in a modish gown of pale blue that added to the beauty of the charming lady.

Promptly at 8:30 Miss Ruth Riggs, attractive in a gown of rose pink, gave a harp solo of great beauty, as the last notes of the solo number died away, Mrs. Roy Miller sang sweetly the song of love, "O Promise Me." The gown of Mrs. Miller was in the attractive shades of pink with a large picture hat of pink enhancing her beauty.

The wedding march was played on the organ and harp by Miss Patterson and Miss Riggs and as the first notes sounded, Mrs. Allen J. Beeson, mother of the bride gowned in orchid silk and carrying pink rose buds, entered with Alfred Drew, a friend of the groom, leading the professional of the bridal party to the floral altar erected at the rear of the church auditorium. Two little girls, winsome in costumes of pink taffeta, Lucille and Beatrice Riggs entered, forming the aisle way with the satin ribbon streamers. Betty Riggs, eight years old carried the huge basket of sweet peas, preceding Miss Clara Mae Morgan of Omaha, school day friend of the bride, who was very charming in her pink evening gown that emphasized her dark beauty, Miss Morgan singing the refrain of the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The wedding party of charming and attractive young ladies, friends and associates of the bride, made a sight of the greatest beauty as they entered the church for the ceremony. Miss Ethel Tronsdale in orchid silk, Miss Helen Beeson, sister of the bride in pale yellow, Mrs. Joseph D. Hawksworth of Lincoln, also sister of the bride and matron of honor, made a very attractive picture in her gown of peach colored silk, Miss Grace Beeson of Omaha, maid of honor wore a striking gown of pale green, Tiny Ann Murray four years of age followed the ladies of the bridal party, scattering rose petals in the pathway of the bride, her gown being of green taffeta, Little Betty Jo Hawksworth, niece of the bride, was the ring bearer, carrying the ring of white gold set with five diamonds in the heart of a large pink rose.

Little Betty Jo was very winsome in pink taffeta and with the white slippers and pink silk stockings. The ladies of the bridal party carried huge bouquets of sweet peas, and lilies of the valley in a shower effect, the flowers representing the colorful gowns of the ladies.

The bride, a girl of great beauty was radiant in her wedding gown shimmering white satin, a long veil trimmed with dutch lace being caught and held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride carried a huge shower bouquet of roses, orchids and lilies of the valley with the flowing bows of tulle.

As the bride approached the altar she was joined by her mother, Mrs. Allen J. Beeson on whose arm she approached the station where she happy ceremony was to take place. The bridal party were met at the altar by the groom, George Riggs, and the best man, Mr. Ralph Riggs, brother of the groom, both being attired in evening dress, with the ushers, Gerald, Howard and Clyde Clifford, Roy Miller and Alfred Drew.

The wedding party at the altar numbered some twenty and made a very striking picture of beauty and charm as the hour of the greatest joy in the lives of the two young people approached.

The altar was formed by a large archway of green ferns and pink roses, large baskets of pink snapdragons standing at the door of the archway on either side while the railing and platform were banked with the green ferns. At the center of the altar a large basket of calla lilies made an exquisite touch to the decorative plan of the altar. The candles burning on the altar added a touch of impressiveness to the scene.

Immediately in front of the altar was the large white satin pillow upon which the bride and groom knelt to receive God's blessing on their lives as man and wife while green velvet kneeling benches were used by the other members of the bridal party.

The marriage ceremony followed the impressive Episcopal form the celebration of the ceremony being by the Rev. Templeton, pastor of the church.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Waybright, with whom Miss Beeson has made her home, and where the relatives had prepared the most attractive reception for the young people. The home was a bank of flowers, these being used lavishly in all of the rooms and made a scene of the greatest beauty. There were 150 guests present at the reception at the home.

The decorative plan was carried out in ferns, smilax, flowers and the white candles.

The large bride's cake, surmounted by the tiny figures of a bride and groom standing beneath the tiny bride arch, was the center of attraction of the dining room. In the dining room Mrs. Hattie Brown Cribbs and Mrs. Stella Blue Tempier presided, Mrs. Cribbs wearing a very beautiful gown of white satin and Mrs. Tempier in orchid silk. The serving was carried out by the young ladies of the bridal party.

Miss Eleanor Brogardus was in charge of the guest book and Misses Mary Wilcox and Ruth Walker had charge of the gift room.

The gifts were most lavish and beautiful and represented many very beautiful and costly gifts from the relatives and friends, the gift of the parents to the bride being a large and unusually handsome floor lamp and among the gifts received was a deed to a valuable lot, given by the granduncle of the bride, Morgan Waybright.

After the reception at the home the bride and groom successfully eluded their friends and motored to their home at Santa Monica where they spent a short time and then drove to San Diego to spend a short honeymoon. On their return they will make their home at Santa Monica where the room is engaged in business.

Among the guests at the wedding were Madame Wescott, Mrs. E. C. Wescott, Dr. Albert A. Fricke and wife, Mrs. F. P. Brown and Michael Maury and son, Robert, all former Plattsmouth residents here.

The bride was one of the most popular girls of this city in her childhood and young womanhood, a graduate of the local schools and a lady of the greatest charm and personality. She is the third daughter of Judge and Mrs. Allen J. Beeson of this city and has since her graduation here been attending the university of Southern California. In her new home she takes the best wishes of the host of friends in this city and vicinity.

The groom is a member of one of the leading families of southern California and a young business man universally respected by those who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

PLEASANT BRIDGE TEAS

From Monday's Daily—

The last week two very delightful bridge teas featured the social activities of the city. Mrs. L. L. Turpin and Mrs. Sidney Bell entertained on Thursday and Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Turpin in the Harris apartments.

The color scheme of the two luncheons was in pink, this being carried out in the candles and table decorations that made a most delightful setting for the pleasant events. In serving the hostesses were assisted by Misses Violette Begley and Eleanor McCarty.

In the playing on Thursday Mrs. James Doyle was winner of the first prize while the consolation prize was awarded to Miss Helen Hunter. On Saturday Mrs. Lynn Minor won first prize and Mrs. Harry Platt the winner of the consolation prize.

SENDS COYOTE SCALPS

From Monday's Daily—

This morning in the office of the clerk of the district court action was filed entitled Nora E. Larson vs. Lloyd C. Larson, the plaintiff asking for a decree of divorce with alimony and custody of the minor child of the marriage. The petition of the plaintiff states that the parties were married at Plattsmouth on January 2, 1923. The cause of action is given as cruelty, it being alleged that the plaintiff was compelled to reside at the home of the parents of the defendant at Louisville and that the defendant had told the plaintiff that she could do that or go elsewhere. There is one child whose custody the plaintiff asks with other equitable relief.

Old Time Residents Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mutz, One Time Residents of Eight Mile Grove Enjoy Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mutz celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Monday, April 5th. A general reception for relatives and friends had been planned at the home of their son, Sterling F. Mutz, of Lincoln, but because of illness the observance of the occasion took the form of a dinner for a club to which Mr. and Mrs. Mutz belong. After dinner, groups of friends from the Elm Park Methodist church and the Plattsmouth club called. Will Minford gave recollections of the family for a period of over fifty years and Mrs. Allie H. Minford, who attended the dinner following the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Mutz recalled the incidents occurring on that day.

Otto Mutz and Ella Porter Russell were married on April 5, 1876 by Rev. C. B. Crippen at the home of Judge and Mrs. Calvin Russell, parents of the bride, at Eight Mile Grove near Plattsmouth. Mr. Mutz came to Nebraska in 1856 from Greenwood, Ia., and has resided in Nebraska continuously since that time. Mrs. Mutz came from Plattville, Wis., in 1867. They resided in Cass county until 1887 when they moved to Kaya Paha county, where they lived for about twenty-two years. While Mutz served four years as county judge beginning in 1890 and in 1896, was elected to the state senate during the session of 1897.

Since 1910 Mr. and Mrs. Mutz have lived in Lincoln. Both have been active in public affairs of the state, Mr. Mutz having written books dealing with public questions and especially the league of nations and world court and several pamphlets dealing with the taxation problem and the unicameral system of legislation. He is at present state chairman of the LaFollette Independent party. Mrs. Mutz is a member of Deborah Awey chapter of the D. A. R. has been president and secretary of the W. C. T. U. and is a member of the Ladies Legislative League, League of Women Voters, and Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Ten children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Mutz, all of whom are living except one. They are: Miss Mamie R. Mutz, professor of art Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wis.; Mrs. Fern Piersall, Waterford, Mich.; Mrs. Winifred Stahl, Lincoln; R. Dennis Mutz, Fowler, Colo.; Sterling F. Mutz, Lincoln; Otto Mutz, Jr., Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. Eunice Heard, Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. Dorothy Hope Young, Hildesheim, Colo.; and Walter D. Mutz, Pueblo, Colo. One son, Danna R. Mutz, who was editor of the Utica Sun, died during the flu epidemic during the war. A reunion of the children is being planned for June.

BIG TIME AT DANCE

From Monday's Daily—

One of the biggest dances of the season was held on Saturday evening at the Eagles hall and which was attended by not only large numbers of the local people but groups of young people from all of the nearby cities. The Gradoville orchestra of eight pieces furnished the music and it was as fine as that of any orchestra in the state. One of the special features of the evening was the new $100 Sousaphone of Mr. Gradoville that added to the beauty of the musical numbers furnished for the dance. The Ward Sisters of Omaha were featured in songs and dances while the Barnyard Twins, (Walt and Ray) gave several of their enjoyable numbers and special skits that added interest for both the dancers and the spectators. The Twins are artists from station KOIL at Council Bluffs and are both Cass county boys and their numbers added very much to the program. Walter Stohlman and Ray Denham are the Twins and they are real entertainers. The manager of the Linoma Beach near Ashland was here to enjoy the event and was very much pleased with the work of the orchestra and will endeavor to secure them for several of the dances at the beach the coming season.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

From Monday's Daily—

AGED PEOPLE SOME BETTER

From Tuesday's Daily—
J. H. Neitzel and wife who have been quite poorly for the past several days are reported as showing some improvement altho they are still far from well and at their age their illness has given the family a great deal of apprehension and worry as to the outcome of their case. Mr. Neitzel in particular has been very ill and as this is the second serious attack in the past year his family have been greatly worried but the aged gentleman seems to have rallied nicely and it is hoped will soon be able to resume his usual activities.

Rev. Frank E. Pfoutz is Given a New Honor

Popular Plattsmouth Pastor Named Dean of Omaha District Epworth League Institute.

Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city and one of the best known Methodist ministers in the state, has been called upon by the church leaders to accept a new charge for the coming year. This is the position of dean of the Omaha district Epworth League institute that is being held in July at Camp Sheldon, near Columbus.

The deanship is quite an extensive responsibility as the dean has the supervision of the camp where annually large numbers of the young people, members of the Epworth League gather to study and improve their touch with the teachings of the League and is one on which the man selected for the position must be eminently qualified not only in religious training but in the general standing and appreciation of the young people of the church in their work. The Omaha district Epworth League is very fortunate that Rev. Pfoutz has been selected as their dean this year as he brings to the position all of the qualifications that are needed in a leader of force and ability.

This position was formerly held by Rev. Arthur Atack of the Hanscome Park church of Omaha, and one of the leaders in the clergy of that city, who was called to a charge in the east and on his departure the sentiment for securing Rev. Pfoutz was very strong among both the church leaders and laymen and especially those who were familiar with the great work that the genial Plattsmouth pastor has carried on with the young people's societies of the church.

Rev. Pfoutz was reluctant at first on accepting the change that will be added to his church work here but was prevailed upon to accept the position and will be in readiness to assume the work of the deanship of the July meeting of the institute.

Those who are familiar with the work of Rev. Pfoutz among the Epworth League membership are delighted to learn that he is to accept the position and his services it is certain will add greatly to the interest of the forthcoming institute.

Baseball Spirit Comes with the Early Springtime

Large Number of the Players Out Yesterday for the First Try-out of the Season.

From Monday's Daily—

While the major and minor league baseball teams have been thawing out and getting the batting eye trained and the old soup bones limbered up down in the southland, the players and fans in this section have been hugging the stove up until yesterday when the first signs of the forthcoming baseball season were given.

The first spring practice of the season was tried on the local diamond and while it was largely in the experimental stage, the number that showed up for practice was unusually large and the greatest interest taken by the players as well as the group of fans in attendance was very pleasing.

The players will be given a most thorough working out under the eye of Manager Brantner and who will in the next few weeks decide definitely on the players that will start out the season for the Plattsmouth team.

The sentiment for entering a Cass-Sargy county league is quite strong and if the balance of three teams from Cass county can be secured it will make a strong organization and show the fans some real fast ball. The players will probably be limited to the residents of the two counties and give a chance for the players in the various communities to show their stuff. Louisville, which was figured as one of the towns in the league is reported here as not planning a team this season, but the players there being engaged with other nearby towns, but whether this was final or not has not been learned. In the event that Louisville did not have a team it would be necessary to try and secure another team in this section to replace it in a league lineup.

CELEBRATES 82ND BIRTHDAY

From Monday's Daily—

Yesterday was the eighty-second birthday anniversary of August Bach, Sr., one of the pioneer merchants of this city and the occasion was very pleasantly observed at the family home in the south part of the city with a gathering of the relatives to spend the day with the genial guest of honor and his estimable wife. The members of the family enjoyed one of the delightful dinners that brought together representatives of several branches of the family and proved a real treat. The birthday cake and the general settings of the party was very much enjoyed by the jolly party until a late hour. There were present to enjoy the occasion Mrs. P. A. Welch and son, Edward Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson and daughters, Miss Catherine Weber of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bach and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bach, Sr.
