

Death Comes Suddenly to J. McHugh Today

Prominent Resident of Western Cass County Town Dies at His Home This Morning.

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning shortly after 8 o'clock Jerry E. McHugh, well known resident of Murdock passed away very suddenly at his place of business at Murdock, the death coming without warning and as the result is a very great shock to the members of the bereaved family and the entire community in which Mr. McHugh has for so many years been a resident.
Mr. McHugh had been apparently in the very best of health when he had arisen this morning and had gone to the store of the Murdock Mercantile Co., of which he was the manager. The deceased was always of an active and lively disposition and his good spirits gave little indication of any serious organic weakness such as caused his death.

Mr. McHugh had just stepped out of the store for a few moments and as he stood on the sidewalk near the store he suddenly sank to the walk, apparently in a dying condition. Parties who were nearby at the time hurried Mr. McHugh into the store and called medical assistance but life was gone within a few seconds of the stroke of illness.

The death came as a very severe blow to the members of the family and as the sorrowing friends bore the news to the stricken wife and children it was most trying on the family and the old time friends.

The deceased has made his home in Murdock for a great many years and is survived by his wife and three small children as well as several brothers and sisters, the brothers are Eddie McHugh, Falls City, Maurice McHugh, Kansas City, Mrs. Thomas Walling, Omaha and Miss Mary McHugh of Omaha. He was also a cousin of Robert and Thomas Walling of this city.

On the receipt of the news of the death, Robert and Thomas Walling motored to Murdock to join the members of the bereaved family and do what might be possible to lighten their grief and sorrow.

BARN MYSTERIOUSLY BURNS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last Sunday morning early, the alarm was given that the barn on the property which formerly belonged to Peter Opp, but which is now owned by Nicholas Opp, east of Nehawka, was beginning and that it was about consumed and the fire was eating its way into a crib of corn near by. Those there securing scoops went after the crib and shoveling the burning corn into one pile and the corn not burning into another, thus separated the mass and saved what was not already ignited. The corn belonged to Roy Chrisweiser of Union who was notified by telephone and arrived as soon as possible. The corn carried no insurance, and the loss was a total one to him, on the corn which was destroyed, and the loss falls heavily on him. The origin of the fire is a mystery but it is surmised that some one went to the place to secure some corn and probably dropped a match or some one was sleeping in the barn, and was smoking and thus set the fire. There was about 300 bushels of corn destroyed. The barn was an old one.

Death of Mrs. Stephen Cecil at St. Paul

Lady Who Spent Large Part of Lifetime Here Called to Last Reward Yesterday Afternoon.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Emily Cecil, who has for the past two years been making her home at St. Paul, Nebraska, with her son, Hugh Cecil and family, was called to her last reward after an illness of some duration.

The deceased lady has been in failing health for some time and despite all that loving care could do for her the sickness grew more severe until death came to her relief.

Emily Creamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Creamer was born August 16, 1858, at Lexington, Illinois, and at a very tender age was brought to Nebraska by her parents, settling near Cullom, where they engaged in farming for a number of years. It was in Plattsmouth that Miss Creamer was married to Stephen Cecil, they spending many happy years here until September, 1913 when the husband and father was called to his last reward.

There were three children born to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil of who two with the father have passed to the great beyond. There remains of the family circle but the one son, Hugh. Mrs. Cecil is survived by one brother, Charles Creamer of Omaha and two sisters, Mrs. Ossac Cecil of this city and Mrs. Rose Kenaston of Springfield, Nebraska.
The body of Mrs. Cecil will be brought to the old home here for interment, the services being held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cecil and the interment will be in the family lot at Oak Hill cemetery.

EVANGELISTIC PARTY HERE

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Rev. and Mrs. Walter R. Robb of this city had the pleasure of a visit from Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Jope of Des Moines, Iowa, and Rev. J. W. Coons, evangelist of that city. The evangelistic team are holding a series of meetings at the Christian church at Malvern, Iowa, and they were accompanied here by Rev. J. W. Clark of that city, who enjoyed the visit here with the Robb family very much as he is an old friend of many years standing of the parents of Rev. Robb.
