The trial which was had for the second time on last Saturday was settled by denying the plaintiff her prayer and hanging the coats on the defendant, which with attorney fees made the amount much in excess of the sum in controversy.

In the jury trial which was held in Alvo last week, the jury was selected with a view to not allowing them to become deadlocked on a verdict as there were only three called, they being L. D. Mullen, Sam Ford and James H. Foreman, all excellent men of good judgment.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Banning entertained at their home in Alvo on last Sunday Miss Alice Cress, who is a student at the state university, and who is a friend of the Bannings, they having known her as an excellent young lady at Stewart, where they were formerly in the lumber business.

A. E. Stromer and Art Dinges were having some time about the getting of the supper on last Wednesday night, while their wives were away, each being willing for the other to do the cooking and leave the dishes for the other to wash, and you all know who had to do the dishes the next day.

Billie Warner believes in being ready and having things in shape, and so was testing out his engine to be sure it will not require any work when the time comes for threshing to begin. Billie is a worker and has the right idea about getting things in shape for doing the best of work before the rush season begins.

J. W. Banning and wife were visiting in Union, where they were guests of relatives and were attending the Memorial services which were held there. They were desirous of attending the services at the Wyoming church, but found that the services were all to be held at Union, where a union service had been planned.

Wm. Coatsman, Sr., of Weeping Water, was in Alvo last week and arranged for the placing of a foundation at the place just south of Alvo for the erection of a new crib for corn, as the cribbage room on the place has been rather limited in the past and he thinks just as well build a good crib as a poor one, and he is having a fine storage place for the corn erected.

Bornemeier and the children.

Much Corn Moving

There were many shelling and delivering corn to the elevators in Alvo during the past week and the flow continues very liberal. In fact the elevator men and especially Simon Rehmeier, are being worked pretty hard in looking after the receiving and shipping out of the grain. During the past week Simon has received and shipped corn from the following persons: Carl Lewis, Frank M. Daugherty, A. V. Mockenhaupt, Chris Neben, Wm. J. Althouse, W. E. Fairfield and many others, and the stream still keeps coming.

Gave Excellent Moving Picture

At the Methodist church basement on last Sunday evening was given a moving picture entitled "The Stream of Life," which was seen by a large house, the capacity of the room being taxed to its greatest space. The picture was a veritable picture of life with its pleasant stretches of water, its turbulent places, its floods, its whirlpools and its sand beaches with the pleasant lands along the side and finally emptying into that blissful sea of peace and contentment at the end, just at sundown.

VISITS SCOUT CAMP

From Saturday's Daily—
Miss Marie Kaufmann, one of the members of the local high school faculty and who was formerly a resident of Cedar Creek, yesterday afternoon enjoyed a trip out to the old time home and while in that locality visited the Boy Scout camp at the edge of the town and located near the two lakes that are so popular in the summer season with the tourists.

The Scouts are having one of the times of their lives Miss Kaufmann states and have a real camp and enjoying to the limit the days spent out in the open with their exercises, hikes, fishing and bathing and other of the sports that makes the great outdoors one of the strongest appeal to the youth of the land.

While at the camp Miss Kaufmann enjoyed a dinner with the Scouts that they had prepared themselves and reports the menu of beefsteak, eggs and other substantial food as being prepared in fine shape by the boys and served in real camp style on the mess kits of the boys.

Miss Kaufmann took a number of moving pictures of the camp and the activities of the boys that will make a permanent record of the happy camp days and which Miss Kaufmann will show later as a part of the school films that she has arranged.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Fifty years ago, on May 23rd, occurred the marriage of Mary Etta Myers to John Elton Kreider at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lydia Myers, at Avon, Ill.

On Sunday last they celebrated their golden wedding, which day was also Mrs. Kreider's 72nd birthday. Five of their seven children were present to assist in the celebration, two sons, Paul of Oregon, and Alonzo of Havelock, being unable to attend.

A bountiful luncheon was served cafeteria style, the bride's cake, beautiful in gold and white, being baked by her granddaughter, Mabel Prinz.

Strewballs, being their wedding flower, there were a great many lovely bouquets.

Gathering around the piano, the children and grandchildren sang the favorite songs of the parents.

It was a happy family gathering, although the absent sons were greatly missed.

Those present were: Ernest and son, of Nebraska City; Ray and family, of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prinz and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Hoffman and family and Miss Lydia.

The many friends of the Kreider family join in wishing the old people many returns of this anniversary.—Weeping Water Republican.

LIBRARY NOTES

As the seasons change so the class of books used by the reading public changes. The books people like for summer reading seem quite different than the ones used in the fall and winter. The ever increasing number of books made necessary the purchase of a new catalog case, which has been received and installed.

Greater need is arising all the time for bookers in local work. We find it impossible to purchase all that is wanted. In one instance the librarian borrowed books on upholstery from the Omaha public library to supply a need for that work.

Two new books on electrical engineering and one medical dictionary have been supplied by the gift of the Woman's club. The medical dictionary is a book given a prominent place in many libraries and fills a long felt need here.

Countess de Aulnay's fairy tales—for the first time presented to English readers in their integrity, in this edition—is another of the new books on the shelves.

The Sesquicentennial—regarding which the Journal had an article in a recent issue telling of Sept. 1 as Nebraska day—is making much of library work and every effort is being made to show the wonderful growth and efficiency of the modern public library.

Instead of the Travel club which the younger readers found so interesting last summer, the librarian is organizing a poetry club, and all who join will find a great fascination in delights of reading poetry in a club.

Now that the school work at the library is over for this term, the librarian and the library board, have decided, the time has come to renovate and redecorate the library. It has been 10 years since the library was moved into this building—in all this time nothing of the kind has been done. For sanitary reasons as well as appearance it is necessary at this time. Bids were submitted and a contract let for the work. In order to do this it will be necessary to close the library for 30 days—starting June 7. Further notice will be given of this closing—also the plan to allow extra books to be taken out for use during this time.

BABIES JOINED TOGETHER

South Bend, Ind., May 27.—Gaining a pound in weight since their birth Saturday, Lucy and Bessie Medieh, joined together at the abdomen with their heads at either end and their backbone continuous from one to the other, seemed as healthy today as infants of their age can be. Physicians were more convinced than ever that the twins are likely to endure the horror of living, altho they will have to spend their existence lying on their natural and continuing back, or both faces downward.

Physicians explained that the spinal column of the infants had a curvature of about 30 degrees so that if they are bent upward they would face each other.

School Folks Off on Vacation for the Summer

Many Will Enjoy Visits at Home and Others Take Up Special Training During the Summer

From Saturday's Daily—
The close of school has brought with it the vacation period for the school pupils and a few of the members of the teaching force of the city schools, but the larger portion will spend their time in taking up special courses of study and preparing for the coming year's work. While a large number of the teachers have not made permanent plans, there are several who are already starting out on their summer rest period.

Leroy S. Fager, music supervisor of the schools, is now enroute with the members of the Wesleyan Glee club, and will later in the summer take a short trip to the west coast to visit with friends.

J. W. Poynter, principal of the high school, will enjoy a short travel period, but the greater part of the time will be spent in this city.

Fritz Rothert, athletic coach, and W. D. McMahan, commercial teacher, will attend the Peru summer school in working on special studies for a degree and will return in the fall for the school year here.

Miss Vyril Foster is going to her home at Milford for a few weeks and will then go to California for a short time prior to the opening of the fall term of school.

A number of the teachers are enjoying the summer at their homes in resting. Miss Delores Bosse, is at Meadow Grove; Miss Isabel Welch, Kearney; Miss Esther Dellzell, Peru; Irving Wiltse, Falls City; Miss Cordelia Fields, Nebraska City; Miss Mary Eastwood, Auburn; Miss Pearl Gullilott, Auburn; Misses Marion and Mildred Walker, Mason City; Miss Nettie Hawksworth, Burlington, Ia.; Miss Alice Waters, Lincoln, and the Misses Florence Prahm and Lucy Goll, Blue Hill, Nebraska.

B. G. Woodward, physical training teacher, will be at the summer school of the University of Wisconsin, taking special work in physical training.

Misses Marie Svoboda and Anna Rys and R. B. Felton will be at the University of Nebraska summer school to take up special work.

The other teachers of the school who reside here will enjoy a short rest from the arduous of the winter term of school and a large number of these will probably later take special summer school work at the University of Nebraska and the University of Omaha.

Edwin Wiles, who has been the secretary of the school will spend the summer in Idaho with relatives and friends.

The close of the year has also seen the departure of the out-of-town students, many of whom have been making their return on the day of their friends in Plattsmouth during the past nine months.

SUFFERS AUTO ACCIDENT

From Saturday's Daily—
Last evening a number of Plattsmouth young men were out enjoying an auto trip to Louisville and on their return one of the party, Edward Patterson was the victim of a very painful and annoying accident that will make it necessary for him getting around by the way of crutches in the next few days.

The Plattsmouth party were riding in the Ford coupe of Gerald Smith and as the car was loaded to its capacity, Edward Patterson decided to ride on the running board of the car on the return trip from Louisville and thereby hangs the story of the accident. The Plattsmouth boys were coming home and on the highway several miles west of the city Gerald noticed a car approaching from the direction of Plattsmouth and he states that he turned over to the right of the road as far as possible to pass the car as Patterson was on the left side running board.

The approaching car however came on and crowded the car of Smith, grazing the side of the fenders of the Ford and catching the foot of Edward and lacerating it.
