

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

The Greenwood elevators are sending out much corn at this time as well as are the other towns in the county, there being strings of corn-hauling teams along all roads.

Mr. P. A. Sanborn reports that the trade in machinery is very brisk just at this time and says the farmers are getting to work in the fields and are hustling after the cultivation of their corn very rapidly.

Will E. Newkirk, who has been making some extensive repairs on his home in Greenwood, is getting along nicely with the work and will soon have the building about completed. He will expect later to go to Alvo, where he has some property, to do some work on it.

Business in the grain line has been very good in the matter of the reception of cereals and shipping corn at both the elevators. At the Peters elevator, O. F. Peters and Glen were both assisting in the handling of corn, while at the Farmers elevator, Mr. A. E. Landon was assisted by his son Wayne.

John Wetherogg and the family, who have been making their home at Valparaiso for the past year, Prof. Wetherogg has been the superintendent of the public school, with the closing of the school year, returned to Greenwood, and are visiting for the present at the home of the parents of Mrs. Wetherogg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Carnes, who will visit here for the summer with his daughter, Mrs. A. R. and family.

Will Build New House

Frank Pierce, living northwest of Greenwood, is having a new house constructed on his farm. He has been living in a house which was constructed some thirty-five years ago. The house was needing quite a bit of repairing, and after having gotten at the work, he concluded that the best way out of the trouble was to build an entirely new house, which he is doing. Of course, he will use what worth while material he can save from the old house.

Death Claims

Peter Vogler, an Aged Pioneer

Resident of Cass County Since 1872. Answers Call Last Week—Was Almost 90 Years Old.

The many Louisvilles and Manley friends of Peter Vogler, of Manley, were saddened and shocked on last Friday, May 21, 1926, to learn of his death, which occurred that afternoon at his home.

Mr. Vogler had suffered for some time from the infirmities of old age, but he was remarkably alert mentally and surprised his friends by his vitality, rallying frequently from his ailments. His departure was peaceful and without suffering and he seemed to have a premonition that death was approaching. He met it calmly and with Christian courage.

Peter Vogler was born in Baden, Germany, July 22, 1842, and at the time of his death he was 83 years, 9 months and 29 days old. He was one of a family of ten children, five sons and five daughters, of whom two brothers and two sisters have passed away. There still remain three sisters and one brother in the old county and one brother, Henry Vogler, residing in Kimball, who was present at the funeral.

In infancy, Mr. Vogler received the sacrament of baptism and was ever true to his church teachings, a faithful attendant at the services and always bearing his share of the burdens in every way. He was confirmed in the year 1857.

At the age of 29 years, he emigrated to America, and went to St. Charles county, Missouri, where he began his career as a farm worker, this humble beginning leading him on to prosperity and prominence by his industry, frugality, upright character and kindness of heart, all of which qualities were well known to his many friends and for which they loved and respected him.

In the spring of 1872, he moved to Cass county, Nebraska, where he lived 53 years. On September 15, 1874, he was married to Miss Louise Maier, daughter of Henry Maier, and this union was blessed with six children, two sons and four daughters. His wife was truly a helpmate to him, sharing the joys and sorrows, making his later years comfortable and pleasant by her devotion to his needs. This married life was joyful and happy despite the trials of pioneer days through which they passed. They lived on the farm where their children grew up and eventually established homes of their own in this vicinity and it was their father's pride that his children became splendid citizens, honored and respected in the communities where they live, and their respect and devotion for their parents has always been very marked.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogler had the great satisfaction of having their entire family members of their church, which they all attend regularly. For the past fifteen years, Mr. Vogler and wife lived in Manley, retiring from active farm life to enjoy their beautiful home, surrounded with their children and with every comfort. They celebrated their golden wedding on September 15, 1824, this event being one of the important occasions of their lives and one of which their family and friends were very proud.

The children are Henry and George Vogler, Mrs. August Joachim, Mrs. Henry Hill, Jr., Mrs. Oris Schiefelert and Mrs. Arnold Schiefelert. Twenty-two grandchildren also survive. Two children died in infancy.

The funeral occurred on Monday afternoon from the Evangelical Lutheran church, the pastor, Rev. T. Hartman officiating, choosing as his text Verse 40 in the 6th chapter of John, from which he spoke words of religious consolation and comfort, paying a fine tribute to Mr. Vogler, from the standpoint of his pastor and friend. The flowers were beautiful and spoke of the love and sympathy felt for this fine Christian man, whose life work had ended at a ripe old age and who has left behind him a record of usefulness and unrighteousness that will long be remembered and cherished by his family and friends.

The pall bearers were old friends and neighbors and were Adolph Steinkamp, Herman Mann, W. H. Hill, Andrew Schmea, Theodore Harms and Andrew Schiefelert. Interment was in the cemetery at the church where sleep many of his old friends who shared with him many experiences in the past years of developing the country.

The funeral was largely attended by friends from all over this part of the county. Among those from outside points were Mr. and Mrs. Gardner and daughter-in-law, of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Joachim, of Tecumseh, Mrs. Hinz and daughter and Mrs. Egenberger, of Plattsmouth. —Louisville Courier.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

Miss Rena Christenson has been visiting at Weeping Water for the past week.

J. C. Rauth and Herman Rauth began the cultivating of their corn on last Friday and found it doing nicely.

Miss Edna Koop, sister of Mrs. R. Bergman, was visiting at the Bergman home for a number of days during the past week.

Messrs. and Mesdames A. W. Seiker and Edward Seiker and their children were visiting over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Stander.

Clyde Jenkins is still hustling with the repairs at the home of his mother in Manley and is making things look much the better for the work which he is putting on it.

County Attorney W. G. Kleck and Sheriff E. P. Stewart were in Manley last Wednesday evening, coming to see whether it would be required to hold an inquest over the body of the late Dr. H. O. Munson.

Andrew Schiefelert, candidate on the democratic ticket for nomination for county commissioner for the second district, was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth on last Wednesday afternoon.

Fred Flaishman has accepted a position in the barber shop at Murdoch and will make a good man for that place. Mr. Flaishman is an excellent barber and also one of the best of men, and will surely fit into the place where he is at present.

Glen Flaishman has been painting the new building of the Crane, Curvey & Murty Lumber company, and is making the building look fine. With the additional coats which are yet to be applied the building will present a finished appearance and be a good addition to our hustling little town.

John Stander received a very fancy suit of clothes via parcel post last week, and John with a knowing wink in his eye, said they were for a special occasion, leaving the writer to make a guess as to what the occasion might be. Of course, we opine that there will be another person there dressed pretty nifty as well.

Mrs. Claude Breckenfeldt, of Colorado, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rau for the past few days. Mrs. Breckenfeldt is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Rau. The family moved to Colorado a couple of years ago, where Mr. Breckenfeldt accepted a position with a large mining company and they like the west very well.

Miss Eleanor O'Brien, who completed her Junior year in the Plattsmouth High school last week, came to the home of her sister, Mrs. Baltz Meisinger, Friday evening and will spend the vacation period here and at the farm home of her brother and father east of town. She expects to continue her studies at Plattsmouth next year.

John Stander, who is an observing young man, concluded he would count the wagons on one mile of road, and taking the loaded wagons and the empty ones returning for more corn, he counted 64 wagons to the mile. Do you know that is a pretty good number of people in one neighborhood delivering corn, and it is not all of them at that.

Frank Ehardt, John Carper, August Stander and Phillip Fleming were shelling and delivering corn to the Manley dealers during the past few days. There is so much corn coming in just now that the elevators are nearly swamped. The condition is much the same at other points and the demand for cars has caused a shortage which is tending to hold up prompt shipment of the grain. The Kelly elevator is well filled up now, but is getting a car occasionally and is able to make room for the incoming grain.
