The new bus line which runs from Omaha to Weeping Water, was placed in service on June 1st and is making regular trips between these two towns with regularity, passing through Manley and Louisville.

A. H. Humble and wife were visiting in Kansas City, where they went last Saturday, returning on Monday, visiting with relatives while there and also decorating the grave of the mother of Mr. Humble, who passed away about a year ago.

Arnold Harms, who was suddenly taken with acute appendicitis while working at the Union Pacific headquarters in Omaha, was rushed to St. Joseph hospital where he underwent an operation for the same and is reported as getting along nicely at this time.

The Sunday school of Manley held a picnic at the Grover Lauritzen home on Wednesday of last week, at which a large number were in attendance, and a splendid time was had. The day was spent in games and music, with refreshments in the way of a picnic dinner.

Manley is ranking well with other towns in this vicinity as a shipping point, even though the month of May was during the month of May there were shipped from the elevators here 24 cars of grain, which is more than one car for each day in the month including Sundays.

Teddy Harms and family, including his daughter, Miss Alice, and Henry Peters and wife, of Talmage, were spending last Sunday and Monday (Memorial day) at Wayne, where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burne, Mrs. Burne and Harms being sisters.

Leonard Schafer, who is now employed in a garage at Lincoln, accompanied by his lady friend, were visiting last Sunday at the home of his parents, Geo. Schafer and daughter Miss Carrie, and with them drove to Weeping Water, where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pankonin, and where all attended the Memorial services which were held at Weeping Water.

John Crane, who is an enterprising lumberman and believes in giving the best possible service in his line, is making more room for his goods that he carries, with the erection of an additional wareroom on the east portion of the store and office, and which he has just completed. This will enable him to have the goods all under cover and in the very best condition for the customer who is in need of them. Gust Krecklow was assisting last week in the construction of the building.

Is a Lover of Flowers
The writer visited at the home of Teddy Harms last week and admired the many fine flowers which he has, but one, a rose bush of the American Beauty variety, was a most wonderful beauty of elegant roses. They were large mammoth ones of a deep red color and most fragrant also. Besides this excellent specimen, he has others as well as numerous other flowers and a most well kept lawn which tells of this gentleman's love for the beautiful.

Returned from Visit in East
The Rev. Father Higgins, of the St. Patrick's Catholic church of Manley, who has been in the east for some two weeks, returned home last week after having had a most excellent time while he was away.

He was at a meeting of the Alumni of the American College at Rome, Italy. He was accompanied on the trip by the Right Rev. D. J. Mahoney of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, who was a student with Father Higgins at Rome, when they were receiving instruction there some twenty or more years ago. Rev. Higgins tells that while he was at the college, Buffalo Bill of wild west and show fame, was touring Europe with his show, and that he came to the college and gave all of the students complimentary tickets for the show. The meeting this year was held at Wilmington, Delaware and was attended by over 200 priests, who had attended the American College at Rome. The next meeting will be held at Dayton, Ohio.

For Manley News
Manley people are interested in the doings of their fellow townsmen. In addition they are interested in the news of surrounding towns and particularly Cass county happenings. In both instances the Journal furnishes its readers with a service that is most desirable. The paper reaches subscribers twice weekly instead of only once and its columns are filled with the late live news of the entire county. This is a service that costs money, but our large subscription list permits giving it at a price no greater than you would pay for any weekly newspaper published in the county. $2 will provide you with all the news for an entire year. HELP PREVENT ACCIDENTS AND THEFTS

During 1925, 250,000 automobiles were stolen in 41 principal cities of the United States. But last month, Portland police recovered 104 out of 106 cars stolen there, and three others stolen during a previous month; making their record more than 100 per cent perfect.

Most cars are stolen as a result of the owner's carelessness. Most accidents are caused as the result of a driver's carelessness or inexperience. Insurance companies can pay for lost cars and broken bones, but unless the public co-operates in protecting both life and property, the insurance companies are powerless to reduce losses or insurance rates. It pays to be careful.

ISSUES BOOKLET

St. Louis, Mo., June 1, 1926.—A booklet entitled "Combination Tours for the Summer Vacation Traveler" recently has been issued by Missouri Pacific Lines. The booklet gives an interesting outline of different tours to the western states, showing a map of the route, both going and returning, with names of places of interest which the traveler will pass. It also gives the cost of each trip from the various important points. There are so many possible combinations of routings to confuse the vacation traveler, that it makes it difficult to decide "how and where to go." The booklet will solve the problem.

Mr. and Mrs. James Heaney of near Weeping Water were in the city on Saturday for a few hours' visit with friends and while here paid the Journal office a very pleasant call.

Masonic Grand Lodge to Visit City Tuesday

Members of the Grand Lodge of the A. F. & A. M. Will Motor Down to Visit Masonic Home.

From Saturday's Daily—
The grand lodge of the Masons of Nebraska will meet in Omaha starting the first of next week and will also pass this city on Tuesday afternoon, June 8th to inspect the Nebraska Masonic Home and infirmary.

The grand lodge will be opened by Grand Master John Wright of Lincoln on Monday and this will be followed by a short session Tuesday morning and the adjournment at noon for the purpose of coming to Plattsmouth.

The Omaha Masons have arranged to supply autos that will accommodate the members of the grand lodge and their ladies and these, it is planned, will leave the Masonic Temple at noon on Tuesday and come direct to Plattsmouth. The party expects to reach here at 1 o'clock or shortly thereafter and will make a thorough visit over the splendid property of the Masonic Home association and the fine $125,000 infirmary building that has been completed and occupied in the past year.

The local Masons and the Eastern Star will assist in the reception of the visitors at the Masonic Home and the ladies will serve luncheon in the course of the afternoon for the visiting members of the Masons and Star.

The grand lodge members are expected to return to Omaha in the late afternoon, leaving here at 5 o'clock and arriving in Omaha in time for the evening plan of entertainment that has been arranged for them.

Local Masons have been very much pleased over the fact that the Masonic quartet of this city has been selected to furnish the music at the opening session of the grand lodge, their participation being requested by the grand master and other of the grand officers.

Not a little interest is also attached to the coming session of the grand lodge by the fact that Edwin D. Crites, of Chadron, a son of A. W. Crites, one time resident of this city, and a nephew of Mrs. B. S. Ramsey of this city, is in line for the election to the office of grand master. Mr. Crites during his boyhood was a frequent visitor here and has many friends in the city both within and without the ranks of his fraternity.

Missouri Pacific Head Says Conditions Very Good

President Baldwin Making Plans for Expected Heavy Summer Traffic.

President L. W. Baldwin of the Missouri Pacific railroad, accompanied by a general manager and staff members, spent several hours at Omaha Friday morning as part of a tour of inspection of western and northern lines of the system, passing thru Plattsmouth early yesterday morning.

"I am delighted with conditions throughout this section of the country," said Mr. Baldwin. "It is true that rain is needed at some points, but generally speaking, prospects are splendid."

Purpose of the tour is to obtain first-hand information regarding conditions in the particular sections visited and to make plans to care for the record-breaking summer traffic which is expected, according to the officials.

"The Missouri Pacific is in a better position than ever before in the history of the company to handle the traffic offered," asserted Mr. Baldwin. Officials are arranging also on this tour for the inauguration of new passenger train service to and from the west, which is to become effective Sunday.

With President Baldwin and General Manager Cannon were W. G. Vollmer, assistant to the president; R. C. White, manager; D. O. Ouellet, superintendent transportation; W. F. Kirk, general superintendent; C. J. Brown, superintendent; G. H. Hamilton, general freight agent; W. H. Donny, assistant general passenger agent; E. F. Barnes, Jr., and E. H. McReynolds of the president's personal staff; O. A. Garber, mechanical department; L. P. Krampt, supply agent; J. M. Doolittle, tie and lumber agent; E. B. Pithon, assistant engineer; F. A. Jones, division engineer; L. H. Dilie, trainmaster; R. S. Mitchell, chief special agent; J. G. Carlisle, general freight agent; T. F. Scruby, superintendent stations and claims; J. L. Landis, superintendent fuel conservation; C. E. Larson, superintendent safety; Malory W. Donald, magazine department; G. T. Calder, master mechanic; E. R. Masters, roadmaster; Nis Nissen road foreman of engines.

U. S. CAPTAIN REPLACES PIED PIPER OF HAMLIN

Washington, June 5.—The celebrated pied piper of Hamlin has been supplanted by Capt. F. E. Koenig, U. S. N., of the chemical warfare service.

Captain Koenig from his headquarters at San Antonio, Texas, reported to the war department Friday that more than $70,000,000 in supplies at Duncannon field are now safe from rats which had been doing damage at the rate of $30,000 annually.

An allopathic dose of hydrocyanic gas, the captain explained, had wiped out the rodent population of the warehouses at the field.

Mynard Study Club Has Fine Entertainment

Large Number Present to Enjoy the Fine Program Arranged for the Event by Ladies.

From Saturday's Daily—
Last evening at the U. B. church at Mynard, the entire neighborhood was pleasantly entertained by the Goldenrod Study club.

During the early part of the evening the audience was entertained by the following program: Song, "America," by the audience. Piano duets, "Luspeil Overture," and "Dance of the Demons," by Mesdames Roy O. Cole and Elbert Wiles. The ladies of the community are giving a series of entertainments of this kind for the purpose of raising money to add to the Community Building Fund, which was started a short time ago.

SHRINERS CLOSE SESSIONS

Philadelphia, June 3.—Selection of Atlantic City, N. J., for the 1927 session of the imperial council marked the close today of the fifty-second annual session, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. The gathering will be held June 14, 15 and 16, with Crescent temple, Trenton, which has jurisdiction over the seashore resort, acting as host.

Closing of the business session, however, did not end the brilliant spectacle presented by the Shriners daily since Monday. Pageantry and parades continued thruout the day and far into the night.

The Shriners' allegorical pageant and durbar held in the stadium to-night was one of the most colorful events of the week. Composed of thirty-three floats, dozens of bands and mounted guards, the pageant started with a representation of William Penn signing the treaty with the Indians in 1682. Other floats depicted the scene of the thirteen heads of Mennonite families drawing lots for plots of ground on the present site of Philadelphia; Benjamin Franklin with his printing press; the signing of the declaration of independence and the first stage coach running between Philadelphia and New York.

When entertaining, use Dennison goods. Bates Book and Gift Shop carries the entire Dennison line and is the only place in this territory where you can buy genuine Dennison materials.

$1,000,000 FIRE IN EASTERN CITY

Lowell, Mass., June 4.—A fire was raging beyond control in the heart of the downtown business district here Thursday. Every available fireman was in service, but after a two-hour battle the flames had roared through the A. G. Pollard company's five-story department store, an a four-story building housing the Masonic temple and several business concerns, causing a loss of $1,000,000.

Three other buildings adjoining those destroyed were threatened, and fire fighters were concentrating their efforts with water curtains to prevent a general conflagration.

Half way city was in semi-darkness under a pall of smoke. At 8 o'clock it appeared that the conflagration was becoming under control, although the firemen were hampered by numerous alarms from other sections of the city, where lesser fires were started by embers carried by a stiff westerly wind.

Death of Well Known Resident of Cass County

Mrs. Katherine Anne Rich is Laid to Rest at Weeping Water—Old Resident There.

Katherine Anna (Van Gunden) Rich was born in Trenton, Henry county, Iowa, October 13, 1865, and died at the M. E. hospital in Los Angeles on Mothers day, May 9, 1926, at 11 p. m., of heart trouble with complications. She was the youngest child of a family of eleven, five still living. The log house in which she was born is still in good condition, and used as a residence. She was married to Martin W. Rich, near Trenton, January 22, 1885, and to this union were born seven children, four dying in infancy.

The living are Mrs. Sarie Ellen Raines, Wayland, Iowa; Dr. Ralph S. Rich, Dorchester, Neb.; Mrs. Lillian Mae Marshall, Riverside, Calif., and Herman J. Hough, adopted in infancy, Plattsmouth, Neb., as well as four grandchildren.

Death in the sudden and unexpected, even to the doctors in attendance, so only Lillian and her husband, Sidnew M. Marshall were able to be with her. The call was delayed and they answered at once, driving in their car sixty miles, and their quick response and presence there was a happy comfort to the dying mother, as she crossed the threshold into the border land, quietly and peacefully, full of hope and with perfect trust in God, and we hope that at the end of the "long, long trail" this good woman found her beloved ones waiting and that all her dreams have now come true.

Mrs. Rich was converted to the Mennonite religion in August, 1893, at Merrimac, near Trenton, Iowa, during the evangelistic preaching of Buelah Woodworth, who later became famous as a divine healer. She was an active, earnest Christian worker with her husband during the time he served in the ministry of the Mennonite church, and they were active organizers and builders of the church at Trenton and of one near Merrimac.

After they moved to Weeping Water and had been faithful workers in the church here since that time.

Funeral services were held in the M. E. church on Thursday, May 27, at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. C. I. Scott, presiding elder of Milford, assisted by Rev. T. D. Grover of Weeping Water. Rev. Scott was an old-time friend, preached a very touching and tender and short sermon—very appealing to the family. Burial was made in Oakwood cemetery beside the husband, who died November 8, 1917.

The pall bearers were Ed Bobbitt, Melvin Rich, Harold Rich, Richard Ronne, Leonard Reckard and Guy Dickson. The choir sang in a sweet, soothing harmony, "It is Well with My Soul," "I'm a Child of the King," "The Arms of Jesus," and "We'll Never Say Good-Bye."

Many relatives were here from West Point, Neb.; Wayland, Iowa; Rocky Ford, Colo., and a number of friends from Lincoln, Milford, Dorchester and other points in Nebraska.—Weeping Water Republican.

ENGLISH BY-ELECTION IS WON BY LABOR

London.—The first by-election after the general strikes resulted in big victory for Labor, whose candidate, J. P. Gardner, in North Hamersmith, a thickly populated area on the outskirts of London, obtained more than 26,000 over the combined figures of the Conservative and Liberal opponents, which numbers 44,000 including 15,000 women, went to the polls.

The last election was won easily by the Conservatives in a straight contest, and at the previous election Labor had a narrow majority in a three-cornered fight. In the election before that the Conservatives won when there were only three candidates. The present election, therefore, is held to indicate a definite Labor trend in the district and to show the unmistakable sympathy of the electors for the coal miners. On the other hand, it is noted with interest that some 20,000 electors did not take the trouble to go to the polls.

Midwest Leaders Plan to Kill Out the Corn Borer

Meet in Chicago to Draft Measure to Check Spread of Crop Parasite.

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—Canadian and United States officials met here today and laid plans to increase their quarantine forces and intensify control measures to check the destructive work of the European corn borer, which is headed for the heart of the corn belt. The pest, which is branded by Dean C. F. Curtiss of Iowa State college as "probably the most serious menace that has ever threatened the prosperity of American agriculture," caused an estimated total damage of more than three million dollars to the corn crop grown by the farmers in Ontario and in the northeastern part of the United States last year.

Expert entomologists at the meeting showed that the destructive pest, which has been in this country only a few years, has spread so rapidly that it now covers 15 thousand square miles in Canada and 30 thousand square miles on this side of the dominion line, coming within 25 miles of Indiana last year.

A resolution, introduced by Dean Curtiss, chairman of the national corn borer committee, was adopted, urging that further steps be taken to "counteract the ravages of this pest, and to that end all federal and state appropriations that can be advantageously used to carry on the work should be promptly provided."

Plans are being made to increase the quarantine forces that are to be placed again this season on the border of the infested area which extends through northern Ohio and eastern Michigan. Groups of entomologists will be stationed on all principal highways leading out of the infested territory and all vehicles will be stopped and searched for ears of corn that may be carrying the European corn borer.

Men and money will be sent from Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, Nebraska, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, so far as possible, the advance of the corn borer and to prevent it from coming into the center of the corn belt states. All of these states were represented at the conference.

WOAW ANNOUNCES PLAN
"Programs from WOAW studio after July 1, will feature out-of-town artists and non-union orchestras," said Lester Palmer, program director, commenting on the action taken Tuesday by the Omaha Musicians' association demanding pay for union orchestras which broadcast after that date.

Mr. Palmer, who said that WOAW has made no definite plans to pay performers, explained that union orchestras broadcasting after July 1 will do so by remote control.

"We have been holding off many out-of-town musicians to allow local talent to perform," he said. "As to the future, it will have to take care of itself. When the matter was up before, a number of orchestra men told me they were glad to play for their own publicity and opposed the plan of paying for studio appearances."

RETURN HOME TODAY
From Saturday's Daily—
Mrs. Elmer Webb and children are returning home today from Omaha, where they have been during the past three weeks, while Mrs. Webb was undergoing a severe surgical operation from which she is recovering nicely. They will accompany the L. R. Feller family down from the metropolis, and the Feller family will visit over Sunday at the Webb home.
