Eight Injured by a Tornado in Wyoming

Small Twister Strikes Ranch With Damaging Results—Rain and Hail in North Platte Valley

Scottsbluff, Neb., June 15.—A small tornado on the Al Spencer ranch, two miles southwest of Torrington, Wyo., late today, is reported to have wrecked practically every building on the place. Eight persons, some of whom were Mexican beet laborers, were injured, but none killed. The tornado barely missed the construction site of the new Holly Sugar corporation's factory there, reports from the storm district said.

Heavy rains accompanied by hail, swept thru the North Platte valley from Lingle, Wyo., to near Bayard. A section of the Burlington railroad tracks was reported to have been washed out.

Hail stones which were from five to six inches in circumference, damaged beet, corn and other crops and in some instances the crop may have to be reseeded, the reports said. Wind-blown homes here and all the glass in a local greenhouse was broken by the hail.

Approximately two inches of rain fell today and it has been raining intermittently in this vicinity for the last five days.

Burlington weather reports early Wednesday morning indicated that the North Platte valley was apparently the only storm center in the state. A heavy rain, estimated to be about two inches, fell in the territory between Crawford and Antioch, a distance of about fifty miles, and reports of the storm down the North Platte valley were not obtainable.

HOLD PLEASANT MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily—Last evening the Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school, enjoyed a very delightful time at the home of Mrs. W. F. Huneke on North 7th street and which was very largely attended by the members of the class and friends. Mrs. Huneke was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. C. Schaus.

The meeting was a combined social and business session and the members of the class had a great deal of interest to occupy their time in the hours that they were in session. Among the matters of business was the election of Mrs. E. G. Shallenberger as the delegate to the national convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, in place of Mrs. A. F. Moore, who was unable to attend the meeting.

The ladies also made plans for placing a float in the parade on July 5th that would be a worthy representation of the class in the community demonstration. After the business of the session the ladies enjoyed the remainder of the evening in a social way and in a guessing contest. Mrs. W. R. Holmes was the winner and C. C. Wescott, teacher of the class received the consolation prize.

At a suitable hour light refreshments were served that added to the pleasure and enjoyment of all of the members of the party.

DEMOLAY STATE MEETING

From Monday's Daily—The DeMolay state convention which has just closed at Norfolk has proven one of the most interesting that the order has held in the state and with a very pleasing attendance at the meeting from all sections of the state.

The Cass chapter of this city was represented by Carl Keil, master counsellor and Carl B. Graves, scribe, and who report the state meeting as being one of the greatest pleasure and interest. On Friday evening the boys were entertained by the Norfolk people with a barbecue and the final ceremonies of the state meeting was the banquet and dance that were staged Saturday night.

The local members are well pleased to learn that the next state meeting will be held at Nebraska City in 1927 and when Otis chapter of that city will be the hosts of the convention visitors. In the contest for the convention Broken Bow and Nebraska City were the principal contenders for the honors but the larger eastern chapters largely supported the claim of the Otis county city.

The following state officers were named:

George Fitzsimmons of Lincoln was unanimously elected State Master Counsellor, succeeding C. Russell Mattson, of Omaha, Hollis Kelper of Sidney was chosen Senior Counsellor; Clifford Lester, Alliance, Junior Counsellor; Harold Allen, Nebraska City, Scribe and Treasurer.

PLAY AT SPRINGFIELD SUNDAY

From Wednesday's Daily—The local baseball team will be on the road the coming Sunday as they have a game scheduled at Springfield, their first appearance there this season and with the showing that the Springfielders made here against the locals the game will be one of the greatest interest and hotly contested.

Two games so far this season have been spoiled by the rain and which will be played off later by Plattsmouth, one with Bellevue and one with Gilmore. The game with Bellevue will be played here on the afternoon of July 5th and will be an added feature of the celebration, being a league game the usual admission price will be charged for this feature. The game that is due between Plattsmouth and Gilmore will probably be played on at the first appearance of that team in this city on July 18th.

GLENDALE WOMAN'S CLUB

From Tuesday's Daily—The members of the Glendale Woman's club were most delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Hennings and which was quite largely attended by the ladies, there being some fifteen present at the home to enjoy the lectures of the afternoon. A demonstration was given of the practical work of cooking by a waterless method and which was watched with interest by all of the members of the party. At the conclusion of the demonstration the ladies were served with potatoes, carrots, meats and apple sauce that had been prepared by the waterless method. The event was one that all will long pleasantly remember.

SARPY-CASS LEAGUE

But one game played in the Sarpy-Cass League Sunday, June 13. Bellevue played at Papillion 1-1, nine innings. By that time three of Bellevue's first string players had gone to Omaha, but the Indians stepped over to Papio and showed some real class.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Club Week

All of the delegates from this county who attended Club week, report a splendid time. The following song was written by Clarence Norris, of Weeping Water, and sung by the bunch at the Commercial club banquet, to the tune of "Show Me the Way to Go Home."

Show us the way to go to Lincoln; We're keen to attend Club Week.

We've had a little training for a year or two; And we want lots more, you bet!

Show us the way to raise livestock; Better pigs, and calves, and chickens—

While the girls learn sewing, and canning and cooking, And we'll all be happy as the Dickens.

Mothers' Vacation Camp

Mrs. Adolph Ross and Mrs. William August, of Nehawka, will attend Mothers' Vacation Camp at Tecumseh, beginning June 15th.

Baby Beef Club

Visited all of the baby beefs of the Eagle Baby Beef club and found them in very good condition. Most of them can be kept on full feed until state fair time. Our baby beefs at the state fair should be better than they were last year.

Crops and Soils Field Day

As many as possible should attend this Field Day at the College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Neb., June 25th. The following subjects will be taken up and discussed: Alfalfa, Sweet Clover, Weeds, Soil Moisture, Wheat, and Chinch Bugs. Call at the Farm Bureau office for programs.

Late Chicks Unprofitable

Chicks hatched from eggs set later than the latter part of May very seldom pay. Too often the late chicks must run with the larger ones and are trampled over and half starved. The pullets from June hatched chicks are not well matured by fall; they are the weaker ones among the flock that is put into the winter house, the first to take disease, and a real menace to the entire flock. They will lay very few eggs until the following spring.

Any chicks hatched after the first of June should have a separate yard in which to run, and that yard should be one in which chicks have not been before. Clean ground and clean water and feed will keep the late chicks healthy and make them grow as rapidly as possible.

RAINFALL QUITE GENERAL

From Monday's Daily—The rain that fell for the greater part of Sunday morning was general over the entire state of Nebraska, reports state and was of untold value to crops of all kind as the rain was gentle and soaked into the ground, that has been quite badly in need of moisture for several weeks, although in this immediate locality the rain of last week proved very beneficial, although it was not nearly as general as that of yesterday. Here the rainfall registered one and 5-100's of an inch and was a real life savor to crops as well as a welcome relief to the suffering residents who had felt intensely the heat of Friday and Saturday, the hottest days of the year so far.

Father's Day!

Sunday, June 20th

WHO is it wears the darned up socks, And smokes Cheroots to save his socks? Who wears his pants out in the seat And deprives himself, so his kids may eat?

It's Father.

Who wears his old last year's straw hat So his boys may join a high toned frat? Who eats cold hash without a fuss So daughter may drive a brand new bus?

It's Father.

Why buys the gas but seldom goes, While mother attends the picture shows? Who pays for sonny's big-leg pants While sister throws a party dance?

That's Father.

Who buys the things for you to eat, And wears big curls upon his feet, And pays for water, gas and light— And lies awake most all the night?

That's Father, too

Some time you'll have no father there To snugly park in the easy chair! You'll be the dad to receive the knocks— Step lightly son, with what you've got.

For Father.

Next Sunday wear a flower of red, (A white one if the dear soul's dead) And reverently bow your head, In thanks for such A Father.

About the best little remembrance we know of is the best tie you can buy him — We have them.

This is it!
