Very Quiet Home Wedding Last Night

Miss Alice Pollock Becomes the Bride of Mr. Virgil Perry at Home of Bride's Parents.

From Friday's Daily—
Last evening a very simple and impressive wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pollock when their youngest daughter, Miss Alice, was united in the bonds of wedlock to Mr. Virgil Perry, one of the well known young men of the community.

Owing to the recent bereavement in the family of the groom and the illness of Mr. Perry, the wedding was very quiet, only the very immediate relatives of the young people attending the ceremony.

The home was simply arranged with the early fall garden flowers that gave a very pretty touch to the scene of the consummation of the life's happiness of the two estimable young people.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the Mendelssohn wedding march was sounded by Mrs. R. F. Patterson, aunt of the bride and to which the bridal party entered the parlors of the home for the ceremony that was to make their lives as one.

The golden ring, the pledge of love, was borne on a white satin pillow by Carter Minor, nephew of the bride, who was very attractive in the role of ring bearer.

The bride was very charming in a gown of shimmering white satin, an overdress of lace compelling the gown. The flowing bridal veil was held in place by a headress of pearls. Miss Pollock carried a bridal bouquet of the Bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The marriage lines were read by the Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of which the two young people are lifelong members.

The attendants at the wedding were Miss Helen Perry, sister of the groom as maid of honor, she being becomingly gowned in pink satin and carrying a bouquet of the pink roses, and Edward Patterson, cousin of the bride as the best man.

Following the wedding refreshments were served to the members of the bridal party.

The only out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt of Lincoln, the latter a former schoolmate of the bride.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Perry are among the most popular of the young people of the city, having grown to manhood and womanhood in this community where their friends are limited only by their acquaintances. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pollock and is a graduate of the Plattsmouth high school as well as Rockford college at Rockford, Illinois, and was also a student at Simmons college at Boston. A lady of the greatest charm of personality she has a very large circle of friends in the community where she has made her home.

The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. Addie Perry and is one of the industrious and successful young men of this community, having been associated with his father, the late Glenn Perry, in the conduct of the farm south of this city and at which he has been very successful. He, like the bride, has received his education in the Plattsmouth schools and is a young man of whom the community can be proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry expect to make their home in the future at the Perry farm near this city.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

From Thursday's Daily—
Miss Kathleen Troop was hostess yesterday afternoon to a number of friends at a 2:30 bridge party that was one of the most enjoyable of the summer season and attended by some twenty-four friends of the young hostess.

The event was held at the beautiful country home of the Troop family south of Plattsmouth and which was most charmingly arranged for the occasion. The home was decorated with the decorations of the color scheme of lavender and white, the beautiful early fall flowers furnishing one of the notes of the decorative scheme while the color note was carried out in the dainty and delicious refreshments that formed a part of the afternoon of rare pleasure.

In the playing Miss Vera Becker was awarded the first prize while the second prize was awarded to Miss Catherine Schneider for her skill at the fascinating game.

The members of the jolly party made the journey to the Troop home in autos and the lovely country home was an ideal spot for the enjoyment of the heat of the afternoon and which all of the members of the party enjoyed to the utmost.

A few of the Cass county maps showing every man's farm are left. You can get one at the Journal office for 50c. Hurry, before they're gone.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

From Thursday's Daily—
Miss Teresa Hemple, Plattsmouth school teacher, who has been for three weeks at the St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha recovering from the effects of the injuries that she received in the small wreck at the Burlington station in Omaha, returned home this morning.

The patient is compelled to get around with the aid of a cane and her condition while much better than it has been is still far from satisfactory.

Chicken Thieves Seem to be Getting Very Active Here

Residents of City Complain of Several Attempted Raids on Their Feathered Flocks.

From Thursday's Daily—
The residents of the south part of the city are complaining that in the recent weeks there have been attempted raids by chicken thieves on the flocks of the feathered residents of that part of the city and which have been repelled by the effective use of a shotgun in the hands of the irate householders.

Just because Plattsmouth is the best chicken market in eastern Nebraska is no reason the residents here feel for attempting to secure the fowls in the dead of the night by raiding parties and the persons who have been carrying on this visitation of the hen roosts had in the future better take out large amounts of life and accident insurance as the householders are going to register a per cent hit some of these evenings and the raiders will be filled with large amounts of buck shot.

A few nights ago one of the residents in the south part of the city was aroused by the noise among his chickens and arising hastily he started for the vicinity of the chicken house, armed with his trusty shot gun, and his appearance evidently startled the robbers of the hen roosts, as several figures were seen making a get away and bang, the gun was discharged, scattering shot over a large area, but apparently none of the chicken fanciers were wounded, as there was no trace of blood seen in the vicinity of where the robbers disappeared.

There have been several incidents reported of chicken roosts being visited by the robbers and the residents of the city are getting prepared to defend their flocks by force if necessary.

RECEPTION AT ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

From Thursday's Daily—
The local court of the Catholic Daughters of America have had the building occupied by the St. John's school re-decorated and arranged for the fall term of school while the school was closed for the summer vacation and the result is that the teachers and the pupils will have very attractive and pleasing surroundings for their school work in the coming months. The C. D. of A. have had the building wired and arranged for the comfort and convenience of the school people.

Last evening the C. D. of A. ladies who have had the deepest interest in the educational work of the parish, entertained at the school building in honor of the members of the teaching force of the school, the occasion being reception that the ladies arranged for the teachers. LARGE INHERITANCE TAX

Cass county will receive from the estate of the late Philip M. Trapp, deceased, one of the largest inheritance taxes that has ever been recorded in the office of the county judge. The amount of tax that the estate must pay over to the county as the result of the checking up of the appraiser, J. A. Capwell, is the sum of $2,183.60.

The deceased, Philip M. Trapp, a resident of Elmwood, Nebraska, died on March 21, 1926, and left an estate valued at $38,467.90, the estate being willed to parties who had no exemption and the larger part of the estate was willed by the deceased to York college at York, Nebraska, which institution also has no exemption from the claims of the county for taxes under the inheritance tax law.

The amount of the inheritance tax will go into the road fund of the county and add a very neat sum to the upkeep of the roads.

Had Real Visit to Old World on Kiwanis Outing

Mrs. Lillian Freeman and Miss Minnie Guthmann of this City in the Party.

From Friday's Daily—
The excursion of some 600 persons to Europe under the auspices of the Kiwanis club of Shenandoah, Iowa, was one of the big travel events of the year and in which Mrs. Lillian Freeman and Miss Minnie Guthmann of this city and Mrs. H. A. Guthmann of Murdock were among the fortunate members of the party.

The trio of ladies on reaching England after a very pleasant voyage decided that they would have more time by making their tour alone and avoiding the congestion that large parties sometimes find in the places of interest, proceeded to tour England, Belgium and Ireland alone and with the result that they had a wonderful opportunity of seeing the many places of beauty and historical interest. In London there was a world of attractions to hold their attention, including Westminster abbey, the houses of parliament as well as the St. Paul's cathedral as well as side trips to Hampton Court, Windsor castle and the historic points in the immediate vicinity of the great English capital city.

In London the ladies visited one of the most interesting spots in the Tower of London which has played a great striking part in the history of England.

The ladies found time to visit rural England which is in the summer season one of the most beautiful spots where the weather is most ideal, the thatched roofed cottages, the quaint village all making a real picture to delight an artist. On the tour of the provinces they visited at Oxford and viewed the great educational center of the British empire.

The ladies also took a trip over the English channel from Dover to Ostend, one of the attractive Belgian seaside resorts and also made side trips to Brussels, the capital city where there are many large lace manufacturing and industries to hold the attention of the visitors. Bruges with its old world atmosphere, the quaint costumes of the people and points of interest all took some time of the tourists. While in Belgium the party visited the battlefields and gained a new conception of what the war really was and the terrible condition that it imposed on all of the warring nations.

The party did not visit France as it required some little trouble in getting admission to that country and also because of the anti-American and English sentiment that prevailed in that country and which made touring more or less of a danger. In fact they found there was a very strong anti-foreign feeling in France and also the neighboring countries were not approving of the French attitude.

The local ladies enjoyed a very pleasant stay in Ireland that included a trip through the celebrated lake country of Killarney to the heather covered mountains and a large number of the chief cities including Cork, Dublin and Belfast and it was from Belfast that the party boarded the ship for home. The voyage over to the United States was quite rough and kept a large number confined to their cabins on account of the rough passage but either passage was fine compared with that of the canal trip.

AUTOS GET SMASHED UP

From Friday's Daily—
Last evening about 5:30 an auto smashup occurred at the intersection of Webster boulevard and Elm street and which while it did a great deal of damage to the cars fortunately did not result in the serious injury of the occupants. The car of the small delivery truck.

A young man named Morse was driving the delivery truck and was going west on Elm street when a Buick car containing Mrs. T. L. Jackson and her family of small children, of Ruthven, Iowa, came south on Webster boulevard and both cars met at the intersection. The car and the truck struck sideways and the force of the impact completely turned the large touring car around and the delivery truck was shattered by the force of the collision. A young boy who was riding with the driver of the truck was thrown some distance in the air in the wreck and alighted on the paving, knocking him unconscious for a few moments but he was able to be up and around in a few moments with a very large bump on the head as the chief marks of the experience. The driver of the truck and Mrs. Jackson and her small children all escaped with a very severe shaking up. The car was badly wrecked and the engine of the car almost a total wreck.

RAINS VEERY EASILY

From Thursday's Daily—
The last few days have proven beyond a doubt that the drought that was threatening this part of the west has been most effectively broken and the rainfall has been pronounced for the past several days. Last evening the city was threatened with a very heavy storm for several hours and while the other towns in the radius of twenty miles had very violent storms this city escaped with just a mild rain. The rain lasted practically all night and showed 1.97 inches of rainfall at the government station at the Burlington depot this morning. The rain brought small sized floods in Omaha and Council Bluffs and in this respect Plattsmouth was most fortunate.

While at Wheeling in charge of the church there Rev. THE GOOD SAMARITAN

From Thursday's Daily—
The Burlington railroad was today acting the part of the big brother of the good roads movement in the case of the very bad place on the highway north of the city where the work speedily the highway has been held up by litigation.

The road has given the road engineer a great deal of trouble and he has been taking what steps could be carried out to make the road passible for travel and in the face of the heavy rain of last night more work was required.

Mr. E. Douglass, the local engineer, secured the local council a carload of cinders which will be taken to the scene of action on the Platte bottom road and placed there to try and restore the road to a safe condition for travel.

The railroad showed the right spirit in trying to help out the road work by making the highway passible so the busses and trucks could get through.

Robb, a former minister of the First Christian church, of Plattsmouth, read the service, using the ring ceremony. The wedding of the popular young people was witnessed only by a small party of relatives. After the ceremony a luncheon of dainty viands was served to those present.

For her wedding the bride was very becomingly gowned in gold crepe roman with matching footwear. Her sister and attendant, Miss Gretta Hackenberg, wore a frock of tan satin crepe with footwear that matched in color.

The groom wore the conventional blue as did his attendant, Mr. Russell Hackenberg, a brother of the bride.

Hackenberg, of 1013 West Granite street, this city. She has grown to womanhood in this community and those who know her best admire her most. She was educated in Plattsmouth schools, being a member of the graduating class of 1914 of Plattsmouth High. After her graduation she taught school in the public schools of Coleridge and McLean, two towns of the northern part of the state. She also taught year in Cass county, near Murore.

The groom grew to manhood in the vicinity of Waterloo, Nebraska, and is a son of Mrs. Eliza E. Niel, for a time a resident of Plattsmouth, but now of Valley, Nebraska. In the year 1915, as an employee of the C. B. & Q. shops, Mr. Niel made his advent in Plattsmouth. After serving there for some time, he transferred his services to the post office here, where for a number of years he has been a valued member of the clerical force. For his staunch, clean manhood, he is respected by all. His many friends here and elsewhere will wish for him and his bride the best of life's blessings.

The bridal couple left by automobile soon after the ceremony for Lincoln, and will motor from there to various points in Colorado for a honeymoon trip of a couple of weeks. Work to Clear Sewer of Stump

Finally Succeed in Dislodging It at Almost Midnight and Just Before the Heaviest Rain

From Friday's Daily—
Last night Mayor C. A. Johnson, Street Commissioner Elliott, members of the fire department and Ray Maken worked hard for a period of several hours to secure the removal of a large stump that had lodged in the sewer on Washington avenue near the mouth on 10th street. The stump had washed into the creek that leads to the sewer from some point west and in the very heavy rain shortly after 6 o'clock the stump was swept down to the sewer and lodged there. The services of a truck of the Maken company was secured which with the personal work of the men was finally able to dislodge the stump and get it out of the mouth of the sewer. The stump had become very firmly lodged by the force of the water and it was not until near midnight when it was finally taken out.

A few moments after the stump was out the heaviest rain of the night came on and had the stump remained in the sewer a bad overflow would have occurred, but as it was the sewer was able to carry the water nicely and save a great deal of worry if not damage.

The Sixth street box sewers were working in great shape last night and carried all the surface water that came down the thoroughfare in fine shape, the removal of the iron bars that formerly were placed in the sewer inlets, tending to allow a free flow of the water and not clogging up the inlets as was generally the case while the rods were allowed to remain in the inlets. Their being placed some distance back in the sewer inlet allowed debris and rubbish to close up the sewer and very little water made its way through them into the sewer proper, but since the rods have been taken out the water has a clear sweep to the sewer.

Wm. T. Richardson, Jr., Dies at Davenport, Ia.

After Severe Illness Well Known Former Resident Here Is Called to Last Reward.

From Saturday's Daily—
Last evening at 5:30 a message was received here from Davenport, Iowa, announcing the death at the hospital in that city of William T. Richardson, Jr., well known and highly esteemed young man who has made his home in this community practically all of his life and to his many warm friends the news of his passing came as a very severe blow altho it had realized several days ago that the end was not far away, all efforts of medical skill and loving care failing to call back the ebbing life of the splendid young man who had been stricken in the commencing of the full flush of manhood.

The first intimation of the failing health of Mr. Richardson was but a few brief months ago and at that time was not considered of a serious nature and he continued his usual activities until a few weeks ago when his condition was such as to make it necessary for him to take an enforced rest but even then the full seriousness of his condition was not appreciated until his failure to regain his strength led to the call of the specialists who have since been looking after his case. Poisoning of the lining of the heart was given as the cause of his death and in the last three weeks he has been growing a great deal worse from day to day. To aid him specialists were called from Chicago to try and clear the malady from the locality of the heart but without avail.

William Richardson was born here in Cass county where his family have long made their home and he was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Richardson of Mynard. He was at the time of his death twenty-nine years of age. His boyhood was spent in this community and it was in the public schools of Plattsmouth that he received his education and was graduated from the high school here with honors.

Mr. Richardson was married in this city to Miss Helen Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Livingston, and later after marriage the family have resided at Omaha, Kansas City and other points as Mr. Richardson was interested in the Saunders Drive-It-Yourself company and was their representative at Davenport at the time of his death.

There remains to survive his death the young wife and three little children, Eugene, Jimmie and Mary Marjorie. There are also surviving the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Richardson of Mynard, three sisters, Mrs. Cameron Cathey, Mrs. L. G. Todd of Waterloo, Iowa, and Mrs. Warwick Saunders, of Kansas City, Missouri.

The body of Mr. Richardson will be brought back to the old home here and where the funeral services will be held, the announcement being made later on receipt of word from the wife and the members of the family at Davenport.
