With Us Another Year

Rev. R. H. Chenoweth, pastor of the Alvo Methodist church, who has done such excellent work for the church and town during the past year, is to be with us for another year, according to advice from the Methodist conference held at Hastings last week. Mr. Chenoweth is a very able man in the pulpit and is experienced in other lines of church endeavor, as well as one of the best of citizens and a real booster for the town and vicinity in which he is assigned to labor.

Much different from most men of the cloth, he is willing to work with his hands as well as his brains, and he does not hesitate to do for a brother what he would enjoy having some one do for him under the same circumstances. The church and village of Alvo are both well pleased to have this earnest worker returned to them for another year, together with his estimable family. And if we mistake not, further manifestations of good will come from his ministry to the people of this community.

Hold Picnic Reception

Scholars Attend the Fair

The Alvo schools which were to have had Wednesday as their day at the Cass county fair at Weeping Water, deferred their visit until the following day on account of the rain Wednesday, but on Thursday they were there in full force, the school having been dismissed for the purpose.

Tunney Very Generous to His Defeated foe

Conqueror Says Conquered Is a Sportsman and Clean Fighter, and Still Retains Hitting Power.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—Tribute to the sportsmanship and prowess of Jack Dempsey was the first thought of his conqueror, Gene Tunney, the new heavyweight champion.

"Dempsey is a sportsman and a clean fighter all the way," Tunney said. "He fought me fairly through out. There was no suspicion of a foul blow and don't let anyone tell you that he can't hit. His blows were terrific. I was not hurt because I was in perfect condition. I am sure that I hurt him."

"I have realized my life's ambition, and as the champion I will carry myself in a manner gratifying to my friends and becoming a marine and a champion."

Tunney said he wished to give credit where it was due in his development as the champion—the United States marines.

The only mark apparent on Tunney was a bruised lip, which was cut in training. He said he was fresh at the finish.

Asked if he thought he could have knocked out Dempsey, Tunney answered, "Perhaps," and then asked: "Why?"

Lou Kink, trainer of Tunney in other bouts, said that in his opinion the slippery condition of the ring in the late rounds, due to the rain, had saved the champion from a knockout.

"The ambition realized tonight," said Tunney, "dates back to the winter of 1918, when Bill McCabe of Poughkeepsie, took me to a loft in a Knight of Columbus hall in Paris and said: 'Gene, you're going to be the heavyweight champion of the world. It may be 1927 or 1928, but you'll get there, mark my words.'"

"Well, I'm there, said the new champion, "but we beat Bill's estimate by a year."

McCabe, a friend of Tunney from the boxer's youth, was timekeeper for the challenger tonight.

Tunney will remain here tomorrow and perhaps until Saturday before returning to New York, where a great reception awaits him.

UNITED STATES WILL EXCEED SURPLUS ESTIMATE

Washington, Sept. 25.—Reports to the White House indicate that the estimated surplus for the current fiscal year, set on June 30 at $185,000,000, will be exceeded, the official spokesman for President Coolidge said Friday. Just how much in excess of this figure the final surplus will be, cannot be determined, however, as much will depend upon the appropriations which the coming congress will make.

From Friday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon the formal complaint was filed in the county court by County Attorney W. G. Kieck against Josh Hammond, charging him with having stolen and conspiring to steal some seventy-four hogs of the value of $2,200 from the hog ranch near Cedar Creek, and also against Ray Denham for conspiracy in the same case.

The preliminary hearing of Hammond was fixed by agreement for next Thursday, September 30th when the prisoner will be brought in court and will plead not guilty to the charges that have been preferred against him. The bond of Mr. Hammond was not supplied until late today and he remained in the custody of Sheriff E. P. Stewart until the bond was supplied.

Mr. Denham was also placed under bond of $1,500 which was at once supplied and the young man returned to his duties at Cedar Creek to await the hearing. Mr. Denham will enter a plea of not guilty to the charge of conspiring with Hammond for the shipment of the hogs and their disposal.

The special agents in the case are investigating the case further in hopes of uncovering other cases of hogs being taken from the hog ranch and disposed of on the market.

Mrs. Rhoda Pettit Answers the Call

Death Comes to Aged Resident After Several Weeks Illness—Had Passed Three-Score-Ten.

The death of Mrs. Rhoda Jane Pettit occurred at her home in the southeast part of town last Monday night after an illness covering a period of several weeks from paralysis and from the effects of a general breaking down due to her age which was 70, her 70th birthday anniversary occurring on July 15th.

Mrs. Pettit lost her only daughter, Mrs. William McCarver, in the Louisville flood of September 28, 1923, and the shock and grief was so great to her that she never fully recovered from it. Mrs. McCarver's husband and two of her children were also lost in the flood waters at the same time, the two little girls making their home with Mrs. Pettit and this made the shock and loss much greater for her.

Mrs. Pettit's maiden name was Rhoda Jane Stevens. She was born in the state of Pennsylvania July 15, 1855. She came west with her parents in early girlhood and they located in Saunders county, but for the past 45 years, Mrs. Pettit has lived in this vicinity.

She was married to Joseph Pettit in the year 1878. At one time in early days, they farmed the Decker place west of town. Mr. Pettit died about 24 years ago. For a number of years, Mrs. Pettit's son, Frank, has lived with her and since the death of her daughter, her two little boys, Willie and Howard McCarver, who were miraculously saved in the flood, have lived with her and have received devoted care from their grandmother.

The funeral occurred on Wednesday afternoon from the M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. David Simpson, officiating. Interment was in the family lot in River View cemetery. Mrs. Pettit was the mother of five children, another daughter, Harriet dying a good many years ago in her childhood. The three children surviving are Frank, of Louisville, and Harry and Henry, in the south.

Mrs. Pettit was well liked by all who knew her. Her heart was kind and she was generous and charitable and received great comfort from her religious affections. She was a good neighbor and was very appreciative of any kindness shown to her. She was looked after during her illness by her son and by her good neighbors, who gave her every care and attention.

Her son is expecting to go to Oklahoma to take the two little grandchildren to the homes of relatives, where they will be cared for.—Louisville Courier.

POPULAR LOUISVILLE GIRL HAS PLEDGED WILLARD

Miss Betty Stander, a popular Louisville girl, who is attending the Wesleyan university, at University Place, this year, having finished her high school course in Louisville last spring, has pledged Willard.

The Willard society has two old time members in Louisville, Mrs. P. C. Stander and Mrs. L. J. Mayfield, who joined in the fall of 1891, when it was less than a year old. This makes the second daughter of Mrs. Stander to join the same organization, which is a girls' literary society that now has an alumni of many hundred members.

Mrs. Stander is a real Willard mother, being the only one who has daughters who belong to the same society and on this account she receives due recognition at their social affairs during Commencement week at the Wesleyan. The other daughter, Miss Margaret Stander, was graduated from Wesleyan last spring and is now teaching her first school at Edgar, where she is very pleasantly located and is enjoying her work very much.—Louisville Courier.
