THE DEMOCRATS MUST CHOOSE

Dress the Democratic party in a cutaway, top hat and spats. Give it the savoir-faire of a Pittsburgh millionaire and pin a placard on its chest, "Andrew Mellon, Only Richer." This is the formula in which certain Democratic leaders seem to see a sure success, and no one is more pleased with the idea than Mr. Simmons of North Carolina. Mr. Simmons is the ranking Democratic member of the committee on finance in the senate: He now accuses the administration of planning to hold back tax reduction this year for the sake of a big cut Optimism and dyspepsia are not on just before the 1928 elections. Mr. Simmons disapproves of holding back. He wishes to have a tax cut now, and Plattsmouth is forging to the front the mere fact that it would have to be made at the expense of debt reduction does not trouble him. Do or One touch of channel makes the die, he would out-Mellon Mr. Mellon.

It is not the first time that Mr. Simmons has out-Melloned Mr. Mellon. In December of last year the administration brought into congress a tax bill providing for a cut of $325,-000,000. Mr. Simmons promptly raised this by $175,000,000 and called for a tax cut of a flat half-billion. He did not succeed in persuading congress to agree with him. Fortu-The honeymoon is over when he nately, congress stuck to the wise policy of using part of the surplus to pay off the national debt.
