

Alvo Department

I. D. Willis and wife, of Sioux City, Iowa, have been visiting at the home of S. C. Boyles and wife of Alvo during the past week.

Elmer Bennett and Lance Clites were over to Woodbine, Iowa, the first of the week, each getting another load of apples.

L. D. Muller added to his land holdings in this vicinity by the purchase of a portion of the farm of Mr. Johnson, who lives next to him.

The state scale inspector was in Alvo and tested out the scales of the various business houses, putting his O. K. on their weighing machines.

John Skinner was a visitor in Omaha on last Wednesday, where he took a load of stock and also on the return trip brought home a load of goods.

John Woods was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where he went to make some purchases for the store and brought home a load of goods with him.

James Friend, who has been living over the Coatsman store for some time past, moved to his own house upon it being vacated by the Rev. R. H. Chenoweth and family.

Mrs. A. B. Stromer was looking after carrying the mail during the time the boys were hunting in the north. Mrs. Stromer makes an excellent carrier for the rural route.

Mrs. Roy Coatsman has added to her duties the task of looking after the store as there is no one else to conduct the business during the time the boys are hunting in the north.

Mrs. Art Dinges has been conducting the business at the garage during the absence of Art, except when a car had to be repaired, and Rev. Chenoweth looked after that part of the work.

During the time the students of the Alvo school have been waiting for the football season to open, they have been taking boxing lessons and have attained considerable skill in the manly art of self-defense.

James M. Manners has been doing some work to beautify the farm where he lives, and has been painting the barn and the outer farm buildings and is making the old farmstead look snappy, or words to that effect.

A large crowd of the people of Alvo and vicinity were gathered at the school to listen to a debate on the subject, "Can the Law be Enforced," which referred to the prohibition law, and much interest was manifested in the discussion.

Mr. R. L. Parmenter, who recently moved into the Ough building on Main street, finds that he has too much furniture for the space in the building and will hold a sale the coming Saturday and try and dispose of his surplus.

The O. I. C. of the Alvo schools had the faculty of the school out to the pasture of L. D. Mullen on last Tuesday evening, where they entertained them with a beefsteak supper, which was enjoyed by both the society and the teachers.

Miss Pearl Coatsman, who returned from the hospital some time since, after having undergone an operation for appendicitis, has so far recovered that she was able on last Tuesday to resume her studies at the Alvo public schools and is doing nicely now.

Miss Agnes Peterson, who some time since went to Lincoln, where she entered the hospital, and where she underwent an operation for relief from appendicitis, is reported as getting along nicely and is expected to return to Alvo the first of the week.

Rev. R. H. Chenoweth, who has been making his home in the James Friend house on Main street, moved during the past week to the house known as the C. F. Bucknell house, but which has been disposed of by him and is now owned by a man in Colorado.

Frank Warner and family, of Lincoln, were visitors in Alvo on last Sunday, coming to see W. H. Warner, and to take him to Plattsmouth to visit with his brother, C. H. Warner, but as Bill was out in the country when they arrived, they went on to the county seat themselves and visited with the relatives there.

The Home Economics class of the Alvo school had some of their work on exhibition at the county fair and were successful in landing a number of premiums, including several firsts and numerous seconds. Miss Dorothy Coatsman secured second on pepper relish, while Miss Iva Bird won first on jelly. On the exhibits of the rooms taught by Misses Blanch Sexton and Edna Woods, there were several prizes awarded on drawing.

Should Go Earlier
A year ago Roy Coatsman and a few friends went to the northern portion of the state and during the time they were there they ran into a real winter with cold and snow, and they did say that they nearly froze. This time when Roy, Art, Abie and Earl Dreamer started for the north the first of last week, they took along with them all the winter clothes they possessed and then borrowed some, for they did not intend to freeze this time. We will know more about the trip and the time they had when they get back.

Have School Orchestra
There has been organized in the Alvo schools an orchestra that gives promise of developing into a real musical aggregation. A large number have already identified themselves with the new organization and more are expected to do so. Full credits will be given to work done in the orchestra the same as any other department of the school work.

Joe Parsell and Wife Home
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parsell, who have been at Rochester, Minn., for the past six weeks, where Mrs. Parsell has been receiving treatment and underwent an operation for the removal of a gallstone, returned home last week. Mrs. Parsell, who has not been at all well for some time past, is now feeling fine and also looking well. They say the six weeks spent at Rochester seemed as long as any ordinary half year as home, and they were sure glad to get back and be among the friends here once more.

It's News You Want
People don't take papers nowadays to have covers for their pantry and fruit cellar shelves. It's news that counts and in this respect, the Journal lays claim to the support of every person in Cass county. With seven specially prepared departments and a lot of county seat happenings added to its columns the Journal publishes twice as much live Cass county news as any paper in the county and also reaches you twice a week instead of only once. Despite this great advantage, the price is no more than that charged for weekly newspapers—$2 per year. If your name isn't on the list, hand your $2 to our field representative and be assured of an entire year's good reading.

FARM ISOLATION VANISHING
As long as there have been cities there have been paved streets, and asphalt, which we think of usually as a modern product, was used in ancient Babylon by Nabopolassar who was the first to use it for street construction.

His son, Nebuchadnezzar, followed his example, and upon one street of which he was particularly proud, caused to be placed a tablet calling upon his people to "traverse this street in joy" and wish him "eternal age and well-being."

Pompeii built sidewalks of asphalt, and was the first to raise the center of her asphalt streets in order to drain off the water.

Modern highways are transforming farm life in many states, relieving it of its loneliness and placing it in ready contact with all that is going on in the world.

Good roads present more than merely tourists zipping along the highway, or trucks moving from town to town. The rural picture is with the men, women and children of the farms brought nearer one another.

Social life in the farming sections is possible today, because of the constantly increasing web of hard-surfaced roads, and such life is bringing the envy of city folks.

Only a few years ago, there was little or no state highway construction that is now proving an aid to consolidation of rural schools.

FAMOUS PLAYERS ARE TO BUY VITAPHONE
New York, Oct. 1.—Negotiations are in progress between Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., and the Famous Players Lasky corporation which may give the Famous Players' organization the rights to the use of the vitaphone, a new motion picture process recently developed by the Warners. It was learned Thursday. It is expected that an agreement will be reached next week.

Unusual market activity in the stock of both companies, carrying the shares of each up 2 points or more, aroused reports in Wall street that Famous Players would obtain control of a financial interest in the Warner company. These reports could not be confirmed, but it was intimated that whatever the nature of the deal it would permit the showing of the vitaphone pictures in the Famous Players theaters.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH
Ladies Auxiliary of the St. Paul's church will meet in church parlors on Thursday, Oct. 7th. Mrs. Adam Stoehr and Mrs. Fred Guenther are hostesses.

THE motor car industry was startled when Buick presented the new Buick with an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

If you have driven this great new car, with this remarkable engine, you know why.

Its fluid smoothness makes other motor cars seem rough, harsh, noisy.

People who have driven Buicks for years and people who have owned much more expensive cars, are captivated by the luxury of this one.

New Cause of Anger Arises in Occupied Area

Killing of German Civilian at Treves Like That at Gernersheim; German Report of It.

Gerersheim, Germany, Sept. 30.—Popular feeling against the French troops of occupation, aroused by the killing of a German civilian here last Monday, was increased today by news that another German had been killed by a French trooper at Treves, near the Luxembourg border.

An official German report of the incident says that four French cyclist troopers rode into a group of German pedestrians. A quarrel ensued, during which one of the Frenchmen killed a German named Holstein. The Frenchman was arrested.

In the incident here Monday, Lieutenant Roucier is alleged to have killed one man and to have wounded two others, one critically. Roucier was sent to Landau as a prisoner after a hearing before a French general from Coblenz. The French and German authorities are continuing their investigation of the case.

The artillery regiment to which Roucier was attached evacuated Gernersheim today without disorder. It will be replaced by troops from Speyer.

Cal Drafted in Congress Fight

G. O. P. Scouts Induce Him to Aid in Campaign to Retain Control.

Washington—President Coolidge has been prevailed upon by Republican leaders to take an active part in the party battle to retain control of congress.

Republican scouts who have toured the country have returned to the White House with information that only the complete personal support of the chief executive will brighten the hopes of party candidates in many sections.

Thus far Mr. Coolidge has not consented to make speeches, but, if necessity becomes acute within the next few weeks, renewed efforts will be made to have him take the stump in several states.

He has agreed to the use of his name as the rallying cry. In virtually every state republican senatorial and congressional candidates have called upon the president for support.

They have been promised full leeway in making their campaigns upon the issue of "Coolidge and prosperity."

The president expects to attend the army-navy football game in Chicago November 27, but does not plan to take advantage of his presence in Chicago to deliver an address.

He is undecided whether to speak in Kansas City on Armistice day, where he has been invited.

President Changes Mind.
Mr. Coolidge had given leaders to understand that cabinet officers would be permitted to aid candidates and that they could consider the passive force of the administration back of them, but that he personally did not intend to make it a personal fight for retention of control of congress.

Shortly after the president's return from White Pine court, however, Senator White, republican, Ohio came with word that he needed full-hearted assistance of the chief executive. Later Senator McNary, member of the republican senatorial campaign committee, told the president of the need of his name in the west.

When Chairman Phipps of the committee went to the White House and later announced that the issue is "McCoolidge."

Dry Law to Come Up for an Election Test

Question of Continuing Prohibition Before the Voters in Eight States at November Poll.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Voters in eight states, at the November election, will have an opportunity to pass upon prohibition. The states are California, Colorado, Illinois, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New York and Wisconsin.

In New York, Illinois and Wisconsin, the referendum is on the question of asking congress to amend the Volstead act.

New York and Illinois vote on the same proposition "beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states." In Wisconsin, the proposition says "beer for beverage purposes of an alcoholic percentage of 2.75." In New York the legislature passed a bill to place the question on the ballot. In Wisconsin the proposition was adopted by point resolution of the legislature. In Illinois, the referendum was initiated by petition.

The question in California is whether to repeal the Wright act, the state enforcement law, adopted by the people at a referendum in 1922.

In Colorado, the question will be submitted as a proposal to amend a section of the state constitution "enabling the legislature to provide for manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, such amendment to be inoperative so long as in conflict with the laws of the United States."

The Missouri vote will be on the question of repealing the state enforcement laws passed in 1923.

The Montana proposition is on the question of repealing all state laws relating to liquor control, except the law forbidding sale of liquor to minors.

The Nevada referendum is in the form of a memorial to congress to submit the eighteenth amendment again to the states.

In these eight states, the W. C. T. U. with 600,000 members, has laid plans to concentrate a fight to get a "100 per cent dry vote."

In Illinois, George E. Brennan, democratic candidate for United States senator, who has advocated modification of the eighteenth amendment in his campaign speeches, is being actively opposed by the dries.

In New York, the dries are backing F. W. Cristman, independent and dry opponent of Senator Wadsworth.

"Sunshine" at Nehawka

The very successful home talent play, "Sunshine," which was presented at the Peterson hall at Murray on Friday evening, will be repeated on Wednesday evening at the Nehawka auditorium.

This play is presented under the auspices of the young people's Sunday school class of the Christian church of Murray with Miss Etta Nickles as the director of the production and is a very clever and enjoyable offering. The cast comprises the young people of Murray and is well worth seeing.

The people of Nehawka will find an evening of the rarest enjoyment in this play and which is offered to them Wednesday evening.

LOSES A SIX YEAR FIGHT

Salem, Mass., Sept. 29.—"Gert" Swasy, once the "toast of Broadway" as an equestrienne, and now penniless, today lost her six year fight to recover part of the fortune left in trust for her by her father, Moses Swasy, who made a fortune in real estate in Haverhill.

Judge Frank P. Quinn in superior court here today, found that the United States Fidelity and Guarantee company of Boston was not liable for the $15,000 bond of Charles H. Goodwin. Goodwin turned in his last report as trustee of the Swasy trust fund in 1923, three years before the fund, showing the fund had evaporated. Six years ago Gert Swasy began her suit charging Goodwin with maladministration in selling real estate, but the bonding company contended the equity was lost by foreclosure.

Mrs. Swasy, now seventy-one, has been living in a dilapidated shack in Haverhill for the past several years and pinning her last hope of avoiding the almshouse on a recovery of the trust fund.

TUBERCULOSIS TOLL HIGH

Washington, Sept. 30.—Scientific and educational war on tubercle bacillus, which last year took a toll of more than 75,000 lives in the United States alone, was declared today by speakers at the opening of the first conference of the international union against tuberculosis. Tuberculosis specialists from twenty-two foreign countries and more than 500 health workers from every section of the United States are in attendance.

Pending discovery of a "useful remedy," Dr. Theobald Smith, president of the union, in his opening address, said existing hope for successfully combating the disease "rests in preventive measures which see to it that the human being from birth on, inhales or ingests as few bacilli as possible."

If the fight against tuberculosis is to be won, it will be largely thru work among children, rather than adults, was the conclusion of a technical paper presented by Prof. Gaetano Ronzoni, University of Milan, Italy.
