Mesdames J. F. Brendel, A. G. Long, W. L. Seybolt of Murray, and Mesdames D. C. LaRue, S. W. Copenhaver and R. E. Foster of Union were the guests at the home of Mrs. J. C. Snavely on last Wednesday afternoon where all the ladies enjoyed the afternoon as only good friends can enjoy the society of each other. Refreshments were served and the ladies all declare Mrs. Snavely an excellent entertainer.

L. H. Young and son, Parr Young, received on last Tuesday morning two very fine car loads of feeding cattle which they removed to their farm west of Murray where they were put on feed for returning to the market when they should be in condition. Messrs. Young are excellent feeders of cattle and good judges of stock and when they have bought stock it is certain that the stock is good, and will make good beef when fed out.

The girls are some hikers when it comes to getting over the ground. The four walkers who made the trip to Union on last Saturday, are Beatrice Rawls, Helen Gleason, Rena Deles Dernier and Florence Bartlett. When they arrived at Union they visited at the store of Messrs. Rhin and Greene, and where they awaited Mrs. Bartlett to come for them in the car. They sure enjoyed the trip but got a little weary, but kept up the merry pace nicely.

Services at Christian Church. The Rev. R. E. Blanchard of Bethany was a visitor in Murray on last Sunday and delivered two very stirring discourses at the Christian church and will return two weeks from Sunday which is October 31st and again hold services at the church.

That Fiddlers Contest. The Fiddlers Contest which is being promoted by Miss Etta Nickles, for the benefit of the Murray Community Club, has now over twenty contestants for the cash prizes and the honors incident to the contest. These fiddlers from Avoca, Weeping Water, Union, Nehawka, Cedar Creek, Louisville, Murray and Plattsmouth. Now remember this will be a sure enough treat for lovers of music and fun.

Will Make Home in Chicago. Mr. W. E. Jenkins, who has lived in Murray for the past thirty-three years will move to Chicago on the last of this week where he will make his home in the future. Mr. Jenkins' father came to this county some 50 or more years ago, and established a store at what is known as Eight Mile Grove, and where there was a postoffice, and was the postmaster there for a time and also conducted a store there. When the railroad was constructed from Omaha to Nebraska

City and a switch was laid at Murray, he and his son, W. E. Jenkins, moved their store to Murray, which was thirty years ago. Mr. W. E. Jenkins conducted the business of general store here for a number of years and some fifteen years ago disposed of the business to Barrows Gansamer and Puls. Since then he has looked after his mother, who was many years an invalid, and on her death about a year ago he has lived alone. His nephew, LeRoy who is now making his home in Chicago, extended the invitation to come to Chicago and make his home with Earl and family and so after having seen Murray grow from a siding with but a doctor's office and one store and a church, to the bustling little city it now is, he is departing, with many fond remembrances of the third of a century of his life here.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, October, 24th

By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: Be strong and of a good courage, I will be with thee and not forsake thee.

Go Over This Jordan.

Moses was indeed dead, and another leader had been selected by the assistance of Moses, surely, for Moses knew who was the likeliest man for the position, and it was by the direction of Jehovah that the selection was made. We have been studying lessons in which Moses is one of the central figures, and while we have done this we have been studying one of the world's great men. Now let us get acquainted with Joshua, who is to pilot the destinies as far as a man being is concerned, for some time.

The New Leader.

Joshua was born in Egypt and was a slave there for he was a man full-grown when the Israelites were led out of Egypt by Moses, and he was well acquainted with the circumstances under which the children of Israel worked, and how hard the tasks for he himself was one of those whom the lash of the slave driver had whom, and when he was able to get out of the country and find another one where he could be free, he was surely willing to take a chance in making a nation for himself and his fellows.

For himself was one of those whom the lash of the slave driver had whom, and when he was able to get out of the country and find another one where he could be free, he was surely willing to take a chance in making a nation for himself and his fellows.

In the present lesson Jehovah said three times be strong and courageous for it was just the sort of a man that was needed and no mistake was made in the selection of Joshua. Moses was dead and was mourned by the people for thirty days. They showed their respect for their great leader, and mourned for him as they would for a king. He was a man of great courage, his great faith in Jehovah, and his abiding dependence on the Almighty, who had led the children out of the country where they were materially slaves and for forty years had been leading them out of bondage into an inheritance, to a belief in the True God, and a from a disposition to worship idols. His task was great and he had died in sight of that inheritance which became the reward for the children of Israel, for their worship of the True God. Notwithstanding they had wandered many times, and were punished for their unbelief, they returned and by their adherence to the worship of Jehovah claimed the prize the Promised Land. After the mourning of thirty days, God said unto Joshua, "Be strong and courageous, for thou shalt go over this Jordan. Just what this command signified we will inquire, for this was at the flood tide, when the snow of the mountains of Lebanon, were making the river Jordan a raging torrent. The river was brimming full, from banks to banks, with no bridges, no ferry and with many more than two million people to cross, and the command came imperative. Arise, go over this Jordan, and all the people. With no means visible and many of the people murmuring at that, was no light task to go over this Jordan. The Lord said unto Joshua, be strong and of a good courage, and as I have been with Moses, so will I be with you. Joshua knew that the Lord had stopped the Egyptians in the Red Sea, and made a way for the Israelites to pass over, and when Jehovah said, as I have been with Moses so will I be with you he was well assured no matter what obstacle came in the way God would be with him and protect him and find a way for him to obey the command, and we find that Joshua undertook however difficult it might look, when the Father had said to do it. Joshua commanded the people to prepare food for three days and then with the river rising a veritable torrent, he commanded those who bare the Ark of the Covenant to go forward, and they marched boldly until their feet were dipped in the brink of the river, when the waters were stayed, and the waters above were held in their place and the waters below ran away, leaving practically dry place for the children of Israel to pass over. Then was the Ark of the Covenant and the people who bare it, and the people passed around it, and over the river. As they went they took twelve stones from the bed of the river and with these twelve stones each representing a tribe of Israel and with this they erected an altar on which sacrifice was burned to the Great Jehovah, the creator of the heavens and the earth and all that in them is. When we have a difficult problem we should remember the courage which carried Joshua with the faith which he had in his Father, through all the difficulties which came to him. We are faced with many a serious problem in our lives, and it depends upon how we look at them and what we do whether we overcome them or they carry us down to defeat and failure.

We are to remember what God said to Joshua, be strong and of a good courage for I surely will be with thee in everything which thou doest, as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee. We are to learn sooner or later that when we are working with God that we will succeed and when we say working with God we mean just that, not pretending to, and fearing all the time we are going to fail. We say of a truth sometimes, "Well I failed just as I expected to." Had we expected to have won, we would have stood much better a chance to have accomplished what we set out to do. As it was the experience of the Israelites that when they obeyed Jehovah they succeeded, and when they forgot Him and went after strange gods, they failed and were also easily beaten in battle. It has been said that an army of deer led by a lion, is more formidable than an army of lions led by a deer.

We have got to believe in God and do his will in order to attain eternal life, and we have got to believe in ourselves and our ability to do the things which we are striving for, or we are a failure in the first. To him who has an abiding faith in Jehovah, and himself and is willing to work, there is scarcely anything that can overcome him. True we often say that a good man failed and died poor, but if he was a follower of the Lowly Nazarene, his life was a success no matter how the world looked at it.

The eighth verse of the first chapter of Joshua says, "This book of the Law, shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate thereon day and night that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein, for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good success."

In this we may take courage for as Jehovah spoke unto Joshua, so He speaks unto us at this time. Then the Lord puts it in another way and says to Joshua, "Have not I commanded thee, be strong and of good courage, be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed, for Jehovah, thy God, is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

Success does not come by accident to the people, there is a cause, and that cause is our attitude to the enterprise which we are engaging in. Abraham had cattle on a thousand hills, because he was a friend of God. Job was blessed though in a test he was stripped of his wealth, his family, and he was tormented with grievous boils, still he held his trust in God, and like the passage which says, seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things will be added unto you. The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, and why should it not be reasonable that the friends of God no matter how many there be, should also prosper in basket and store, as well as the greater blessings of peace and righteousness.

MARRIED AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

From Tuesday's Daily—

Among the marriages occurring yesterday at Council Bluffs, Iowa, one of the favorite marrying points in this part of the west occurred the wedding of one of the Plattsmouth ladies, Miss Julia Stull to Mr. George Bethel, also of this city. The wedding was a very quiet one and the young people motored to the Iowa city where they were joined in the bonds of wedlock and then returned to the home of the bride north of this city.

The bride is the eldest daughter of C. Lawrence Stull, one of the leading farmers of this section of the county, and the bride has grown to womanhood in this community.

The groom has also been living here for the past few years and the newlyweds will continue to make their home in this locality in the future.

The friends of the young people will join in their well wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Bethel for many years of happiness as they take up the journey of life as one.

MRS. BROOKS IMPROVING

The many friends of Mrs. W. G. Brooks, who was formerly Miss Etha Crabill of this city, will be very much pleased to learn that Mrs. Brooks is now showing signs of improvement at the Methodist hospital at Omaha where she was operated on last week for a very severe case of gall stones. Mrs. Brooks has been very poorly for the past few weeks and was brought from her home at Burlington, Iowa, to enter the hospital in the hopes of securing some relief from her illness.

HAVE PLEASANT TIME

From Tuesday's Daily—

Last evening the members of Plattsmouth lodge No. 738, B. P. O. E. of this city enjoyed a very delightful time at their club house on North 6th street on the occasion of one of the pleasant social dances given for members of the order and their families. Al Finch and his melody makers of Omaha were here and had one of their always pleasing programs of popular and late dance music to entertain the jolly party of dancers, until a late hour.
